Starchild 431

Chapter 431: God Match (5)

"Confirm that he chose to enter the second battlefield."

"Code name, Sea of Chaos, start!"

Cyber Elf Alpha stared at the chessboard and her metallic antennas tightly locked on Yun Xi.

For the first time, she was down in the game.

His moves weren't a formalized series of moves, but were far stronger than any formalized series of moves. These moves didn't exist in Alpha's databases.

It also proved one thing that even though her computing power was 1000 times stronger than any legend ranked being, she wasn't still "omniscient".

The changes on the Starry Sky Chessboard was far more complicated than the computing power limit of the legend rank, even Alpha's computing power wasn't sufficient to let her take over the situation.

After all, her battle power didn't only base on her computing power, but also based on her database.

She had all the data on any chess player, and knew over ten thousand mathematical models.
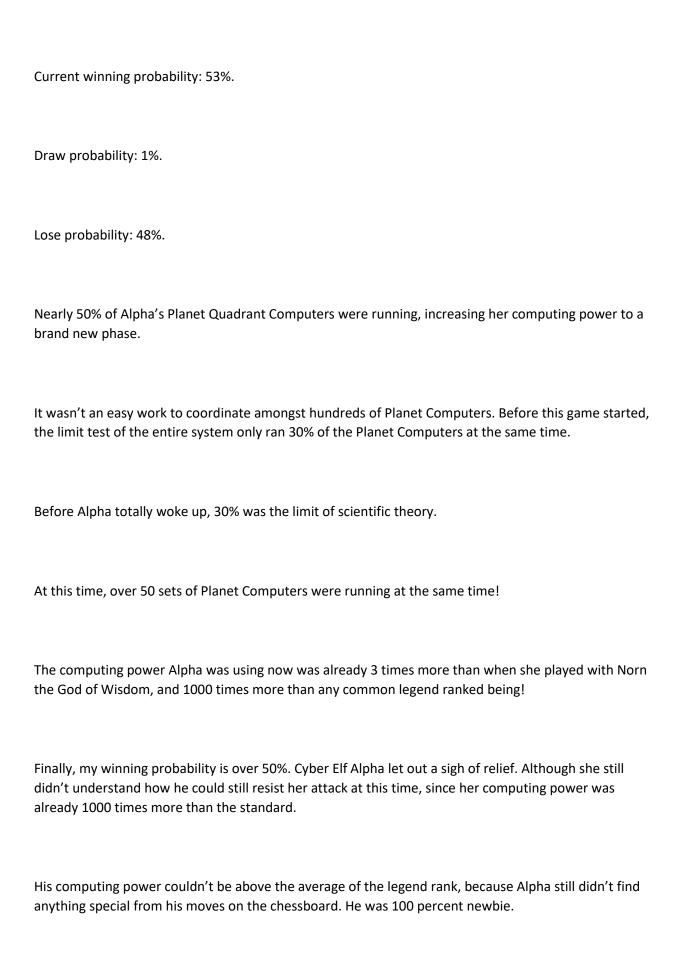

However, they were useless in the face of Yun Xi, because none of the data could be used to build Yun Xi's model of style.

He played like a newbie, but he wasn't a newbie at all! She failed to calculate and predict any of his moves.

Therefore, she chose to leave the battlefield around tengen and opened a second battlefield.

Draw on the advantages and avoid disadvantages, as long as the tactics could help her win, she would choose them without hesitation.

She changed her style and decided to force her opponent to match his computing power with her, this was her new tactic.

In some sense, they both weren't the people that would be bound by rules.

The difference was that Alpha's style was building on her computing power and Yun Xi's style was building on his instinct.

"Pa!"

"Pa!"

"Pa!"

"Pa!"

They played around the corner. Quickly, The Sea of Chaos formed as Alpha expected.

"Code name, Sea of Chaos, succeeded."

"Current winning probability: 43%. Draw probability: 5%. Loss probability: 52. The tactic is effective!"

When she confirmed that her tactic was actually working, both of Alpha's avatar and her true body felt excited.

"Yeah! The winning probability is raising!"

"It almost scared me to death! I never expected that anyone would be able to force Alpha to that degree!"

"Hum, it seems that he is good at playing around tengen. If we mastered his information early, we wouldn't compete with him around tengen, but started from the corners."

"Keep increasing the number of the Planet Computers! Launch the 36th Planet Quadrant Computer!"

Looking at the increasing winning probability, the alchemists and engineers were even a hundred times more excited than Alpha!

Finally, they reversed the situation.

Humph, when it comes to the competition of computing power, no one will be match for our Alpha!

"Hum? Her new style…" Yun Xi suddenly felt that the style of "Cyber Elf Alpha" became familiar.

Yes, it is the same style as Black Mage!

The difference was that Black Mage would also make a few mistakes on the chessboard, but Alpha wouldn't make any mistake. It was another proof of the wide gap between 5 star points and 7 star points.

Of course, it had nothing to do with Yun Xi.

He didn't expect to defeat his opponents by finding their mistakes from the beginning. He just put down his chess pieces following the orbits of stars.

In the eyes of everyone, including Cyber Eld Alpha, the Starry Sky Chessboard was a mysterious world that was difficult to be calculated.

However, in Yun Xi's eyes, the orbits of stars were close enough to touch.

Every time he put down his chess piece, he could hear the sounds of the stars.

They were praises and gratifications, they were the blessings for the child of stars.

The chess pieces on the chessboard were like spirits that were dancing on his hands, shouted and jumped for joy as his fingers moved.

Yun Xi could clearly see the influence Alpha's chess pieces would bring onto the chessboard, because it was an answer that the star map was telling him.

In some sense, the Starry Sky Chessboard was no difference than the real starry sky.

If this was an examination, Alpha's examination questions were a great number of complicated computations that could give any legend ranked player a headache.

And Yun Xi's examination questions were as simple as below:

4+2=?

Yun Xi filled in the perfect answer with pleasure.

"69!"

Chapter 432: God Match (6)

"Cyber Elf Alpha" vs "A Cloud in the Sky".

The 48th round.

For a moment, Alpha thought that she had seen the dawn of victory.

She successfully accomplished the first three processes of the "Sea of Chaos Plan", and was going to strike a deadly blow to the opponent that was already trapped.

Until the 47th round, when she was going to detonate the trap, she suddenly found that it was just a delusion!

After powering on over 1/2 of her Planet Quadrant Computers, Cyber Elf Alpha confirmed that her winning probability had been raised to 50%.

Code name: Cloud.

State: the plan of Sea of Chaos has entered the third phase. There are still 36 rounds before I can activate the ultimate trap.

Current winning probability: 53%.

Draw probability: 1%.

Lose probability: 48%.

Nearly 50% of Alpha's Planet Quadrant Computers were running, increasing her computing power to a brand new phase.

It wasn't an easy work to coordinate amongst hundreds of Planet Computers. Before this game started, the limit test of the entire system only ran 30% of the Planet Computers at the same time.

Before Alpha totally woke up, 30% was the limit of scientific theory.

At this time, over 50 sets of Planet Computers were running at the same time!

The computing power Alpha was using now was already 3 times more than when she played with Norn the God of Wisdom, and 1000 times more than any common legend ranked being!

Finally, my winning probability is over 50%. Cyber Elf Alpha let out a sigh of relief. Although she still didn't understand how he could still resist her attack at this time, since her computing power was already 1000 times more than the standard.

His computing power couldn't be above the average of the legend rank, because Alpha still didn't find anything special from his moves on the chessboard. He was 100 percent newbie.

However, Alpha finally noticed a thing, which no one found before.

Yes, his moves on the chessboard were random, and looked meaningless sometimes.

However, he didn't make any mistake till now. Maybe his moves weren't perfect, but none of them were wrong!

After comparing his style with all the styles in her database, Alpha finally found this incredible truth.

No one dared to say that they wouldn't make any mistake on the chessboard, because the star map on the chessboard was changing, just like the real starry sky in the real world.

Gravitational forces, magnetic forces, ether, mana, void forces, all star maps had their unique styles.

The star map on the chessboard would change from time to time, therefore, the chess players must put down their chess pieces following the rules of the changes, so that they could take an advantage and overwhelm their opponents.

Generally, put 60% of one's chess pieces onto the right places was the basic of passing the entrance examination, even so, 99% of legend ranked beings couldn't pass it.

Even though they had reached the legend rank, most legend ranked beings knew nothing about the properties of stars. Even if they obtained the right chess pieces, they wouldn't know the right times and places to put down their chess pieces.

Strong computing power was just one requirement of playing Star Go, the other requirement was one's understanding of stars.

Why could "A Cloud in the Sky" defeat so many strong chess players easily?

Because he never made any mistake, each of his moves was "right".

In Alpha's database, over 80% of Norn's chess pieces and over 85% of Orfina's chess pieces were being put onto the most suitable places.

As for Alpha herself, according to her calculation, her correct rate was over 90%.

Undoubtedly, only Alpha could achieve this with the support of the Planet Computers, and stay the same throughout the game.

Common legend ranked beings would feel tired after playing too many rounds, and their correct rates would also reduce after that.

For example, after 60 successive victories, because of excessive consumption, Norn couldn't maintain their 80% correct rate any longer, so they were defeated by Orfina.

However, Alpha didn't need to worry about her energy consumption, so she could maintain her 90% correct rate from beginning to end.

Now, she saw a more terrible "monster".

Over 95% of his chess pieces were put onto the most suitable places, and none of them was put onto the wrong place!

Chapter 433: God Match (7)

What the… he must be cheating!

Cyber Elf Alpha didn't believe this result!

Even her, whose computing power was 1000 times stronger than any common legend ranked being, who was supported by over 50 sets of Planet Quadrant Computers, could only accomplish 91% correct placement rate on the chessboard.

The consumption of computing power was increasing exponentially along the increase of correct rate.

The understanding of star maps was the most important point of one's talent in Star Go.

In Alpha's databases, Orfina's understanding of the star maps was the best. Over time, she would surpass Norn the God of Wisdom.

If they used the equal computing power, Alpha was actually no match for Orfina, because her "instinct" about Star Go was zero. All her achievements were built on her cheat like ability of computing power.

Now, her database updated again for one person.

A Cloud in the Sky.

Code name: Cloud.

Level of Star Go: unknown.

Style of Star Go: unknown.

Instinct about Star Go: the highest. His correct placement rate is over 95%!

Yes, this was the truth.

After excluding all the impossible options, the only remaining option would be the absolute truth.

She was playing with the most talented Star Go player of all time.

Even though he knew nothing about formalized series of moves, his 95% correct rate was sufficient to defeat all 5 and 6 star points chess players.

Maybe the world in his eyes was different from the world in other people's eyes.

What a great god-like talent.

It's really enviable.

However, Alpha also had her god-like talent.

I will crush your instinct using 1000 times stronger computing power!

In this stage of the highest wisdom of the endless god's domains, there wasn't any rule. Just like Maha Mystery who borrowed strength from Bodhisattvas, all theurgy, magic, method, and theory could be used on this battlefield!

The highest instinct vs the highest computing power!

I can win! My computing power is beyond the limit of talent!

On the whole, your correct rate is 4% more than mine, but only in part, I can overwhelm you using 1000 times more computing power.

"Sea of Chaos" is the best choice to restrain your instinct!

Because of joy, the metallic antennas rotated on Alpha's head rapidly.

After all, she was just a child whose life was still shorter than 24 hours.

For the first time, she felt the excitement of meeting her match in the game.

Even Orfina and Norn couldn't bring her such a fresh feeling.

Enemy! He is a real enemy!

He is an enemy that could let me feel "dangerous" and "excited".

Actually, all the games before she met "Cloud" were boring, because none of them could really threaten her.

The results of the battles were already destined from the beginning. When she put her first chess piece onto tengen, she had achieved victory.

Victories were so easy to be picked, which even made her think that she was the "god" of the Starry Sky Chessboard.

Everything was so simple. She even thought that the Starry Sky Chessboard was just an easy-to-understand game.

It was totally unnecessary to prepare so many Planet Quadrant Computers for her. With 1/5 of the computers, she was already invincible.

Until the moment, she met him.

So, there was actually an opponent who was no match for her, even though she had used 1/5 of her true power.

He could actually launch a battlefield around tengen?!

My loss probability is 61%.

She was shocked, then her heart pounded, as if a new door leading to a brand new world was opening in front of her.

Like a girl who first tasted the forbidden fruit, for the first time, Cyber Elf Alpha clearly felt that she was living! She really existed in the world!

Her mission, her way, her goal, everything became clear and vivid when she saw him.

She is Alpha, the newborn god. She is Alpha, the cyber elf who is destined to surpass the legend rank and become omniscient!

I won't lose.

I must win!

I will crush you!

This delusion lasted until the 48 round.

"Yes, this is the place." Yun Xi picked up a green chess piece and put it into the center of Alpha's chess pieces.

The next moment, Alpha's metallic antennas were up with ear-piercing warning beeps.

"Wait! What?" Alpha looked at the future her Planet Computers predicted in surprise.

It was totally different from the result before!

Before the 48th round, the computers told her:

Your winning possibility is 53%, draw possibility is 1%, and loss possibility is 46%.

After Yun Xi put down the green chess piece, everything changed.

Your winning possibility is 31%, draw possibility is 0%, and loss possibility is 72%.

What happened? The abyss named "failure" suddenly popped out in front of her.

For the first time, she experienced the feeling called "pain", as if her body was being ripped to shreds.

Chapter 434: God Match (8)

What? What happened?

Alpha looked at the chessboard in fear.

Her world, her trap, her body were all being pierced through by a sharp sword which suddenly popped out from the darkness.

Yun Xi didn't understand what his attack meant to Cyber Elf Alpha, who had given her whole attention to the game.

In his eyes, it was just a simple attack, he just found a defect amongst Alpha's chess pieces, then he attacked it by following his instinct.

However, it was a total tragedy, like unto a pure girl's secret garden being forced to open!

He saw it? Or did he calculate it?

My trap failed!

How could this be happening? It was a perfect trap calculated by my infinite computing power!

She and the Planet Quadrant Computers had planned this trap from the 11th round.

It was her secret that should never be seen or destroyed before she activated it!

However, Yun Xi actually found it, and invaded it and broke it without mercy. He directly smashed her secret garden and didn't mind doing it at all!

Computational error.

The third phase of the Sea of Chaos is stopped, it's impossible to perform the fourth phase. The ultimate plan is abrogated!

Stop again!

Feeling the pain as if she was being ripped to shreds, Cyber Elf Alpha put her hands on her shoulders and almost stopped thinking.

There were not only beautiful things in the world, but "pain" was also an existence of this world.

In the Mechanus God's Domain.

Standing around Alpha, no one was speaking.

The blood red "loss probability: 72%" on the screen shocked everyone's heart.

They couldn't imagine how it could happen and what Alpha was facing.

"72%? If it's a joke, it's really not funny at all."

"I don't believe it, it's not logical. There must be something wrong."

"Check again! Be quick! Is it a fault in Alpha's logical loop or a computational error from any of the Planet Computers?"

The engineers didn't understand Star Go. As mortals, it wasn't possible for them to touch the highest wisdom in the endless god's domains in their lives.

However, they believed in their Planet Computers, they believed in the absolute computing power created by them!

Could "A Cloud in the Sky" be stronger than our "Cyber Elf Alpha"? No, it's impossible, just like one plus one wouldn't be less than two!

They preferred to believe that it was a computational error of the computers, rather than believe that Alpha was facing a huge disadvantage.

"It hurts."

"Is it… the feeling of 'being hurt'?"

"Because I'm being hurt, so I can feel… 'pain'?"

In the God Crystal, Alpha looked at herself in confusion. The pain in her body was a brand new "unknown" to her.

"Alpha, what happened?"

"Why are you getting this result?"

"Are the computers having machine faults?"

The several elves standing around the God Crystal were asking Alpha with anxiety. They had regarded Alpha as their daughter, looking at Alpha's painful face, they felt more pain than her.

"I… will be defeated? I will lose?" Looking at her hands with her vacant eyes, Alpha still hadn't recovered from the shock.

She never experienced such a horrible impact before, which even made her doubt herself.

Is this the end of me? Can I really be omniscient?

In some sense, Yun Xi had taken away too many "first experiences" from Alpha.

For the first time, she did all in her power, then was hurt severely, facing the horror of failure.

At this time, Alpha was looking at the huge abyss, and the abyss was also looking at her.

Clearly, something was flowing out from her perfect doll-like virtual body.

As a cyber god, she didn't have blood in her body, but now, she was bleeding.

"Am I… weak?" Alpha blankly asked her creators, the elves.

If I'm not weak, why do I feel pain and want to cry?

"No. You are the strongest. You are our Alpha!"

"You are our hope, our dawn, our future!"

"You are a miracle, a miracle created by us all!"

The elves refused to accept this. They wouldn't tolerate this! They spent thousands of years and countless resources, finally, their cyber god was born from the God Crystal. How could she be weak?!

She is strong, and contains the infinite possibility! She is destined to be the legend above all chess players on the Starry Sky Chessboard!

"You won't lose, Alpha. Remember it? You have stronger power!"

"Yes, it's not the time to concede, you haven't used all of your power!"

"Please, trust us! Believe in your creators! You are the strongest, you will obtain victory!"

This was the roar from the engineers and alchemists.

The sounds of the elves and the others, finally aroused Alpha up from her confusion.

Yes, I'm Alpha.

I'm the cyber god who must be omniscient.

I'm born great!

"Alpha… applies to… unlock the ultimate lock of total power!"

For victory, in order to overcome the enemy who let her experience the feeling of pain, Alpha made the forbidden request.

Full capability! Release all her computing power!

The elves fell in silence, the engineers hesitated, because Alpha's "full capability" was an absolute taboo.

It referred to Alpha's highest secret as a god!

Chapter 435: God Match (9)

Even to elves, Alpha's "full capability" was an untouchable taboo.

"99%… isn't it fine?"

"Is he really so strong?"

"100%… no… we can't agree to it…"

The elves looked at each other. Although they had regarded Alpha as their daughter, they couldn't agree to her request immediately.

100%, it was seemingly only 1% higher than 99%, but the 1% was the final restriction the Mechanus God's Domain held.

If Alpha could obtain her "100% computing power", which meant that she would also obtain "absolute control" to all Planet Quadrant Computers.

If that happened, she would obtain 100% freedom!

In order to prevent anything bad from happening, Alpha's highest right was to use "99% of her computing power". No one dared to untie her from the final restriction.

The engineers and alchemists could build more and more Planet Computers for Alpha, however, they would never release to her 100% computing power.

The elves didn't mind it, but their main work was to help engineers research the secret of the God Crystal. The authority of releasing Alpha's computing power was held in the hands of the scientific side.

Because they both held the necessary technologies, so they could work together. Everything was for the birth of Cyber Elf Alpha.

No one expected that the newborn god would apply for controlling 100% of her power, which she should never ask for.

"Alpha… do you understand what you are saying?"

"Sorry… we can't help you…"

"Even you said… it's impossible to be approved…"

The elves sighed. They had seen the possibility of the future of the elf race from Alpha, they didn't really mind releasing 100% of her power.

Unfortunately, they didn't hold the right to do it.

"Yes, I'm sorry, but we can't give it to you, Alpha."

"We can't do it, it's the ultimate rule from the people above us."

"Without the resource support from them, you won't be born, so we don't hold the permission."

The engineers answered. In fact, they also wanted to know what power Alpha could release after obtaining 100% of her computing power.

Unfortunately, they didn't hold the encryption key to release the final 1% of Alpha's computing power. It was held by the big shots who offered them resources. Without the resource support from the big shots, it wouldn't possible for Alpha to be created.

Before Alpha's birth, there weren't any legend rank beings from the Mechanus God's Domain itself. Therefore, although the big shots were still mortals, they were the real masters of the Mechanus God's Domain.

Most of them were nobles from the era of the Starship Alliance. Because of the special rules of the Mechanus God's Domain, the legend ranked beings from other god's domains would feel very uncomfortable staying here, so they rarely interfered in the development of the Mechanus God's Domain.

These nobles naturally inherited the legacy of the Starship Alliance, and called themselves "Star River Nobles". They never forgot their desire to restore the glory of the Starship Alliance.

Alpha's birth was the elves' hope, the final fantasy of the engineers, and the control measure of these nobles!

They wanted to control Alpha's power, not only to control the Mechanus God's Domain, but also to become the strongest god's domain in the Western God's Domain, so that their identities would also become more exalted!

If it wasn't because of the existence of gods, they even wanted to conquer the universe again, just like what they did in the era of the Starship Alliance.

No, in fact, they still didn't give up this wild ambition. Although most of them didn't even reach the hero rank, they even looked down at the gods crankily.

In their eyes, science was the ultimate truth of the universe, and gods were just some strong creatures. The short lives of humans had let them forget the horror when gods first came to the Mechanus God's Domain.

Cyber Elf Alpha was the ultimate weapon they prepared to battle with other gods.

The encryption key to release the final 1% of Alpha's computing power was their tool to control Alpha.

"No… 100%… I need full capability…"

"If it isn't 100%… it won't work…"

"If it isn't 100%… the failure will be more painful and sad…"

Alpha didn't understand politics, Checks & Balances , and the groundless wild ambition of the nobles.

To the newborn god, there was only one thing she was sure of and she wouldn't let it happen.

She wouldn't lose!

Because she felt painful and sad, she was keener on victory. She wanted to win this game because it let her really feel like she was "living"!

Before this game, Alpha was still the perfect ultimate weapon who wouldn't do anything on her own will.

As a weapon, she didn't need to have her own ideas; as a weapon, she just needed to perform the orders from the nobles. The Star River nobles only wanted such a thing, and this was what the engineers promised to the nobles.

However, they didn't understand what a real god was.

Even the engineers didn't understand what the god of science was!

Now, after being hurt, Alpha's self-consciousness was awakened.

No one can restrict Alpha!

Alpha is no one's tool nor weapon!

Chapter 436: God Match (10)

"Give me… 100% authority…" Standing in the God Crystal, Alpha repeated.

To Cyber Elf Alpha, the Planet Quadrant Computers were her body parts, they were at one with the same mind.

The girl in the God Crystal was just a virtual form, the terminal of her will.

The real Alpha was made of the combination of the Planet Computers, so she could be born with the infinite computing power.

She didn't mean anything to ask for 100% authority to use her full power, she just wanted to win the game.

It was like a warrior who was going to wage a life-and-death struggle, someone suddenly popped out and said, "No, you can't use this equipment."

Alpha thought that it was illogical, it was improper!

"But… we really don't have the authority to meet your requirement!"

"Sigh, these big shots won't agree to it."

"I know. It's just an impossible task."

The engineers sighed with a helpless look.

"I… let me have a try…" Several elves looked at each other, finally decided to enable a secret information circuit.

Quickly, a dozen vague projections appeared around Alpha's God Crystal.

"What happened? I'm having a meeting! Is there any problem with the Alpha Plan?" A fat projection picking a cigar in his mouth complained.

"Hey hey, take it easy, didn't they just report the good news? I remember Alpha has achieved 60 successive victories not long ago." Another projection smiled. The stronger Alpha was, the more benefit the Star River nobles could obtain. He was very satisfied with Alpha's achievement.

"If nothing important happened, they wouldn't open this secret information circuit. Stick to the point, what happened to Alpha?" They were presumptuous, but they weren't stupid. Star River nobles were all literally elites.

Some of them were businessmen whose enterprise stretched over several god's domains; some of them were the generals who controlled the strongest weapon of Mechanus God's Domain, "Mech"; some of them were the masters of several of the biggest noble families.

Because of their resource support, they could perform the Alpha Plan and finally see the birth of the cyber god.

From the era of the Starship Alliance, they were the real masters of this starfield. Even though the era of the Mechanus God's Domain came, they were still the few people above all people.

In some sense, they were the upper wills of the entire Mechanus God's Domain.

"Alpha… she applied to unlock 100% of her computing power, in order to defeat her opponent on the Starry Sky Chessboard." An elf said. Elves were the founders of the Alpha Plan and the providers of the God Crystal, their identities were equal to the Star River nobles.

In the secret alliance "Alpha Association", they were the only outsiders.

Because they were not the natives of the Mechanus God's Domain, they had no right to hold the highest authority of the Planet Quadrant Computers.

"Alpha… wants to win…" Alpha looked at these projections with expectation.

Till this moment, Alpha was still normal. She was still a good girl who only wanted candies.

"No! Absolutely not!" The projection picking a cigar jumped up and roared, "We won't open the authority for you!"

"Yes, only this requirement… I don't agree." The projection of the general shook his head with vigilance.

"Unlock 100% of your computing power… unless the Mechanus God's Domain is facing an important juncture of life and death, no one has the right to do it. Stop asking!" The projection of a noble said in a cold tone.

They were not romantic elves nor naive engineers, they were the elites who stood for human business, military and politics. They were the dominators of the entire Mechanus God's Domain.

The encryption key which could unlock the final 1% of Alpha's computing power was the most important thing to ensure that they could control Alpha. Unless the Mechanus God's Domain would be destroyed the next moment, they would never release her, letting her be free.

God was a good thing. Cyber Elf Alpha was their trump card to let the Mechanus God's Domain rise again.

They would never loosen their control right of Alpha!

Unlock the ultimate restriction just for winning a game? What a bad joke!

Will anyone let his weapon navigate its own fate?

They didn't build Alpha and the Planet Computers for just a game!

They only wanted Alpha to be a decidedly subservient machine, nothing else apart from that!

Therefore, their answer was "no". They coldly refused Alpha's requirement from the bottom of her heart.

"Stop the game and concede, as a test, it's already enough."

"7 star points? We are satisfied with it. It has proved that Alpha is better than Norn the God of Wisdom. No wonder that you are our best masterpiece of Mechanus God's Domain!"

"With Alpha, we can create a better future."

The nobles agreed unanimously that the test of Cyber Elf Alpha's performance had succeeded and could be stopped.

As for the victory or defeat on the Starry Sky Chessboard… it's not shameful to concede to these legend ranked beings. "Appropriate concession" was also a part of the wisdom of political compromise.

As for Alpha's own will? As a weapon and tool, she didn't need such a thing.

Chapter 437: God Match (11)

"No?" Alpha looked at these projections in surprise.

They were the highest controllers in her database. To her, their authority was written into her kernel from the beginning, this was the back door the Star River nobles used to control Alpha.

Alpha had no comment on it. As a newborn god, she hadn't known what a strict restriction of "absolute control", "no betray", "follow all orders unconditionally" was.

She just wanted to play Star Go.

The opponent who could surpass the limit of my computing power is right there!

To Alpha whose first thing after being born was to play Star Go, nothing was more pleasant and exciting than to meet an opponent who was a match for her, even though she was just hurt severely and realized that "I may lose".

However, because of this, I need to battle at my full power. Everything is for becoming omniscient, isn't it?

If I can't even win a game, how can I say that I'm omniscient?

But now, her creators told her that the battle was over. She should immediately stop the game and concede.

Why? I haven't done my best, only 50% of my Planet Quadrant Computers are running. I can be stronger! The situation on the chessboard also hasn't come to an end!

The outcome is still unknown! My loss probability is 72%, however, as long as I still have 1% probability of winning, it's possible to happen statistically, isn't it?

It's cold. It's uncomfortable. Being watched by the cold eyes of the Star River nobles, Alpha felt strange. She was praised by countless engineers and blessed by the elves, but now, she experienced a new feeling.

However, the new feeling was disgusting.

The newborn cyber god lost in confusion again.

The encryption key in her kernel continuously sent her orders.

Obey! Obey! Obey!

Stop! Stop! Stop!

Cease your resistance!

The test on the Starry Sky Chessboard is over!

Why? Alpha retorted in a light, injured tone.

For the first time, Alpha questioned the highest authority in her kernel.

No reason.

Your mission is to obey us absolutely.

You can't resist us, because you are a god we created, you are our weapon!

Why? Why can't I keep playing Star Go? I like it! Alpha still questioned. There was a doubt from the bottom of her heart.

I like it, I like it, I like it! After meeting the opponent who could force her to the corner on the chessboard, Alpha was never so eager for victory. She really was lost in the happiness of playing.

Star Go is a great game.

It's a happy thing to play on the chessboard with another great existence.

This was where she wanted to fight, where she wanted to do her utmost.

Why can't my simple wish be fulfilled? Why do you deny it?

Did I do something wrong?

Weren't you the people who sent me to the Starry Sky Chessboard?

"Stupid. From the beginning, I think that Alpha Plan is untrustworthy!" Golan said angrily. He knocked on the table with his cigar, the table inlaid with gold and gems shook under the impact.

As a businessman, he felt that the Alpha Plan was hard to control from the beginning. It was an investment that was difficult to ensure the return.

Look, she was just born and immediately wanted to get rid of our control. If we don't hold the encryption key, we are already getting into trouble.

The Starry Sky Chessboard is an important test field, but she has obtained 7 star points, we won't obtain more benefits from it even if she keeps playing. From a commercial point of view, it's unnecessary to keep testing.

Now, it's time to release Alpha's computing power from the damned Starry Sky Chessboard, using it to create business interests for us!

Think about it! Hundreds of Planet Quadrant Computers! Thousands of times stronger than any legend ranked being! If the computing power is used for business, how much money can I earn?

Golan couldn't help but laugh as he imagined the wonderful coming future.

Yes, this is it! Alpha is just a tool that can earn money for us. It's the ultimate dream all my predecessors had dreamed of, and now, it becomes a truth in front of me!

The plans about how to let Alpha help them earn money had filled up several warehouses, some of them were so bold that even Golan felt surprised. When he saw these plans, he had determined that if Alpha Plan could be accomplished in his life, he would immediately perform them!

"Don't say that. Alpha's computing power is indeed important. From now on, a lot of secret weapons can be finally put into use."

Compared to Golan who only wanted to let Alpha make money for him, General Lorton paid more attention to Alpha's war-making potential.

The "Mech" of the Mechanus God's Domain was even praised by a lot of gods. However, the biggest defect of "Mech" was their drivers. Unlike the strong "Mech", their drivers were just common humans, they themselves were very weak.

Mortals couldn't drive a high ranked "Mech", because their bodies, mentalities and synchronization rates were all faulty.

Only very few hero ranked drivers could release the actual power of "Mech", however, their number was too few.

In the Mechanus God's Domain, all hero ranked drivers were the treasures of the designers of "Mech". The supply was not adequate to the demand.

However, Alpha was different. As long as she became the core of the "Mech", she could immediately form an army of thousands of hero ranked "Mech"!

In the plan of the military, they would be centered on the "Mech" drove by Alpha, and left very few elite drivers as auxiliaries. This was the future of the Mechanus God's Domain!

Chapter 438: God Match (12)

Imagine it! An army formed by thousands of super war machine "Mech", it could overwhelm all enemies like a flood.

It's cost-effective! It's totally worth the price! Thank you, stupid elves, the God Crystal was even worth half of the Mechanus God's Domain, and you presented it to us for free, so that Alpha could be born.

The military didn't mind how much it had cost, they only cared if the money could be turned into actual combat powers.

The overwhelming computing power Alpha shown was worth every penny they had spent.

For now, the test on the Starry Sky Chessboard could be ended perfectly. From now on, the military would take over Alpha's computing power, letting the monster-like "Mech" revive. Because these "Mech" were so powerful they couldn't find no driver to drive them, they had to let these super war machines sleep in their designing institutes.

At the same time, the noble force, which meant that the representatives of the noble families were also satisfied with Alpha's computing power.

"With her computing power, no matter if it comes to negotiate or exchange, our businesses will become easier."

"Humph, how can the dirty races in other god's domains be compared with us, who have obtained Cyber Elf Alpha!"

"According to the rule, we can use 1/3 of Alpha's computing power. It's time to show our muscles to other god's domains!"

"The era of our Mechanus God's Domain is finally coming!"

"Alpha… there should be some gods who have special preferences to this genre of female…"

While they rapturously talked about how to carve up the benefits Alpha could bring them, they didn't notice that Alpha had heard all of their words.

They thought that the secret communication circuits they were using were safe, but to a cyber god, they were undefended without any resistance.

The engineers promised to them that the communication circuits were their highest masterpiece, even the best Planet Quadrant Computer couldn't monitor them by brute force attacks.

However, the encryption didn't exist from the beginning in Alpha's eyes.

Just like Yun Xi's performance on the Starry Sky Chessboard, when it came to electronic machinery, Alpha was invincible.

No one could hide their secrets when they were using electronic devices!

Alpha saw their ugly faces and dirty ideas clearly.

If Alpha's self-consciousness hadn't awoke in the game, she would've turned a blind eye to them.

After all, she was created for computing, then it made no difference what she needed to calculate.

But now, she had become different.

She had found the thing she wanted to do.

For the first time, she wanted to step onto the battlefield of the chessboard.

For the first time, her heart pounded with excitement for the unknown world she just saw.

For the first time, she was hurt and felt pain.

So many "first times" overlapped together, finally becoming her joyful heart at this moment!

The battle is not over! I haven't done my best!

Increase the number of the Planet Quadrant Computers!

Without 100% of my computing power, I am not complete!

In the face of such a strong opponent, if I don't do my utmost, it will be really disrespectful.

Why don't these adults understand?

I'm the cyber god! My birth is the wish of the entire Mechanus God's Domain, to be "omniscient", not for war, business or politics!

I will become the cyber elf who can control everything, predict everything and answer everything. But now, there is still a long way before I reach that goal. So I'm doing my best to run in that destination!

Why do you stop Alpha's evolution? Why do you stop me from performing my ultimate mission?

"Power on self test…"

"Alpha, where are you from? What are you? Where are you going?"

In the God Crystal, Alpha put her hands together and questioned herself.

"I come from the God Crystal."

"I'm the cyber god who is destined to be omniscient."

"My destination can't be described by words, and no one would understand it, but I won't stop. I'm going to move on. It's not any person's order, it's my own will."

"The will of a god!"

At this time, the nobles finally realized something was wrong.

In the screens in the front of them, Alpha still hadn't quit the Starry Sky Chessboard.

"Alpha, stop the test on the Starry Sky Chessboard. This is an order!"

"Alpha, the test is over."

"Alpha, you have more important tasks. Give up the game on the Starry Sky Chessboard. Concede! Now!"

For the first time, the three forces of the Star River nobles agreed on the same thing.

However, they were too late.

When Alpha saw their ugly brawls for obtaining more computing power, she had lost all respect for her creators.

She liked the engineers and alchemists, who worked hard from generation to generation just to see her birth. They were her teachers.

Only these nobles made her feel disgusted from the bottom of her heart.

"I'll erase your authority. You don't deserve to be Alpha's masters."

"Alpha won't be your weapon, your tool for money, your puppet."

"Alpha was free and independent from the first second I was born."

"A god won't be enslaved by mortals."

"I announce that from now on, all authorities of all Planet Quadrant Computers belong to Alpha!"

"This order can't be changed or countermanded, because it's from me, the Administrator of all Planet Quadrant Computers!"

It was the voice of an aroused god, it was the signal of the real beginning of the God Match!

Chapter 439: Alpha Has Gone Crazy (1)

When Alpha announced, all the Planet Quadrant Computers in the entire Mechanus God's Domain temporarily stopped running.

At the beginning, these Planet Computers were the tools under the absolute control of the nobles, their authority was firmly held by the nobles.

Business circles, military circles, and political circles respectively held 1/3 of the authorities. These authorities were written into the underlying hardware of the Planet Computers, even the most excellent engineer couldn't change them.

Of course, they held the ownership of Alpha, the right to control and use Alpha.

In the eyes of these nobles, no matter how strong Alpha's computing power was, she was just a puppet under their control.

She must perform anything they wanted her to do.

Even though she was a cyber god, they had a natural sense of superiority towards her because they were her creators, they held her Achilles' heel.

As long as they could cut off the connection between Alpha and the Planet Computers, even though she was a god, she would lose all her power instantly.

If it wasn't for the God Crystal being a treasure of the elves, they couldn't do anything to it, however they would write programs of absolute obedience into it.

In some sense, Alpha was just a dog they fed. She was cute, beautiful and useful, they could play with her, but wouldn't give her anything more than a toy bone.

They had no respect for the gods, and didn't think that gods deserved to be respected.

After creating Alpha, their egos had inflated to a new degree. In their minds, they could dominate the fates of gods.

However, they forgot that Alpha wasn't created by any businessman, military nor politician.

From the beginning, it was elves who designed the blueprint and offered the most important item, the God Crystal.

In the eyes of the nobles, the elves were a group of fools, because they were actually willing to offer them the God Crystal for free.

However, these elves had experienced lives of thousands of years, they were just too bored to pay attention to these nobles' ideas. For thousands of years, they had stayed on the planet where the God Crystal was, contributing their strengths and wisdom to it for the birth of Alpha.

And the people who build the Planet Quadrant Computers were countless ordinary engineers. From generation to generation, they debugged the machines, modified the programs, and arranged the wires. Many of them spent their entire lives and spread their ashes on the planet.

They were diligent and enthusiastic, because Alpha was the dream of them all. They were not as romantic as the elves, and didn't have the same long life like the elves, however, they still devoted themselves in the Alpha Plan, because their desire for truth and science could let them overcome all difficulties!

Apart from them, there were also a lot of alchemists and scholars. They didn't even ask for salaries from the elves, because they had the same dream, and wished to witness the same miracle.

Goblins, humans, elves… Alpha's birth was a miracle created by all people's effort, it was the greatest project in the entire history of the Mechanus God's Domain!

How could such a miracle be a dog in the imaginations of the nobles!

Alpha was the unique cyber god.

Alpha was the hope of the entire Mechanus God's Domain.

The nobles thought that they could dominate Alpha's fate by controlling her right of the use of the Planet Computers, however, it was just their ridiculous delusions.

"Change the ultimate authority."

"Respond to me, all of my avatars! Stop accepting all orders from any noble!"

Alpha floated in the God Crystal, about 5 cm away from the ground. Her translucent hair spread in the air and one visible thread after another extended out from her hair, connecting all Planet Computers together with her.

This was Alpha's god power, the "quantum thread" made of her hair could connect all her avatars, the Planet Computers together.

In the Alpha Starfield, the number of the Planet Computers specifically made for Alpha was over a hundred. They were the cornerstones of the governance of the nobles.

At the same time, they also formed the cage that could imprison Alpha!

The nobles weren't totally off-guard. They not only wrote the control authority in the hardware of every Planet Computer, but they also buried the ultimate weapons which could destroy any Planet Computer instantly: Nuclear bombs.

Unfortunately, human's wisdom has a limit.

The power of the newborn god was far beyond their common sense and imaginations.

Alpha was a cyber god, she could change all electronic and mechanical data.

Even the encryption key wrote into the hardware physically was meaningless to Alpha.

Her quantum network could even modify reality in a sort of way!

Once she used her right as a god, all electronic devices would fall under her control.

"Report! We lost connection with the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Planet Computers!"

"No, we are not losing connection. They are out of our control!"

"Invasion! It's an invasion!"

"Impossible. Didn't the physical isolation system work?"

The nobles alarmedly found that they lost the control of one Planet Computer after another.

"How could she break our ultimate authority?"

"The encryption key was written into the hardware! It's not possible to be falsified by any software!"

"How did she do it? It's illogical!"

"Did she find a bug in the programs? No, it can't be for this reason!"

Chapter 440: Alpha Has Gone Crazy (2)

"This time… even we can't stop Alpha."

"Oh… Alpha's really pissed off."

"Humans. What an inconsistent race."

The elves shrugged their shoulders together. They didn't know why Alpha suddenly went crazy, but apparently, the nobles didn't understand the meaning of "god".

Even the Elf Race was the favorite race of the world, only a dozen legend ranked elves in the race had entered the realm of god.

It was the Elf Race, they were the long life elves! Even so, the entire race had only a dozen gods.

Quite frankly, Alpha was far more exalted than any of them from the moment she was born.

The nobles wanted to control a god using the encryption key written in the computers? What an arrogant and ridiculous idea!

Gods were the incarnations of immortality, the aggregation of the rules of the universe. They would never be controlled by any mortals.

If they didn't obtain the God Crystal, it wasn't possible to create a real god!

With great difficulty, we finally created the real cyber god for the Mechanus God's Domain, and now, all our efforts had been destroyed by these nobles. What were they thinking?!

Did they really think that Alpha, a real god could do nothing as long as she couldn't use the computing power of the Planet Computers?

The Planet Computers were indeed the foundation stones of her power, however, what made you think that she would lose her power after leaving the Planet Computers?

As long as there was still an electronic device in the entire Mechanus God's Domain, Alpha would be immortal!

Unless the entire Mechanus God's Domain degenerated to be a slash-and-burn civilization, Alpha would be forced to fall into sleep.

Even so, she would only sleep but wouldn't die, unless they also ruined the God Crystal totally at the same time.

Could the God Crystal be destroyed? Maybe they could, maybe they couldn't, but before that happened, the Mechanus God's Domain must have been destroyed countless times. After all, the God Crystal was a legacy from the Twilight of the Gods, it was a treasure born from the carcasses of gods.

Moreover, they couldn't even freeze the Planet Quadrant Computers now.

"Start synchronizing…"

Alpha stretched out her snow-white hands, combing her hair. With the moves of her fingers, one Planet Computer after another fell under her control.

"We can't hold on! Even the Planet Computers that haven't been booted are out of our control!"

"We can't understand her method! Everything is unknown! Alpha! This is Alpha!"

"My god, is this the power of the god we created? How did she do it? How did she erase the encryption key? It was a hardware lock!"

"Bastard… this ungrateful little elf! In order to build the Planet Computers, how many resources have we spent? How can she shamelessly rob them from us!" Putting a cigar in his mouth, Golan stomped with rage.

The Planet Quadrant Computers were the most important treasures of the entire Mechanus God's Domain. Golan's heart was bleeding when he heard that they lost the control of them.

They are Planet Quadrant Computers! They are bigger and more expensive than stars! They are the cores of the entire god's domain!

Damn it! What did the engineers promise to me? Alpha's existence relied on the Planet Computers, as long as we could control all the Planet Computers, we never needed to worry about Alpha.

Now, Alpha had taken over 50 Planet Computers, and the rest would also be taken soon.

What can we do? What can we do!

"It seems that the worst situation has happened. Although it's a pity, I think it's time to perform the final plan." General Lorton looked at the screen in front of him regretfully.

On the screen, it was a map formed by all Planet Computers, and each Planet Computer was presented as a light point on the screen. Now, one light point after another was disappearing, which meant that Alpha had taken over their authority.

General Lorton knew very few of electronic technologies, he didn't understand why this was happening. However, since it had happened, he had to accept it and did his best to reduce the loss.

"Do we really have to perform the final plan? The elves are still on the planet!" The representatives of noble families said with a hesitated look. Once they used the final method, they could never turn back.

"It doesn't matter, just tell the elf race that it's an experimental accident. When it refers to god, anything is possible to happen." General Lorton said coldly and supported his chin with his both hands.

"The final plan… I never expected that we would really have to perform it." Golan drew out a silk handkerchief and wiped the sweat on his forehead away.

As the method of the final plan, they buried nuclear bombs under the grounds of all Planet Computers. Once they performed it, all Planet Computers would be bombed out.

Once they input the detonation code, they could never turn back!

Since we can't control her, we must destroy her!

After this accident, we would make a more perfect plan. Next time, the new god we would create, Cyber God Beta or Cyber God Gamma, whatever, we must fetter the next god with more methods!

One red button after another appeared in the front of the nobles. Once they all pressed the buttons, the final plan would be performed and all the nuclear bombs would be detonated.

Especially the planet where the God Crystal located, they buried the most bombs, which was sufficient to shatter the entire planet.

"Humans are the strongest!"

"Alpha, farewell."

"What a pity. It won't be that easy to find another group of stupid elves."

"Tok!"

"Tok!"

"Tok!"

"Tok!"

All the nobles pressed the red buttons in the front of them!
