

Star of Space 662

Chapter 662 That's mine...

"Could it be that someone bought her a daughter-in-law?" Lin Caisang asked.

Since it is impossible in other villages, there is only one possibility. This little girl is the daughter-in-law bought by someone in their village. She has been locked up at home and escaped tonight without being watched.

But because I was too panicked, I ran here without choosing a way.

"Mother, how old is this little girl? She looks like a bean sprout. Who would buy such a little girl to take home as a wife?" a subordinate asked, with a hint of disgust in his words.

"She should be about the same age as me." Lin Caisang replied.

"Well."

The subordinate was choked and couldn't speak a word.

What the mistress said was true, as if he was talking about the mistress. He secretly glanced at his palace master, only to find that his palace master's eyes had been fixed on Lin Caisang.

He was asking for trouble.

After Lin Caisang inserted the needle, the little girl became much quieter, and her distracted eyes gradually became brighter. Taking advantage of this moment, she took another pulse of the frightened little girl.

"Tsk, my pulse seems to be floating and weak. It's because I've been hungry for several days, and I'm dehydrated. It's also because I've been frightened for several days, which damaged my heart and pulse. It seems I want to take good care of my body. It's going to take a while."

As she spoke, she reached out and fumbled around the little girl's waist. She took out a piece of folded paper and spread it out in her hand.

"This is a contract of sale."

She raised her eyebrows and looked at the little girl in front of her.

The little girl was so capable. She had already run into the mountains in a panic, and she didn't forget to steal her own deed.

"Are you awake? If you don't wake up, I will order them to throw you into the mountains to feed the wolves." She raised her hand and patted the little girl's face and asked.

"No, no, no."

When the little girl heard her words, she screamed in fright, but it could be heard from her voice that she was awake and knew where she was now.

Lin Caisang stood up with a chuckle, pulled Ya Molian to sit on the chair with him, and watched the little girl being picked up by Jue Ti and thrown in front of them.

"Tell me, what's your name, and which house did you escape from?"

She put the rendition contract in her hand on the table and asked the little girl.

"I...that's mine..."

When the little girl saw the contract of sale, her eyes narrowed and she swallowed.

"Is it yours? Didn't you steal it from your master?" Lin Caisang asked her.

"I....."

After hearing her words, the little girl didn't dare to reply. She could only sit on the ground half-kneeling with her neck curled up.

"Speak, what's your name? Which house did you escape from?" A subordinate behind her shouted when he saw that she was silent.

The little girl was so frightened that her whole body trembled. She looked at Lin Caisang and Ya Molian with trembling lips in fear. She gritted her teeth and didn't want to say anything, but the people behind her didn't allow her not to speak.

"My name is Feng Luzhi. I...escaped from the Liu...Liu family."

"Liu family?"

Lin Caisang was stunned when he heard the words 'Liu Family'.

It's not enough for Liu Baixiao to lie on the bed and let Liu Rumei take care of him. Do you need to buy a maid to take care of him?

Or maybe this little girl was bought to be his son Liu Qingshui's wife? This is impossible, for such a little girl, although her face should look pretty good after a while, can Liu Qingshui be able to look at it?
