Chapter 554 Bringing the guards to pick him up

"Okay, you should go back to your room. Don't worry about the things outside. Brother, go and take a look. I'm going to Menghuang Mountain. If you need anything, just come to me on the mountain.

As Lin Caisang expected, Lin Changyi just murmured a few words outside the door of Ya's house with a few children of the same age, and they murmured very quietly. The Ya's and his wife, who were sulking at home early in the morning, Just rushed out.

Fortunately, Lin Changyi and the others ran fast, otherwise they would have been caught and beaten.

Later, Yaguman and his wife rushed to the old house cursing, pointing at Yaguman's nose and cursing, and even accused Yaguman of not coming to call their parents because they were about to get engaged.

Fortunately, Yagu was afraid that there would be gossip, so he had already gone to invite him, and he did so in the presence of many people who could see and hear him.

A few people came out to make the decision, and the Ya family was speechless.

But later, they got excited again, saying that they disagreed with Yaguman's marriage, saying that Lin Caiqing was still young, and that giving Yaguman the ration would be a waste of the little girl. However, the Yaguman leader said something back.

Chief Ya said that he should let Ya Guman continue to return to Ya's family.

How could the Ya family be happy? They scolded Yagu Manhao in front of everyone. Anyway, not a single word was said about Yagu Manhao's son, but all of them were bad.

Those who had come to congratulate each other turned green in the face, and they all came out to accuse the Ya family. Afterwards, they didn't feel that they were wrong, but they talked more vigorously. Which words were the most vicious? He was specially selected and crowned on Yaguman's head.

In short, in the end, the Ya clan leader said directly that Ya Guman and his parents should just stay away from each other until death.

Lin Caimulberry, on the other hand, accompanied Yang Lin who was waiting for news on Menghuang Mountain. The two of them talked and peeled the fruit. After a long time, they waited for Lin Changhong who had returned with the news.

It is said that the marriage is settled, and Yagu Man will be able to live a simpler life in the future, and will not be flooded with spit in the village because of his parents.

Two days later, Lin Caisang brought a small portion of the dried fruits from Menghuang Mountain, as well as many homemade spices with health-preserving herbs, etc., and drove the carriage that came from the prince's mansion to Zeng. Home.

After putting down the things, just as he was about to go out, he saw Aunt Bai from the eldest princess's mansion and her guards coming to pick her up.

"Mother Bai, why are you here? But something happened to the eldest princess?" Lin Caisang was shocked. Such a situation had never happened before. The only thing she could think of was that something happened to the eldest princess again. .

"Miss Lin is at ease. There is nothing wrong with the eldest princess. It's just that Jian'an City has been uneasy recently. The eldest princess was afraid that it would be unsafe for Miss Lin to go to the eldest princess's mansion alone, so she ordered the old slave to come with the guards to pick you up."

Aunt Bai said.

Hearing this, Lin Caisang understood immediately, explained a few words to Old Man Zeng and his son, and then left with Aunt Bai.

In the eldest princess's mansion, when Lin Caisang entered the house, not only the eldest prince, but also the general Zhi Lingyang and his wife Jin An'an were there. She couldn't help but feel grateful in her heart for her thoughtfulness towards the eldest princess.

This was because she was afraid that those hiding people would take action against her if she was walking around outside, so she directly called Jin Anan to the eldest princess's mansion, right?
