Chapter 987 You...are not human!

"Go home!"

Yamollian said.

Ban Jue responded and drove away in his carriage.

But, he really wanted to ask, does the palace master not care about the mistress? Where is she now? The way he looked at his mistress before did not look like she was safe at all.

But the palace master didn't mention it, and he didn't dare to say it casually.

...

In Prince Mo's Mansion, there is a stone door in the rockery in the back garden. After opening, there is a staircase that goes all the way down.

There was a 'clang' sound.

The heavy iron door was opened, and Yamo Lian walked in with Ban Jue.

"Palace Master, these two guys are very tough-talking."

When Ban Wu saw the person coming, he immediately put down the torture tools in his hands and walked over and said.

"It's good to be tough!" Ya Molian looked at the two people with indifferent eyes.

He had just entered the palace, and the two people in front of him had already been turned upside down by Ban Wu. However, how could he eliminate the anger in his heart just by doing this?

"Exiled Wu, what did they say?"

Ban Jue picked up the bloody whip, came to one of them, and asked Ban Wu behind him.

"Just say that they were ordered by the emperor to not let Su Ri return to Shaohua City. Originally, they wanted the palace master to take action against Su Ri, but the palace master was a tolerant person. They had no choice, so they decided it hit Suizilin.

Ban Wu said.

Who would believe this?

Asking the master of his palace to kill Su Ri might actually be the emperor's order.

However, if the emperor cares so much about Suizilin, how could he let Suizilin kill Suri? Knowing that if you kill Su Ri, your life will not be any easier!

"Only a ghost can believe this!"

Ban Jue chuckled lightly, and struck the man in front of him with the whip in his hand. He kept beating him like this without stopping until the man fainted.

The person under his hand brought a bucket of water and poured it directly on the fainted person.

"ah!"

Immediately, the man screamed, and the scream continued to irritate everyone's eardrums. After a while, he continued to scream, but he couldn't faint.

The other man saw his companion screaming so fiercely that his whole body began to tremble and he swallowed.

"You...what did you do to him?"

It's not like they haven't seen what it would be like to wake up after being splashed with water. How could it be possible for his companion to be like this?

"What have you done?"

Ban Jue turned his head and smiled faintly at him.

"It's nothing. It's just salt and pepper water added to the water. Not much, just a little bit. Don't worry, I won't let you die if I don't pry the things out of your mouths."

This trick was taught by his mistress, and it really works.

Look, after being so frightened, cold sweat broke out on this guy's forehead. Sure enough, he still wanted to be ruthless. If he wasn't ruthless, they would still think he was a vegetarian.

"You...you...are not human!"

How could you think of such a cruel method? Sprinkle salt water and pepper water on the wound, how painful it must be!

"We are not human beings? Then you are human beings? Huh?" Ban Jue asked him in return.

"If you don't tell the truth, if you don't tell me, then I can only do what I just did to you. How about it? We share the blessings and the hardships together. Come on, are you ready for the water? ?"

He looked at the guard beside him.

The next moment, someone immediately brought a bucket of water in and placed it next to Ban Jue.
