

Star of Space 700

Chapter 700 Is there still a good life?

"Brother Liang, as long as you marry me, our children will still be in the Zhou family. Why do you have to separate me from my children? Is it because my aunt still doesn't agree with our marriage?"

She knew that Mrs. Zhou, that bitch, must not agree. Otherwise, how could Zhou Liang say such things to her based on his infatuation with her?

"How could this be possible, aunt? I didn't ask to be your wife, I just want to stay by your side and serve you. Am I not worthy of being your concubine in my capacity?"

Hearing this, Zhou Liang took a deep breath and shook his head.

"Yushui, let me tell you the truth. My grandfather has already given me a special wife. He will only wait for me to participate in Qiuwei and enter the palace before we get engaged. We will get married next year.

"What?!"

Liu Yushui looked at Zhou Liang in shock.

Zhou Liang had been here so many times before, but he had never told him this before.

No wonder Zhou Liang came less and less these days, and his attitude towards her was not as eager as usual. But it turned out that it was because he was getting married, and the candidate for his real wife was not her who was already pregnant with his child. people!

"Who is she? The daughter of a high-ranking official? The county magistrate, or someone else?" she asked angrily.

"Yes...it's the nine thousand gold from the county governor." Zhou Liang replied.

"Lord Sheriff, hehe."

Liu Yushui laughed, and the tears on his face couldn't help but flow down. He looked as miserable as he could.

"The Sheriff's daughter should be coaxed and protected well."

She only regretted that she was just reincarnated into a businessman's family, and also had such a pair of parents, and in the end she was reduced to facing the earth with her back to the sky, and was often beaten and scolded by Liu Baixiao!

"Zhou Liang, since you are going to marry the county governor's daughter, aren't you afraid that after you take my son to the Zhou family, he will be hated by the county governor's daughter and kill your whole family?"

She looked at Zhou Liang with a sneer and asked.

"You don't have to worry about that."

Zhou Liang laughed when he heard her words, not caring at all about the viciousness in her words.

"The biological mother of the county governor with nine thousand gold died in childbirth, so she made an agreement with my mother from the beginning that after she married into the Zhou family, she would not give birth to a son and a half for me, and she would let me do it myself. No matter whether you take a concubine or find a woman outside, as long as you give birth to a son, you can bring him to her knees to raise him. "

That's why he was so eager to know whether the child in Liu Yushui's belly was a son.

"Since she agreed to your concubinage, why do you still want me to live outside?" Liu Yushui asked.

"Since your son is already raised under her knees, why don't you call her mother? How can I let you see your son all the time and compete with her for him in the future? She is the daughter of the county governor. If she is If you are so angry, will our Zhou family still have a good life?"

Zhou Liang said to her immediately.

He was not stupid. How could he let his son's biological mother stay in the Zhou family and hinder the eyes of the county guard's daughter? Don't talk about him, even his mother and grandpa would not agree.

"Yushui, if you can stay safe and give birth to this child well and take it back to the Zhou family for me, I can buy you a property in the town. You can still eat and drink well and live the same life as you did in the Liu family. Life, what do you think?"
