

Star of Space 558

Chapter 558 She is satisfied

Thinking of her elder brother, she felt that she had a lot to do.

I originally thought that since he was my eldest brother, I would just let him come in to learn the art of mechanism in Jinzhu Space. Who knew that even horses couldn't be brought in before the ranch space was upgraded.

She estimated that her brother wouldn't be able to come in either, so she would still have to make a handwritten copy of all the knowledge about mechanism techniques and take them out for him to learn.

"You and your brother are..." The eldest princess looked at her steadily and spoke in a longer voice.

"Dragon and Phoenix."

Lin Caisang smiled.

These days, the twins of a dragon and a phoenix are auspicious omens from heaven. What's more, she was said to be the star of destiny, which was even more incredible.

"Isn't my mother amazing?"

"Um."

The eldest princess took a deep breath and nodded.

Thirteen years old, a boy and a girl, living together in Qianlin County. Is it really such a coincidence? She pinched her hands together, rubbed them vigorously, and blinked her sore eyes.

"Miss Lin, how can your parents rest assured that you are traveling long distances at such a young age? You should go back earlier to make sure you are safe."

"It's okay, my parents are not at home anyway." Lin Caisang said.

Speaking of her father, should she look for her? How could there be no news at all? If he is alive, he should send a letter to his family. If he is really... gone, then he should receive a notification from the government. .

"Your parents are out?" the eldest princess asked. m

"This...how do you say it?"

Lin Caisang showed a helpless look and looked at the eldest princess with a flat mouth.

"Anyway, I don't know what my mother looks like. As for my father, he went to war four years ago and hasn't come back yet. I lived with my grandparents, and they were very kind to me."

She was content to have such a pair of grandparents who held her in their hands and felt pain.

As for her father, she must be looking for him, because her father was too kind to the original owner, and when it came to his mother... three words, she had no impression.

"Don't talk about my business, princess. I have recorded all the medicines here on these pieces of paper. Please ask Aunt Bai to keep them carefully and don't lose them. I refined these myself and they are helpful." Yu Anshen, there are also these soaps, which will foam when applied on the body during bathing. They are very good. I have tried them myself. "

To end the previous topic, she had talked enough, so she introduced all the things that should be used to save trouble later.

The eldest princess looked at her blankly, looking a little excited, but she tried her best to suppress it and did not extend her hand to Lin Caisang.

From Lin Caisang's words, she was almost sure, but...

"Mother Bai, come here."

She reached out and waved behind her, and Aunt Bai came over immediately.

"Princess, the old slave is here."

"Aunt Bai, you must put away these medicines."

The eldest princess raised her hand tremblingly, pointed at the medicines Lin Caisang took out, and ordered Aunt Bai.

"Yes, princess." Aunt Bai responded.

"Aunt Bai, I remember that I asked you to check some things before. You once said that the girl was very fat, right?" The eldest princess took a deep breath and asked Aunt Bai calmly.

Although she felt ashamed to see them, she still asked Aunt Bai, who was most loyal to her, to check it out in person.

"Yes, princess."

Aunt Bai didn't expect that her princess would suddenly mention that matter. She was stunned for a moment, and then replied respectfully.

"Princess, you..."

She wanted to ask the princess why she suddenly mentioned this matter. Didn't she agree not to mention it again? Just pretend that those people never existed. What is happening today?
