Chapter 836 Empty talk and white teeth

The power around Yamolian is still very strong. She can't give up such a good chess piece so easily. At least, she must use this son to help his younger brother ascend the throne!

"It doesn't matter if you blame the mother and concubine. The mother and concubine knows that this is the fault of the mother and the concubine. She can't blame you. But Jin'er... that is your biological brother. He has never done anything wrong to you in the past years. You will still be the one in the future. You need to be on good terms with him, do you understand?"

She looked at Ya Molian with hope, hoping that when he heard his brother's name, he would see a different look in his eyes.

And she did see it.

But it's not a show of flesh and blood affection, but - a fierce look!

"Really? Sui Zijin has never done anything sorry for me? Haha. Ya Molian sneered.

This is probably the funniest joke he has heard this year, right? Sui Zijin, like his father, is a ruthless person, and he has inherited the cold-bloodedness and ruthlessness of his mother and concubine. Such a person, facing the power of his Nine Lotus Palace, will do nothing. Do it?

"Mo'er..."

Concubine Lian was frightened when she saw his cruel eyes.

It seems that Ya Molian didn't know many things, but just didn't mention them.

Now if all these old accounts were revealed, no one would be able to gain anything from Ya Molian. She had better stop this topic and stop involving Jin'er.

"You have not been in the palace since you were a child, and it is reasonable for you not to be close to your brother. Whatever, my mother and concubine will say nothing more."

She pretended to be sorry, sighed softly, and shook her head.

"My concubine came here this time. Firstly, I saw that you had not been in the palace to visit me for a long time. My concubine missed you very much. When I heard that you had brought a girl into the palace, I asked your father for permission and came out of the palace to have a look. You. One more thing, I just want to ask you, when are you ready to go to Baiyun Mountain to ask for King Lin?"

she asked.

Hearing this, Ya Molian's eyes were fixed, and she looked at Concubine Lian like this, as if she wanted to poke holes in her body.

"Mother, do you know how dangerous Baibind Mountain is?" After a long time, he asked.

"this....."

Concubine Lian was embarrassed by his question, and she really didn't know what to say for a moment.

But what can she do? This is what the emperor wants to do. Even if she wants to stop it, how can she stop it? What's more, she didn't want to stop it at all!

"Mo'er, this matter is not decided by mother and concubine. It is your father's will."

She pushed everything to the emperor.

"Ah."

Ya Molian sneered.

"So, the father gave the imperial edict to the mother and concubine?" he asked.

"This...never." Concubine Lian shook her head.

How could the emperor issue such an imperial edict? He knew that even if the edict was really issued, Ya Molian, a scoundrel, would not necessarily obey the edict, and would instead lose face.

"Mo'er, your father also feels sorry for King Lin, and this White Blind Mountain may not be in much danger."

"Yeah?"

Ya Molian looked at her.

Seeing that he didn't say anything, Concubine Lian thought he was about to relent, so she quickly spoke up and kept trying.

"Mo'er, your father said that as long as you are willing to go to Baibind Mountain to seek help from King Lin, he will give you whatever you want from him," she said.

"Empty words can be said nicely by anyone." Ya Molian replied lightly.
