Chapter 610 This is enough for you

"That Lin Caisang loves the new and hates the old. Now that Ya Molian is by her side to protect her, how can she look down on Zhou Liang, a scholar?" She said with a pretense of sighing.

"What?!"

Sure enough, when Ya Yuju heard Liu Yushui's words, her whole face turned red with anger, and she stared at Liu Yushui with a maniacal look.

"What did you say? Say it again if you have the guts?!"

"I said, Lin Caisang is not clear with Ya Molian now, and has kicked Zhou Liang off. Poor brother Liang, I used to be so good to Lin Caisang, but I didn't expect that Lin Caisang turned out to be a coquettish person. What kind of person is he? All seduced."

Liu Yushui said something more.

"But it's good. I finally let Brother Liang see Lin Caisang's true face and know how good I am. Isn't this...I am pregnant with Brother Liang's child..."

"Where is Lin Caisang? Where is she?"

Ya Yuju didn't care about what happened between Liu Yushui and Zhou Liang. She only knew that after she went to her grandma's house, her favorite brother Mo Lian had a relationship with that big fat pig Lin Caisang!

That fat pig doesn't even know what kind of virtue he is, how can he be worthy of her Brother Melian? !

"She should be at home right now, Ya Molian must be with her.

"Lin Caisang! You fat pig, you dare to snatch my brother Mo Lian, I can't spare you!" After hearing her words, Ya Yuju rushed towards the Lin family angrily.

"hehe."

Behind him, Liu Yushui looked at Ya Yuju's back and chuckled.

"Lin Caisang, you don't need me to deal with you now. One Yayuju is enough for you, right?"

Due to Ya Yuju's fiery temper, and the fact that she is the granddaughter of the Ya clan leader, and her identity is there, Lin Caisang can only be beaten, and the beatings are not included. She also has to hand over the man Ya Molian obediently. , return it to Yayuju.

...

Liu Yushui was wrong. Although Lin Caisang was at home, Ya Molian was really not there.

"Grandma, we must have enough food this year, right?"

Seeing his third uncle Lin Baiyi and Lin Changfeng filling the two grain cabinets with millet, Lin Caisang asked Lu Qiubo with a smile.

"Enough, enough, enough."

Lu Qiubo was also happy from ear to ear at this moment.

"The two grain cabinets in our house have never been full. This is the first time this year."

"Mom, there are two grain cabinets that have not been filled. In previous years, not even one grain cabinet could be filled." Lin Baiyi told the truth.

As for growing rice, people here prefer to grow corn or something because there is more food.

But after this year, I believe that more than half of the dry land in their village will turn into paddy fields. Who allows this rice to be considered a real bumper harvest? A few acres of paddy fields can feed a family a whole year's snacks, and they can also make some. I went to the town to sell some silver flowers.

"Yep."

Lu Qiubo nodded his head and responded.

"Our Sang Sang is really capable. Grandma is going to grind some new rice today and come back. Let's have rice at night, okay?"

"Of course."

Lin Caisang responded and turned to look at Lin Changyi and the others who were joining in the fun.

"Changyi, Qing'er, go to the mountain to pick some vegetables and come back and eat rice at night."

"Okay."

Lin Changyi's eyes narrowed with joy. After listening to Lin Caisang's words, he quickly took the vegetable basket to go out, and Lin Caiqing followed.

However, before they ran out of the yard, they just bent down to carry the bamboo basket when they heard a bang and a heavy kick on their yard door.
