

Star of Space 669

Chapter 669 The dry season has arrived

"Okay, okay, you just lie down for now. Zhou Liang was sent back by his mother. He won't be here for a few days. This bastard, will he die if he doesn't have a woman for a day? Really..."

Liu Rumei muttered and walked outside.

However, after hearing her words, Liu Yushui's body that had just been lying down was suddenly frightened and sat up again.

"If Zhou Liang doesn't get it from me, he won't go find another woman, right?"

Thinking of this possibility, cold sweat broke out on her back. This was really something Zhou Liang would do. If he really had another woman, what would he have to do with her?

"No, I have to go find Zhou Liang!"

The child is gone when she is gone, but Zhou Liang must be watched, otherwise, her life will be over!

Feng Luzhi couldn't live in the Lin family, so Lin Caisang sent her directly to Menghuang Mountain to help collect wild fruits picked from the mountain, which could meet Lin Chushui's shortage and free up Zhong You to study medicine.

Time passed very quickly. Accompanied by Yamolian, Lin Caisang did a few more tasks and went to Ye County and Qianlin County. Seeing that the business of Baiwei Snacks and Weijuxiang was good, they just turned back.

Seeing that the drought season is coming, cracks in the fields are popping up. On the Menghuang Mountain, the windmill that Lin Caisang asked Lin Baiyi and the others to build before has also come in use, and it keeps turning every day. , transporting water from the pond little by little to water rice and other crops.

In the village, all available water is used.

In the end, there was really no other way. Many villagers in the village had the idea of Lin Cai from the twenty-acre pond in Sangmeng Barren Mountain, and wanted to carry some water back from there to irrigate their farmland.

Fortunately for the Lin clan leader, he was willing to come to the Lin family to discuss with Lin Caisang. In order not to cause trouble to Lin Caisang, he also took the initiative to mention to the Lin clan that if you want water, you must pay something. We can't let the Lin family provide water in vain.

After all, Lin Caisang spent money to dig this pond.

As for the Ya clan, there are two evil gods in the family of Ya clan leader. In just one month, he has become a celebrity in Ya village, and no one dares to mess with them.

Several clan elders of the Ya clan thought that there was no need to trouble the clan leader with this matter, so they directly invited Uncle Li Zhengjin to come forward to discuss the water issue with Lin Caisang, together with several clan elders. At the same time, Chief Ya was directly excluded.

Who made Chief Ya have such a big unhappiness with the Lin family? If he were to step in, all the good things would be ruined by him, and no one would dare to take the risk.

The water issue was a big deal. Uncle Li Zhengjin made an appointment with Chief Lin and took several elders from the Lin and Ya clans to the Lin family.

At this time, Lin Caisang and Ya Molian had just come out of the Ya family's yard. Before they entered the Lin family's courtyard, they saw Uncle Jin, Patriarch Lin and their group. They all stopped at the same time and looked at each other.

"Sangsang, you just came back from the county?"

After being stunned for a while, Patriarch Lin coughed slightly and spoke to Lin Caisang with a smile.

"Um."

Lin Caisang responded and glanced at Ya Molian.

"Didn't I just go to Brother Mo Lian's house to see what I need to buy on the day of the engagement, and then I'm ready to go home."

After hearing her words, everyone remembered that Ya Molian and Lin Caisang were going to get engaged in two days. The yards of the Lin family and Yamolian family were very busy these days.
