Chapter 534: Shall I take you as my teacher?

After nearly two hours of intense work, her stomach was really hungry. Now that she had added some calories, it felt better. She put down her chopsticks and spoke to Zhi Lingyang.

"General Zhi, Mrs. Zhi used a knife on her face. You must be careful when eating. Do not chew it. Hiss, I have a soft straw here. You ask the people in your kitchen to cook the food into liquid food. Let Mrs. Zhi sucked and ate carefully, not to disturb the wound. "

She took out a straw she had made before from her small shoulder bag. It was made from tree roots. She hollowed out the inside so that she could suck the liquid without damaging the surface. Then He took out another porcelain bottle and put it on the table.

"This is an analgesic. If you really can't stand the pain, just dissolve one pill into water and drink it. Of course, just endure it if you can. The medicine is poison, and it's not good to take too much medicine.

He reached out and dug again, and took out another porcelain bottle and put it on the table. This time the color was different.

"This is an antipyretic medicine. If your body has a fever, don't think too much about it. Just take it directly. Don't wait until the fever makes you dizzy before taking it. When you look back, the scars on your face are healed, but you are burned... Haha, I said so."

But what she said is true. Antipyretics are rarely available these days. Even if they are available, they are the unique secret recipes of certain doctors and are not easily given to others.

Therefore, there are quite a few people who become fools due to high fever.

"If Mr. Gu likes it, I can also give you this prescription for antipyretic medicine. Seeing the ancient doctor staring at her with bright eyes, she only hesitated for a moment and said.

"This recipe can be given to anyone you want in the future. It's practical and won't harm anyone."

As she spoke, she picked up a glass of chicken soup and drank it.

"Miss Lin, you are really broad-minded. I admire you. I admire you. I can't get your advice in vain. If you don't dislike me, why don't I become your teacher?"

"Pfft...ahem!"

Lin Caisang squirted out all the chicken soup in a mouthful and almost choked himself to death.

She is only thirteen years old. The ancient imperial doctor in front of her is at least over fifty, right? She accepted him as her disciple. Was this teasing her?

"cough."

After coughing for a while, she took a deep breath and straightened her expression.

"Lao Gu, are you going too far? You are a famous doctor. In the Liang Kingdom, who would dare to accept you as a disciple, without fear of being found out and beaten up by your disciples?"

The great prince looked at the ancient imperial physician helplessly and said.

Zhi Lingyang also looked at the ancient imperial doctor in astonishment, as if he didn't understand what he said.

"No matter how good a doctor is, there are limits. He is not a miracle doctor. Your Majesty, you don't understand my suffering." The ancient doctor sighed. He also had his helplessness, okay?

"Miss Lin..."

"Mr. Gu, I can exchange medical skills with each other, but I really don't dare to accept anyone who wants to accept a disciple or not." Seeing that he wanted to persuade him, Lin Caisang quickly refused.

Taking on such a big disciple, she was afraid of being struck by thunder.

"Really? That's a good feeling."

In ancient times, if the imperial physician could not become a master, he could just retreat and seek the next best thing.

"Um."

Lin Caisang nodded his head lightly and looked at Zhi Lingyang again.

"General Zhi, in fact, the things I just said are all ordinary things, but what I want to say now is the most important. If... I mean if, you can make the decision, it would be best Don't let Mrs. Zhi come into contact with her until all the injuries on Mrs. Zhi's face have healed."
