Also, my third uncle and my third aunt love me because my father was kind to them in the past, and they remember their past friendship. Therefore, even if it is kindness to others, it is mutual. If you are kind to me, I will I am good to you, but you are like this now. I am good to you, but you use me as a thorn in your side. Everyone will see the reality clearly and will no longer give foolishly.

Finally, I would like to advise you, go to the village and ask around, whose little girl lives as comfortably as mine? You should eat and drink when you should and never fall behind. He'er, you should be content.

"you....."

Lin Caihe gritted his teeth and looked at Lin Caisang unconvinced.

"In addition, grandpa and grandma love me. My dad used to work hard to earn money every day and serve them. My brother was young and illiterate and risked his life every day to hunt in the mountains. It didn't fall from the sky. pie, so don't be jealous or feel unfair. God is fair to everyone.

Lin Caisang said to her calmly again.

"Sangsang..."

Lin Yang was yelled at by Lin Baiyi's roar just now. After hearing Lin Caisang's words, she also secretly wiped away tears.

"He'er, why are you really so ignorant? When you were just born, your grandma stole all your clothes when she came to visit your mother. It was your uncle who stole Sangsang's clothes. I gave you all my clothes, so you didn't freeze to death. You are really..."

Now that there is no news about the elder Bolin Baizhong going to join the army, as the third aunt, did she really do something wrong by loving Sangsang?

"I....."

Lin Caihe's eyes were red. Being hostile to so many people in his family, he could only cry. What else could he say?

But how could she be convinced?

"Mom, I am your daughter. Look at your home. Grandpa and grandma are good to Sister Sangsang. I dare not have any objection. But why do you, dad, eldest brother, even Qing'er and Changyi Only listen to Sister Sangsang? I am their biological sister!"

She cried and looked at Lin Changyi who was clutching the hem of Lin Caisang's clothes, and felt even more uncomfortable.

"He'er."

Lin Changfeng also walked out at this moment and looked at his sister.

"Okay, okay, stop talking. Besides, the food is cold and I'm already hungry."

When Lin Caisang saw Lin Changfeng running out, it could be seen that the scene was only going to get louder and louder, so he quickly spoke up and put an end to it.

"Grandma, I'm hungry."

"Here we come, the rice porridge is here, and we also put wild vegetables in it today. It's very fragrant."

Mrs. Lin Lu put the tray with three pots of porridge in her hand on the table, glanced at Lin Caihe, and said nothing.

"There's some from Lao San's house in the kitchen. Go bring it over."

"Why."

Lin Yang responded and went to the kitchen. Lin Changfeng followed suit when he saw this.

"Everyone, sit down. We have to eat before we discuss any big things." Lin Lu said to everyone.

"Grandma..."

Lin Caihe looked at Lin Lu with aggrieved face, glanced at the others timidly, and wanted to sit aside.

"He'er, go help your mother get all the porridge from the kitchen." Lin Lu ordered her.

After hearing the words, Lin Caihe stiffened. Although he was reluctant, he could only nod and go to help Lin Yang.

...

The meal was finished in relative silence. Lin Laogan did not go back to his room immediately. The whole family sat in the main room talking. Lin Caihe did not dare to go back to his room because he had offended Lin Caisang before, so he could only retreat. In the corner, try to pretend you don't exist.

"Sang Sang, are you serious that you want to buy a bullock cart for your third uncle?"
