

Star of Space 488

Chapter 488 Let me tell you the truth

Why is it that the rightful owner is here now, but the land he wants to choose is near the mountain?

"I want the land by the mountain.

Ya Molian said something when she saw that the official kept glancing at her secretly.

"ah?"

The official's face was filled with disbelief.

"Miss Lin, why do you like the land on the mountainside? Are those lands relatively barren? Or do you think you bought these lands for a special purpose?"

Build a yard? But whose yard is built in a place where wild animals may come down at any time? Isn't this too strange?

"I bought the land to grow fruit trees, and when the wild fruits on the mountain are ripe, I will pick them back, so it will be more convenient to choose a place on the edge of the mountain." Lin Caisang saw the official looking at her with a look like She looked like an idiot and could only explain.

"Planting fruit trees, that's right." The official looked understanding when he heard this.

There are indeed many fruit trees planted on the mountainside, which are used to make dried fruits and so on, but this little girl also wants to make a living in this way.

"Then I will give you a choice." He nodded and asked again.

"Miss Lin, do you want to go further north or south?"

"Go south," Lin Caisang said.

Yacun is in the south of Qianlin County, so there is nothing wrong with going further south. She can't always hide the things she does from her family. When money becomes looser in the future, these family properties must be made known to everyone.

"Okay, okay, I'll take a look right now."

Less than half an hour later, Lin Caisang and Ya Molian were led by the official to the foot of a mountain.

"Miss Lin, what do you think of this side? There are dense mountains and forests over there, and there is a small river here. It is the rainy season now, and it looks a little uncomfortable. But when the rain stops, it will be rare in the dry season. It's an area that's too dry, but on rainy days, here...hehe, you can see that the water level is a bit high."

The official chuckled and looked at Lin Caisang.

"But don't worry, there have never been floods here. I can guarantee this."

Hearing this, Lin Caisang's mouth twitched.

How can such a small river cause floods? It's not the Yangtze or Yellow River. At most, there is more water on the ground nearby when the rain is heavy, that's all.

"This is really a nice place, sir. Why has no one bought this place before?"

She asked, turning to look at the official.

The adult next to her said before that if she likes this place, she will give her three thousand taels of silver per mu and three thousand taels for one thousand acres of land.

As for the land near Qianlin County, she had also inquired about it. The fertile land farther away from the mountains was worth 70 taels of silver per acre, and the land closer to the mountains was worth 50 taels of silver per acre. This was not a village, after all, it was on the outskirts of Qianlin County.

And here, from her point of view, if it were renovated, it would definitely be worth seven taels of silver per acre, but it was only sold to her for three taels of silver per acre.

Will the county government make too much of a loss in this business?

"this....."

When the officer heard her words, the corner of his mouth twitched slightly.

He glanced at Ya Molian next to him again and thought that he would know it later anyway, so it would be better to tell him now, which would save him a lot of trouble.

"Miss Lin, if you ask this, I won't be careless with you anymore. Let me tell you the truth. Many people have come to see this piece of land, but you should also know about our land in Ye County. , everyone who wants to buy land comes in the rainy season.
