

Star of Space 890

Chapter 890 Did I hear wrongly?

But this time it's different.

"My benefactor, Sui Zimo asked me for five antidotes at once. Where can I get them?"

"Five pills?"

The masked servant couldn't help but sneered when he heard the emperor's words.

At this age, Mo is really becoming more and more ungrateful. Does he think that this antidote was brought by the strong wind, and he wants as much as he wants? However, even though he was thinking this, he directly placed a porcelain bottle on the table.

"If he wants it, then give it to him. Remember, let him get to Baibind Mountain as soon as possible. Otherwise, I cannot guarantee Suizilin's life."

"Yes Yes.

The emperor responded repeatedly, and after taking the porcelain bottle on the table into his hands, he continued to look at the masked man.

However, when he looked over again, the masked man was nowhere to be seen. He had already disappeared, leaving only a cup of steaming tea.

"Who is this benefactor?"

Over the years, he has been wondering why this benefactor who once saved his life is so special to Sui Zimo, and what is the purpose of asking Sui Zimo to go to Baibind Mountain this time?

Unable to think of any purpose, he could only squeeze the porcelain bottle in his hand tighter.

...

In the palace, another place.

"Did you say something wrong, or did I hear it wrong?"

A man dressed as a eunuch stood on the right side of a corner, frowning and looking at the empty aisle.

"You heard it right, and I said it right, the emperor does meet with outsiders in his palace." A voice came to his ears, and there was also a person standing on the left side of the corner.

It's just that neither of them can see each other and can only hear each other's voices.

"Did you see it with your own eyes?" the man dressed as an eunuch asked.

"How could you see it with your own eyes? That's my guess." Another person spoke with a more serious tone.

If he really saw it, would he still be alive to come here? It's already been torn into pieces, okay?

"I have always suspected that Eunuch Su would send everyone inside and outside the palace out every once in a while when the emperor was in the palace, including himself. Now it seems that it is because the emperor wants to keep it secret. Meet that person."

"How did you come to this conclusion?" asked the man dressed as a eunuch.

"Because every time such a strange phenomenon occurs, the emperor will order Eunuch Su to send someone to deliver the antidote to Prince Mo." The man replied.

When he thought about it, he couldn't be more sure.

"you mean....."

The man dressed as an eunuch paused for a moment, a little unbelievable.

"You go and report to the master, I will continue to watch and act." After the man finished speaking, he hugged his clothes tighter, turned around and left.

"That....."

The man dressed as an eunuch still wanted to speak, but felt that there was no one else around him except himself, so he looked around, turned and left.

...

Three days later, Lin Caisang arrived outside the Imperial Preceptor's Mansion with a big burden.

At this time, outside the Imperial Master's Mansion, Butler Xin had already loaded everything that should be loaded onto the carriage, but the most eye-catching thing was actually the big wooden barrel.

Seeing the big wooden barrel, Su Ri, who had lost a lot of weight inside and out, refused to get on the carriage. In the end, there was really no other way. Su Yang knocked him unconscious and stuffed him into the carriage.

"Girl, I'll take care of you in the future." Suyang said to Lin Caisang.
