Chapter 874 Be careful what you say

"Your Majesty, I have told the Imperial Master before that my life for others is not for nothing." Lin Caisang spoke straightforwardly without any nonsense.

Now that she has decided to make a big deal, she naturally wants to put her words first. She cannot talk about the conditions for rescuing people after rescuing them. By then, the day lily will be cold, right?

"It's natural."

The emperor also agreed with her words.

As long as he can save his son, why does he care how much money he spends?

"I was also discussing with King Mo just now. Whatever the girl likes, you can just go to the treasury and take whatever you want."

Hearing this, Lin Caisang raised his eyebrows.

When she mentioned it to Brother Mo Lian before, she just talked about it casually, but she didn't expect that the emperor actually asked her to pick things from the treasury. There is probably no other emperor who can be as prodigal as the one in front of her. ?

However, there is one more important thing to do than going to the treasury.

"King Mo?"

She glanced sideways, glanced at Ya Molian, and then turned to look at the emperor.

"The emperor doesn't want to tell this girl that you want Prince Mo to go to Baibind Mountain with me, right?"

"King Mo is the most suitable candidate. He is very good at martial arts and has excellent people around him. If the girl thinks there is anything wrong, just raise it and I will consider it.

The emperor said.

"What's wrong?"

Lin Caisang sneered.

"The Emperor asked a half-dead man to go to Baibind Mountain with me to save people. What do you think is wrong?"

"Well."

The emperor was stunned by her unceremonious words, and his whole face turned red.

Naturally, he has never been so embarrassed since he came to the throne. This girl spoke so straightforwardly that he couldn't even speak.

"Girl, be careful what you say, King Mo..."

Seeing this, Su Yang lowered his voice and whispered in Lin Caisang's ear to remind her.

He didn't care what happened to the emperor, but the King Mo in front of him was a master who was bound to retaliate. If he bore a grudge, Lin Caisang would have a difficult life in the future.

"Does the Imperial Master think what I said is wrong?" Lin Caisang asked him instead without giving him a chance to finish his words.

"Or does Prince Mo think that what I said is wrong? You don't know how Prince Mo is doing, right? Going to Baibind Mountain with such a half-dead body will only drag this girl down. "

"Um."

Ya Molian said nothing to refute, just responded lightly.

As for the rest, let the little girl play freely. He just sat on the chair and watched the show quietly.

emperor:"....."

National Division:"....."

King Mo, what do you mean by "um"? Are you actually admitting that you are half dead?

However, who in Shaohua City doesn't know that you, a 'half-dead man', can pick off more than half of the guards in Shaohua City with one hand?

The emperor had no way to deal with his son, so he could only sigh in his heart and continue to look at Lin Caisang.

"What the girl said is true, but King Mo's kung fu is extremely high, which is rare in the imperial city. Apart from him, I really can't think of a better person who can go to Baibind Mountain to save King Lin. After all, that place...

Hey, if you have any other requests, please ask me, and I will grant them. " he said.
