

Star of Space 502

Chapter 502 After eating, there are still more

In the past few days since Zhong You came to the Lin family, although he lived on Menghuang Mountain, he often came to the Lin family to help with this and that. It seems that these small duties were not in vain, and the results have been seen.

"Um."

Lin Caisang smiled and nodded.

"Sang Sang, you are back. If you don't come back, your grandma will have to go to the county to find you." Yang Lin also walked in and spoke to Lin Caisang with a smile.

"Third Aunt, come and sit."

When Lin Caisang saw her coming, he quickly stood up and helped her sit down.

Yang Lin's belly had just begun to show. Although it was okay to walk a few steps, she was so angry that Lin Caihe hurt her body. She knew this when she took her pulse. She just didn't want her family to worry, and she didn't want to let anyone worry. No matter how worried Yang Lin was, he continued to suffer like this and said nothing.

Now that there are several piglets at home, Yang Lin's thoughts are all about the piglets, and her mood is much better, so she feels relieved.

"Third Aunt, when my shop opens in a few days, I'll ask Third Uncle to take you to have a look."

"Okay, okay, then Third Aunt must take a good look at it." Yang Lin nodded with a smile.

"Sang Sang, are you just going to let your third uncle take your third aunt to see her?" On the side, Lin Laogan asked her with a straight face after listening to her granddaughter's words.

"Of course I have to bring grandpa with me. Grandpa is the most important person in our family. How can we not witness the moment when your granddaughter does something big, right?"

Lin Caisang hurriedly came behind Lin Laogan, raised his hand to squeeze his shoulders, and coaxed softly.

"Okay, grandpa is teasing you."

Lin Laogong laughed, raised his hand and patted her hand on his shoulder.

"I'm tired from running around these days. Sit down and rest."

"Um."

Lin Caisang nodded and continued to sit.

In the evening, Lu Qiubo cooked a big meal, including chicken, fish, meat, and some vegetables with shredded pork in it. Everyone ate with gusto. After the meal, Lin Caisang rinsed his mouth. Then my grandpa and grandma rushed me back to the room to sleep.

Ya Molian knew that she was tired these days, so she didn't come over and asked her to have a good rest.

It's just that the person who was supposed to be resting was now in the pasture space, holding a pen in her hand and sharpening it with the dagger Ya Molian gave her before. After sharpening, she took out a stack of paper and put it on the table. Start drawing on the table.

...

The next morning, I just opened the door and before I could see clearly what was going on in the yard, I saw a big chicken leg flying towards me.

"WTF?"

She was so frightened that she quickly turned to the side. Anyway, she came over and looked towards the door, only to realize that it was her brother holding a chicken drumstick in his hand and smiling happily at her.

"Sang Sang, come here, big brother just made the roast chicken. This chicken leg is for you to eat. There will be some left after you finish eating."

Lin Caisang: "..."

She just woke up and didn't wash her face or brush her teeth, so she was actually asked to eat chicken legs first!

"Brother, I want to wash my face." She said helplessly to Lin Changhong.

"Then go and wash it quickly. The chicken legs won't taste good when they are cold. Fortunately, the weather is not cold, so it will be fine after a while." Lin Changhong heard her words and hurriedly urged.

"Let Changyi and the others eat it. I also ate chicken in the county, and I also ate it last night. Now I want to eat some corn steamed buns." Lin Caisang said.

Last night she couldn't resist her grandma and drank two bowls of chicken soup with meat. The key was that she couldn't do it without drinking. Her grandma's eyes kept staring at her and she couldn't even make a small move.

"How can steamed buns be nutritious? This chicken drumstick is so delicious." Lin Changhong frowned.
