Chapter 579 Always good at winning people's hearts

"oh.

Lin Caisang nodded.

After eating a few more mouthfuls of food, Patriarch Lin stood up to leave. He also told Lin Caisang that if he had any ideas in the future, he should tell him first and don't treat him as an outsider.

"Sang Sang, don't worry, it's not that bad." After Patriarch Lin left, Lin Laogan comforted his granddaughter.

"What do I have to worry about?"

Lin Caisang chuckled lightly, not even thinking that what Patriarch Lin just said was a big deal.

Those who dislike her want to chew on her behind her back, so let them chew. Anyway, she will be the one who will be full in the future, not them. She can walk and sit upright.

"I really can't tell that this clan leader, who is always looking at things, can really say a few words that are pleasing to the ear at critical moments." Lu Qiubo couldn't help but say something at the dinner table.

Hearing this, Lin Caisang looked at his grandma in a funny way.

"Grandma, don't think that Chief Lin is usually two-faced, but when it comes time to ask him to do something, he won't be vague. But Chief Ya, haha."

Thinking of meeting the Ya clan leader today and hearing what he said, she really wanted to say 'hehe' a few times.

"In short, you can't take people too seriously."

...

After eating, Lin Caisang made an excuse, entered the room early, lit the candle, and sat at the table to study the things in her hands. As she expected, Ya Molian came over after a while.

"Son'er, what do you think about what happened today?" He sat down directly opposite her and asked.

Although he was such a smart person, he didn't believe that the little girl couldn't even predict something that Patriarch Lin could think of.

Or maybe she had other ideas.

"I didn't think much of it."

Lin Caisang shrugged, raised his hand, and handed him the paper in his hand.

"How about you take a look at this first?"

Ya Molian took it and looked at it carefully.

Lin Caisang picked up the candlestick and walked to him so that he could see more clearly.

"Is this what you think?"

After a long time, Ya Molian raised her head and looked at her and asked.

"Um."

Lin Caisang nodded.

These pictures were all finished pictures of water introduced into the paddy fields for irrigation. She drew them based on the current status of all the fields in Yacun. She thought that there should be no need to improve anything.

Even if there is, it will only be some discrepancies between the fields of each family, and the two patriarchs with big surnames will be able to handle this by themselves.

"These pictures were drawn when I started the renovation of Menghuang Mountain. I originally wanted to use the 20 acres of ponds on Menghuang Mountain, but... after thinking about it, I felt it was wrong.

Although doing good deeds can gain a good reputation, my twenty-acre pond will definitely not be enough by then. It would be bad if water issues caused a big conflict between the two major surnames in the village. "

"You are right to think so." Ya Molian nodded.

"You must have tried it today. Although Patriarch Lin seems to be a little careless on the surface, he still has his own position on major issues. But Patriarch Ya is different. This person is always good at winning people's hearts. At critical moments, he is also the best at adding insult to injury."

"Well."

Hearing his words, Lin Caisang felt weak and couldn't help but laugh twice.

That's right, she let Aunt Tao hear it on purpose. Firstly, she wanted to spread the word about two crops of rice being planted in the village next year, so that everyone would know better.
