

Starchild 531

Chapter 531: Childhood Sweetheart's Future

“So, do you have anyone you like?” Step by step, Robin began her divination.

Only happy people had a future.

Unfortunate people were destined to lose their future.

All glory and hope wouldn't belong to unfortunate people.

To truly capture that tiny miracle, people entangled in misfortune needed to work hundreds of times harder than others.

Never give up hope until the last moment, which was the only belief that unfortunate people could have.

The person who didn't have this belief was just a walking corpse even though he was still alive.

Robin's whine represented that it had not given up hope and was still emitting its own voice. As the person who could hear this voice, she must accomplish the robin's hope.

“The person I like...” Yun Xi muttered to himself, but did not notice that at his side, Golden Crow Princess's eyes were burning with curiosity.

White Lotus' breathing was almost stopped. She looked at Yun Xi's mouth without blinking, trying to read the name he would mutter out.

Red Lotus doubtfully looked around and felt strange. What's happening?

"In this world, the people I like..." Yun Xi didn't notice that the atmosphere around him suddenly changed, because he was worried about how to answer the mysterious augur's question.

In the sky, somehow one after another morning glow flew above their heads.

People stared at the strange clouds that had never appeared in the sky before, and many people even knelt and kowtowed.

"Mei, who do you like?" Golden Crow Princess asked word for word, as if the answer from Yun Xi could determine many worlds' fates.

"Mei, tell me, is the name 'Hua Huo'?" White Lotus narrowed her eyes and said the name of her biggest opponent. If Yun Xi admitted, she wouldn't feel too surprised.

A Childhood Sweetheart was a strong opponent, but not an invincible opponent.

Even though she was unparalleled in battle, there were too many weaknesses in her character.

A few days ago, White Lotus deceived this biggest rival, by letting her take part in a special trial, so that she could stay together with Mei these last days.

Everything is because of the choice of fate, isn't it?

"Ah... this... actually..." Yun Xi blushed for a while.

Speaking of the people he liked, the first name that emerged in his mind was Hua Huo. However, he hadn't seen Hua Huo recently, which made him feel lonely.

She was the bright sun in his eyes, if he could only live to 18 years old, he would propose to Hua Huo at all costs and forget everything else.

She was his first love, his childhood sweetheart, she had taken so many places in Yun Xi's heart and when he was still in the small town, he had even decided to travel after Hua Huo left, in case that in the familiar environment, he saw the thing and thought of the person.

"Hua Huo... Is that the name?" Robin looked at the maid strangely. Hua Huo... the name didn't sound like a man's name.

"Well, I like my childhood sweetheart, Hua Huo." Since White Lotus had asked, Yun Xi wasn't going to keep hiding his real feeling. He directly admitted it.

Even though he had married millions of brides, even though he had made a lot of mistakes, his first love was still his first love, his childhood sweetheart was still his childhood sweetheart.

He never forgot Hua Huo for a moment, after all, she was the most beautiful sun in his heart.

“Hum... so... there is another rival...” Suddenly, the young Golden Crow Princess’ eyes became serious, and the name “Hua Huo” had been deeply engraved into her mind.

“Hua Huo, the childhood sweetheart... is really a strong rival...” White Lotus squinted. She was glad that she had deceived Hua Huo to leave, otherwise, she wouldn’t have any chance to date Mei.

Apparently, as the prince’s lover, she had to fight fiercely with the prince’s childhood sweetheart. This war had just begun.

“Then I will predict the future of you and your lover,” Robin said with confidence.

It was just an easy Love Fortune. After all, she had obtained the two sides’ name and knew that they were childhood sweethearts.

“Wait...” Yun Xi looked at the mysterious augur and suddenly had an ominous feeling.

“The guardian of the balance, the observer of all things, the watcher at the end of the hourglass of time, in the name of... me, praise you! I would like to pay all the prices I can pay to see the future.”

“Tell me, if the childhood sweetheart of the person in front of me can get what he wants?”

Robin predicted and sought answers from the three saints in the void.

The guardian of the balance, the observer of all things, the watcher at the end of the hourglass of time, the three saints were not gods, nor demons, nor any living beings in the real world, but a special concept, representing the different ways of manifesting the truth of all things.

She sought the answer from the three non-existing saints, but most times, if the answer was accurate, it depended on luck.

This time, Robin's luck was very good, at least she thought so.

Because she had seen some scenes after 3 seconds.

Childhood sweetheart, sword, stars falling!

What a strong female swordsman, who is she?

Childhood sweetheart, golden light, golden swords, and a garden with a giant obelisk.

Well, how come there are two different futures?

Childhood sweetheart, golden branches, jade leaves, blood stamens, blooming flowers between the heaven and the earth.

This... isn't this the Ten Leaves Alliance...

Childhood sweetheart, countless mysterious war machines, and one, two, three... more than ten huge shadows.

Hum? Wait? Is there something wrong? How could this be her childhood sweetheart?!

By the way, how many childhood sweethearts does she have?

Chapter 532: How the Robin Died

Four different scenes, four different futures.

In the first future, the girl with a huge sword was wildly chopping off the stars. With each brandish of her sword, tens of millions of stars would fall down.

In the second future, the golden sword turned into a sparkle covering the world, opening up a chaotic world.

Light and darkness, sky and earth were separated by this sword, with a golden crown on her head, the girl looked like an invincible god.

In the third future, a giant divine tree spread through the endless stars.

Golden branches, jade leaves and blood stamens were all parts of this divine tree. Countless spirits crowded around this divine tree, singing and praising it.

With the Crown of Elf, a girl was sitting on the tree.

In the fourth future, a tidal wave of steel was moving forward. Black anti-cross flags were floating in the air, spirits lodging in crystals and a blond-haired girl were ravaging the entire sky.

Behind them were endless huge dark shadows. Numerous gods fell at their feet, witnessing the arrival of a new era.

Why? It's supposed to be just a common love divination. Why do I see such terrible futures!

Any occurrence of these four futures would become an event that could shock the entire endless god's domains.

And these four futures were connected with the black-haired maid in front of Robin.

Who are your childhood sweethearts? What kind of monsters are they?!

Robin's face turned pale. She looked at Yun Xi and wanted to say something, but suddenly, more and more terrible scenes flooded into her eyes.

On the snow-covered land, a girl was leading a powerful legend ranked knight regiment, fighting against the army of the demons.

Walking on the battlefield, a god of war was killing.

In the endless darkness, a princess ignited the lamp of hope.

A rabbit-eared pharmacist was saving the world with various drugs.

A singing girl was bringing hope to the depleted land by using her song.

A dragon girl was standing on the top of a dragon's nest, and behind her was a huge group of dragons.

It was hard to believe that these futures were all connected with the maid in front of her.

She herself was like the center of a network, connecting countless futures.

Each of the futures was a miracle, a legend.

The vast net didn't just cover a sword domain nor a god's domains, but the endless stars!

"Stop... Stop..."

"I... can't look at these..." The more she saw, the more uneasy Robin became.

Why can I see such things?

Why is this love divination involved with so many terrible futures?

It was not something she, a hero ranked augur could withstand!

Even for a legend ranked augur, it wasn't possible for them to see these futures in a love divination.

No, not that she saw the future, but that she was entangled in it!

Why am I?

Is today the last day of my life?

To see so many futures, the price she would pay could only be with her life and even her soul.

The people who peeped into destiny would pay the price of violating the rules. The more detailed and realistic the future was, the more expensive the price the peeper would pay.

Am I dying?

I just wanted to do a simple love divination!

"Master, she's dying." Mei'er's voice sounded quietly in Yun Xi's ear, which really frightened him.

“Gee? Why?” Yun Xi looked at the mysterious augur’s pale face.

He didn’t know why, but he could feel that her vitality was declining rapidly, it seemed that she was dying.

“It was the price of predicting your future. She has overdrawn her life.”

“She has already reached a certain critical point, and she still tried to predict your future. She is just looking for her own way of death. Tsk-tsk.” Mei’er looked at Robin and shook her head.

How dare you to predict the future of the Starchild!

Even Ouroboros couldn’t do it, you are just murdering yourself.

This was only a simple love divination. If you went further and really saw master’s four ex-girlfriends, even your soul would immediately turn into ashes.

“What can I do?” Looking at this unfortunate augur, Yun Xi felt guilty.

He himself didn’t expect that predicting his future would make the augur pay the price with her life.

“It’s very easy. Give her one of your seeds, master. At least, it can keep her alive.” Mei’er secretly laughed. The reason why she did not stop the foolish augur predicting for her master was that she was waiting for this moment.

Although her appearance wasn't too excellent, she could see a part of the Starchild's futures, which meant that she was really a genius of divination.

Just in time too, the Starwing Knights needed an augur.

"Ok, let me use it." Yun Xi didn't doubt Mei'er's words. He directly activated a seed and planted it into her body through his hand that was held by Robin's hand.

"Ga!" Robin's body quivered slightly and found that her cold body was rapidly warming up.

Just at that moment, she thought she had stepped into the netherworld and she had even seen countless flowers blooming in the netherworld.

They were the flowers that only the dead could see, the flowers bloomed in the garden where she first met with the robins.

That was to say, she died again just now.

Why did she say "again"?

Because she had actually died once a long time ago. It was the robins who brought her back from the netherworld, and after that, she could never be separated from these birds.

Chapter 533: The Only Future Lef

If she could choose, she would never have gone on the road of the Blood Stamen.

Unfortunately, she had no choice.

If she didn't choose to be with these robins, she could no longer survive.

Even though she was so unfortunate, she still hoped to continue to live, even if there was only 0.000001% possibility, she would not give up.

The dead robins coexisted with her in this way, returning from the netherworld to the real world.

"I... Why..." Looking at Yun Xi's hand that was being held in her hand, Robin just wanted to open her mouth, and suddenly a rattle appeared in her mind.

"Ding!" The first future she saw, the future belonging to Yun Xi's first childhood sweetheart broke open, turning into numerous fragments of crystals and completely disappearing from Robin's soul.

As if it was an initial signal, the future of the second girl also broke.

The third future broke.

The fourth future broke.

No, it wasn't that these futures had broken and disappeared, but that Robin's soul wasn't strong enough to carry the information contained in these futures. She wasn't qualified to peep into these futures now, even though these futures were not 100% likely to happen.

Ultimately, she simply didn't have the ability to observe these futures.

So, why could she see them?

If Yun Xi looked up at the sky now, he would find several small stars hanging shyly in a corner of the sky, blinking quietly.

One after another, the mirrors of the future disappeared from Robin's mind. She couldn't even remember any of them now.

Finally, there was only one mirror of the future that still existed in her mind.

Because the future in this mirror was the only future she saw by using her own ability.

"What happened?" Because she couldn't remember any of the futures before, Robin had forgotten what terrible scenes she had seen.

Now, in front of her, there was only one mirror of the future.

Her subconsciousness was telling her that this mirror was very important, she must open it and see what future it reflected.

Her instinct was warning her that she'd better not open that mirror. Now, she should leave the mirror as soon as possible or she would inevitably be involved in misery.

"Don't open it, don't open it!"

"It's a grave, an abyss, a curse!"

"If you want to be more miserable, open it and die! Die! Die!"

The birds on Robin's shoulders threatened and whined. Their euphemistic and beautiful voices became panicky.

Robin hesitated for a moment, and finally touched the mirror in his soul with her fingertips.

Because she had no choice.

Once the divination was completed, no matter what the result was, the future had been determined.

This result wouldn't change because of any person's will. At least, she herself didn't have the power to change it.

If it was a good future, then she could let out a sigh of relief.

If it was a bad future, at least, she could look for ways to make some changes to avoid the worst results.

The conclusion was that human curiosity was irresistible. No matter whether the future was good or bad, no one could refuse not to look at it.

This was not only the original sin of human beings, but of all intelligent creatures too.

Since it was the future she predicted, as an augur, she must reveal this future, at least, read it with her own eyes.

The moment Robin's fingertips touched the mirror's surface, the mirror rippled gently like the ripples on water. Then the future appeared in front of her in the most vivid way.

"Chirp! Chirp!" The sound of cicadas blotted out the sky and covered up the earth, and the weather was too hot for a person in a thick red cloak.

Even though she was at the hero rank, her body couldn't ignore the heat.

"It's so hot..." Wiping the sweat off her forehead, Robin sat on the steps of an unknown shrine in an ungraceful manner. Her whole body felt like it was being steamed in a steamer, and her body was steaming hot.

"Did you see Mei, little Robin?" The rabbit-eared girl carrying a basket of herbs, came down the stairs and spoke to Robin, who was breathing heavily.

(Who is she? Why do I know her? And why am I in the future of this love divination?)

(Isn't it common sense that augurs would never appear in the future they predicted?)

Robin looked at this future of herself in doubt.

She could see from some small details that this was not a future to many years from now. It was probably a future of just one year later.

The angle of the sun and the environment around her were consistent with the data of the White Lotus Sword Domain in her mind.

That was to say, this future, in fact, happened in the White Lotus Sword Domain after a year.

“Mei... I just saw her, she went to the bathroom.” On the stairs, Robin stretched out with a comfortable look of “No one could make me leave these cool stairs even if the world would be destroyed in the next moment”.

Why can you show such a natural and happy smile on your face?

What happened to this me in this future one year later?

Chapter 534: Ice Cream and the Little Rabbi

“It’s too hot...” The sun shone through the shadows of the tree, casting light spots on the ground of the small shrine. Even though she was hiding under the shady stairs that weren’t exposed to the sun, Robin couldn’t stand the intense heat.

Normally, she would take off the bright red cloak at this time. After all, it was summer and she wasn’t in the desert.

Unfortunately, Robin really couldn’t take it off. In a sense, this cloak was actually a part of her body and a carrier of the robin’s soul. It was equivalent to her eternally bound soul equipment, it was her god weapon “Blood Robin’s Cloak”.

Of course, it was still possible to take off this equipment for a short time, but she had no other clothes except the necessary underwear.

No matter how hot it was, she couldn’t accept only wearing her underwear in front of others, which was too embarrassing for her.

“Little Robin, is Mei there?”

Robin felt like she had heard this question more than once today.

This time, it was a girl wearing platinum armor. Her breastplate engraved with sacred cross lines that stood tall on the front of her breastplate, making people feel hot and seductive.

“She’s supposed to be taking a bath. I saw her walking into the bathroom.” Answering this question, Robin suddenly felt as if she should take a bath too.

“Thank you. Here you are.” Hua Yue handed Robin an ice cream, which she had just bought.

“Ice cream!” Robin grabbed it without saying anything and licked the luxurious goods in the hot sunshine with her little tongue.

(Such peace... )

(Such a leisurely scene...)

Robin looked at her defenseless, cheerful future self, showing a deep doubtful expression on her face.

I’m entangled by the robin and destined to be unfortunate. How can I show such a smile in this future?

Why did the rabbit-eared girl and the knight girl accept her and talk to her in such a natural way?

What happened one year later? What made me take off my disguise?

What happened to the assassination target I chose?

Numerous questions emerged in Robin’s mind, but she couldn’t find answers from her future self, who just walked into the small shrine while sucking the ice cream in her mouth.

Before she had taken a few steps, she suddenly stopped and cocked her ears.

(The Robin in the real world opened her eyes wide, because this posture meant that her future self was entering her unique combat posture!)

“Die! Die! Die!” The bloody birds sprang up with their wings and made the cry of blood that only Robin could hear.

“You can’t see, you can’t listen!”

“If you look, you’ll rot your eyes, if you listen, you’ll rot your ears!”

“Close your eyes and cover your ears. There are terrible monsters, and people who see monsters will be eaten by them!”

It seemed that the future Robin also heard this voice, she hesitated for a while, but eventually walked to the shrine.

In the guest room of the shrine, there was a small room with the fragrance of green herbs, and there was a hushing voice that could make people blush.

“I... I’m going to have to make medicine, Mei...”

“Ah... Ah!”

Robin looked quietly through the crack in the door. The rabbit-eared girl who had just been carrying a basket had been pressed into the corner of the wall.

Her snow-white skin was covered with drops of fragrant sweat, her scattered black hair draped over her shoulders, her delicate face showed both excitement and fatigue. Her cheeks were glittering and ruddy, her mouth slightly open, and her discombobulated eyes were immersed in a chaotic pleasure.

Her white and delicate feet had been grasped by someone, and on her delicate skin, there were several shallow scratch marks. Her delicate toes stretched straight, and the light in the room glistened on her lovely, rabbit-like toes, reflecting an attractive glow.

Apparently, she was being forced by someone, but her red face was full of contented joy. Her beautiful eyes gazed at the man who took off her shoes and socks and kneaded her delicate, fragrant feet.

(Why? It's her!)

(Mei...) Robin looked at the black-haired maid in surprise. She never thought that it would be like this.

“Ah... whoa... I'm not ready for it yet...” Lu Lu's eyes closed shyly, and her delicate nose was covered with sweat. Her attractive lips were gasping with a faint fragrance.

“Uh... Uh... Ah... Uh... Uh... Uh... Ah... Uh... Um... Um... Uh... Uh... Uh... Um... Hey...”

With all sorts of gentle, sexual cries, the little rabbit Lu Lu's body exuded a soft and moist charming luster.

(What the hell is this future?)

(Why am I, a top-class killer, shamelessly peeping at such a scene? What's wrong with the world?)

Looking at the scene in front of her, Robin felt that her world outlook was collapsing.

Chapter 535: Robin's Confusion

A sweet and pitiful voice was echoing in the narrow room of the shrine.

It wasn't the future she wanted to see!

Why would she see such a ridiculous, unreasonable future, like a sweet dream of a warm summer fantasy?

The blood Robin didn't belong in this world.

Bearing the unfortunate curse, Robin's hands had been contaminated with countless beings blood, because she was one of the top ten killers of the Ten Leaves Alliance.

She had assassinated numerous people.

Even her name "Bloody Robin" had become a taboo in the dark world.

(This future... such a future... it won't be my future...)

(My future... my future... How could it be so happy?)

The Robin in the real world gazed at the Robin in this future, who was peeping through the door at the sexual scene in the room and didn't even notice that the ice cream had melted in her hand.

Gazing at herself, she showed a sad look on her face.

Sometime, the divination would let her see an insane future that would never happen.

Undoubtedly, this future was one of the futures that had nearly zero chances of happening.

This was not so much a future as a delusion.

“Ah... whoa... not there... no...”

“Woo... woo...” The bullied little rabbit emitted a voice which could make all men feel pity and thrilled.

No, not only men, but also women.

The Robin in this future bit off the remaining melted ice cream. She couldn't help but emit a strange voice from her mouth, and her body feebly leaned against the wall.

"Little Robin... oh..." A familiar voice rang in Robin's ear, and then became silent for an instant.

Beside the Robin in this future, the leader of the Starwing Knights, Hua Yue looked at the door which had opened a gap and quietly listened to the voice from inside of the room. Her face turned red little by little.

It looked as if time had stagnated for this moment.

Only the lovely whisper of the little rabbit in the room was still telling about her misfortune, or luck if you would.

"..." Hua Yue closed her eyes. Her shoulders trembled slightly, and then she sighed quietly.

"Little Robin... don't tell anyone about this secret."

"This... It's not Mei's fault... as the leader of the Starwing Knights, I am also responsible."

It was her responsibility to keep the biggest secret of the Starwing Knights.

Well, it seemed that this secret would be disclosed sooner or later.

(She knows about it, and she may have found it more than once.)

(Are they all aware of this?)

Looking at this scene, the Robin in the real world was dumbfounded.

How much tolerance do you have for this black-haired maid named Mei? Is she really just a maid?

“You just joined the Starwing Knights not long ago... Maybe you still don’t understand it...” Sitting quietly beside Robin, Hua Yue took out her ice cream and handed over it to Robin, as if she was planning to use this as a hush money.

“We and Mei... we have a special relationship.”

“Starwing Knights”, The Robin in the real world instantly remembered this name.

Is this the organization I joined in this future I see?

This name was very strange, didn’t the whole of the knights have even a single male?

The Robin in this future licked her ice-cream which was about to melt completely, then licked the new ice-cream from Hua Yue. Her ears rose back quietly and listened to the sweet words of the summer.

Neither the Heaven Road's Palace nor the Ten Leaves Alliance would teach this kind of knowledge.

"Little rabbit... she is the most special one..."

"She's very good-natured... so she doesn't refuse Mei every time..."

"So... If this happens again... Would you please help me to cover it up?"

"Anyway, you are one of the strongest hero ranked members of the Starwing Knights."

(I'm just one of the strongest...)

(In that case, the Starwing Knights has more than one hero ranked members, and it's obvious that it's just a newly established knight...)

From the point of view of a killer, the Robin in the real world gave a high rating to the Starwing Knights.

However, why did I join the Starwing Knights?

I'm a killer of the Ten Leaves Alliance and a member of the Heaven Road's Palace. I just came to the White Lotus Sword Domain to perform an assassination mission.

Why would I join this strange Starwing Knights and become so familiar with this golden-haired girl and the little rabbit in the room?

After merging with robins, she had become a moving disaster. Most people around her would naturally meet misfortune.

How could such a girl have any close friends?

If she is really my friend in this future, shouldn't I keep my distance from her?

She knew that she would only bring misfortune to her friends.

"Well, I'll keep it secret."

"Actually... I was also accidentally..." The Robin in this future muttered and mumbled and even blushed.

(Gee? Accidentally? What happened accidentally?)

(Hello, Hello! What happened to this me in this future?)

"Oh my... you... Mei..." Hua Yue rubbed her forehead and began to take out a small notebook, updating the list of "Mei Poisoning" in the Starwing Knights.

Her holy beetle didn't record it, so it must've happened at a place she didn't know about.

Essentially, once Mei put her hand to the members of the Starwing Knights, none of them could escape.

Chapter 536: Unfortunate Girl

"Woo..." The poor little rabbit was still being bullied and emitted lovely sounds in the room, as if her mouth was blocked by something.

Outside the door, Robin licked the ice-cream softly.

As for Hua Yue, she quietly released the holy beetle from her bodice...

"Chirp! Chirp!" The sound of cicadas echoed around this small shrine, the temperature seemed to be getting hotter.

(Such a peaceful future...)

(Is it true... is this the future I longed for in my heart?)

(The guardian of the balance, the observer of all things, the watcher at the end of the hourglass of time, is it my delusion that distorted the result of divination and let me see such a future?)

(Can I really get such a future after being surrounded by robins?)

Standing next to herself in the future, Robin fell into deep thought.

(The future... can be changed...)

(But... such a future...)

She took a last glance at the herself sitting in the shattered shrine, blushing and licking the sweet ice cream. A complex expression appeared on Robin's face, and her body began to disappear little by little in this summer-like fantastic future.

Will such a future really come true?

With a trace of expectation and a trace of confusion, Robin finished the love divination.

"What's the result?" Yun Xi looked carefully at the mysterious augur in front of him.

Will his future with Hua Huo be happy?

"Are you asking about your future with your childhood sweetheart?" Robin, who had not yet fully awakened from the sweet and shameful future, looked at the black-haired maid with a subtle forced smile.

"Yes." Yun Xi gazed at the mysterious augur's face with expectations. From Mei'er's judgment, this was a talented, strong augur.

If she hadn't observed part of his future, she would not have been injured. Therefore, it was his gift to help her use a seed.

"I think... You're going to become popular in the future..." Robin tried to think over her sentences.

She wasn't just popular, but had captured everyone's heart in the future she just saw!

Even she herself was one of the victims.

No, I won't let this future come true!

She indeed enjoyed this peaceful and sweet future with close friends, but she had no intention of joining the Starwing Knights, and even be bullied like the little rabbit in the room in the future.

Well, she had decided to stay away from shrines from now on! She would never fall into the black-haired maid's hands!

As for the maid's poor childhood sweetheart, based on what she saw in the future, her childhood sweetheart was destined to be a loser!

"This is... is it true?" Seeing the mysterious augur hesitating in front of him, Yun Xi blushed.

Become popular... isn't this what happened in those days when "Mei" practiced the "Closed Mouth Zen"? Isn't it what happened when I was playing Star Go on the Starry Sky Chessboard?

“Yes... watch out... Don’t be too reckless...” Robin found her heart was beating faster and faster, more than usual.

What happened? What happened to my body?

Just by holding the maid’s hand and feeling each other’s body temperature, something invisible jumped in Robin’s chest.

It seemed that both her body and heart were making cheers.

“You are dying! You are dying! You are dying!”

“When you look at the abyss, the abyss is looking at you too. You can’t look back, girl!”

“Warning, warning, the grave is in front of you, the grave is in front of you!”

“Red alert! Red alert! Red alert!”

The birds on Robin’s shoulders cried desperately. They covered their eyes with their wings, as if they could not bear to look directly at the tragedy that would happen next.

What’s wrong with me?

Feeling her heart beating faster and faster, Robin recalled the scene she saw in the shrine. Her cheeks became hotter and hotter.

The tender sobbing voice, the small white feet, and the helpless appearance lingered in her mind.

For a moment, she imagined that she had experienced something similar.

It was clear that that future hadn't happened at all, but everything was so vivid in front of her eyes.

Between her lips and tongue, there was still the lingering flavor of ice cream, and even the sweat was about to flow down from her forehead.

"Who killed the robin?"

"Sparrows, sparrows, damn sparrows!"

"She is already helpless!"

Noticing the abnormal state in Robin's body, the birds of the nightmare world whined together.

The symptoms of "Mei Poisoning" had started!

Chapter 537: Recovered Heartbea

It's strange, what's wrong with my body?

Since she returned from the nightmare world and merged with the robins, she had never felt so light.

After leaving the nightmare world with robins, she had cursed her fate countless times.

Why is it me?

Why did I survive, but had to face the fate that was worse than death?

How unjust this fate is!

Why did I have to choose Blood Stamen!

There was no other reason, it was simply because apart from Blood Stamen, there was no place for her in any corner of the world.

How many nights did she open her eyes and think everything was just a nightmare?

But she could never go back.

It was her destiny to accept the robin's power, to coexist with the robin, to walk in the endless god's domains with blood and killing.

The Robin was killed, instinctively chasing the breath of death, and as the robins' hist, she had witnessed endless death over and over again.

As she watched death, the aura of the abyss in her body gradually eroded her body and mind.

She was living, but unable to enjoy the beauty of life, she even began to regret that she had accepted the robins and returned from the nightmare world.

"Why is it now?" Feeling the strange beating of her heart, Robin was at a loss, like a lost child.

Her heartbeat, at the day she came back from the nightmare world, was only about half of the speed compared to other people.

This was price she must pay, if not with the robins, she would have died long ago.

However, as the weaker part of the partners, her body was not strong enough to resist the robins' power. Every time she witnesses death, her body was closer to the robins.

Initially, she was not aware of this, thinking that she could still be in the human world like normal people.

Soon, she found that her sense of existence was getting lower and lower. Many times she had completed the tasks, even the publishers of the tasks forgot what she looked like.

It was like a deepening nightmare, she found that the cost of reversing life and death was almost unbearable.

Ironically, everyone thought that this was because of her murderous secret skill, “the Unfortunate Prophecy of the Robin”, and called her “a once in a thousand years genius”.

The lower her heart rate and sense of existence were, the higher her ranking in the Ten Leaves Alliance was.

When her heartbeat reduced to one-third of common heart rate, she entered the top 100 list of the killers of the Ten Leaves Alliance.

When her heartbeat reduced to one-fifth of common heart rate, she entered the top 100 list of the killers of the Eastern God’s Domain.

The last time, she killed a poet, and at that time, her heart rate reduced to one-tenth.

The poet was just a mortal, but his admirers even contained legend ranked females.

No one could find any trace of murder from his death, because he died in a duel with his rival.

Unfortunately, the blessing of fate left him this time, because Robin was looking at him, witnessing the duel.

After that, Robin's ranking immediately raised to top 10 on the list of killers.

Robin's power was increasing as she witnessed death.

The death of the poet brought Robin a stronger and more desperate power.

Robin had a presentiment that if she continued to witness death, one day her heart would stop beating completely, and her blood would coagulate in her body, she would be in a state of neither dying nor living.

Ah, yes, she should have known it a long time ago, because that was the price of the robins' power.

That day, when she fell into the pool of blood, looking up at the sky that didn't belong to human beings, and praying to all existences who could hear her voice.

"God, Buddha, even if you are a devil, I don't want to die, as long as I can live, I will pay the price."

God didn't respond to her, nor did Buddha hear her voice. Only the bloody birds came and wandered on her body.

At that time, she was actually dead, but her soul was still wandering around her body, unwilling to leave, looking at the hole through her chest and crying.

The bloody birds saw her soul, asked her, and tempted her,

“Do you want to continue living?”

“Do you want to see the world again?”

“Then accept us, accept our strength, our desire, our journey.”

“Who killed the robin? It’s sparrows, sparrows!”

“Take us to find sparrows, revenge, revenge, revenge!”

“Only blood can bring us rest.”

She promised, with nothing, that she had no choice but these robins.

From then on, a girl who had dreamed of sunshine disappeared.

A blood robin was born.

“Dong!” “Dong!” “Dong!” What was this feeling of obtaining a long forgotten treasure?

“My voice...” Little by little, she obtained the heartbeat she once had again. The girl cried with joy.

Just the sound of her heartbeat had brought her infinite hope.

Perhaps, I really have an opportunity to meet a different future?

Even though I have gone this far and to this extent, do I still have a chance to obtain happiness?

Chapter 538: The Choice of the Future

“Dong!”

“Dong!”

“Dong!”

It wasn't just her delusion. She clenched her fists and did nothing, she could feel that there was a heat flow bursting out in her body. It was like a tiny tender leaf stubbornly drilled out from the frozen ground. It was changing something.

“Something that shouldn't appear has come.”

“There should be no hope.”

“If you are deceived by this, there is no remedy.”

“Girl, what you see is not a hope, but a trap!”

“Liar, liar, liar!”

“Go away, go away, go away, go away!”

The birds were so noisy today that they looked like little girls who had been robbed of their beloved toys.

“It’s a miracle... the miracle appears...” Robin looked up and looked again at the black-haired maid.

The more she observed, the more remarkable the maid was.

Her long black hair looked as if it was with an incredible charm, any person would be addicted at a glance.

She had a perfect, quiet and gentle face, just standing there, she exuded a sense of elegance and mystery.

Even the unknown ornaments hanging on the two sides of her hair looked very attractive.

Hey, wait a minute!

Sun-like smile?

Perfect long hair?

Beautiful jewelry like ornaments?

This... Isn't she... Comparing the age of the black-haired maid with that of the golden-haired princess beside her, it seemed that Robin had found some truth.

Was it her that the robins predicted?

Why didn't I notice it at first?

Age of sixteen.

Perfect black hair.

Warm smile.

The black-haired maid was clearly closer to the robin's prediction than the golden-haired princess.

“The princess above all princesses...the Prince above all princes...” Looking at Yun Xi, Robin imagined him in a man’s suit for a moment.

Compared with the golden-haired princess who looked only seven or eight years old, it was obvious that the black-haired maid was closer to the image of a prince if she wore a man’s clothes.

So, from the very beginning, she had mistaken her goal.

The biggest suspect who killed the disciple of Heaven Road’s Palace was her!

More or less, she could imagine the reason. That disciple of Heaven Road’s Palace had a bad reputation actually. There were rumors that his relationship with his animal friend, the green hippo, was somewhat abnormal.

It was not surprising to know that a person whose mind had been distorted to make many mistakes.

“Well, is there anything else?” Being looked at by Robin with a complicated, confused and even suspicious look, Yun Xi felt himself like a criminal.

They just pulled each other’s hands, but he could interpret a thousand different meanings from her eyes.

We meet for the first time today, right?

However, her adaptability to his seed seemed remarkable.

From Yun Xi's point of view, the seed of life that had just been planted seemed to have taken root and sprouted, trying to expand inside her body.

It seemed that the small seed was stubbornly resisting some unknown power, and because of this, the potential of this seed had been maximized, and the power transmitted to Yun Xi was unexpectedly strong.

Moreover, unlike all the members of the Starwing Knights, the power of the mysterious augur carried a tinge of cold, which was incompatible with the warm breath of the members of the Starwing Knights.

Yun Xi didn't realize that this was actually the power of curse from the nightmare world, the power that could kill anyone without a sign.

To Robin, she could find no way to resist the nightmare power, but to Yun Xi, it was of no use at all. His body was blessed by the stars, as the Starchild, it couldn't do any harm to him.

At this moment, the resuscitation of Robin's heartbeat was also due to this.

The curse that mankind absolutely couldn't bear was dispelled by the seed Yun Xi planted for her.

That was what the bloody birds were dissatisfied with.

Their hard-won toy, their vehicle used to travel in the real world was stolen!

“You... Do you believe in fate? Do you believe that the future is doomed?”

Robin gazed at Yun Xi’s eyes and asked in an unquestionable voice.

The answer would determine the rest of her life.

“Fate... it can be changed...” Yun Xi never doubted this.

It was in order to change his fate, change the future that he would inevitably be torn to pieces by his four ex-girlfriends, so that he could constantly strive in the past and would continue to strive for it in the future.

Fate is something that can be changed. This was Yun Xi’s persistence, and also the only thing left in his blank memory of his previous life.

“I... believe in fate... and believe in future... Looking at Yun Xi, Robin smiled and made a decision that would change her life.

If what she saw in that future really had a tiny possibility to come true.

She would be desperate to catch up and strive for this.

“Your future... it’s extraordinary...”

“Prophecy... Maybe it doesn’t work for you...”

“Even so... I still want to tell you... Please treat the girl who likes you well.”

“Never, never be too rude.”

Chapter 539: Red Steel

“Her prediction... is very accurate.” Looking at Robin’s back in the distance, White Lotus praised.

“The augurs of ‘mysterious prediction’... sometimes they can really surprise me.” Except for her behavior of shaking Yun Xi’s hands for too long.

“Yes, I will be very popular in the future...” Yun Xi didn’t know whether to laugh or cry at this moment.

He has four terrible ex-girlfriends, if he was too popular in the future, how bad would his life become?

When he left the small town, he was prepared to go to some remote God’s Domains where his ex-girlfriend’s Apostles couldn’t find him.

Unfortunately, being found and stopped by his invincible childhood sweetheart, his escape plan was over before it started.

“Well, it’s very accurate. Mei, you are already very popular now.” White Lotus squinted her eyes. The girls of the Starwing Knights and his childhood sweethearts... well, there were a lot of rivals.

Nevertheless, all of them would eventually become losers.

White Lotus had seen the future.

“I really don’t know what this mysterious prediction is for, is this really a prediction of the future?” Red Lotus didn’t believe the mysterious augur’s prediction at all.

She only believed her sister’s predictions!

If the calculations were wrong, it was absolutely not White Lotus’ fault, but because there wasn’t sufficient information.

In a word, White Lotus wouldn’t be wrong, if she was wrong, it must be the world’s fault!

“Hum... no matter how many enemies there are, I’ll burn them all...” Golden Crow Princess was a little jealous and made a terrifying speech. If one looked carefully, one could see flames burning in the deep side of her golden ruby like pupils.

“Well... It was just a love divination, it was just a divination...” Yun Xi was sweating.

As he racked his brains trying to change the topic, a familiar aura rose into the sky and even formed a red pillar of light.

“This is... someone is leveling up?” White Lotus and Red Lotus raised their heads together, looking at the red pillar of light rising into the sky.

“It’s not a common person!” Red Lotus clearly felt the power contained in this pillar of light.

It was powerful and even gave her an enigmatic feeling.

“In that direction, it’s... The Battle God’s Championship Contest!” White Lotus pinched her finger and calculated.

“Today is indeed the day of the qualifying competition of the Battle God’s Championship Contest.”

“Roar!” Next to the pillar of light, another powerful, steel-like aura burst out.

“Looks like the qualifying competition is interesting.”

“Why don’t you go and have a look?” White Lotus showed a mysterious smile towards Yun Xi.

“Maybe you can meet some people you know there.”

Yun Xi nodded. He didn’t know many people. Who would take part in the qualifying competition of the Battle God’s Championship Contest?”

Hua Huo?

He hadn't seen her lately. Did she go to take part in the qualifying competition of the Battle God's Championship Contest?"

As the largest Martial Arts Championship Contest in the endless god's domains, the battles on the championship contest were far more fierce than ordinary people's imagination. There were thousands of battles every day in different god's domains.

The qualifying competition was a stage for the newcomers of the Battle God's Championship Contest. Many of the strongest players had come to the fore in this stage and become world-famous masters step by step.

From the mortal rank to the hero rank, any contestant could join in the qualifying contest. After winning enough matches, they could take part in the ranking competition.

Of course, legend ranked beings didn't need to participate in the qualifying competition, they could directly go to take part in the ranking competition, and they would absolutely not encounter any hero ranked opponents.

Whether it was the qualifying competition or the ranking competition, nothing was dependent on race or origin, but only on strength.

As the seven towers' witnessed, the two sides gambled on all they had. As long as there were the projections of the towers, there must be the entrance of the Battle God's Championship Contest.

Originally, White Lotus Sword Domain was not qualified to apply for the entrance of the Battle God's Championship Contest.

However, the invincible Battle God was from this sword domain, therefore, the Battle God's Championship Contest was naturally opening to this small sword domain.

However, the contestants from the White Lotus Sword Domain weren't too strong, most of them were only at the mortal rank, there were rarely the battles between hero ranked contestants.

Today, an exception appeared.

"Boom! Boom! Boom!" The tremendous sound was still echoing in the sky. More and more people had been attracted by the rising pillar of light and flocked to the Battle God's Championship Contest.

At this moment, in the Battle God's Championship Contest, two figures were confronting each other.

There was a great difference between the two people.

One side was a giant man who was nearly 2.5 meters tall and had strange reddish skin and lion-like hair.

The giant man had huge locks on his shoulders and neck, and his hands were wearing a pair of steel gloves up to half meters thick, which made him look like a giant beast armed with teeth.

The lines of his skin gave people an unnatural feeling of roughness, which looked like the dyed red skin of a fierce beast. His eyes were shining brilliantly, which accorded with all people's imagination of the word "strong".

"He is from the Northern God's Domain, the disciple of the 'Red Steel Genre'. He should have a part of the bloodline of some giant. As far as I know, the redder the skins of the members of the 'Red Steel Genre' are, and the heavier their restraints are, the stronger their strength will be." Red Lotus saw through the giant man's identity and bloodline at a glance.

It was not surprising to guess his identity, because the characters of the members of the "Red Steel Genre" were too obvious. They were all over two meters tall and wore heavy restraints. Unless they were facing the critical moment of life and death, they would never take off the restraints.

For them, fighting with restraints was as easy as breathing, and it was an extremely cruel method of austerity.

As for the red skin, it was said that it was because of their special secret skill. They needed to change the structure of the skin to dissipate heat.

The name of "Red Steel" came from their appearance and fighting style.

"The goal of their genre is to acquire the gift of God, Rigid Body."

"Rigid Body?" Yun Xi recalled the two god-like talents Teacher Casina told him: Rigid Body and Soft Body.

Yun Xi himself had Soft Body, just like his teacher Casina. He was very suitable for Casina's "Battle God Genre".

This was the first time he saw a hero ranked person who had Rigid Body.

“Isn’t Rigid Body innate?” Yun Xi’s Soft Body was from the blessing of Hydra, so he didn’t understand how rare it was. In addition, he had also acquired the Diamond Body from Mu Mu’s seed, so he had little knowledge of god like talents.

“How can that be possible? Even among real giants, Rigid Body is an extremely rare bloodline. This giant man has only a part of the bloodline of a giant, the probability of being born with Rigid Body is basically zero for him.” Red Lotus shook her head and looked at Yun Xi with contempt.

“The ultimate goal of the Red Steel Genre is to condense Rigid Body from day to day. The reason for wearing those huge restraints and metal boxers is not for defense, but for oppressing their own bodies, pushing the potential of their flesh and blood to the limit.”

“All the masters of this genre are regular visitors of the Battle God’s Championship Contest. As long as you took part in the Battle God’s Championship Contest, you would meet their members sooner or later.”

“But, I didn’t expect that his opponent would be...” Red Lotus and White Lotus looked at the figure whose height wasn’t even taller than the giant man’s waist.

“Yes, no wonder I haven’t seen her these days. She came to the qualifying competition!” Yun Xi looked at the girl standing opposite the giant man with a broken sword in her hand.

She had calm eyes, slender body, black and white robe. Her appearance was slightly different today, but there was no doubt that she was the deputy leader of the Starwing Knights: Xiao Cao.

At this moment, her body was wrapped with a faint red light, which was exactly the same as the red pillar of light rising into the sky just now.

Undoubtedly, she was the person who just leveled up to the hero rank.

Over the past few days, Xiao Cao had not been defeated even once in the competitions at the mortal rank, finally, she met this Red Steel master who happened to pass here.

Even though the hero ranked giant man had suppressed his own rank to the mortal rank, however, just with the purest physical strength, the giant man called “Red Stone” had forced Xiao Cao to despair.

Then, it was the scene Yun Xi, Red Lotus and White Lotus saw just now.

After being pushed into despair, Xiao Cao broke through the boundaries between the mortal rank and the hero rank, releasing her amazing potential.

At this moment, although her sword had long been broken, her aura was strong enough to let Red Stone burst out his real strength.

“Hiss! Ga!”

“Hiss! Ga!”

Feeling the tremendous pressure, Red Stone twisted his neck, and the muscles all over his body trembled.

It's not fear, it's excitement!

Just like the motto of the Red Steel Genre, only those who cross the real horror of life and death are entitled to peep into the mystery of Rigid Body.

"Puff! Ha!" He was using the basic secret skill of the Red Steel Genre: "Lava Breathing".

"Lava Breathing", "Lava Skin" and "Blood of Red Steel" were the three core secrets in the practice of the Red Steel Genre, and they were closely related and inherited in one continuous line.

Only by practicing all three secrets to the limit, were they able to approach and open the door of "Rigid Body".

Red Stone had practiced "Lava Skin" and "Blood of Red steel" to the limit, but his practice of "Lava Breathing" was still in its infancy, this was the reason why he went to the Eastern God's Domain and took part in the Battle God's Championship Contest.

"Kah! Kah! Kah!" The extreme heat of his skin almost burned the huge locks that Red Stone wore, especially the huge steel gloves, they were even emitting bursts of white smoke from them.

Chapter 540: Hero Ranked Xiao Cao

At this moment, Red Stone looked like a volcano about to erupt. Compared with just before now, he looked like a completely different person.

However, Xiao Cao's change was bigger and more obvious than him.

Now, perhaps no one could recognize that the current Xiao Cao was the same ordinary girl when she just joined the Starwing Knights.

Her freckled face had become flawless, her slender and healthy body had become higher, and her hands and feet had become more slender and powerful.

Even her skin presented an exceptionally beautiful healthy color.

On her forehead, a strange diamond-shaped mark naturally appeared, giving her a sense of mystery.

After entering the hero rank, Xiao Cao's innocence of childhood finally disappeared. Now the girl standing on the stage of the Battle God's Championship Contest was a brand new Xiao Cao, the incarnation of heroic.

The only thing still unchanged was probably only the size of her chest. Her breasts were still so small and exquisite, even Yun Xi could recall the time when he was on the tropical island, looking at Xiao Cao riding a killer whale to break the waves on the sea.

In the past, as a civilian girl from a common family, Xiao Cao could already compete with Hua Yue's White Golden Rose Bloodline.

At this moment, Xiao Cao was one step ahead of Hua Yue, entering the hero rank earlier than Hua Yue.

From a mortal to a hero, the gap could make numerous many people feel despaired. This was a step that all intelligent creatures wanted to take to enter the higher realm.

Only those who stepped out on this step were qualified to be the strongest in the endless god's domains.

God weapon, bloodline, secret skill, all the foundations came from this step.

If you were not a hero, you were not even qualified to peep at the gate of that extraordinary world.

Throughout the ages, only heroes could be remembered and praised, so people called it "the hero rank".

At this moment, another hero was born on the stage of the Battle God's Championship Contest.

Through the special connection between himself and Xiao Cao, Yun Xi immediately understood what road Xiao Cao had stepped on.

Xiao Cao's Seed:

Mortal's Sword (perfect): The person who held this sword had practiced the mortal sword skill to the limit, due to that, the person would be able to learn any high-level sword skills two times faster than ordinary people.

Mind's Eye (perfect): A kind of insight learning from practice and exercise. It could help the owner analyze the environment and catch the tiniest opportunity to reverse a bad situation.

Combat Intuition (awakened): This ability could help the owner analyze the battle trend and respond to it in advance. At any time, the owner of this ability could use 100% strength.

Persevering Heart: The grass-like girl has a persevering heart. It can help her open the door to a higher rank.

The Great Road (totally opened): In the long river of fate, some people were blessed by the Goddess of Fortune. Even if they are still mortals, they were fated to create legends.

Favored Soul: The girl was blessed by the gods. More than one god was looking at her.

All the "incomplete" states before had all become "perfect" now, the Great Road had totally opened and she obtained a new title: "Favored Soul".

The once ordinary girl finally opened her door to the extraordinary world and embarked on her road of cultivation.

Being blessed by fate, Xiao Cao had begun to create her legend, and Yun Xi and the people around the stage of the Battle God's Championship Contest were witnessing this legend.

Looking at Xiao Cao at this moment, Yun Xi had a feeling that he harvested the most from Xiao Cao's seed amongst all the members of the Starwing Knights.

If the feedback to Yun Xi from Xiao Cao's seed before was one, then now, her seed could feedback him 100 times more experience than usual.

This meant that Xiao Cao's combat power may have increased more than 100 times after she had reached the hero rank.

This was the gap between the mortal rank and the hero rank. The gap was so desperate, a hero ranked being could almost ignore the army of mortals and destroy a kingdom alone.

If Xiao Cao obtained a god weapon, her combat power could be stronger and more terrible.

Regardless of Hua Huo, Xiao Cao's talent was probably the highest amongst all the girls Yun Xi had ever met.

Only by experiencing her power personally, one could really understand how terrible Xiao Cao's talent was.

At this moment, Red Stone, the master of the Red Steel Genre was probably the only person who could understand Yun Xi's feeling here.

"Puff! Ha!" With hot gasps and violent heartbeats, Red Stone opened his mouth and spat out a sulfur-colored breath.

At the moment, he looked like a devil in hell, because his skin was as red as bleeding and there were flaming lines constantly appearing around his body.

Even though he had used all the three secret skills of the Red Steel Genre, “Lava Breathing”, “Lava Skin” and “Blood of Red Steel”, he couldn’t stop the shock from his heart.

The world was so big that nothing was too strange to happen. He had always listened to the ancestors of his clan describe the geniuses they had seen and boast that they had fought against these extraordinary geniuses.

Unexpectedly, today he also met a genius who couldn’t be described by common sense.
