Chapter 634: Get all this money

"Sonny.

Ya Molian also felt extremely wronged and looked at her with her thin lips pursed.

"you....."

Seeing his aggrieved look, Lin Caisang really laughed.

"You know that I'm older than you, so you want to bully me as hard as you can, right?"

"Where can I have it?"

Yamolian suddenly felt extremely wronged and shouted.

"I don't care anyway, you belong to me alone."

Lin Caisang: "..."

She shook her head helplessly, and she was too embarrassed to tease him anymore.

"Okay, don't make trouble, I haven't gotten married yet, why are you in a hurry here?"

"Not married?!"

At this time, Ya Molian screamed in surprise, she was already thirty and three years old, and she was not married yet?

But although he was surprised, he was secretly happy that his son was still his alone, hehe.

"What's wrong with not getting married, no?" Lin Caisang glared at him again.

Are you that surprised that she's not married? She had to get married. In the past, she was focused on her medical career, so how could she find time to look at men? Just after I came here, I was pestered by this shameless guy in front of me!

"Okay, of course, it can't be done any better." Ya Molian said immediately.

"Sonny, let's not talk about this anymore and let's talk about our marriage. What do you think should be done? Do you want me to invite the matchmaker tomorrow and we can finalize the marriage?"

"How can it be so fast?"

Lin Caisang laughed. He said it would be tomorrow, which was too urgent.

"My grandpa and grandma didn't even mention it. We have to discuss it anyway. Besides, do you think getting engaged is that simple, and it can be done with just a touch of lip service?"

"Tsk."

After hearing her words, Ya Molian thought for a while.

"That's right. This betrothal gift must be paid carefully. It can't be so casual."

Among the three types of matchmaking and the six types of matchmaking, one must not be missing from the ceremony, asking for names, accepting gifts, and accepting levies. It is also necessary to find a more stable matchmaker.

"Don't worry about grandpa and grandma, I'll take care of it." He said to Lin Caisang.

He was very confident in Lin Laogan and Lu Qiubo. He had never seen how happy the two elders were when Sang Sang told Ya Clan Chief about what happened with him today.

Lin Caisang: "..."

He called grandpa and grandma so quickly. This guy is really familiar with himself.

She looked at him deeply and let him go about his business.

The Ya clan leader's home.

After returning from Lin's house, Chief Ya, who had just arrived home, hadn't realized what was going on. He was just disturbed by his unconvinced granddaughter, who was locked in her room and was still cursing.

But in the evening, Ya Yuju was tired from the noise and fell asleep, and he began to think about it carefully.

Judging from the conversation between Ya Molian and someone at home, it turns out that Ya Molian's identity is really not simple. He originally thought that if he could win over him, he would bring him to his home, even if he was against his will. The fate of a lone star from the sky has nothing to do with their family as long as he doesn't consummate his granddaughter's marriage in the future.

He also specifically asked people about this.

And just based on Ya Molian's extraordinary identity and the aura when talking to people, it can be seen that he is definitely not a person who only collects bird's nests, hunts, and makes a few small bucks in their Ya Village. There must be a lot of money in it.

He just wanted to get all the money so that his family could dominate Yacun.

Anyway, Yamolian has no relatives in Yacun, and she has no feelings for Yatu's family. At least his granddaughter can take care of him when she comes to his house, which is good, isn't it?
