Chapter 494: Rushing over like crazy

She looked at Ya Molian without knowing why, and asked him with her eyes, was she right? Being locked up like this will indeed cause illness. She is a doctor, so she can't just say a word

"Being locked up in this environment is also a kind of tameness." Ya Molian lowered her voice and said in Lin Caisang's ear.

Even if these people were bought back by them and thrown to Jiang Li, they would not be treated like ordinary people.

"Well."

Lin Caisang choked at his words and was speechless.

Well, her compassionate heart really shouldn't break out at this time. These people were sold by their families. No matter what the final outcome will be, it is God's will.

She wanted to sympathize with these people, but there were so many of them in the world that she couldn't sympathize with them.

"Ya Po, please take me to see the available male servants first. I don't want anyone too young. Someone in his thirties will be fine."

"Okay, distinguished guests, come with me."

Yabozi responded and quickly took the three of them outside a room.

Lin Caisang looked at the room. It was indeed made of iron. It didn't actually have walls. It was like a prison, with iron railings, but only on one side. The other three sides were all solid walls.

The top and bottom of this iron railing are solid, and only the middle part is an iron railing, allowing people to see clearly the people inside at once.

When she looked around, she saw that everyone in the room was wearing rags, some were lying down, some were sitting, and some were standing on the edge of the wall, walking back and forth aimlessly, like tourists. Like a soul, I don't know what is going on in my heart.

"Get up, get up quickly."

I heard Mrs. Ya give a sharp shout and hit the iron sheet with the stick in her hand.

Soon, the people in the room started to move as if some nerve had been pulled.

"Buy me, buy me, I can do anything, buy me."

"I'm very powerful. I can carry water, chop wood, and do anything. Buy me, buy me."

Those men who looked quite normal, when they saw Lin Caisang and Ya Molian, they rushed to the railing like crazy, with their hands reaching out desperately, even their own faces were squeezed out of shape by the railing. Self-aware.

"Sonny."

Ya Molian had already taken Lin Caisang back a few steps while Mrs. Ya was speaking.

To be honest, Lin Caisang was really frightened by this situation. Looking at these crazy people, she felt an urge to run away immediately.

She was also a doctor in her previous life, and she had also been to a mental hospital. The situation just now was really worse than that of a mental hospital. The key is this place...

She really didn't know how to describe this place and these people.

"Stop making such noises, shut up. If you keep making noises, you won't get food!" The old woman looked fierce, and hit the outstretched hands with the stick in her hand, threatening her while hitting them.

"you....."

Lin Caisang wanted to stop her, but thinking of the scene just now, if Yamolian hadn't pulled her away in time, she would have almost been caught by those people.

He opened his mouth, but closed it again.

She finally came to her senses and understood why Mrs. Ya was holding such a thick stick in her hand. She had been surprised before, but it turned out that the effect was here.

After Yabozi yelled like this, everyone in the room became quiet. They all looked at Yabozi with horrified eyes, retracted their hands and hugged their breasts, trembling.
