Chapter 826 King Mo's Weaknesses

For example, where did the mistress go last night, and why did she not come back with the palace master? Another example is, why did the Thousand Needle Jade that was transported from Yushixuan yesterday disappear? Who transported it away? Is it his mistress?

But as the most loyal subordinate around the palace master, he would not ask any of these questions.

"How about you ask the mistress yourself?" he suggested.

Hearing this, Jiang Zuo rolled his eyes at Ban Jue angrily.

"I've never seen anyone cheat on my brother like you. I'm already busy enough these days. Do you want to add another touch to my heart?"

He has to deal with many things in the city, and he is accompanied by Zhong You who needs his guidance at any time. He feels like he has an urge to die. He really wants to divide himself into two people and do those things.

"The news that the mistress is here will definitely spread soon. Did you tell me how to act?" he asked.

"Didn't say."

Ban Jue shook his head, he didn't understand what the palace master meant.

There are more than one or two people inside and outside the palace, and now that the mistress comes in, those people must be eager to spread the news.

Such a situation could not have been unexpected by the palace master, but he said nothing.

...

"You mean, Sui Zimo brought a woman... back to Prince Mo's Mansion?"

In the yard, the man was sitting on the swing, swinging back and forth. He looked at the subordinate in front of him and raised his eyebrows.

"Yes, sir, there is news from Prince Mo's Mansion that Prince Mo brought a woman into Prince Mo's Mansion this morning. Not only that, at noon, Prince Mo personally cooked a table of dishes for the woman, and the two of them cooked together. Lunch at the Huxin Pavilion in the palace."

Dou Qiankuo said.

"Cooking myself, haha." The man chuckled.

Sui Zimo has been different from them since he was a child. He has never been a pampered person. It is common sense to do things that women would do.

But now, he is in the palace of Prince Mo, and he is the prince of Wei Kingdom, but he still cooks for a woman. It should not be acting, but Mo Zhen, the old man, regards that woman as very important.

"My subordinates just went to check and found out that King Mo also went shopping with that woman yesterday and bought a lot of things. For that woman, he bought the worthless piece of Jade Stone Pavilion for five thousand taels of silver. One penny of jade."

"Five thousand taels, he is really willing to give it up." The man chuckled again.

Five thousand taels of silver, even if he wanted to spend it, he had to think about whether the money was worth it.

As for Sui Zimo, he would spend whatever he wanted for a woman.

"Sir, I think that woman may be King Mo's weakness. Do you want to..."

"Um?"

The man lengthened his voice and glanced at Dou Qiankuo with his sharp eyes.

Dou Qiankuo immediately lowered his head and did not dare to say a word after that.

"Doudou, do you think Sui Zi Mo is still the young and carefree King Mo after so many years of business outside? If he is not very sure, he will expose the person he cares about in front of others?"

He asked Dou Qiankuo coldly.

There are two possibilities, either, this woman who can make the dignified King Mo cook in person is used to confuse them; or, that woman is extraordinary and cannot be dealt with by people like them, and Sui Zimo has no ability at all. Take them seriously.

And neither of these two possibilities was worth it for him to offend Sui Zimo, Prince Mo, for a woman.
