

Star of Space 594

Chapter 594 Is it really planted?

Secondly: Zhou Liang's mother will definitely blame her for Zhou Liang's failure to pass the exam. Even if she marries into the Zhou family and is a serious daughter-in-law of the Zhou family, she will still be made things difficult for Zhou Liang's mother.

The days ahead will be difficult for her.

"What's weird about the Lin family is that it relies on Lin Caisang's luck. Her luck can last a lifetime?" Zhou Liang sneered.

In his impression, Lin Caisang was still the same fat pig he had been before and regarded her as the same person. In addition, Liu Yushui spoke ill of Lin Caisang in front of him. The impression can be described as too bad.

"So what if Lin Changfeng can pass the examination? I will also be a candidate at that time. With our family's status in the county, it will not be easy to kill him? Don't mention this matter."

"Brother Liang, we have to be on guard!"

When Liu Yushui saw that he was so unconcerned about whether Lin Changfeng would pass the exam, he felt anxious. How could it not be important whether Lin Changfeng would pass the exam? It had a big bearing on it.

"Brother Liang, didn't I tell you last time? In order to allow Lin Changfeng to attend the Qiu Wei Festival, the Lin family was so cruel that they ranked one family above the other. Do you think they were joking? Of?

That Lin Caisang, the more I look at her these days, the weirder she gets. Now I even wonder if she was buried alive once and then something took hold of her, turning her into a monster and becoming a monster.

Look at her, she is planting the second season of rice on Menghuang Mountain. If she grows this thing, not to mention our Yacun, the entire Ye County people will have to regard her as a great benefactor. Yes, she also opened a shop in the county. Now when people in the village mention her, everyone will raise their thumbs. "

Speaking of these, her face turned dark.

In order to be able to marry Zhou Liang when she was unmarried and pregnant, she suffered so many looks at her in Yacun. Even when she went out to wash clothes and vegetables, she was afraid of being pressed on her belly and drowned in the river.

As for Lin Caisang, a widow who had been married once, was able to prosper in the village, and everyone held her in their hands.

Now she wanted to take a knife and cut off Lin Caisang's head and use it as a stool for herself to sit on!

"She does her thing, why do you care about that?" Zhou Liang didn't even care.

"Isn't it just a shop? Can you make more money? Even Lin Changfeng's expenses are not enough, right? It has to be closed as soon as possible. And about the two crops of rice, do you think all the senior officials in our county are... You fool, you can't even share such a big credit with Lin Caisang."

He had already thought about this and thought about it very clearly.

When Liu Yushui took him to Lin Caisang's barren mountain before, he was unwilling to do so, because how could such a big credit not fall on his head.

To put it bluntly, if he brought this matter to the county, in the end, the county magistrate would have to send someone down to investigate, or would it have to be traced to Lin Caisang. What does it have to do with him?

He might as well let Lin Caisang go through so much trouble and let her find some punishment for herself.

"Besides, Lin Caisang said to plant two crops of rice, just two crops. Does she have the ability?" He rolled his eyes and tapped the tip of Liu Yushui's nose.

"What if she really grows it?" Liu Yushui asked him.
