Chapter 56 I don't owe you anything!

Lin Baiyi went to the room to carry Lin Laogan, and Lin Caisang also took Lin Changhong to the main room. Lin Yang looked at her eldest daughter, sighed, went to put the things on the ox cart into the room, and returned the goods in the afternoon. The cart must be returned.

The people in the yard left all at once, leaving Lin Caihe alone.

"You...you..."

When Lin Caihe ignored her, he secretly stamped his foot with red eyes.

"It's obviously her fault. Why should she blame me? Where did I say something wrong? Is it right that she spent all the money? No, I must ask Sister Sangsang to hand over the money!"

Gritting her teeth, she turned around and chased Lin Caisang to the main room. Why should she be eating porridge at home while Lin Caisang was spending money outside? This family was too unfair, right?

Why?

"Sister Sang Sang, Sister Sang Sang.

"What's the matter?"

Lin Caisang turned around and looked at Lin Caihe who was chasing her with a frown, already feeling a little unhappy.

"You and Brother Changhong have been selling wild eggs and game these past few days, and today you also sold medicinal materials. Have you really spent all the money? Or have you hidden it yourself? You don't want to hide your private money, do you?"

Lin Caihe scratched his neck and questioned Lin Caisang.

"You can't do this. All the money in the family has to be given to grandma. If you hide the money, how will everyone live?"

"Hide personal money? Ha."

Lin Caisang sat on the stool, clenching her right hand into a fist, tapping the second knuckles of her four fingers on the table, looking at Lin Caisang who was choking with her with a half-smile.

"I really don't know what private money is, He'er, why don't you explain to me, if the money my eldest brother and I earn is in our own hands, why is it called hiding private money, huh?"

"I....."

Lin Caihe choked and didn't know how to reply. It took him a while to find his voice.

"I never hid any money, why are you so selfish?"

"That's because you haven't earned any money, and you don't know how to hide it even if you want to, right?" Lin Changhong stared at her and asked.

Originally, he thought that there was something wrong with Sang Sang's idea of saving money for himself. Now looking at Lin Caihe, he felt that Sang Sang's decision was really the right one!

"I....."

Lin Caihe was speechless at his words.

"Lin Caihe, let me tell you, even if Sangsang wants to hide her private money, she earned it herself. She picked up the wild eggs and dug the medicinal materials. She keeps the money she earned by herself. What's wrong with that? of?"

Seeing that she was speechless, Lin Changhong asked her again.

"Even if you come to grandpa and grandma, it's okay for Sangsang to keep the money he earned. If you want money, just earn it and keep it yourself. None of us will object!

Are you interested in holding on to Sangsang all day long? Did Sangsang provoke you? Every time you talk to Sang Sang, Sang Sang said something to you, right? You think it's natural for Sang Sang to let you go, Lin Caihe, Sang Sang doesn't owe you anything!

I go hunting in the mountains, Sangsang digs medicinal materials and collects eggs. That's what we do. What does it have to do with you? What's the matter, you haven't contributed even half of your efforts, do you still want us to give you money? How dare you say this! "

"Brother."

Seeing that Lin Changhong was really angry, Lin Caisang reached out and pulled his sleeve.

"He'er still..."

"Sang Sang, are you still speaking for her? Is Lin Caihe still young? She is only half a month younger than us. Qing'er and Chang Yi are both more sensible than her." Lin Changhong interrupted Lin Caisang's words and stared at himself. Lin Caihe said.
