

Star of Space 816

Chapter 816 Don't you welcome us?

"It's really King Mo, isn't he just a fake?"

"It is said that Mo Lian is cruel by nature. He eats human flesh alive and drinks human blood. Anyone who touches his breath will die without a burial place. How could he be such a gentle and gentle young master? Is this... wrong?"

"Let me see, let me see, hey, is there a girl beside him?"

"That little girl is so bold. She dares to hold hands with King Mo. It would be terrible if she is tainted with evil spirits.

Listening to the whispers of the people, Lin Caisang's heart tightened. He turned around and cursed those ignorant people, but his hand was pulled by a neighbor next to him.

She looked up at Ya Molian.

"What these people say is too unpleasant, even if you don't..."

Well, her brother Mo Lian is kind-hearted. No matter how she looked, she could not see the slightest bit of concern from her brother Mo Lian. In the middle of the sentence, she completely ignored others when she saw him. After the expression, he paused.

"Why do you care about people who don't matter? The jade shop over there is the most famous in Shaohua City. Go over and take a look."

"OK."

Lin Caisang nodded in agreement and followed Ya Molian.

"Two guests, you..."

As soon as he stepped into the jade shop, the boss greeted him with a grin.

However, when he saw the guests coming in, his feet trembled, and the look on his face immediately turned bad.

"Prince Mo...you, you are here. Little...little...Prince Mo, please come in quickly."

God knows how unwilling the boss is to do this Prince Mo's business. If he doesn't turn around and make this deal, the shop will be contaminated with evil spirits and close down in the future.

However, this is Prince Mo, and he is one of the most powerful in Shaohua City. If he offends someone directly, the shop will definitely be closed now.

Weighing the two, he felt that he should still do business and welcome people through the door.

"Boss, what's your expression? Why don't you welcome us?" Compared to Ya Molian's indifference, Lin Caisang was not so polite and directed his words at the owner of the jade shop.

Hearing this, the boss's expression froze and he glanced at Ya Molian with caution.

So what if he doesn't like it? Can he still kick this Bodhisattva out? Even if you give him a hundred courages, he won't dare.

"How can it be possible? Prince Mo is an honored guest, and you can't even ask for something from a small shop. It's a blessing for you to like the things in a small shop. Prince Mo, this girl, do you want to buy something?" What, can I introduce it to you?"

"No need, let's take a look casually." Lin Caisang replied lightly.

The jade shop is different from other shops. Everything is displayed on the surface. Of course, only the worst jade is displayed on this floor. The good products are only found on the second and third floors.

Generally, people of certain status will not stay on the first floor, but go directly to the second floor.

"Go up there."

Since Ya Molian was like this, she immediately wanted to take Lin Caisang to the third floor.

His little girl deserves the best.

"Wait."

However, after hearing his words, Lin Caisang did not keep up with him, but stopped beside a piece of milky white jade.

"Brother Mo Lian, what kind of jade is this? Why have I never seen it before?" she asked Ya Mo Lian.

She thought she had seen a lot of jade, and the milky white jade was not a rare thing, but the jade in front of her was different from other jade. How should I say it?
