

Star of Space 847

Chapter 847 What did you say again?

...

The Lin family in Yacun.

In Lin Changfeng's room, Yang Lin, who had a slightly bulging belly, was packing Lin Changfeng's luggage.

In the blink of an eye, it was time for her son to go to Ye County to attend the Autumn Festival. During this time, she had been restless, always feeling that something was going to happen, but not knowing what it was.

"Mom, please stop tidying up, it's still early."

Lin Changfeng had just come in from the outside and saw that his mother was still tidying up her belly for him, so he quickly took everything in her hands into his own.

"I am also idle. Seeing that autumn is coming in two days, these things must be prepared. Yang Lin didn't pay attention, turned around and faced his son, and said.

"I can do these things myself, why do you still think I'm the same age as Qing'er?" Lin Changfeng said angrily.

His mother just loves to worry too much. Isn't it just a matter of raising his hand to clean up these things?

What's more, he is only going to Ye County, not to Jian'an City to take the exam. There is no need to bring so many things, as long as he can eat enough and not starve to death.

"You can sort out these things, but there is still money. Your father has been working as a carpenter these days and has saved some money. It's not easy for her at Sangsang's place. We can use our own as much as possible."

Yang Lin said.

"Mom, what's wrong with you?"

Lin Changfeng could hear the hidden meaning in Yang Lin's words, and asked with a serious look on his face.

"Are people outside starting to talk nonsense again?"

If you think about it, you will know that there are always a few people in every village who don't like other people's family. As long as other people's family compares to their own, they will say bad things about them.

However, they don't need to pay attention to such people, why bother?

"Hey, I don't know what's going on with the people in the village now. Their consciences have been eaten by dogs!" Yang Lin sighed faintly when he heard his son ask this.

A girl from Sangsang's family was treated so badly for using their own water for everyone to use during this severe drought. She really felt sorry for her niece.

But, what's the use of her complaining?

"What did they say again?"

Lin Changfeng's expression also turned bad. If he said he didn't care, that was just saying that Sangsang was his cousin and he couldn't let her be wronged no matter what.

"What else can I say, let's talk about the Zhou family coming to propose marriage, saying that Sangsang doesn't know what's good or bad. When she wanted Zhou Liang in the past, she didn't even take a liking to her. Now she's coming to propose marriage again. Now her face is back. It's even done..."

When Yang Lin thought about those words, he felt so angry that his brain ached. How could someone be so ignorant?

"Mom, are you angry about this?" Lin Changfeng smiled after hearing his mother's words.

"dare you laugh!"

When Yang Lin saw his son's appearance, he glared at him angrily.

"Mom, don't even think about these words. It must be Zhou Liang's mother who is not willing to let us not be used by him, so she spreads such words. If you are really angry about these words, it will really be the Zhou family's fault. "

Lin Changfeng said.

"I know it must be the Zhou family's doing, but I'm angry." Yang Lin is not stupid. How could he not know that those who spread these words were all good friends with the Zhou family in the past?

"It's not that I'm angry with the Zhou family, I'm angry with our Yacun people. We are so ignorant that we take the good things Sangsang did to them for granted. We also think that we should spend all the money we earn on them. "
