

Star of Space 498

Chapter 498 Don't dare to have second thoughts

That's completely different from what they are doing here. To be sold here, it shows that he has offended a big shot before.

"You should know what's going on with your body, right? You came to the dental clinic more than three months ago, and you have been in trouble for less than a month, and now you are in this situation. You can still hide it now, but it will take a long time. , I can't hide it anymore, do you want to die here?"

Lin Caisang asked her.

Hearing this, the woman was so frightened that she sat down on the ground.

But soon she came to her senses, got up and grabbed Lin Caisang's sleeves, begging her with tears on her face.

"Master, please save me, please save me, buy me back. I'm really capable of working. I can do any kind of work. This... I can take care of him myself. From now on, he will also be your servant." My dear, you have one more servant to call upon, so just buy me.

How could she not know her situation? She had given birth to a child before, and she hadn't received a monthly letter for two months. How could she not have known?

But what could she do? She could only bury it. If people in the dental industry knew about it, they wouldn't need to spend a copper coin to buy a pair of abortion pills. They could just let the thugs punch and kick her.

If one beating isn't enough, just give her a few more. Anyway, she's a bargain. As long as she can't die, it doesn't matter what they think.

"I can save you, but I have to ensure that you will be loyal to me in the future. If you have second thoughts, I will not sell you two, and I will not keep any of you. Do you understand?"

Lin Caisang said to her.

Saving someone's life was what she was supposed to do, and she had nothing to say.

Spend a few more taels of silver and a few taels less. She has already made so much, and it doesn't matter. As long as she can save people, the key is that this is a good deal of buy one, get one free. She will naturally do it. .

"I dare not have a second thought, I dare not have a second thought." When the woman heard her words, she immediately kowtowed to her, one after another.

"Okay, stand up."

Lin Caisang frowned and asked her to get up.

"Dear guest, this woman you..."

Yabozi didn't hear what she said. Seeing the woman kowtow to thank her, she also knew that Lin Caisang was planning to buy her away.

"I want this woman."

Lin Caisang pointed at the woman and said to Mrs. Ya.

"Also, for banishment, you can choose another one."

Ban Jue was confused by what she did, but he still followed her words and picked out the people. He also checked Lin Caisang's pulse, and then handed them all over to the thugs first.

Mrs. Ya was very happy to be able to sell one more, and her face was as bright as a smile.

"Ya Po, do you have anyone better here, like a steward sent from some government?" Lin Caisang asked Ya Po.

Although there are people working there, none of them are capable of taking care of things. She can't just randomly pick one of these people to take charge of things, right? Have to buy one directly here.

"Yes, yes." Mrs. Ya quickly responded.

"Whatever your guest wants, we have it here."

...

Soon, several thugs brought over five middle-aged men and two women who looked to be in their early forties. All of them had their heads lowered.

"Dear guest, let me introduce to you. The first person standing here is called Zhang Shunlai. The person I am registering here is the shopkeeper of a restaurant. He was sold into slavery by the government after he committed a crime."
