Chapter 870 Such leisure and leisure

"Yes, Eunuch Gui.

The little eunuch received the order and immediately went to guard it.

"Want to see a female doctor? It also depends on whether you are lucky enough to see one today!" Eunuch Gui looked at the little eunuch's retreating back and muttered involuntarily.

As expected by Eunuch Gui, Prince Jin's carriage was the first to arrive. Naturally, he wanted to ask to see the emperor, but he was blocked ruthlessly. Moreover, the little eunuch who blocked him kept saying this. It's the emperor's will.

This time, he could neither advance nor retreat, and stood there extremely embarrassed.

He wanted to see the female doctor. The last time he saw her beat Suyang severely outside the Imperial Prefect's Mansion, it really made him happy for a long time. He thought that if he made this friend, he would be better in the future in the court. , it will definitely be smoother.

But now, after taking a look at the little eunuch in front of him, he could not enter the imperial study room, so he could only wait here to see if he could have a few words with the female doctor here.

But...

How could Suyang not know what his intention was? He specifically ordered his coachman to drive the carriage as slowly as possible. He didn't want to run into Sui Zi Jin, Prince Jin, again.

Here, the little eunuch has been staring at Sui Zijin. The eyes staring at him seem to say that if Sui Zijin doesn't leave, he will keep staring here until he leaves.

Prince Jin, who was in his prime, could only take a deep breath, turn around and take the people away.

Anyway, the person will never be seen again. If he doesn't leave, he will only be treated like a fool. Forget it, there will be plenty of opportunities in the future, and he is not afraid of not being able to wait for the opportunity.

Not long after King Jin left, the carriage of the Imperial Master's Office was on the palace road, and it was impossible to move any slower.

Because there was already a carriage driving them behind, and Su Yang in the carriage glanced behind him and knew whose carriage it was, and turned to look at Lin Caisang.

"Girl, behind is the carriage of Prince Mo's Palace. It seems that Prince Mo has also entered the palace." He said.

"Yeah?"

Lin Caisang did not look at the carriage behind, but spoke in a very calm tone.

"He should come too. After all, we will be cooperating for a long time. How can we cooperate if we are not familiar with each other?" she said.

Su Yang: "..."

Girl, when you talk about people, just talk about people. Why do you talk about heads?

It made him think all he could think about. After those people went to Baibind Mountain, they turned into corpses with no bodies and only heads. Is it necessary to talk like this?

"Haha, that's right." He nodded, agreeing with Lin Caisang's words.

After a while, the two carriages stopped at the same time, and both parties got out of the carriages.

"National Master, were you just...wandering around in the palace? Huh? I really can't tell that the Imperial Master still has such a leisurely mood." Ya Molian, wearing a dark robe, stepped down from the carriage and spoke. Then he faced Suyang directly.

Su Yang: "..."

Isn't it okay that he was wrong? You should have come here faster just now. Even if you bump into King Jin, it would be better than talking to King Mo. Really...every word is a trap.

"Master, is this Prince Mo?"

Lin Caisang's light words interrupted Su Yang's embarrassing situation in time.

"Yes, girl, this is Prince Mo of our dynasty. Prince Mo, this is the female doctor in my mansion." Suyang glanced at Lin Caisang gratefully, and then introduced to Ya Molian.
