Chapter 625 No one dares to drive you out of the village

"Whether you can stay in Ya Village or not is not something you, the head of the Ya clan, can say!"

Suddenly, a voice came in. Hearing this voice, Chief Ya's brows instinctively frowned. Isn't that the voice of Chief Lin, who was facing his death? Why did he come here?

"Clan Chief Lin, what are you doing here?" Turning around, he looked at Patriarch Lin who was followed by more men than he had brought.

"Why, Chief Ya can come here, but I can't come? Chief Ya may have forgotten that this is the courtyard of my Lin family. Someone comes to make trouble on my Lin family's territory. As the leader of the clan, can I still come? Take a look?"

Patriarch Lin glared at Patriarch Ya and led the people into the courtyard of Lin Caisang's house.

"Sang Sang, are you okay? Did this old thing hurt you? The patriarch went to call a few people, which wasted some time."

"Thank you, Grandpa Patriarch, for your concern. I'm fine. I just wish Grandpa Patriarch is here." Lin Caisang smiled and said to Patriarch Lin.

"As long as it's okay, it'll be okay."

When she said it was okay, Patriarch Lin felt relieved and turned to look at Ya Enxi.

"Boy Enxi, you can rest assured that this Ya Village has not yet had its turn to let the Ya clan leader make the decision. As long as you have a house and land in this village, no one will dare to drive you out of the village."

He patted his chest at Ya Enxi, and then looked at Chief Ya.

"Chief Ya, I really can't tell. You are already very old, and you are still doing things to threaten the younger generation here. Do you have the right to speak on behalf of the entire Ya Village?"

"His surname is Ya, why can't I..."

"Didn't you expel him from the family tree a long time ago? Does it have anything to do with you whether Ya Enxi's surname is Ya or not?" Before Chief Ya could finish his words, he was interrupted by Chief Lin.

"I really feel sorry for those people in the Ya family tree. Do they listen to you so much because they were threatened by you?"

While he was talking, he looked at the young men behind Chief Ya and saw that their faces turned ugly after hearing his words.

"Even if you are a clan leader, you can't decide where others live. That is their freedom. Enxi doesn't live in your house, so why are you stretching your hands so far?"

he said again.

"He doesn't live in my house, but he bullies my Yuju. That's true... why are you laughing?"

"laugh."

Before Chief Ya could finish his words, he stopped and asked him after hearing Chief Lin's laughter.

"Except for having a loud voice, the daughter-in-law of Enxi's family washes and cooks at home, serves her husband, takes care of the children, and only manages the house in an orderly manner. When she has free time, she also goes to the fields to do all the men's work. It's over, the key is to find the most handsome wife in our village. As long as Enxi is not stupid, we will know which one is better."

Chief Lin said.

Chief Ya: "..."

It's great to have a good daughter-in-law. Have you never heard of the saying that domestic flowers are not as fragrant as wild flowers?

But of course he couldn't say this. Should he say that his granddaughter was a wild flower? He couldn't put it out of his mouth.

"Enxi is really lucky. Fortunately, he was expelled from the family tree. If he was still on your Ya clan's family tree, he might have been bullied by you. It's okay, it's okay."

As he spoke, Patriarch Lin let out a sigh of relief and patted his chest, looking as funny as possible.
