

Star of Space 515

Chapter 515 Not happy again?

Lin Caiqing pursed her lips, knowing that she was too anxious. She looked like she had done something wrong, lowered her head and stopped talking.

"Qing girl, it's not that I want to talk about you, you are a child."

Seeing her like this, Lin Laogong couldn't bear to criticize her any more, so he just sighed.

"You know that you are a girl, so you rush to Yaguman's house like this. If others find out, they think that our Lin family girls can't get married, so you have to rush to stare at men. In the future, you won't be allowed to It's not like running to Gu Man's house when you have nothing to do!"

"Oh, got it."

Lin Caiqing responded, not daring to say anything more.

This matter is related to her own reputation and the reputation of all her brothers and sisters in the family. She knows which one is less important and which is more important.

"Grandpa, I know I was wrong. Don't worry, I will pay attention to it in the future."

"Well, it's good to know that you were wrong. You should pay attention to it in the future."

Lin Laogong nodded and prepared to go back to the room without saying anything else.

"Grandpa."

Suddenly, Lin Chushui called out to him.

"Is there something wrong with Chu Shui?"

Lin Laogan turned the wheelchair around again and looked at Lin Chushui.

"Grandpa, I told Sister Sang Sang today that I want to go to school to learn calligraphy, and Sister Sang Sang agreed." Lin Chushui spoke to Lin Laogan.

Regarding his desire to learn calligraphy, he only told Lin Caisang just now, but not to the rest of the family. He felt that this was wrong and must be known to everyone in the family.

"You can't read?"

Lin Laojie's reaction was the same as Lin Caisang's, with surprise on his face.

He remembered that when Liu Rumei came to their house before, he would always praise Liu Qingshui for how well he was doing in the academy. He was also his son, and he thought Lin Chushui was also literate.

Unexpectedly, he was illiterate.

"My parents didn't let me learn to read." Lin Chushui explained.

Hearing this, Lin Laogong took a deep breath and once again scolded the unfilial son dozens of times in his heart.

"That's what you should learn. Let's do this. You go and learn, and let Qing Yatou learn with you. No matter whether it's a boy or a girl, everyone in our family has to be literate. There's no need for Sangsang. Her father has taught her before. of."

After thinking for a while, he said.

It is naturally good to have the ability to send children to school to learn literacy. He is not like other families who feel overwhelmed when they see a girl. Let alone literacy, they are just squeezing a lot of oil out of the girl.

"Grandpa, I'm going to read and write too. I've been there before." Lin Caiqing frowned.

It's not that she doesn't like literacy, and she also thinks literacy is necessary, but after going to school, she can't do any work at home, and Sister Sangsang is so busy, she really almost wants to break herself in half. Go to school to learn literacy, and half of them stay at home to help Sister Sangsang.

"What, you're unhappy again?" Lin Laogong looked at her and asked.

"Let me tell you, don't think that just because you are a girl, literacy is useless. Being literate will be of great use in the future."

"I know, I know, why don't I go?" Lin Caiqing nodded hurriedly.

Her grandpa was actually very good at reciting, so she had no other choice but to nod.

...

It's better to catch the sun than to hit it. Taking advantage of the rainy day, Lin Baiyi put down his work and went directly to Yaguman's house.

It's been a few days since Yaguman moved out of his home. The house that originally had no tiles on the roof but had potholes underneath has been tidied up by Yaguman into a new look. It really looks like a home.
