Chapter 613 How dare you call me a lunatic!

"Grandpa, someone from his family beat me. Look, my face is still red. It will definitely swell tomorrow.

She pointed at her grandfather and pointed at her beaten red face and said.

"What's wrong with hitting you? I'll hit you once I see you in the future!" Yang Lin was helped out of the hall by Lin Baiyi, covering his stomach with one hand and pointing at Ya Yuju with the other.

Then he squinted his eyes and looked at Chief Ya.

"Chief Ya, your granddaughter rushed to my house and almost pushed the child out of my belly. Fortunately, my Sangsang made me a meat pad, but she hurt my stomach. What should I do about this?"

"Well.

Chief Ya was so bored by Yang Lin's words that he couldn't say a word.

He just heard that his precious granddaughter was beaten, and he thought that someone from the Lin family must have bullied his granddaughter. How could he think of anything else.

"You... Baiyi's daughter-in-law, you can't talk nonsense. Why did my Yuju push you so well? You said she pushed you. Who can testify for you? Maybe it was because you were not stable on your feet. Did you fall?"

No matter what, you can't let others talk about your family's faults, so you can only talk about Yuju's faults to other people's families.

"hehe."

Lin Caisang held her stomach and walked out of the main room. After walking to Yang Lin's side, she raised her hands and clapped.

"Chief Ya, today I have seen what it means to tell lies with open eyes. If you say so, then you say that our family has raped Ya Yuju. Who can testify for her?"

"My face is still red now." Ya Yuju pointed at her face and said to Lin Caisang.

"your face?"

Lin Caisang looked at her in surprise.

"My grandma and I just saw you banging your face against the tree pole under the jujube tree in front of my house. My grandma didn't see who it was for a while, so she asked me if it was some lunatic from the village who ran away. Out.

Why, Yuju, you hit it yourself, but we are to blame. How about cutting down the jujube tree outside to vent your anger? "

"you--"

Ya Yuju's face flushed with anger when she heard her words, but her face was already red and she couldn't tell.

"You dare to call me a lunatic! Grandpa, look at her. If she dares to call me, drive her out of the village quickly!" She was so angry that she turned to look at her grandfather and held on to his arm. Shake his head.

"this....."

Chief Ya's face was full of embarrassment at the moment and he didn't know what to say.

I didn't understand anything about the situation just now. When I said that I wanted to drive the Lin family out of the village, I was just saying it angrily. It was just to scare Old Gang Lin.

If he really drives them out of the village, then the people in the village will jump up and ask him to settle accounts. They can all point to Lin Caisang and teach them to grow two crops of rice next year.

"Yuju, why did you come to the Lin family if you didn't go home first?" He lowered his voice and asked his granddaughter.

"Who dared Lin Caisang, a vixen, to steal my Brother Mo Lian? Brother Mo Lian is mine. Grandpa, didn't you promise me that you would let Brother Mo Lian marry into my house and be my son-in-law?" "

Ya Yuju spoke so loudly that she wished the whole village could hear her.

"Yuju, what are you talking about? When did grandpa say such things?"

Chief Ya was even more embarrassed, and his face was very stiff. In this case, he would only dare to talk about it in his own home, how could he talk outside.
