

Star of Space 802

Chapter 802 Take your time

In a courtyard, a woman in white clothes hurriedly came in and closed the door. Soon, another woman in white clothes came out and asked her, covering the wound on her left chest.

"I heard that one of the girls was really able to cure the poison of that little thief Su Ri. He has started to cure the poison today."

The woman said to the leader.

"hateful!"

When the leader in white heard her words, he raised his free hand and struck the pillar angrily.

The next moment, the wound on his chest was so painful that he grinned and his face turned pale.

"Leader, be careful, you're still injured." The woman immediately reminded her.

The hand of the leader in white dropped weakly again and took a deep breath.

"Go and get ready. I'm going to report to the master." She ordered the woman.

"What?"

The woman was simply stunned when she heard her words.

"Leader, you must not do this. How can we contact the master? If the master knows that we went to assassinate Suyang before, he will definitely not let us go. Now..."

Does the leader still want to deliver it to your door now?

"What do you know?"

The leader in white glared at her displeasedly.

She was now being pushed aside and sent outside to pry for information, but that didn't mean she had no chance to perform. As long as the time came, she would be able to return to her master.

And the timing...

Isn't now the best time? As long as she can report what happened to that girl to her master, the master will definitely be happy, and then she will be able to go back.

"Why don't you hurry up and get ready?"

"This is."

Although the woman was unwilling, she had to comply and get ready.

...

On the other side, after hearing enough of Su Ri's roaring and ghostly sounds, Lin Caisang couldn't help but reach out and pick out his tortured ears.

"Isn't this guy tired? He is quite energetic. He is worthy of being raised in the Imperial Preceptor's Mansion." Lin Caisang couldn't help but look at Su Ri, who could only poke out his head from the big wooden barrel. muttered.

People who have been piled up with a lot of nourishing and nutritious products in the Imperial Prefecture are different after all. After a few hours, they can still curse on their lips.

"Sister-in-law, are we going to wait here forever?" Sui Ziyou asked, unable to stand Su Ri's yelling.

"Let's go."

Lin Caisang lit up.

When he saw the movement on Lin Caisang's side, Butler Xin almost immediately became aware of it and trotted over.

"Girl, can my young master come out?" he asked.

He had never seen his young master being tortured like this. Those scarlet eyes seemed to be about to spit out fire, which showed how much suffering it was to be steamed like this.

He felt that if things continued like this, not only Lin Caisang but also the servants of their house would be hated by Su Ri. I was afraid that they would die miserably by then!

When Lin Caisang heard what he said, he just turned his head slightly, glanced at Su Ri, and then looked back at Butler Xin.

"Where is this? I think Mr. Su's energy is pretty good and he can still shout. Let's do this. While he can still adapt, let's steam him for two more hours today. Besides, this is also It's not even eight hours yet, take your time."

She said quietly.

Butler Xin: "..."

It needs to be steamed for two more hours, so what's the point?