Chapter 553 Let them fend for themselves

When Lin Changhong saw the look on Lin Caisang's words, he knew that this girl had some evil plan in mind. He leaned closer to her and asked with a raised brow.

"Since we are going to make a fuss, we might as well make a big fuss." Lin Caisang chuckled and looked at her brother.

"Changyi, go find those friends in the village who are good friends with you, and go to the Ya family to tell Sister Sang Sang that Ya Guman has become a member of our Lin family and will be popular in the future. Those who drink spicy food are not worthy of his parents. Even if they come to ask for help, they will only be given a cold meal. "

"oh oh."

Lin Changyi seemed to understand and nodded.

"Remember, you are not pointing at them in front of them. Just like when you chat with your friends, just let Brother Guman's parents hear what you say. But Never say it to their face.

Lin Caisang warned again.

"okay."

Lin Changyi understood, took a small oil umbrella, and ran out quickly.

"Sister Sangsang, Brother Guman's parents like you will make trouble." Lin Caiqing looked at Lin Caisang and reminded.

She had seen Yaguman's parents' troublemaking spirit. Many families in the village were no match for them. If they were asked to come over, what would she do if the marriage was messed up?

"What I want is for them to make a fuss. The bigger the fuss, the better." Lin Caisang raised his hand and pinched her cheek and said.

"Why?"

Lin Caiqing didn't understand. Was her grandpa and grandma going to talk about their marriage, or was she going to listen to Yaguman's parents scolding the heavens and the earth?

"If they don't make trouble, how can they let the villagers see their true colors? Do you really want to live with such in-laws in the future?" Lin Caisang asked her.

"After what they did today, even if Brother Guman's arm is healed, it will be impossible for the Ya family to coax him back to work as a cow or a horse, and everyone in the village knows that Brother Guman. No matter how virtuous my parents are, I won't accuse Brother Guman of being unfilial because he doesn't come home. I just think that Brother Guman's parents are greedy.

You and Brother Guman can live your lives in peace. "

"is this okay?"

Lin Caiqing hesitated, not knowing whether this was the right thing to do.

"Why not? Qing'er, you have to remember that life is like this, be ruthless when you need to be ruthless, and leave a thin line behind, it may be fatal in the future." Lin Caisang educated her.

"Sister Sangsang, you weren't cruel to the second uncle and his family." Lin Caiqing asked her back.

Lin Caisang: "..."

Why is this girl trying to stop her with all her words?

"I left them to check and balance the Zhou family. Look, now, Liu Yushui is desperately pestering Zhou Liang. One of them got pregnant out of wedlock, and the other has no time to read. Isn't that good?

Besides, I didn't pay attention to my second uncle's family and let them fend for themselves. If I really killed them all, my grandfather would not be able to kick me out of the house. "

No matter how bad his son is, he is still his own son. How can he be spoiled? What can he do?

She couldn't help but look at grandpa's face.

"But...Sister Sang Sang, wouldn't it be good if you let Chang Yi deliver the message?" Lin Caiqing asked again.

"Chang Yi is still a child, and everything he says is just childish talk. It's nothing. If we talk about it, it would be bad." Lin Caisang said.

However, as she talks, why does she feel like her younger siblings are being led astray by her? I feel guilty for no reason, what should I do?
