

Star of Space 552

Chapter 552 Just want the blocking effect!

Originally, according to his intention, he could just go to the grain store in the town and buy ready-made ones.

But his sister didn't agree. It didn't matter who bought it, so it was better to earn more money for the people in the village. He had no choice but to collect it from house to house at the top of his lungs.

"Ah That's good."

Lin Caisang nodded.

"Sang Sang, the rice in our fields is almost ready to be harvested. Why do you have to go out to buy it? And you bought too much. Can you finish it?" Lin Changhong pressed his sister's hand until it was ready. He ordered to collect the rice, but he still didn't understand what his sister wanted to do, so he asked.

"Plant, you forgot, didn't we harvest 1,500 kilograms of rice for planting before?" Lin Caisang explained.

She thought that her eldest brother would understand what she meant, but it turned out to be a good thing. He just accepted it when she asked. He didn't understand what the rice was used for. This was not blind.

"kind?"

Lin Changhong twitched the corner of his mouth.

"Sang Sang, are you kidding me? The rain will stop soon and it will be the dry season. What else can we plant?"

Once the dry season arrives, no matter how much food is harvested by God, what will be left?

"Brother, I really don't know what to say to you. Did you find someone to dig a twenty-acre pond just for you to swim in?" Lin Caisang asked him in return.

How could her rice be killed by drought when there was readily available water for irrigation?

"yes."

As soon as she reminded him, Lin Changhong suddenly came to his senses and raised his hand to pat his forehead.

"Stop talking about this, I have to go to Menghuang Mountain to have a look. I haven't been up there for several days." Lin Caisang looked at the rice thresher and wanted to go to the mountain to see her rice and when it would be harvested.

"By the way, where are grandpa and grandma, why are there no one there?"

"Sister Sangsang, grandma pushed grandpa to brother Guman's house. She said that she had invited the head of the Ya clan to finalize the marriage between brother Guman and the third sister." Lin Changyi replied immediately.

"So fast?"

Lin Caisang was surprised.

"Are you unhappy?"

Lin Changhong thought for a while and replied.

"Sang Sang, you don't know what the hell Brother Guman said to Brother Guman in the village. I've never seen such a mother-in-law. I wish I could only be happy after Brother Guman died."

He was busy at home these days, and he also listened to what was going on outside.

Anyway, Yaguman's mother saw that his marriage had not been settled yet, so she kept saying that he was a piece of shit who couldn't stand up to the wall. He used to eat and drink from her at home, but now that he has left home, he can't even support himself. He must have been disliked by the Lin family.

Outside, he described Yaguman as a lazy man who had never done any work or contributed any effort to the family until he was seventeen years old.

When he heard this, he could only laugh.

Anyone with eyes can tell whether Yagu is full of lazy people or Yacangman and the others are lazy. His mother really has the nerve to say such a thing.

"From what you're saying, did Yagu Man invite his parents?" Lin Caisang asked.

"How can we invite them here? You don't even know what's going on outside. If Yagu Man invites them again, wouldn't he deliberately cause trouble for him?" Lin Changhong said angrily.

"What's wrong with the blocking? It's the blocking effect you want!" Lin Caisang looked at his brother with evil eyes.

"Sister, how did you say this?"
