Chapter 491: The Witch's Pray in the Morning (1)

Clear water came tumbling down from tens of meters above her, and the droplets splashed like pearls with a clear and pleasant sound.

A large area of water mist covered the surrounding area in the range of 100 meters, making the pool under the waterfall like a dreamland, showing light and empty atmosphere.

Red Lotus was sitting under the waterfall, on an ancient rock which stood out in the air. She silently felt the scouring of the water flowing over her skin, and prayed in the morning.

Her red witch clothes had long been wet, vaguely revealing part of the snow-white outline of her skin.

"Boom! Boom!" The water bombarded Red Lotus's body in waves at a high speed and splashed all over the sky.

"Everything is changeable..."

"Everything should return..."

"Only the sword will be forever..."

"Truth is true..."

In front of Red Lotus, only the divine weapon, Red Lotus Holy Sword, which was inherited from generation to generation by the witches in White Lotus Sword Domain, emitted bright red light. All the water flows disappeared when they approached this divine weapon, not even a trace of steam could spill out into the air.

The high temperature was horrible enough to burn mountains and boil the sea, but the Red Lotus Holy Sword suspended in front of Red Lotus in silence didn't even transfer the slightest iota of heat.

The huge waterfall was meeting an invisible hole, in front of the Red Lotus Holy Sword, all water disappeared completely without any traces.

The history of the witches in White Lotus Sword Domain could be traced back to the era of Yun Hai the Sword Master. Normally, every generation of witches were the guardians of the White Lotus Secret Treasure. They were responsible for protecting and guarding the White Lotus Secret Treasure.

Without exception, all witches were at the hero rank, and all of them were born in the White Lotus Sword Domain. They would never leave this sword domain in their lifetime.

The current master of the White Lotus Sword Domain had studied in three sword domains when he was young, and he even once had the opportunity to enter a higher rank. Just because of his bad luck, he became frustrated and returned to his hometown, holding the position of the master of the White Lotus Sword Domain.

Relatively speaking, none of the witches ever left White Lotus Sword Domain. They inherited the history of witches from generation to generation and guarded the White Lotus Sword Domain.

It could be said that the witches who guarded the White Lotus Secret Treasure were actually the real masters of White Lotus Sword Domain.

Only because the White Lotus Sword Domain needed a channel to communicate with the outside world, so it must have a spokesman that stood for the White Lotus Sword Domain.

White Lotus Sword Master was such a spokesman. He was responsible for all kinds of foreign affairs of the White Lotus Sword Domain and when necessary, he would go to other sword domains on behalf of the White Lotus Sword Domain.

No matter what happened, witches could never leave the White Lotus Sword Domain. Even if the sword domain was going to be destroyed, they would face the end of the sword domain without hesitation.

In this sense, the inheritance of witches was the real highest power of the White Lotus Sword Domain, but not the replacement of the master of the White Lotus Sword Domain.

Red Lotus and White Lotus were the next witches of the White Lotus Sword Domain. Moreover, they were rare twin witches, even in the history of the White Lotus Sword Domain.

Whether it was Red Lotus or White Lotus, their talent was at the highest level in history.

If it wasn't because that in order to complete the inheritance ceremony of the witches, they had to accomplish a special achievement, they would have been qualified to replace the old White Lotus Sword Master to be the supreme rulers of the White Lotus Sword Domain.

There was no need to doubt their strength, they were excellent hero ranked twin witches that even Hua Huo was profuse in praise about.

Even the current White Lotus Sword Master, who had attained the sixth rank, hadn't seen the door of the legendary rank, while Red Lotus had long been recognized by her god weapon, Red Lotus Holy Sword, and her sword talent was strong enough to be able to be compared with Hua Huo.

Even amongst all beings of all races in the endless god's domains, Red Lotus and White Lotus were rare geniuses born with godlike talents.

A god weapon wouldn't choose a weak person to be its master.

Red Lotus was such a person who was qualified to be recognized directly by Red Lotus Holy Sword.

She was born with the right to challenge the legend rank.

If she was the only witch in this generation, the old White Lotus Sword Master could have already retired.

And this was the problem, she was not alone.

One of the rules of the inheritance ceremony of witches was irrevocable.

To be the god witch, she must accomplish the inheritance ceremony of a god weapon.

Red Lotus Holy Sword was Red Lotus' god weapon.

The problem was her sister, White Lotus. She should have inherited another god weapon, but an accident happened, she made a piece of equipment called Star and Moon Ring herself!

The god weapon White Lotus gave up inheriting was called Green Lotus Throne, which wasn't inferior to Red Lotus Holy Sword at all.

It wasn't difficult for White Lotus to obtain the recognition of that god weapon. Theoretically, as long as they were the god weapons of witches, White Lotus could inherit them with ease.

However, White Lotus refused to inherit the Green Lotus Throne, nor any other god weapons of witches.

As long as she nodded her head, any god weapon would be her possession. Over 99% of hero ranked beings would do their best to obtain such an opportunity, however, White Lotus just turned a blind eye to it, which shocked the entire Sword Palace.

Red Lotus also did not understand why White Lotus was so insistent that she did not inherit any of the god weapons of witches. Until she put on "that thing", she finally realized what her sister wanted.

"No, absolutely not."

“The prince absolutely does not exist, he was just a person in your dream!”

“White Lotus, you can’t make mistakes!”

“No man is good in this world!”

After being washed by the rushing water of the waterfall, Red Lotus sincerely prayed that her sister would sober up from the unrealistic dream of the prince.

Chapter 492: The Witch’s Pray in the Morning (2)

Compared to Red Lotus, whose heart was so annoyed that she had to calm herself down by washing her body under the waterfall, White Lotus was really into the state of meditation.

On her forehead, the Star and Moon Ring with the patterns of sun, moon, and stars radiated a soft, holy light, shining on her soft and white skin, making her look like an immortal not merely a human being.

“No, sister!”

“Give it up, give it up, give it up!”

“That prince doesn’t exist! It was just a dream!”

Red Lotus repeated the words over and over again, trying to make her sister, White Lotus change her mind.

The weapon White Lotus choose for herself wasn't any of the god weapons of witches, but the Star and Moon Ring she made for herself.

When Red Lotus finally realized that White Lotus had no intention of inheriting any of the god weapons in the Sword Palace, she was really in a panic.

She couldn't understand White Lotus' decision. Except for the hero ranked people who had no way of obtaining a god weapon, then they would try to make a god weapon for themselves.

If they had any chance of obtaining a god weapon, no one would spend hundreds of years making a god weapon from scratch.

It wasn't simple to upgrade a standard god weapon to be a real god weapon.

As the crystallization of the power of fantasy, all god weapons had their own unique attributes. There were no two identical god weapons within the endless god's domains.

From a standard god weapon to a real god weapon, it often took hundreds of years or even thousands of years.

The earliest god weapons were granted by fantastic creatures. When human beings were still in the age of ignorance, fantastic creatures were undoubted "gods" in people's eyes.

A god weapon was such a part of the “god”, which was the crystallization of gods that once only gods and fantastic creatures could use. Human beings had no qualifications to use any god weapons at all.

It took millions of years for humans and other races to understand god weapons, the crystallizations of the rules of the universe.

The original god weapons, without exception, were all related to “gods”. They were absolute artifacts.

Only very few of these original god weapons still remained in the world. Most of them were destroyed or disappeared long ago into history.

Most of today’s god weapons were formed by human beings and other races through their own understanding of the weapons used by the original gods. They created their own god weapons step by step, relying on their own power of the rules.

It was extremely difficult to make a god weapon, especially to make a god weapon from start to finish. Even the best hero ranked genius would spend hundreds of years waiting for a standard god weapon to be recognized by the rules of the universe and become a real god weapon.

Nowadays, most god weapons were inherited from generation to generation, rarely would people be willing to make a god weapon for themselves from scratch.

However, White Lotus chose this most difficult path. She completely gave up on inheriting any of the god weapons of witches and chose to make the Star and Moon Ring for no reason, and devoted herself to cultivating it.

Red Lotus was anxious in her heart. She did not oppose White Lotus's decision of making the Star and Moon Ring. However, she could not accept the truth that White Lotus only used the Star and Moon Ring, ignoring all the other god weapons she could inherit.

As the twin witches, they could contract with multiple god weapons. This special ability of the twin witches should not be wasted like this!

Even if she took ten thousand steps backward and admitted that White Lotus could use the Star and Moon Ring as her main weapon, there were still many ancient god weapons waiting for White Lotus to inherit in the Sword Palace.

Every time when Red Lotus saw the god weapons that had been sealed for thousands of years and couldn't have an appropriate master, there was an unspeakable pain in her heart.

Every time when White Lotus approached those god weapons who had waited too long, these god weapons would actively emit lights and wait for her choice as if they were poor puppies waiting to be adopted.

As long as she stretched out her little hand, there was no need for any inheritance ceremony, all god weapons would fly to her side.

However, White Lotus still refused to choose any of them. She even refused to inherit the Green Lotus Throne.

Red Lotus had always wondered why her gentle sister, White Lotus would so stubbornly refuse all the god weapons.

Now she understood that her sister had already decided what she wanted.

They are very, very good, but I don't like them.

No matter how many god weapons I can choose, I just need one.

I only want one god weapon, it's the only treasure that belongs to me.

No one else could interfere with White Lotus's choices, including her sister, Red Lotus.

This was the first time that Red Lotus had discovered that once her sister had decided what to do, no one could change her mind.

No! No!

White Lotus, you're wrong! You're wrong!

That prince doesn't exist in this world!

The kind of prince in the novel you read doesn't exist in the real world at all! It was just a dream after you read too many romantic novels!

Why? You are so smart, why would you believe a dream?

“I beg you, White Lotus, give up on the Star and Moon Ring!”

“Even if all the god weapons in the Sword Palace can’t satisfy you, I will find a better god weapon for you. Please, just put down the Star and Moon Ring!” Looking at her sister who was obsessed with the Star and Moon Ring, continuing to pour all her spiritual power into it, Red Lotus really regretted it.

I shouldn’t have gone to hold the entrance exam of the Sword Palace!

If I knew that my innocent sister would fall into the delusion of love on the way, I would never have left the Sword Palace with her.

“Sister, do you believe in love?” Even if she didn’t open her eyes, White Lotus knew what look was on her sister’s face.

Red Lotus’ compliant sister entered the period of rebellion, she must be worried about it.

However, White Lotus didn’t regret her choice.

Chapter 493: The Sun and the Prince

When she was small, White Lotus had known that she was different from her sister.

From the day they were conceived in their mother’s womb, they were destined never to be separated. Something twined around them, made them come into the world hand in hand from their mother’s body at almost the same time.

Even their mother didn't know who the big sister of the strange twins was. Finally, they regarded the baby on the left as the big sister and the baby on the right as the young sister.

"The twins of fate" was not their original title.

The cursed twins was the name they were called after their birth.

Their bodies, including their hands and feet were tightly connected by transparent threads when they were born, just like twin trees.

Apparently, this situation was abnormal. When their mother saw this, she couldn't help but scream.

And about the thing that happened after that, both of them didn't want to recall it anymore.

By the time they appeared in front of the public again, they were already seven years old and became the apprentices of witches.

They had been given a new mission, a new life, and had completely been cut off from their past.

People wouldn't ask about the past of the twin witches, doubting the sacredness of White Lotus Sword Palace.

The witch who took them from the mortal world to the Sword Palace became their teacher and began to teach them the knowledge that witches should know.

The cursed twins eventually became the respected twin witches, Red Lotus and White Lotus.

People took it for granted that the respected twin witches were children raised by the witches.

They had excellent talent, strong bloodline, and a fate that no one could match.

After losing everything, Red Lotus and White Lotus got everything.

However, White Lotus would never forget the scared expression on her mother's face when she saw them, and all the ugly things that happened after that.

Yes, she remembered. She always remembered.

As the "Yin" side of the twin witches, she had a self-awareness and wisdom earlier than her sister. Her sister, Red Lotus obtained her first talent when she was three years old, and White Lotus had naturally obtained hers, right after her birth.

She knew all the things her sister did in order to protect her as if she was a flower in a greenhouse

She also knew why her sister hated men so much.

However, is it really good to go on like this?

Sister, can you really be happy with what you have done?

Why are we so unfortunate and so special?

As the twin witches of fate, can't we have our own destiny?

Become a witch and guard the White Lotus Secret Treasures like all the previous witches, dedicating our lives to White Lotus Sword Domain. Is this our life?

No, it shouldn't be!

White Lotus wanted to destroy all of these, she wanted to get rid of such a fate.

For this, she made a wish and made preparations.

That day, when the glory of the stars fell, she finally found what she wanted and heard the "voice" that could help her fight against this so-called fate.

Then she met the person she was supposed to meet.

The prince who could let her get rid of the fate of the twin witches.

My sister is wrong.

My Prince is not an illusion, neither a delusion, but right in front of me and close enough to touch.

She took the gift from him and vowed to turn it into a weapon that could break all the shackles of fate.

That day, she said to her prince:

“Today, this micalex is just a common stone in the eyes of other people.

“But from now on, it’s the first gift my lover gave me.

“In the future, it will be the gift my husband first presented to me, and gradually will become a priceless and irreplaceable treasure in my life.

“I don’t mind other people’s opinions, but for me, it’s the most beautiful and glamorous gem from my prince.

“I witness it here, your present is the most valuable gift to me, to complete our eternal contract.

“Maybe I indeed don’t know what true love is, but I swear to this gem.

“I will love you forever.”

She prayed to the stars in the sky, and then, the wish came true.

The golden red of the sun.

The silver of the moon.

The bright starlights gathered in her palm, blessed her and guided her.

Sister, have you seen it?

The miracle you and I expect is right here, in this Star and Moon Ring.

We are no longer the cursed twins, no longer shouldering that heavy fate.

On that day, she made an invariable pledge to him and handed over her fate to him.

Prince, the miracle she was waiting for, the glory of redemption.

Her prince didn't need to be rich. She just needed a gift from him, as long as the gift could represent his sincerity, even a piece of micaalex was sufficient.

Her prince didn't need to be handsome and have friends all over the world. Although her prince was now so cute and had a whole group of girls to be his knights.

For her, the prince was the light, the lighthouse in the darkness, the key to a new destiny.

"Sister, do you like the sun?" At the end of the morning prayer ceremony, White Lotus reached out her little hand and pointed to the golden light above the waterfall.

"Well, not bad." As the master of the Red Lotus Holy Sword, Red Lotus liked everything related to the fire. She even gained the power to transform herself into a flame guardian spirit in that incredible nightmare world.

The sun was the ultimate symbol of the ultimate power of burning everything.

"Well, I'll tell you a secret."

"My... our prince, will one day surpass the sun and become hotter and more luminous than the sun."

"Impossible, your non-existent prince won't even obtain one billionth of the glory of the sun." Red Lotus shook her head with a disdainful smile. She didn't believe a word of what her sister said about the imaginary prince.

“Well, sister, I’ll make a bet with you.” Looking at her sister’s confident look, White Lotus showed a strange smile on her face.

“A bet that belongs to me, to us, and to the prince.”

“Even after 1000 years or 10,000 years, this bet will not expire.”

Chapter 494: The Witch Palace

“Sure, what bet?” Red Lotus couldn’t wait to hear it.

As long as it could stop her sister’s fantasy about the non-existent prince, she was willing to accept ten bets!

“The bet is very simple, that is, you will fall in love with the prince.” White Lotus said with a bright smile on her face.

“So, as long as I don’t like that prince, you’ll give up that bastard?” The corners of Red Lotus’ mouth raised.

I have a 100% possibility to win! How would I like a prince that doesn’t exist?

Even if the prince White Lotus fantasized about really existed, she would find him and kill him before White Lotus saw him!

Her Red Lotus Holy Sword had long been hungry and thirsty for the prince’s blood!

If the prince appeared in front of her, she would reward him with a bloody end without saying anything at all!

“Yes, because I like the prince, so will you.”

“Just as the sun rises from the horizon every day, my sister, you will like the same person I like.” White Lotus’s eyes were smiling, as if she had seen the final result.

“Well, I accept this bet!!” Red lotus quickly agreed.

Prince, you must die!

Whether it was a prince in fantasy or a prince in the real world, as long as she saw him, she would kill him!

“So...”

White Lotus stretched out her right hand, while Red Lotus stretched out her left hand with a bright smile.

It was a ritual between them, and it would only be used for the most important things.

“In the name of White Lotus (Red Lotus).”

“Pinky, pinky, bow-bell. Whoever tells a lie will sink down to a bad place and never rise up again.”

“The violator will swallow a thousand needles!”

Two little fingers entwined together and pulled together forcefully.

Red Lotus laughed happily.

My sister finally figured it out. The prince doesn't exist, how will I lose this bet?

White Lotus also had a mysterious and gentle smile on her face.

Sister, in that case, no matter where we go, we will not be separated.

Our fates is indeed to be connected together with the prince.

In the White Lotus Sword Palace, on the roof of the Witch Palace.

Mei (Star Snow) comfortably stretched out herself, different from matured Star Thunder and energetic Star Fire, Star Snow preferred to stay in quiet places, if it wasn't necessary, she wouldn't take the initiative to come in contact with other people.

After listening to the courses according to Mei'er's arrangement, she easily got into the Witch Palace, where she should never be found by outsiders, and found the most suitable place for sunshine.

She was ready for a good sleep here.

She didn't behave like a dog at all but was more like a cat.

Unfortunately, the owner of the Witch Palace soon discovered her!

"Who is it?" Red Lotus looked at her and almost burst with anger.

What's this place?

The Witch Palace, the core of the whole White Lotus Sword Domain, the place where the White Lotus Secret Treasure is hid.

The defence system here was even stronger than the main peak where the White Lotus Sword Master lived. Even a mosquito shouldn't have the possibility to fly into this forbidden area.

But what did she see? Someone actually got onto the roof of the shrine of the Witch Palace! And it looked like she had come here for a long time because she had fallen asleep.

How absurd!

Why can she pass through the defence ward of the Witch Palace?

An enemy had come in, why didn't the entire defense system send an alarm?!

Is it a bug? The Witch Palace spent thousands of years building the perfect defense system, and now it had actually broken down without warning?

"..." Mei (Star Snow) looked at Red Lotus in confusion, then she saw the figure in a white witch's dress next to Red Lotus. With a smile on her face, she jumped down from the roof lightly.

"It's you!" Red Lotus looked at her in surprise.

Apparently, she was the core of the Starwing Knights, Mei.

How did she get through the defense system of the Witch Palace? Even for Hua Huo, it isn't possible for her to accomplish this!

"..." White Lotus gently covered her mouth, trying not to let herself make a happy voice.

Prince, have you come to see me?

"..." Mei (Star Snow) trotted all the way to White Lotus. Then she smelled White Lotus' body all around.

She smelled the unique odor of her master, Yun Xi.

Exactly speaking, it was part of Yun Xi's smell contained in the Star and Moon Ring.

Smiling!

Mei (Star Snow) looked at White Lotus, smiling like an angel.

"Hey..." Looking at Mei's innocent face, although White Lotus covered her mouth, she could not help but laugh out.

"White Lotus, when did you have such a good relationship with this maid?" Looking at White Lotus' smile, which she seldom saw, Red Lotus, as her sister, was jealous.

White Lotus rarely smiled. In fact, she often practiced her secret skill, the Great Circulation all day, even as her sister, Red Lotus had only a few hours a day that she could talk with White Lotus.

For Red Lotus, White Lotus' smile was more precious than anything!

Because of the prince in her dream, they had a quarrel and she had less and less chance to see White Lotus' smile.

She was like a fish that left the water and a plant that couldn't bask in the sun, if she couldn't see White Lotus' smile, she would lose the meaning of her life!

That damn prince! It's all your fault!

If White Lotus had that strange dream again, she would drive into her dream, pull out her sword and kill him a hundred times!

"Mei!"

White lotus murmured the pseudonym the prince was using now. Even such a simple action could let her feel happy.

He was the fire of her life, the miracle she yearned for, the light of hope she had after praying thousands of times.

Today, you come to me.

It's really a lucky day.

You are the sun, glorious and sacred.

You are the moon, mysterious and gentle.

You are a star, bright and shining.

Chapter 495: The Person Red Lotus Admires

“Wait, even though you’re Hua Huo’s maid, you can’t come in here!” Looking at her sister’s smile, Red Lotus only felt anxious.

White Lotus isn’t smiling at me!

The feeling of losing... as if something of great importance will soon be lost.

“Mei, how did you get in?” White Lotus was also curious about this.

Compared with her sister Red Lotus, she knew better how powerful the defense system of White Lotus Sword Palace was. It was absolutely not something that could be broken through simply by brute force.

After all, it connected with the ley lines of the whole White Lotus Sword Domain, and even could borrow the power of the stars when necessary.

Its full name was White Lotus Ten Killing Formations. If it was fully activated, its defensive power could even reach the legend rank. After being strengthened by the witches of the Witch Palace from generation to generation, its strength had long reached the level that no hero rank beings could break through.

The number of times this place being invaded was zero before today!

“...” Mei (Star Snow) tilted her head. She didn’t know how she came in too, because she just wanted to sleep under the sun, so she naturally came to this place.

“There must be a problem!”

“Are you a traitor?”

“Explain this! How did you sneak in here?!” Red Lotus looked at her and subconsciously felt that something was wrong.

With a flash of the flame, she summoned the Red Lotus Holy Sword and put it on Mei’s neck.

Red Lotus Holy Sword, the strongest weapon of the Witch Palace!

It contained the power of the flames of heaven. Rumors said that it was a sacred sword that could burn heaven and the earth. The handle of the sword looked like a ten-leaf red lotus.

Every petal showed a brilliant crimson, as if there was blood flowing on it.

“Sister, don’t scare her.” White Lotus pinched her fingers to predict, then understood how Mei could come in.

That was too obvious. She could even see the mysterious power that covered Mei’s body with her naked eyes. Because of that power, the defense system of the Sword Palace didn’t do anything to Mei.

The power contained a breath that was immeasurably old and full of vicissitudes, like an endless desert.

In the whole of White Lotus Sword Domain, only one person could be the master of that power.

“Is it because of this?” White Lotus stretched out her slender hand and pulled out the shell necklace from Mei’s chest. In an instant, a mysterious aura that only strong swordsmen could feel spread in the air, which in turn suppressed the burning aura of the Red Lotus Holy Sword.

“This is...” Red Lotus’s eyes changed subtly.

“Yes, it’s Master Casina’s token, the power of the Sands of Time.” White Lotus smelled the fragrance on the shell with a drunken look on her face.

As expected, my prince is perfect, whether he is in men’s or women’s clothes!

“I understand. Sorry, I misunderstood you.” Red Lotus also understood why Mei could pass through the defense system of the Sword Palace.

Sky Swords were the most exalted people in the Sky Sword God’s Domain. None of the Sword Palaces would judge a Sky Sword as an enemy.

The whole of the White Lotus Sword Palace was defenseless to Casina the Battle God. It was their honor that Casina was willing to come to the Sword Palace.

The last time a Sky Sword came to the White Lotus Sword Palace was thousands of years ago. Casina was the first Sky Sword who came to the White Lotus Sword Palace in the last one thousand years.

Even the Great Xia Imperial Palace was opened to all Sky Swords, not to mention the small White Lotus Sword Palace.

“It’s unexpected that you hold Master Casina’s token.” When looking at Mei (Star Snow), Red Lotus even felt somewhat jealous.

“My sister worships Master Casina very much.” Looking at Red Lotus’ expression, White Lotus quietly told her prince this important information.

“Master Casina is an invincible god of battle, the invincible overlord of the Battle God’s Champion Contest.” Red Lotus said with longing in her eyes.

Casina the Battle God was not just a common Sky Sword, she was also famous in all of the endless god’s domains.

After all, she was also the only legend rank female swordsman who won the title of “Battle God”.

Not only in the Sky Sword God’s Domain, even in the Western God’s Domain and the Dragon God’s Domain, but there were also countless women who worshiped her.

Red Lotus was also one of them. She was Casina’s biggest fan.

When she first saw Casina on the Water God’s Fantastic Island, she was so nervous that she could hardly speak.

After that, when traveling with Casina, Red Lotus often consulted Casina about how to improve her fighting skills, and got a lot of instructions from Casina.

Originally, the power of the legend rank should be beyond the boundaries that any hero ranked beings could understand, however, Casina's martial arts was one of the few exceptions.

After all, martial arts was the power that was created for weak human beings to challenge strong enemies.

After being taught by Casina, Red Lotus respected her more.

Seeing that Mei had Casina's token, Red Lotus' attitude also changed.

"Sister, it's your fault, so, apologize." Finding that her sister Red Lotus was feeling guilty, White Lotus showed a strange smile on her face and lightly pushed her sister.

"Well, it was my fault. I apologize. Do you need any compensation?" After knowing the reason why Mei could come in, Red Lotus also felt that her attitude just now was too bad.

"I think it would be good for Mei to attend our sacrificial ceremony."

Chapter 496: Sacrificial Ceremony

"Sacrificial ceremony..." Red Lotus frowned first, then nodded and said, "No problem. It's suitable to be a compensation."

The sacrificial ceremony of the Witch Palace was a very solemn and sacred ceremony, and not everyone was eligible to participate in it.

Almost all noble families in the Sky Sword God's Domain wanted to attend the sacrificial ceremony of the witches, but only very few of them could succeed.

Why were they so enthusiastic about this? Because the sacrificial ceremony was a special Prayer of the Witch Palace, the people who attend this ceremony could get some incredible experience, and even have a small chance to improve their talent.

Although the chance was slim, however, there were only a handful of ways in the endless god's domain could improve a person's talent, and the costs of most of them was so huge that very few people dared to try.

The sacrificial ceremony of the Witch Palace was one of the methods that you didn't need to pay a too huge price. So long as they took part in it, they would have 10% of the possibility to strengthen their talent.

Not only in the Sky Sword God's Domain, in the whole of the Eastern God's Domain and even the distant Western God's Domain, many famous families knew this. It was said that the sacrificial ceremonies of the several most famous witches in the next 100 years had all been reserved by these noble families.

Red Lotus and White Lotus just started to learn the sacrificial ceremony this year, and they succeeded in their practice not long ago.

The news hadn't been spread yet, otherwise, the Witch Palace wouldn't be so "quiet" now.

The sacrificial ceremony was a Prayer and a way of practice for witches. The sacrificial ceremony could only be performed once a month and would last about three days.

There were various taboos in the sacrificial ceremony, and once the sacrificial ceremony started, no one could stop it. Otherwise, the witches who held the sacrificial ceremony would get hurt, including vomiting blood and even being cursed.

Because of this, the sacrificial ceremony was a ceremony that all witches should keep practicing throughout their lives, and the assistants who could participate in it must be strictly selected.

Most of the time, witches weren't willing to let any outsiders attend the sacrificial ceremony, especially the young witches who had just learned how to perform the sacrificial ceremony. In order to keep their mind clean, they were not allowed to be disturbed by anything.

However, Red Lotus didn't mind letting Mei take part in the ceremony, because she wasn't alone, her sister White Lotus would help her in the ceremony.

White Lotus was naturally good at all kinds of magic arts. Even the defense system of the Witch Palace had been revised by her and increased its power by 30%.

Unlike Red Lotus who was good at fighting, White Lotus was known for her wisdom and understanding about magic arts.

Because White Lotus had such a great talent, so that they could be qualified to hold the sacrificial ceremony at this young age.

This was the highest level of spiritual practice of the Witch Palace. Even after reaching the legend rank, it wouldn't be antiquated.

In fact, in the sacrificial ceremony, White Lotus herself was the one who held the ceremony, and Red Lotus was just White Lotus' assistant.

"..." Mei (Star Snow) looked at White Lotus with curiosity. Her head slightly cocked.

"It will take three days to prepare the ceremony. You are recognized by Master Casina, therefore, in return for her, I have to let you know what the sacrificial ceremony means, so that you can get the greatest benefit." Red Lotus and White Lotus walked together in the garden of the Witch Palace. White Lotus held Mei's hand and Red Lotus explained what the sacrificial ceremony was for Mei.

"The sacrificial ceremony is a top-level secret skill of god witches."

"From ancient times, our witches used it to communicate with the creatures that didn't exist in our world."

"Sacrificial ceremony, literally, this is a way to present sacrifices to the gods."

"However, we can't make sure who the god is. Most of the time, we can summon a good, kind god, but sometimes, some horrible creatures would also respond to the sacrificial ceremony."

"Good gods will bless us."

“Unknown, horrible creatures will bring curses.”

“Occasionally, some neutral creatures would also respond to the ceremony, trading with us.”

“After being improved by witches from generation to generation, the chances of being cursed have been greatly reduced. Most creatures who respond to our summons are friendly gods or fantastic creatures.”

“Improving the participators talent is one of the side effects of the sacrificial ceremony. If the god or creature appeared on the sacrificial altar has the same type of energy as you, you will have the opportunity to absorb a part of their auras to enhance your own talent.”

“The probability is about 10% and works for all hero ranked beings.”

Invite the god, then send the god away, this was the special ability of the witches, and the way to communicate with many creatures in other worlds was the top secret of the witches in the endless god’s domain.

The Witch Palace in the White Lotus Sword Domain was just a small branch of the god witches in the endless god’s domains. The history of the god witches was said to be even longer than the establishment of the endless god’s domains. It was an ancient force that existed before the first Star Bridge was built.

“Sister, have you decided what god you want to summon this time?” Holding her prince’s hand, White Lotus looked calm, but her fast heartbeat had exposed her true mood.

The prince’s hand is so warm.

“Well, like last time, I want to summon a fire-type god or fantastic creature.” Actually, Red Lotus wasn’t good at the sacrificial ceremony. She was only responsible for offering her spiritual power for White Lotus in the ceremony.

Nobody knows how many super beings exist in the endless god’s domains, just as nobody knows the margin of the starry world.

In the endless worlds, there were endless gods.

The existence they could summon depended on the rank of the sacrifices, which was one of the reasons why witches had to let noble families take part in the ceremony.

After all, the sacrifices that could entertain a god wouldn’t be cheap!

Chapter 497: Kryolite

“No, I think we can summon a stronger god this time.” White Lotus said confidently and stroked the prince’s soft hands.

“Well, but, isn’t the sacrifice just a fire-type ruby?” Red Lotus looked at her sister with a confused look.

Although she was not very proficient in the sacrificial ceremony, at least, she knew the basic principles of the ceremony.

The quality of the sacrifices determined the level of the gods that could be summoned in the sacrificial ceremony.

Which meant, to summon a stronger god, they must prepare a more precious sacrifice.

Rumours said that in the similar rituals of black magic, in order to summon a powerful evil spirit, dark wizards would even kill millions of people as blood sacrifices.

Naturally, witches wouldn't use such a bloody method, they preferred to use valuable sacrifices.

After trying endless summons, god witches had found some relationships between the sacrifices and the gods they summoned.

If the sacrifice was a fire-type ruby, it would probably be a fire-type spirit who responded to their summon, and there was a small probability that a giant dragon would respond to them.

Obsidian was not recommended as a sacrifice, because only dark-type evil spirits liked this kind of sacrifices, if it wasn't necessary, none of the witches would use an obsidian as a sacrifice.

The principle of "equivalence exchange" was also working in the sacrificial ceremony, therefore, the witches must pay attention to their endurance when they performed the sacrificial ceremony.

In their long history, a witch once mistook a rare star-type obsidian as an ordinary obsidian. As a result, she summoned an indescribable, horrible existence and was devoured by it.

Of course, it was a very rare exception. Most witches who performed the sacrificial invitation would prepare sacrifices that match their own strength. They wouldn't let the situation get out of their control.

This time, according to previous experience, the sacrifice prepared by Red Lotus was a ruby containing a lot of flame spirits, therefore, the existence who would respond to their call would naturally be a fire-type god or fantastic creature.

“No, we won’t use the ruby, I have a better sacrifice this time.” White Lotus looked at Mei confidently.

The Prince is the incarnation of a miracle and the glory of hope.

She could do anything as long as she was with the prince.

“Do we have that kind of thing?” Red Lotus was confused. White Lotus Sword Domain was just a small, remote sword domain, that ruby was almost the highest quality sacrifice they could find.

“Yes, it was a gift from the Water God, Hydra.” White Lotus took out a milky white gem with a hazy mist inside.

At first glance, it was just an ordinary gem, however, if you kept looking at it, you would find that the interior of the gem was constantly changing.

The hazy fog in the gem changed from huge mountains to vast oceans, presenting an all-embracing scene.

“Kryolite?” Red lotus was shocked after realizing what the precious gem in White Lotus’s hand was.

Compared with the fire-type Ruby she prepared, the level of Kryolite was far higher!

The fire-type ruby in her hand could be the material used to forge the highest level of fire-type god weapon, however, the Kryolite in White Lotus's hand could be embedded in a real god weapon without any extra steps!

It was a treasure that could only be obtained from real fantastic creatures or gods. Before humans understood the concept of a "god weapon", gods were using this kind of materials to forge original god weapons!

Compared with this, the fire-type ruby she prepared before was just nothing.

What was more precious was that the Kryolite was one of the most suitable sacrifices for the sacrificial ceremony. It could almost guarantee a 100% chance to communicate with a random high-level extraordinary existence, and all the beings of the three camps, good, neutral and evil all liked it.

Even amongst gods, it could be used as money. From this point, its rarity was self-evident.

"Isn't that too wasteful? It's Kryolite!" Even in Red Lotus' eyes, the Kryolite was too precious to be a sacrifice.

Its price couldn't be counted by money, after all, only gods or fantastic creatures could make Kryolite, and money was meaningless to gods and fantastic creatures.

Gods and fantastic creatures both had the ability to change the material constitution from the molecular level, which was the so-called “touch a stone and turn it into gold”. Therefore, none of the mortal wealth such as gold and silver were valuable to them.

Only these gems contained the free energy of the universe, for example, the fire-type ruby, would let some gods feel interested in it.

This kind of fire-type ruby was generally accumulated in the ley lines after tens of millions of years. Even in a large gem vein, there would be only a few fire-type gems.

Even gods couldn't control time, therefore, the fire spirit contained in the ruby was the core of the sacrificial ceremony. Ordinary rubies had no such effect at all.

The last time, White Lotus used a fire-type ruby as the sacrifice, and successfully summoned a fire-type fantastic creature. By absorbing the fire power of the fantastic creature, the power of Red Lotus Holy Sword was greatly improved.

“Yes, since it's an apology, we should show our sincerity.” White Lotus narrowed her eyes habitually and smiled at her sister, which was gazing at her with a confused look.

She knew that her sister would agree in the end.

“Ah... You're really being self-willed, but since it's a Kryolite, there should be no problem.” As White Lotus had expected, although Red Lotus frowned, she finally agreed to her sister's request.

Apart from any things related to the “prince”, Red Lotus's love for her sister was unconditional, she would be willing to meet any of White Lotus' demands.

Yes, anything apart from the “prince”. The prince must die!

“Thank you, sister! I’m also looking forward to what we can summon in the sacrificial ceremony!” White Lotus smiled with her eyes squinted.

The Kryolite was her gift for the prince from the beginning. In order to obtain it, she had also made a deal with the Water God, Hydra.

She just didn’t expect that she would be able to use it this soon.

With the power of miracle from the prince, what kinds of existences could see the bright light of the Kryolite?

She was also curious about this in her heart.

“...” Mei (Star Snow) looked at White Lotus in confusion. She didn’t understand why White Lotus was holding her hand so tightly.

I want to bask in the sun!

Chapter 498: Sacrifices

Under the ground of the Witch Palace, there was an altar, which had the highest secrecy level of the whole White Lotus Sword Palace.

The Altar of Deity.

Amongst all the Witch Palaces all over the endless god's domains, there must be such a forbidden place, where it was used for witches to pray and communicate with gods.

In different worlds, the Altar of Deity built by the witches would take on different features.

This altar in the White Lotus Sword Domain was an ancient altar full of the style of the Eastern God's Domain.

The most central part of the altar was a pattern of Yin Yang Twin Fish, showing the principle of both rigidity and softness.

Around the pattern of Yin Yang Twin Fish, there was a circle of blooming lotus petals, which looked pure and flawless.

Above the Altar of Deity, there was a pattern of the sun, moon, mountains and rivers, which symbolized the belief of the Eastern God's Domain. At the same time, there was an ancient sword piercing through the sky. It was a mark left by Yun Hai the Sword Master, which represented that the Altar of Deity was blessed by him, a Sky Sword.

Witches didn't believe in a certain god, but would choose the most suitable god according to the rules of their own world, and build the Altar of Deity that was suitable for the style of their world.

If a witch was strong enough, the witch herself could also be summoned by other witches.

God witches weren't the puppets of gods, but a special force formed by women who had the ability to communicate with gods.

They respected gods, but they weren't puppets.

They were good at communicating with gods and generally, they would guard the world they were born in, if it wasn't necessary, they wouldn't leave their own world.

The Witch Palaces existed in many worlds in the endless god's domains. The witches were a special scene of many god's domains.

They believe that there were eight million gods in the world, and even a stalk of grass, a piece of wood or a road contained the possibility to become a god.

Witches were the earliest channels of communication between humans and gods.

Before the first Star Bridge was built, they had already taken root in a lot of god's domains, taking on the task of communication between humans and gods.

Many witches, because of their friendly relationship with the gods, would even be chosen as Apostles of the gods, becoming the spokespersons of the gods in the mortal world.

Red lotus and White Lotus were the witches blessed by gods. Their talents were so great that a special existence chose them to be its alternate Apostles.

Even the imperial family of the Great Xia Sword Domain would treat them with great honour.

“Sister, are you ready?” White Lotus sat in the center of the Altar of Deity, the Star and Moon Ring on her hand radiated a soft glow.

In an instant, she entered an incredible realm of emptiness. With her eyes narrowed, she realized that she had left the real world and entered a gap between dream and reality.

“Will we really use the Kryolite as the sacrifice?” Red Lotus still felt that it was too wasteful to use the precious Kryolite in this sacrificial ceremony.

After all, even if the sacrificial ceremony failed, they would still pay a price. If they used the Kryolite but summoned nothing, it would really be a great loss!

Moreover, it was easy to summon a god but was difficult to send the god away. Every year, there would be witches who unluckily died in the sacrificial ceremony.

In any case, before starting the sacrificial ceremony, witches would adjust their mind to the best state and prepare the best sacrifices at the same time.

Once a month was the minimum time for a talented witch to recover her energy and strength. In fact, most witches could only hold the sacrificial ceremony one or two times in a year.

Even if they had done everything they could do, there would still be a small chance that they summoned monsters that should never appear in the real world.

“Yes, I want to challenge myself this time. I think that this time, we can summon a very special god.” White Lotus looked at Mei with a confident look, although Mei was yawning with a bored look.

“Well, be careful. If something goes wrong, stop the sacrificial ceremony as quick as you can.” Red Lotus found that her sister was strangely persistent today.

It’s too strange! She wasn’t such a stubborn person before!

Do we really need to compensate for that maid? Even so, it would be sufficient just to use the fire-type ruby as the sacrifice!

“Then, get ready to sacrifice.” White Lotus would not tell her sister that the Kryolite was prepared for the prince from the very beginning.

“Ok.” Red Lotus had to raise her hands helplessly.

“All things, all gods in the endless god’s domains, listen to my voice!” Along with White Lotus’s whisper, the most mysterious ceremony of the witches began.

What was going on now was the first stage of the ceremony, “sacrifice”, displaying the sacrifice in front of those old, powerful existences.

It was equal to telling them “Hey, there is a gift for you! Come here!”

“In the infinite time and worlds, all things that are immortal, I present my gift to you, praying that you can pay attention to this corner.”

The pattern of the Yin Yang Twin Fish started rotating, spreading the auras of the twin witches.

“I present this treasure to you, and if you are satisfied with it, please respond to my voice and come to this altar.”

The Kryolite became transparent bit by bit, it was the sign that it was being wrapped around by the power of contract, turning into an equivalent exchange.

“Language and cognition.”

“Behavior and phenomenon.”

“Heart and body.”

“Bleeding my blood as a witness, I’m looking forward to your coming.”

White Lotus stretched out her arm. Her finger tip cut her skin, letting a drop of blood fall to the altar.

Red Lotus also stretched out her arm and pricked her skin, presenting her blood for the ceremony.

This was the second reason why witches needed to rest for a month after holding a sacrificial ceremony.

“...” Mei (Star Snow) blinked her eyes and looked at the twin witches in confusion.

“It’s your turn. If you want to get the benefits, you must pay with your blood first.” Red Lotus quickly pricked Mei’s finger tip using her Red Lotus Holy Sword.

A drop of crimson blood dripped to the ground.

Chapter 499: Sacrifice

The humans who take part in the sacrificial ceremony must present their blood as the price, otherwise, they wouldn’t be able to absorb the god’s aura in the ceremony and improve themselves.

The principle of equivalent exchange was a basic rule in any world. What you want is what you must pay for.

The sacrificial ceremony was already one of the safest methods to improve one’s talent in the endless god’s domains.

Although the success rate was only about one-tenth, most of the time, a failure will only cost a drop of blood, therefore, it was actually a highly profitable business.

Of course, there was also a probability in the world called “bad luck”. The unfortunate witch who summoned the “nightmare” was a living negative example.

Red Lotus’s blood fell on the Kryolite and emitted a red, fire like light, which is also the embodiment of her essence, the privilege of the Sun Witch.

White Lotus's blood was on the contrary. When her blood dripped onto the Kryolite, it immediately turned transparent and in an instant, it merged with the mist in the Kryolite.

As for Mei's blood, actually, Yun Xi's blood, it had undergone a very strange change when it dripped onto the Kryolite.

At first, it was a pale gold light floating in the Kryolite.

Then, the Kryolite became hotter and hotter, scorching the air.

After a long while, the transparent Kryolite, which was filled with mist, had become a beautiful golden-red gem. No one would believe that it was a Kryolite just a moment ago.

"This... it's not the same as last time!" Red Lotus murmured in a confused tone. She looked at the gem, whose color and even size had completely been changed.

If she hadn't witnessed the whole process, she wouldn't believe that a Kryolite could transform into a golden-red gem!

"It's normal, because it's Kryolite." White Lotus narrowed her eyes and told the lie with a straight face.

After absorbing my prince's blood, the Kryolite would naturally change. I would feel strange if it didn't change!

Anyway, my sister knows nothing about the sacrificial ceremony. No matter what I say, she won't doubt my words.

Moreover, it wasn't a lie. After all, I just said, "Because it's Kryolite!"

"So, is it the sacrifice this time?"

Red Lotus sensed a distinct aura from the golden-red gem. She could vaguely feel the power inside it, which was far superior to the power of that valuable fire-type ruby.

With it, we can summon a god that is far stronger than that fantastic creature last time!

"Yes, this is a sacrifice from Mei, and my sister and I."

"When we open the door tomorrow, which god will appear in front of us? I'm really looking forward to it!" White Lotus placed the golden-red gem in the center of the altar and prayed.

"The sacrifice has been delivered."

"After one day and one night, I look forward to your arrival."

"No matter where you come from, we welcome you."

“Good morning, good afternoon, and good night.”

The golden-red gem suspended in the middle of the Altar of Deity, gradually became transparent. In about ten seconds, the gem completely disappeared from the Altar of Deity, which was a sign that the first stage of the sacrificial ceremony had succeeded.

“I’m exhausted. After this sacrificial ceremony, I must rest for several months!” After making sure the sacrifice had been offered smoothly, Red Lotus complained and moved her stiff right hand.

If she hadn’t drew out her sword and cut Mei’s fingertip, the sacrificial ceremony would have failed at that time.

Because her sister White Lotus was slightly anemic, the blood she bled was actually three times more than Red Lotus, so she was tired.

Fortunately, she was the Sun Witch, her natural vitality was several times more than White Lotus’. Therefore, she would recover quicker from the tiredness.

Compared with her own tiredness, she paid more attention to her sister. She clearly saw that after the sacrificial ceremony, White Lotus’ face was somewhat paler than usual.

Yes, she realized later that holding a high-level sacrificial ceremony was also a heavy burden on the witches themselves. Although there was no record that a Kryolite would attract any dangerous beings, it was always wise to play it safe!

This was only the second time White Lotus had held a sacrificial ceremony. Is it too risky to use Kryolite as a sacrifice?

“White Lotus, are you tired?” Red Lotus looked nervously at her sister White Lotus, whose face looked as pale as paper.

“Um... the spiritual power I consumed was much greater than I had expected...” White Lotus didn’t tell the truth.

The burden of sacrificing this golden-red gem had almost drained her spiritual power!

The process of turning the golden-red gem into a sacrifice and sending it to the altar almost emptied her whole body.

There was no doubt that this was not the normal consumption for sacrificing a Kryolite.

Just as her sister Red Lotus, whose vitality was ten times more than any normal person, as the Moon Witch, her spiritual power was also ten times more than any others, which was sufficient enough to afford the consumption of her spiritual power sacrificing a Kryolite.

With such a high price, this time, what on earth will be summoned?

The prince’s blood is indeed unusual!

“Let’s go! Go to rest!” Looking at her sister’s tired face, Red Lotus was panicked and hurried away with White Lotus from the Altar of Deity.

“...” Mei (Star Snow) looked at the altar and went out to bask in the sun happily.

Ah, basking in the sun is still the most comfortable thing to do!

After running back to the roof of the Witch Palace and laying down, Mei (Star Snow) was satisfied facing the sun.

Until the sun went down and the night screen had hung down, she reluctantly jumped off the roof of the Witch Palace and began to look for a place to stay overnight.

Chapter 500: Desperate Yun Xi

Star Snow was actually a natural ice-type creature. In theory, she should like cold places.

However, she preferred to bask in the sun. She liked all the places that could let her feel warm.

After sunset, she wandered around in the Witch Palace and finally found a truth: she had lost her way!

It was not because she was a road fool, but because the structure of the Witch Palace was full of trees, gardens, and dazzling corridors, which was too complex to her brains to remember the way.

“...” Mei (Star Snow) stood her ground and looked foolishly at the corridor, which was actually leading in eight directions.

What should I do now?

Smiling? It seems useless now.

Mei'er and Yun Xi had not yet had time to teach her the skills to find the right path in such a complex situation.

Finally, desperate Star Snow could only follow the only familiar scent here, walking in a completely unfamiliar direction.

Soon, she came to a room in the Witch Palace, where only the twin witches of fate could enter, which was the bedroom of Red Lotus and White Lotus.

It was just because she couldn't find any place to sleep.

It must be because of the will of the universe!

On the big bed, the twin witches had fallen asleep and were protected by a special guardian magic circle. Nothing could invade into the magic circle and disturb the twin witches' sleep.

After having consumed a great deal of energy and blood, both of the twin witches, White Lotus and Red Lotus needed to sleep to recover themselves.

Therefore, this room was closely protected by the magic circle. Unfortunately, it wouldn't work against the person who held Casina's token.

After wandering in a circle in the room, Mei (Star Snow) found several pastries. She gracefully nibbled on the snow-white pastries and nodded her head satisfactorily.

To be fair, Star Snow's performance was definitely the best one amongst the three sisters, because she had perfectly met all the requirements from Mei'er.

She just looked for a quiet place to bask in the sun, didn't talk with any girls of the Starwing Knights, and even walked into the Witch Palace, where it was so sacred that no one apart from witches could come in.

If the twin witches hadn't found her, what she did would've really been perfect.

Unfortunately, no matter how perfect she had been, once night came, there would be a big problem.

Where to sleep?

"Puff... Ah..." After stretching herself, Star Snow convinced that she had successfully accomplished the task today, and her master seems to be coming back soon. Star Snow looked around and ran to the bed of the twin witches.

The magic circle was literally nothing to Mei, who held Casina's token.

A lady should sleep in bed at night! This was one of the basic knowledge Mei'er taught the three sisters of the Star Spirit Team. Naturally, Star Snow complied with it 100%.

But, to her surprise, why did her hands naturally move when she got into bed and lay down beside the twin witches?

In less than ten seconds, the hands themselves had taken off Red Lotus' witch clothes, leaving only a red band on her hair.

As her witch clothes were stripped, Red Lotus' beautiful, snow-white body was totally exposed in the air, spreading the unique fragrance of the girl.

Looking at Red Lotus' white and tender skin, smooth and slender legs, Mei (Star Snow) stretched out her hands with curiosity.

After being stripped of her red witch dress, exposing her delicate legs to the air, it was difficult to imagine that their master, Red Lotus was actually a girl of strong personality when she was awake.

Mei's hand gently rubbed and pinched Red Lotus' slender and delicate white toes. Her pink toenails glittered like shells on the beach, giving Mei (Star Snow) a too strong temptation.

"White Lotus... Don't believe that the prince really exists in the world."

"Without you, I would have nothing..." In her sleep, Red Lotus' cherry-like mouth was half-open and half-closed, and it seemed that she was entreating for something.

"No, it's itchy."

“There... don’t touch that place...”

Her cherry color lips shivered slightly as she breathed.

“...” Mei (Star Snow) only looked at her (master’s) hands in confusion.

Why are my master’s hands so skilled?

“Well, that was all, master. That was what Star Thunder, Star Fire, and Star Snow did when you were playing Star Go.”

“Well, they did a good job, didn’t they? Congratulations!” After replaying all the pictures about what the three sisters did in the last three days, Mei was proud of her subordinates.

“It’s over... It’s all over!” Yun Xi hid his head in his arms. At this moment, he only wished that he had the supreme power to cut off the river of time, wiping out the whole of the last three days from the river of time.

In front of him, Red Lotus was still sleeping, while White Lotus squinted her eyes, staring at him with a strange smile.

Besides him, close to his hands, Red Lotus’ beautiful, flawless body was slightly trembling as if she was in a sweet dream.

“Don’t worry, sister, White Lotus will always be with you...”

“You are the best sister in the world, I love you...”

Looking at the scene in front of him, Yun Xi could find no way to deceive himself that it was just a dream.

Everything was real!

In the last three days, he had really made so many mistakes!

“Oh... my dream to be an upright gentleman...”

This day, Yun Xi abandoned himself to despair.
