Chapter 76 Are you a doctor? Among the girls?

"Master, what are you doing? Yun'er is your biological son. When Mrs. Zhong saw her son fainted, she quickly came forward to check the situation.

"I don't have a son like this. He dares to do evil things outside without telling me that my grandfather is angry and ill. He wants to make me angry to death so that he can inherit the family business!"

Mr. Zhong said angrily.

"Huh, he's such a prodigal, even if I give this family fortune to You'er, I won't give it to him!"

"master....."

Mrs. Zhong was so angry at Master Zhong's words that she burst into tears.

But as a woman in the inner courtyard, she did not dare to argue with her husband. She could only swallow her anger and looked down at her son, only to see that her son had fainted and the hand was still moving. Slapping herself in the face scared her.

"Yun'er, Yun'er, wake up, don't scare your mother."

Seeing this, Lin Caisang shook his head and had no choice but to step forward, take out a bamboo stick again, and stab the acupoints on Zhong Xiaobawang Zhong Yun's hand.

"this....."

The next moment, Mrs. Zhong saw her son's hand relax, and she looked at Lin Caisang.

"Mrs. Zhong, remember to educate your children well next time. There is no doctor who can just yell and scold based on his wealth. Don't humiliate others and humiliate yourself. Give him some medicine. A minor injury that won't kill anyone."

Lin Caisang glanced at Mrs. Zhong coldly, stood up and walked to Master Zhong's side.

"Mr. Zhong, I don't know where the patient is. Please take me there."

"This girl, you...are you a doctor? A girl?"

Mr. Zhong was shocked when he saw the scene where Lin Caisang treated his son's hand just now.

He thought that his son had driven away the doctor again, but he didn't expect that this little girl was the doctor. This was so surprising. These days, a girl at such a young age could treat illnesses and save people?

"What, is there a problem?" Lin Caisang asked, raising an eyebrow.

"No, no problem."

Mr. Zhong shook his head sarcastically, he was just too surprised.

"No problem, please take me to see the patient. My time is limited and I can't stay here for too long."
Lin Caisang said.

"Oh, okay, girl, please come this way."

Mr. Zhong personally took her to the old man's yard.

"Girl, you...what did you say?"

In a dark room, after listening to Lin Caisang's words, Mr. Zhong suspected that there was something wrong with his ears. I really couldn't blame him for even saying the word 'what'.

"Didn't Master Zhong hear you clearly?" Lin Caisang turned around, glanced at him, and asked.

"No... no, no, I heard it clearly, I heard it clearly, but..."

Mr. Zhong shook his head and nodded, completely in a daze, because he heard Lin Caisang say that she didn't bring any silver needles. Please send someone to the street to buy a pair of silver needles for use!

As a doctor, how could he not even have a silver needle? Isn't this a big joke?

"Girl, you...don't you have a silver needle that you are used to?" he asked carefully.

"Yes, but it's not a silver needle, it's a bamboo needle. Do you want me to use the bamboo needle on your father? That's fine." Lin Caisang said matter-of-factly, and took it off his head as he spoke. Show Mr. Zhong a bamboo needle.

"No, no, I will order someone to buy it immediately." Mr. Zhong shook his head repeatedly.

The next moment, he ran out like the wind, ordered the housekeeper to go to the drug store to buy a pair of the best silver needles, and then he came back.

"Girl, you..."
