Chapter 705 In the Face of Life

"Grandma, where is the midwife? Isn't she here yet?"

Listening to Liu Yushui's terrifying screams in the room, no one was seen. They all gathered outside the yard. She asked Lu Qiubo.

"What kind of midwife? I asked your third uncle to invite her, but when they heard it was Liu Yushui, they refused to come." Lu Qiubo was almost anxious to death, but it was useless to be anxious.

On the way here, she thought of the midwife in their village and asked her son to go and invite her. However, when she heard that the midwife was Liu Yushui, she actually refused to come and even closed the door of her house.

No, the moment before Sangsang came in, her third uncle had just come back, and he was also very angry with the midwife.

"Don't want to come?"

Lin Caisang's eyes widened in disbelief.

There is a midwife in every village, and they also have one in Ya Village. The midwife is their surname Lin. Her third uncle went to invite her, but she still refused to come?

Do you think Liu Yushui gave birth out of wedlock and it will dirty her hands?

"It's really abominable to see death without saving anything!"

I told Patriarch Lin before that the houses of those who were helpless could be repaired, but now it seems that I have to change my words and not just help everyone!

"Grandma..."

"If it doesn't work, I'll go in." Lu Qiubo said.

After all, she had given birth to three sons. Although she had never delivered a baby, she knew how to do it.

"I'll go in too..."

"Where are you going?"

As soon as Lin Caisang opened his mouth, he was scolded by Lu Qiubo.

He raised his head and glanced at Ya Molian, who was standing next to his granddaughter, and her expression became even worse.

"Girl, if you get involved in this matter, you won't hurt your reputation. Just wait in the yard with Mo Lian."

"I....."

Lin Caisang opened his mouth, but no words came out.

Yes, in this era, how could she, an unmarried little girl, go to a bloody place like the delivery room? It was okay to bring water and hand something, but delivering a baby...

No wonder her grandma's face looked so ugly.

What's more, she is getting engaged tomorrow. If she steps into the delivery room today, she will probably be drowned in the spit of the villagers.

"Sonny, you go in, I'm outside."

I'm thinking about whether to go in. After all, it's two lives, so I can't really let it go, right? Then he heard Ya Molian's extremely calming voice ringing in his ears.

"Brother Mo Lian..."

Hearing his words, Lin Caisang felt moved in his heart.

If it were any other man, it would be fine if he didn't scold her when he heard that she wanted to go into the delivery room, but here with Ya Molian, he was so supportive of her.

"Go ahead."

Ya Molian raised her hand, patted her shoulder lightly and said.

"Mo Lian, how is this possible?"

Lu Qiubo couldn't help but frowned when he heard their conversation.

"Grandma Qiubo, in front of human life, everything else must take a back seat." Ya Molian looked at Lu Qiubo seriously.

"Now the midwife refuses to come over, and the person inside is in premature labor. It's definitely not possible for you to go in alone. Let alone Son'er, even I won't worry about it. Besides, Son'er has read many medical books and understands some medical principles. Even if She's going in to help you, and she can be of great help, so just let her go in with you."

"this....."

Lu Qiubo was still hesitating, but Lin Caisang couldn't wait any longer.
