

Star of Space 557

Chapter 557 That's definitely not the case

"good.

The eldest princess responded, keeping her eyes on Lin Caisang's face. After hesitating for a long time, she spoke.

"Miss Lin, have we really never met before?"

She has never had such a fun chat with any girl. Even among the girls she likes in Jian'an City, none of them are like Miss Lin. Just one glance makes her feel so close to each other.

She thought they had met somewhere, right? I just couldn't remember it all the time.

"no?"

Lin Caisang did not focus on the eldest princess's problem. Instead, he took out some things from his small satchel, put them on the stone table, and began to count them bit by bit.

"My family has very strict family discipline. Except this time, I have never left home."

Regardless of whether she had left home or not, the first time she came to Jian'an City was to treat the eldest princess in front of her, so it was naturally impossible for her to meet her.

"Where does Miss Lin live?" the eldest princess couldn't help but ask.

"Oh, my home is in Ye County." Lin Caisang replied.

"Yejun!"

The eldest princess' expression changed, her hands on her knees tightened, and she pursed her red lips.

"Ye County is a good place. I had the opportunity to go there once before. I heard that there is Qianlin County there, and most of them are people named Lin."

"Yes, seven out of ten people in Qianlin County are named Lin, and of course, I am no exception.

Lin Caisang nodded and continued what he was doing, opening all the porcelain bottles containing the medicines that the eldest princess would need in the future. After smelling them to make sure they were right, he closed them one by one.

"I see that Miss Lin is not very old. I wonder how old she is this year?" the eldest princess asked again.

"me?"

Lin Caisang was a little embarrassed to answer this question.

Because I had grown fat before, my bones had grown wider. In short, I had grown taller.

When she was practicing medicine outside, she never told anyone her age, so she didn't know that she was only thirteen years old. If people found out, they would really think she was a liar.

"I'm only thirteen this year."

Facing the eldest princess, since the poison on her body was cured anyway, she had nothing to hide and said directly.

"Thirteen?"

The eldest princess was stunned, and she didn't expect that Lin Caisang was only thirteen.

"It made the eldest princess laugh. I studied medicine earlier, and I have a photographic memory of medicinal materials, so I became famous earlier." Lin Caisang saw her stunned and thought it was because she didn't believe her age, and then explained.

"Oh I got it."

The eldest princess came to her senses and pinched the hem of her clothes with her hands on her knees.

"Last time I heard Miss Lin accidentally mention that there is an older brother studying at home. Is he going to take part in the Qiu Wei examination this year?" she asked.

"Um."

Lin Caisang nodded.

Seeing her nod, a trace of disappointment flashed in the eldest princess's eyes.

It was definitely not the case if she had an elder brother who was going to take the imperial examination. In fact, it was not such a coincidence. How could God treat her so well?

"That....."

"That's my cousin at home. He is seventeen this year. If he can pass the exam this year, he will go to Jian'an City to participate in the Spring Festival next year." Just when she wanted to change the topic, she heard Lin Caisang speak again.

"As for my eldest brother, he is the same age as me. He is a guy who only knows how to crawl into the mountains every day. This year, I finally forced him to go to school and asked him to learn a few words. In the future, he will not become a big character. Illiterate people who don't know a lot."
