

Star of Space 522

Chapter 522 Where are the people?

"Yes, old gentleman.

Lin Chushui responded, glanced at Lin Caisang, and passed after seeing her nodding.

"Old sir, please excuse me, but you have to be taught separately by my elder brother and Chu Shui." Lin Caisang turned his gaze back from Lin Chushui, smiled at the old gentleman, and said a few polite words.

"No trouble, no trouble." The old gentleman shook his head repeatedly.

"I also think your method works well, Sangsang. Let the students learn all the words first, and start teaching them from the simplest ones. In the future, they will know the words in whatever book they want to read. If they don't understand, they can ask." There is no need for me to teach them step by step.

Moreover, your eldest brother is very spiritual and can learn anything quickly. In just a few days, he has learned a lot of words. He can even memorize the books I teach other students in the village. 69shux.com"

"hehe."

Lin Caisang smiled.

How could she not understand how much her eldest brother was capable? As soon as he got home, he would try to memorize it and ask her if there was a word he didn't understand. Furthermore, she had marked the pinyin in all the books at home. If her eldest brother didn't Understand, then it's really time to go back to your mother's womb and be reborn.

"The old gentleman taught me well."

After a while, Lin Chushui took a piece of paper and respectfully handed it to the old gentleman with both hands.

"Old sir, please take a look."

The old gentleman took the paper from his hand and looked at it under the candlelight, and his eyes suddenly lit up.

"This child's handwriting is very good. He is calm and powerful. You can tell he has put in a lot of hard work. Good, good."

He said the word "good" twice in a row. He knew that students who worked hard were lovable to him, and he liked teaching such children without any trouble.

Unlike some children who are sent to school by their parents just to pass the time. After one day of teaching, they forget everything they taught as soon as school is over. They have to teach again the next day, which is really a headache. .

"You can come to the school tomorrow. As for academic qualifications..."

He looked at Lin Caisang.

Although the tuition was given to him, it was not something he could keep. It had to be handed over to the village. He only got paid every month, so it was really not something he could have the final say on.

"I brought my academic qualifications."

Lin Caisang immediately took out four taels of silver from his small satchel and handed it to the old gentleman.

"Old sir, my young son will also learn from you in the future, just like Chu Shui and my brother. But that girl doesn't like to learn. How much she learns in the future will depend on her own ability. You don't have to do it with me. It takes too much energy on her."

Naturally, she had to speak nicely. Lin Caiqing tried to listen to the class before, but she was not allowed to learn many words, but now her elder brother and Lin Chushui were there, supervising and urging her. I'm afraid she won't learn well.

If she still can't learn it like this, let her third uncle spank her!

"Okay, let them come tomorrow." The old gentleman responded and took the money.

Teaching one is teaching, and teaching several is the same. He also hopes to have a few more. Unfortunately, there are really not many people in the village who are willing to spend money to teach their children how to read. Like Lin Laojie's family, the girl is They were all sent to school, not to mention none.

After finishing the things here, Lin Caisang took Lin Chushui home. When passing by the yard of Ya Molian's house, he took a look inside.

"Strange, where are the people?"

It's just getting dark today, why are you so busy in the dark? Are you not at home?

She turned her head and thought for a moment, it seemed that she really hadn't seen Ya Molian for a few days. Was this person going somewhere to do something? Why didn't you say hello to her?