

Star of Space 856

Chapter 856 Was it eaten by a dog?

A voice sounded from behind Mrs. Zhou's carriage. Before Mrs. Zhou had time to react, she saw three men walking out from behind her carriage. One of them grabbed the driver of her carriage by the collar and lifted her up. stand up.

Then he threw it to the side heavily and stepped on it again.

Although the coachman was a young man, he couldn't stand being stamped on the chest like this. The man who was already knocked to pieces immediately fainted.

"You...who are you?"

Mrs. Zhou was frightened by this scene. She shrank back hard and pushed the two maids next to her forward.

"Do you know who I am? I am the county governor's relative. If you dare to offend me, I will make you miserable!"

Although he said threatening words, he was so scared that he was trembling when he spoke.

But what needs to be said is that she came here this time just to get a clear look at Lin Changfeng's face and point it out to the thugs she bribed. She didn't dare to bring many people here at all.

Now the people around them who were most likely to lead them to escape have been knocked unconscious, and looking around, wherever there are still figures of those thugs, they have long disappeared.

At this time, she hoped that the words she said could scare away the three people who looked like ruffians in front of her, so that she could leave this ghost place quickly.

But the fact is...

How could it be that easy?

After hearing Mrs. Zhou's words, the three people clicked their tongues in disdain, and the corners of their mouths curled up slightly in disdain.

"Tsk, tsk."

The person in the lead looked back and looked at the carriage of Mrs. Zhou and the three of them. He sipped his saliva disdainfully, raised his hand, and slapped Mrs. Zhou directly on the face.

"ah!"

Mrs. Zhou couldn't hold on and fell backwards. Her forehead fell directly on the wall of the carriage. The pain made her eyes flash with stars and her teeth grinned.

"Madam, madam, are you okay?" Seeing this, the two maids hurriedly helped Mrs. Zhou upright. When they saw the blood on her forehead and the corners of her mouth, they were almost scared out of their wits.

Normally, the Zhou family is considered a prominent figure in Qianlin County. How could anyone dare to do such an unforgivable thing to the wife of the Zhou family and ignore her so much?

But unfortunately, this is Ye County, which is far away from Qianlin County.

How do the ruffians here know Mrs. Zhou? When they see someone they don't know, they naturally want to take advantage of her.

"You... don't come over. Our wife is the wife of the Zhou family. She is really related to the county magistrate. If you do this... be careful that the magistrate will chop off your heads."

One of the maids mustered up her courage and said to the three people.

Unexpectedly, all he got in return was a sneer, and when people came and went nearby, no one dared to mind their own business when they saw this scene, for fear of getting into trouble, so no one dared to lend a helping hand.

What's more, there is a person lying on the ground, which has set a precedent for them. Who dares to come forward and die?

"laugh."

The leader of the three looked at Mrs. Zhou and then at the carriage behind them.

"You are sitting in such a broken carriage, dressed like a country bumpkin, and you are related to the county governor. What about your face? Did your face get chewed by a dog? You are really mean."

"you....."

When Mrs. Zhou heard his words, her eyes turned scarlet and she stared at the man angrily.
