

Starchild 621

Chapter 621: Hua Yue's Standards

“Hey! This is different from what we heard!”

“Isn't Mei's hair the token to join the Starwing Knights?”

“Sworn loyalty to Mei? A maid? Are you kidding me?!”

Hua Yue's words shocked the girls from the big families in the White Lotus Sword Domain.

Nobody expected that Mei's position in the Starwing Knights was so special. Isn't Mei just a maid?

Only a small number of girls' eyes brightened up, looking at Mei with hot desire. Hua Yue quietly remembered the names of these girls and found that they were all from famous families.

It seemed that they were aware of something and ready for it.

If they could really get Mei's approval, Hua Yue didn't mind accepting several new members for the Starwing Knights.

Apparently, even though Mei didn't send them her hair, there were still girls who were attracted to Mei. Should I say that this is how great Mei's charm is?

In this way, the number of noble girls and civilian girls in the Starwing Knights can also be balanced slightly.

“Thank you, Hua Yue. I really didn’t know what to do right then.” Yun Xi breathed a sigh of relief and thanked Hua Yue who saved him from the “siege”.

“Mei, you have to be more confident and refuse when it’s time to refuse.”

“Those who don’t know how to refuse others will not become great people.” Hua Yue took Yun Xi’s hand, and they sat together on the bench under the shade of the tree, like a beautiful landscape painting, which caused many disciples who passed by to look sideways frequently.

“You are the one who has changed our destiny. Without you, there would be no Starwing Knights.”

“The Starwing Knights were born because of you. Please take responsibility.”

Hey, why does it feel like I’m being preached to by my wife? Yun Xi wondered at the blonde girl sticking to his side.

Initially, when he met with her, as well as Xiao Cao, Mei Lan, Ling Ling, and other girls in the Starwing Knights, it was only by chance that he went to take the Sword palace Entrance Exam.

Because he wanted to bless these girls who struggled for their own destiny and to test his newly obtained ability, he gave them his seed.

At that time, he really didn't expect that there would be a small miracle called the Starwing Knights.

In this small Girl Knights group, which had only a few dozens of members, there were girls from famous families such as Hua Yue, and civilian geniuses such as Xiao Cao. There were careless girls like Ling Ling, and also careful girls such as Mei Lan.

As time went by, these girls from different places, who had never known each other before, became a closely connected group, just like a big family.

Yun Xi looked at the threads between himself and Hua Yue, and all the members of the Starwing Knights.

Today, these seeds, as always, continued to convey to him the experience of the girls, sharing their secrets.

In contrast, his own seed also fed back his growth to them to enhance their talents and potential.

The connection between his seeds and their seeds were like a net connecting all the people in the Starwing Knights, and he was in the center of the net. He was the only one at the core that could receive the strong support of all the Starwing Knights at the same time.

As long as he was in this network, everyone would benefit a lot.

This was the greatest gift from the stars to him, the foundation of his growing strength.

It was only now that he realized that the net was not only a net to enhance his strength, but also enhanced something else.

Hua Yue, Xiao Cao, Ling Ling, Mei Lan, Lu Lu... the experience he received from them was obviously more than that of the other girls in the Starwing Knights. Under the principle of equivalent exchange, the experience they received from Yun Xi's seed was also more than that of other girls.

If "thread" could be regarded as a relationship, then the relationship between them and Yun Xi was deepening, and even the color of the threads seemed to have changed slightly.

I never heard of this evolutionary direction! Yun Xi found that he had woven the web, but he himself was also caught in the network called "The Starwing Knights".

"Your blessings are very, very precious."

"Mei, please cherish the opportunity to send your best wishes in the future."

"I don't refuse seeing more girls joining the Starwing Knights, but please, choose the girls who deserve your blessing."

"They can be common people who don't have super talents like Mumu and Robin, but they can't be shallow ladies from noble families."

"If you really want to choose new members, then I'll recommend them to you." It was not selfish for Hua Yue to recommend the girls she knew. For Mei, who was bound to have a great future, the initial team was very important.

The girls she wanted to recommend were not only beautiful and well-behaved, but also were the ones who were really attracted by Mei.

In addition, they all had the same characteristics, that was, because of good nutrition and excellent exercise from childhood, their bodies were perfect, and the size of their breasts was far above average!

Well, that was the criterion for Hua Yue to choose new members. Whoever can't even reach the standard figure has no chance of joining the Starwing Knights!

The multi-headed demon dragon's blood was just a slim, unrealistic hope. The real talent is actually visible and tangible. Instead of pursuing unrealistic hope, Hua Yue preferred to recruit new members who had shown their "talents".

After all, Mei really likes big tits, doesn't she?

Chapter 622: Conditions

"I see."

"In the future, I will consider the candidates of the Starwing Knights carefully."

After being preached to by Hua Yue, Yun Xi surrendered by raising both hands.

To discuss the size of breasts, the age of marriage, whether or not they have sisters, and the situations of their families... it was too shameful for Yun Xi!

Hua Yue, how many people have you investigated? How can you know their interests, hobbies and even the size of their breasts clearly? What a terrible action force it is?

The leader of the Starwing Knights is too terrible!

“So, Mei, how many more people can you give your blessings to?” All of a sudden, Hua Yue asked a crucial question.

“Oh, there are still dozens of...” Yun Xi covered his mouth.

Wow, I almost spoke my biggest secret out!

Although Hua Yue thought that it was a kind of “blessing”, the number of seeds was still the greatest secret he had!

“So much?!” Hua Yue was shocked. She personally felt how powerful Mei’s blessing was. In her eyes, even if Mei could only give one person this blessing, it could be regarded as a miracle, the fact that Mei gave all the members of the Starwing Knights her blessings had surpassed the common sense of the world in Hua Yue’s eyes, which also made her more grateful to Mei.

If she hadn’t met Mei, her White Golden Rose Bloodline wouldn’t’ve been awakened. Her future would probably be just to marry a family in the Western God’s Domain, which was an inevitable fate of common descendants of the Hua family.

It was with Mei’s blessing that she could awaken her bloodline, obtaining the power to change her destiny.

Her gratitude to Mei was far beyond what could be described by words.

Mei's blessing was like a key to open the door of the new world, which made her enter a more colorful world.

"That is to say, your remaining blessings can even create new Starwing Knights?" Hua Yue urgently wanted to know how many miracles Mei could still create.

"Well, probably..." Yun Xi sighed. Now that the secret was exposed, it was no longer a secret.

Hua Yue thought that they were "blessings", it wasn't wrong.

He couldn't tell anyone that they were actually his seeds, which could only be bred by the will of the stars.

Even the "Battle God's Seed" he obtained from his teacher, Casina the Battle God was essentially just a crystallization of energy, while Yun Xi's seed could enhance a person's talent and potential, and would continue to grow with his own growth.

This power was even beyond the legend rank. It was the greatest gift of the stars to the newborn Starchild.

Perhaps the initial seed may not be strong enough, but the growth potential of this power system was infinite!

Share and spread his own seeds, and then get infinite power from the seeds that spread out. This was the miracle that the stars had created for Yun Xi.

Hua Huo's sword skill talent.

The twin witches' mentality.

Hua Yue and Xiao Cao's fighting talent.

Mumu's Diamond Body.

The practice experience from all the members of the Starwing Knights.

The more seeds he shared, the stronger Yun Xi was. The more he used this ability, the more he could feel.

This ability is too powerful! So let others think it is a "blessing".

"Mei, you are really great." It was a real surprise to know that Mei's remaining blessings could create new Starwing Knights.

She thought that Mei couldn't use her blessings too many times at first.

Now, she needed to change her plan.

Mei can indeed create miracles!

“Well, in this case, I think I need to revise the plan.”

“Actually, there are also some good girls I didn’t mention before.” As the leader of the Starwing Knights, how could she turn a blind eye to talented girls?

The reason she didn’t mention them just now was because she estimated that the remaining blessings Mei could use wouldn’t be to many, so she only chose those “big tits” noble girls. However, there were not many “big tits” noble girls in the Sword Palace originally, and after her selection, there were very few candidates.

If she ignored the requirement of “big tits”, they were indeed a lot of talented but “flat-chested” civilian girls.

Since Mei had more blessings than she had expected, then she could also give these civilian girls an opportunity.

“How do you know so clearly?” Yun Xi was shocked. Originally, Hua Yue not only knew the information of noble girls well, but also knew the information of civilian girls clearly.

From their birthplace to the sword skills they were good at, their heights, weights, and even whether they had marriage contacts... she collected all the girls' information. The leader of the Starwing Knights was too terrible!

"I have my secret channel," said Hua Yue. Under her large and snow-white right breast, an amber-colored holy beetle was firmly attached to the soft and smooth skin.

Well, choosing this holy beetle as my servant is to convenient!

Thirteen people. They were the final candidates Hua Yue chose to be the new members of the Starwing Knights. For this, she had collected the information of almost all the disciples in the White Lotus Sword Palace.

What they had in common was that all of them had applied for membership of the Starwing Knights, and all of them had a special feeling for Mei, in other words, they were the girls with the symptoms of "Mei Poisoning".

From this point of view, they had the qualifications to become new members of the Starwing Knights.

Without this advantage, even a genius like Xia Ling, the Princess of the Great Xia Empire couldn't join the Starwing Knights.

After all, the full name of the Starwing Knights was "Mei's Starwing Knights".

Chapter 623: Knights and Magic

"Did I make a terrible mistake?" Looking at the information of the alternate members sent by Hua Yue, Yun Xi's headache grew worse and worse.

Four noble girls from four families in different God's Domains. Well, this was actually a feature of the endless god's domain era.

Even before the age of the Star Bridges, the families at the top of their respective God's Domains had known that no one should put all of their eggs into the same basket. At their height, they would make the worst case scenario plans for their families in advance.

Before the first Star Bridge was built, they would spread the family's branches all over their God's Domains, and even changed the names of the branches of their families, leaving only the most secret inheritance.

In this way, even if the main family was involved in unpredictable disasters and was totally destroyed, the family would always have a way to continue, until the day when the family's glory could be restored.

After the Star Bridges were built and entered the endless god's domains era, these big families had brought this practice to the extreme. Not only in the God's Domains where they lived, but also in the most remote God's Domains. They would settle their branches there, opening up new lands.

Because there were more opportunities in the new God's Domains, some frustrated children of their families would even voluntarily apply to start new family branches in these remote God's Domains.

It must be said that these ancient families do have their own unique way of survival.

At this moment, the four candidates of the Starwing Knights were from four different God's Domains.

They were all from the Western God's Domain, but their families had branches in the White Lotus Sword Domain, and they had a good friendship with Hua Yue's family.

It was because of this that they knew what earth-shaking changes have taken place inside of Hua Yue's body, and what an amazing miracle the legendary "Mei's Blessing" was.

As for Hua Yue's recruiting them into the Starwing Knights, wasn't only because they had "big tits", but also because they had sharp observational skills.

Excellent talent, clear world outlook, coupled with a keen sense of new trends, they were worthy of being White Lotus Sword Domain's most outstanding elites in all senses.

If it hadn't been for the sudden rise of the Starwing Knights, they would have been the proudest disciples of the White Lotus Sword Palace. After the White Lotus Secret Treasure appeared, they also received invitations from various forces, but none of them said yes.

They were waiting for an answer, an answer from the Starwing Knights.

"Witch God's Domain..."

"Knight God's Domain..."

Yun Xi looked at the list in his hand. Among the four candidates, three were from the Knight God's Domain, where Hua Yue's main family was located.

The Knight God's Domain was a super god's domain even in all the Western God's Domains. Known as the sword of the Western God's Domain, it had a large number of legendary knights whose history could be traced back to the most ancient era.

The remaining one was from the mysterious Witch God's Domain, which was a special God's Domain famous for various witches there. In that god's domain, the desire for bloodline power transcended everything, it was the homeland of all witches.

Why did a witch come to the Sky Sword God's Domain and stay in the small White Lotus Sword Domain? Yun Xi suddenly had a feeling that it was probably because the small White Lotus Sword Domain was unusual. Recalling all the things he had experienced, none of them would normally happen in such a small sword domain.

Moreover, according to the information provided by Hua Yue, it seemed that the three ladies from the Knight God's Domain and the witch had formed a small group and run a shop called "Knights and Magic" on the street outside the White Lotus Sword Palace.

This shop often sold rare magic handicrafts and fine weapons from the Western God's Domain and had something of a reputation in the sword tip area.

Now, because house prices in the sword tip area had risen incredibly, the price of their small shop had also risen hundreds of times.

Apart from this, they were still disciples studying in the White Lotus Sword Palace. Because of this, countless forces enthusiastically recruited them and even their families had asked them to return to the Western God's Domain.

However, the four of them all chose to refuse, neither to sell the "Knights and Magic" shop on the street, nor to accept orders from their families to leave, but have been awaiting an answer from the Starwing Knights.

“Why are they so persistent?”

“The Starwing Knights is only a temporary group of girls.” Yun Xi looked at their information and felt a little headache.

In his mind, he was somewhat impressed by this small group called “Knights and Magic”.

Among the noble ladies of the White Lotus Sword Domain, the four often gathered together for tea. He remembered that three of them were always armed in armor, and there was always a little girl with a broomstick and pointed hat following behind them.

“So, she’s not such a little girl.” Yun Xi looked at the papers.

Witches didn’t represent their appearance according to age, but shape their appearance according to their magic power.

Special note: the main characteristics of witches are their breasts. The stronger the magic power they had, the larger their breasts were. The oldest witch was also the woman who had the largest breasts in the world.

Generally, not all descendants of witches could awaken their Witch Bloodline, therefore, even in the Witch God’s Domain, the number of witches wasn’t too great.

Rose was the name of the little witch candidate of the Starwing Knights. She was still small, but had shown extraordinary potential.

Hua Yue's note: "PS: The size of her breasts is hidden by magic. They are much bigger than what they actually look like."

So how do you even know such things so vividly Hua Yue? Yun Xi was totally speechless about Hua Yue's intelligence gathering ability.

The Knights and Magic group had their tactics. When they hunted monsters, the three knights were Rose's guards and Rose's magic was the attack method.

The four of them all had the potential to enter the hero rank. Especially Rose, because her Witch Bloodline had been awakened, she had a 100% probability of entering the hero rank.

In that small group, she was the core and the three knights were her shields. She was their sword attacking with extraordinary force.

Chapter 624: Witch

The magic she was good at:

Support magic: Water Breathing, which can let the team dive into the sea to find rare materials, lasting about three hours.

Attack Magic: Magic Missile, Multiple Magic Missiles, Large Magic Missiles, which can automatically lock on the enemy and can be released all at once.

Ultimate Skill: Magic Missile Storm, which has greater speed and stronger power. It can easily kill three green hippos at the same time.

It's enviable! Looking at the little witch's achievements, Yun Xi sighed. If it was her in the Star trial, she wouldn't need to fight with the green hippo face to face at all, because she could easily kill the green hippo from a distance by using her Magic Missiles.

If he had this ability, he wouldn't have been killed by that green hippo for hundreds of times in the trial!

Is this the power of a witch? She hadn't entered the hero rank yet, but had mastered such a strong power.

No wonder the other three girls would form a team with the youngest witch as the core. She really had that kind of strength and deserved to be treated like that.

"But... why would a witch come to the White Lotus Sword Palace? This is a school where you can study sword skills but not magic. What a strange witch!"

"Cough... Actually, it's because of the orders from my family..." Yun Xi didn't know since when, suddenly, he noticed a top hat had appeared in his sight.

"Ah, Rose?" Yun Xi looked up at the little witch in surprise.

She wore a big pointed hat and a pair of big black-framed glasses. Her height was so short that when she sat on chairs, her feet would barely touch the ground. If he hadn't read the information provided by Hua Yue, he wouldn't have believed that she was already 16 years old.

"Well, Hua Yue called me, so I came."

“She said that it’s time to do the test for entering the Starwing Knights.” Rose walked beside Yun Xi. Even with her top hat, she was not as tall as Yun Xi’s shoulder. You can imagine how delicate she was.

In fact, many people thought that she was the child of a tutor from Western God’s Domain. They didn’t suspect that this little girl was a disciple of the White Lotus Sword Palace and also a genuine witch.

Even in the Western God’s Domain, witches were rare. The vast majority of human beings in the Western God’s Domain wouldn’t see any real witches in their lifetime.

“The test of entering the Starwing Knights...” Yun Xi complained in his heart. Well, Hua Yue was indeed a girl who could do this.

However, to be honest, Yun Xi’s heart also beat slightly faster when he carefully looked at the little witch who was trying to follow his steps.

Despite the big black-framed glasses and the old-fashioned pointed hat, the witch girl had snow-white skin that common human beings couldn’t have. Plus, with her small and lovely figure, she looked like a living doll, giving him a delicate feeling.

Of course, if many humans thought that witches were weak and dared to do anything to them, they wouldn’t even have time to regret. Witches’ magic would teach them what true power was.

“Why do you want to join the Starwing Knights?” Yun Xi pulled Rose’s hand and felt the soft, warm hand, asking curiously.

“Because... Mei’s body, mmm no, your body... smells good...” Rose hesitated for a moment, but still told the truth, “Besides, Mei’s bread is delicious.”

Who gave you bread? Yun Xi quickly scanned several suspects in his mind, and finally locked his target on the leader of the Starwing Knights.

Hua Yue.

It's not right to tempt a young girl with bread! A gentleman wouldn't do this!

Oh, Hua Yue is a lady, not a gentleman.

"You're too young to join the Starwing Knights." Yun Xi felt that if he agreed to the child's application, he would not be able to be a gentleman the rest of his life.

Clearly, she is sixteen years old, the same age as himself. Why do I feel guilty when I hold her little hand?

She's sixteen years old! Sixteen years old! Sixteen years old! In a lot of god's domains, it's the legal age to marry and have children! Yun Xi constantly reminded himself in his heart.

"But Mumu is younger than me?" Rose looked at Yun Xi with some impertinence, launching a fatal blow to Yun Xi's excuse.

... Oh! Yun Xi remembered that Mumu had also joined the Starwing Knights. Her age was younger than Rose and she was still taking basic knowledge courses with the twin witches.

No, now I can't use age as an excuse.

Well, then, should I let her join?

Actually, her Witch Bloodline is already a sufficient excuse to let her join.

"Well, I want to join, and they're with me." Although she was small, Rose was actually the core of the small group "Knights and Magic". She looked at Yun Xi with expectations, and her small-animal-like eyes made Yun Xi's heart soften.

"I'll give you bread, and you give it up."

"Joining the Starwing Knights is not all good. As a Knight, we may encounter dangerous things in the future." Yun Xi really didn't want to commit a crime. Looking at Rose's tiny body and her small chest, he felt a very bad itch in his heart.

If Hua Yue's information is correct, Rose's flat chest is actually a disguise?

It's hard to imagine! No matter how I observe her, she is just a little girl. Is this a genius of witches?

"Danger is a strong motivation that can let me improve myself."

"We are working hard to become stronger, so we are not afraid of dangers." Rose stretched out her finger with magical light on her fingertips.

“I want to learn more, I want to master stronger Magic Missiles.”

“So, I must join the Starwing Knights.”

Well, I know you like Magic Missiles very much!

Looking back on Rose’s information provided by Hua Yue, Yun Xi understood.

This girl... once she has a goal, she will never give it up!

Chapter 625: Knights

“It’s not just me, Lancelot, Mordred, and Alexander want to join the Starwing Knights too.”

“We swore an oath that we will be a team forever.” Rose looked at Yun Xi with confidence. She seemed to be absolutely confident about their qualifications to join the Starwing Knights.

Yun Xi couldn’t help but read the information provided by Hua Yue again. This time, he read the three knight girls’ information carefully.

Lancelot, good at swords, axes, and lances. She was the team’s brain, and her class was Paladin.

Mordred, good at two-handed swords and all kinds of heavy weapons. She was the most powerful attacker in the team, and her class was Berserker.

Alexander was a great rider and the support staff of the team. She was the only rider in the team.

These three names were said to be legendary heroes in the Western God's Domain, who had left great achievements in history.

Numerous parents named their children in their names, especially in the Knight God's Domain. Amongst every ten teenagers, there would be two Lancelots and one Alexander.

But to name their daughters this? Oh, their parents must be serious Knight enthusiasts.

Unlike Hua Yue, who changed her name after coming to the White Lotus Sword Domain. They used their original names in the Knight God's Domain. If only looking at these three names, Yun Xi would've thought they were all energetic young boys.

Looking further, Yun Xi received more detailed information, as well as the test for entering the Starwing Knights.

"Hunting mutant green hippos?" Looking at the familiar name, and a huge green hippo picture, Yun Xi's hunter's soul was burning.

This green hippo was obviously different from ordinary green hippos. Its huge nostrils, big fangs, and ugly lines on the skin all reminded him that it was a mutant creature!

Moreover, the hunting place was not at a swamp or nearby a river, where the habitats of ordinary green hippos were. It was at the seashore!

This is a green hippo that can live in the sea! It's so rare and strange!

"Yes, let's go hunting for the green hippo and bring back its teeth, tail and meat!" Little Rose had courage far beyond her stature. Since this was the test for joining the Starwing Knights, then she would do her best!

"..." Yun Xi wanted to say something, but finally said nothing and nodded.

Well, recently, Teacher Casina was still drunk in Hydra's wine cellar. It's not a bad idea to follow the small group, observing their hunting.

Perhaps they really had the qualifications to join the Starwing Knights.

"Well, then go!" Rose raised her broomstick excitedly and marched forward, then was tripped by the hem of her robe, and fell to the ground violently.

"Ah?" Yun Xi quickly caught the little witch in his arms in case that she hit the ground. There was a feeling on his fingertips that was "heavy". It was not the "flat-feeling" when he hugged Mumu!

It's true! This witch's chest is very big! For some reason, the information he read before appeared in his mind.

"Whoa whoa!" Being hugged by Yun Xi, Rose was so shy that her body huddled up all over. Her broad robe covered her body like a single sheet, and her little face under her pointed hat had long turned red.

“Thank you.” It was not much louder than a mosquito’s noise. If Rose could choose, she would have created a magic space and hid inside of that space for 24 hours.

“Don’t worry, you’re still small.” Yun Xi habitually touched the little witch’s head, but the feeling just now still remained on his fingertips.

That touch, that softness! Hua Yue’s information wasn’t wrong, this little “magic girl” does have a body completely inconsistent with her small body.

But why did she hide it with magic and keep it a secret? No one could tell what she really looked like from her current appearance.

And how did Hua Yue know this secret? Even Yun Xi, who felt it with his fingers personally, just now, was still wondering if it was just his imagination.

“I’m not small!” Rose put her arms around her chest as if she was a puppy who pretended to be ferocious.

Indeed, they are not small at all.

The stronger a witch is, the bigger her breasts would be. If this is true, then... what an amazing genius!

Yun Xi confirmed once again that Rose was probably the first genius witch he had encountered.

On the street outside the Sword Palace, in front of a small shop, three young female knights who had arrived early saw the little witch's pointed hat and raised their hands together.

"Rose, this way, this way!"

"Rose, don't go the wrong way!"

"Be quick! Come here, here!"

It does seem that she often loses her way? Yun Xi looked suspiciously at the little witch who was holding his hand.

"No! It's just because you're too tall!" Rose hated her knight team. She didn't admit that she had no sense of direction, it was just because... because there were too many people taller than her, which blocked her sight!

Yes, it's not her fault, it's the world's fault!

Why is everyone so tall!

Yun Xi looked at the three knight girls over there and their information naturally appeared in his mind.

Lancelot was a 17-year-old Paladin and was sent to the White Lotus Sword Domain at a very young age.

Wearing knight's armor, her full breasts slightly pushed open the chest armor to both sides, revealing the unshielded jade-like skin in it. She was a standard Western beauty with blonde hair and blue eyes and looked a little more mature than her age.

It was said that she was good at all weapons, but the most used one, was the combination of sword and shield.

Mordred had the same blonde hair, but her eyes were slightly red. Her weapons were a two-handed sword and a huge tower shield. She was also the tallest amongst the three, about 1.8 meters tall.

Although she was a knight, she had Berserker Bloodline. Even in the Knight God's Domain, Berserker Bloodline was pretty rare.

In addition, the size of her breasts was also the biggest amongst the three girls!

The last girl was Alexander, the only girl with flaxen-colored hair. Her weapons were a scepter and a buckler.

Chapter 626: Aroma of Wine

Behind them were caravans especially prepared for hunting. A pair of vigorous horses were beating their noses and kicking their hooves. They were awaiting their departure in full spirit.

The combination of Paladin, Berserker, and Rider seemed strange, but that was the feature of "Knights and Magic".

This team had made many achievements in the past year, and was also one of the top ranked mortal adventure teams registered in the Sky Tower.

It was precisely because they were so excellent that Hua Yue agreed to let them do the entrance test.

“Rose, haven’t you lost your way?” Lancelot’s first sentence had made the little witch cry.

I am not a kid, because everyone is too tall!

“Rose, you were too slow. I almost went to look for you.” Mordred didn’t pay attention to the other’s moods. Her words gave Rose the second blow.

“Rose, do you take handkerchiefs and bread with you?” Alexander’s words gave Rose’s heart the final blow.

“I am a witch, not a kindergarten child!” Rose was desperate. She’s sixteen, not six!

What’s more, lost her way... she only lost her way once or twice in ten times at most. After all, the knowledge of witches was completely useless for her to find ways in the city!

“Thank you, Mei. Thank you for agreeing to hold the entrance test.” Lancelot smiled at Yun Xi after she teased Rose.

“We will show our strength to you! Even if the green hippo hides under the water, I will catch it and kill it!” Mordred promised!

“Please give us your constructive criticism, Mei.” Alexander approached Yun Xi curiously, wrinkling her nose with her knowing and burning eyes.

“The scent of good wine! Mei, do you like to drink too?”

“No, I get drunk easily. I can’t drink more than three cups of wine per day.” That was the truth. Although Hydra said that Yun Xi could drink three cups of her poisonous wine per day, he actually only drank a cup per day in the secret room where the light ball was.

He had to hide. If his teacher Casina knew about it, he could imagine his miserable end of being imprisoned by his teacher.

“Only three cups?”

“What kind of wine can you get drunk with in three cups?”

Alexander had a keen sense of smell. She was sure that the wine fragrance on Mei was a new wine she didn’t know about at all.

This unknown wine... even with just a hint of fragrance left, it had made her stomach growl.

“Is that wine so good, Alexander?” Lancelot also came up and looked at Yun Xi curiously.

Her nose wasn’t as good as Alexander’s, but she also liked good wines.

As for Mordred, there was no need to mention it. She had Berserker Bloodline! Naturally, berserkers liked wines. In stories, berserkers would even wage a war for drinking.

The money that “Knight and Magic” earned, apart from the money being used to buy magic materials for Rose, were all taken by Alexander to buy wines.

Drinking was the hobby of all the members (apart from Rose) of the “Knights and Magic” group!

Although Rose was 16 years old, in their eyes, she was still a child, and children can only drink juice!

“Yes, my nose can’t be mistaken. It’s a wine I’ve never tried before!” Alexander’s eyes brightened up and gazed at Yun Xi with excitement. Her flaxen ponytail flicked from side to side because of excessive excitement.

“What kind of wine is this?”

“More fierce than agave!”

“Wilder than whiskey!”

“Even the best brandy is not as pure as this is.”

“Why? I’ve never smelled this kind of wine before. It’s clear that it isn’t any of the wines sold in the whole of the White Lotus Sword Domain!”

Well... indeed. It isn’t the wine of the White Lotus Sword Domain, but something brewed by a god. Looking at Alexander’s excited face, Yun Xi was under tremendous pressure.

He forgot that even though he was drinking alone in the secret room that no one could find, there was still a little smell of Hydra’s poisonous wine left on his body.

Unexpectedly, there was actually someone with such a sharp nose in the world. She could deduce so many things from such a little wine fragrance!

“Where can I buy this wine, Mei?” Alexander came close to Yun Xi, and the elastic peaks on her chest pressed on Yun Xi’s chest, making him a bit out of breath.

“Well... this... I don’t know.”

It’s not a lie. Of course, Hydra’s poisonous wine isn’t being sold anywhere.

“And I only drank a small cup of wine.”

Alexander’s face turned so depressed. She found a wine she had never smelled before, but she didn’t even know where she could buy it!

“Oh my god, why is the world so cruel to me?”

“That’s all right. As long as you remember the smell, you will be able to taste it one day!” Lancelot comforted her.

“Yes, for the sake of wine, I wouldn’t mind walking to the end of the world!” In an instant, Alexander had a whole new purpose in life. She raised her head and threw out her chest.

“I’m Alexander, who collects all the good wines!”

Chapter 627: The Witch’s Talen

“I said, I really don’t know where to buy this wine!”

“Yes, yes. Next time I meet the merchant who sells this wine, I’ll leave a cup, no, a bucket for you.”

“Well... Stop smelling... it’s embarrassing...” Until he got into the chariot and left the street in the sword tip area, Yun Xi had to repeat this conversation many times.

Oh, my God, why is there such a knight with such a sharp nose? I just drank a cup of Hydra’s wine in the secret room, and now I have to give her a hundred promises!

What’s more, Alexander, Mordred, and Lancelot all looked at him with their eyes shining. It was too stressful!

“Well, wine is not good at all. If I am drunk, I can’t use my Magic Missiles.” Finally, it was Angel Rose who saved Yun Xi.

As the only underage girl in “Knights and Magic” (Rose: Again, I’m sixteen!), she really didn’t understand why the three knights in the team liked wines so much.

“Well, let’s talk about that unfortunate green hippo?” Alexander had to change the topic unwillingly.

“According to intelligence, this green hippo has been active for a while. It often appears in this area, this area, and this area.” Lancelot took out a map and began to work out the hunting plan.

“What weapon does it use? Still a wooden stick?” Mordred licked her lips with an eager look.

“No, this green hippo has a significantly higher IQ than other green hippos. Its weapon is a giant stone club, which should be a kind of natural obsidian, it found in the sea.” Lancelot quickly drew a giant stone club on the paper with a pen. More than that, she also drew the green hippo’s outline onto the paper and carefully drew a human nearby it as a comparison.

“It’s about 3.5 meters tall, weighing more than a few tons. It has the ability to dive into the seabed and has a ferocious personality, so I don’t recommend attacking it in the sea. The best plan is to trap it on the ground with Rose’s Magic Missiles to kill it.” Not only did Lancelot have excellent painting skills, but her strategic thinking ability was also first-rate. She quickly worked out a general plan for the team.

“The best place to set traps is on this shoal.”

“I’ve prepared a large chain trigger trap that can instantly create a big pit. It’s only a matter of time until we kill the green hippo, as long as we block its way of escape to the sea.”

This was the first time Yun Xi joined a team of hunting large monsters. He looked at Lancelot with great curiosity and carefully recorded her plan.

It was almost impossible for ordinary people in the White Lotus Sword Domain to encounter such a horrible monster, but once you saw such a monster, it normally meant a coming disaster.

Any third-ranked monster could easily destroy a small town overnight. If it was a hero ranked monster like the male fiery dragon Yun Xi saw before, it could even destroy a country.

A large number of these kinds of monsters lived in the wilds of the sword body area, which had become the natural boundary between the sword tip area and the sword handle area.

“Rose, kill it with a big Magic Missile.”

“Rose, pay attention to your mana output.”

“Rose, it’s up to you.”

After making a rough plan, the knights’ top priority was to coax the most powerful team member, the little witch, Rose.

“Of course! I am a witch!” Only then will Rose feel proud and elated.

What’s the difference between magicians and witches?

In fact, as far as magic itself was concerned, the gap was not very big. Magicians could also use magic that witches could perform. There was no insurmountable boundary between the two.

However, there was a decisive difference between magicians and witches.

That is, magicians' magic power was basically constant.

Take the same Magic Missile as an example, which was the most basic magic in all magic books.

When magicians performed a Magic Missile, no matter how strong they were, the power of their Magic Missiles was the same.

However, witches could easily break this boundary. Their Witch Bloodline could let them release more powerful Magic Missiles.

Take Rose's Magic Missile as an example. The attack power of her Magic Missile was a dozen times stronger than common Magic Missile!

If a magician wanted to learn advanced versions of Magic Missile such as Large Magic missile and Multiple Magic Missiles, the magician must reach the hero rank first.

However, there was no such restriction on witches. Now Rose was still a mortal, but she could not only use Large Magic Missile and Multiple Magic Missiles, but also could perform Magic Missile Storm.

Magicians needed to learn magic, then they could master it.

Witches only needed to practice magic to strengthen magic, completely ignoring the “learning” process.

Because they were born with powerful magic, which came from their Witch Bloodline.

For them, mastering the magic in the air was as natural as breathing.

Almost all witches could easily enter the hero rank, while human beings struggled their best to crowd onto the single-wooden bridge leading to the entrance of the hero rank. Countless geniuses failed at the entrance of the hero rank and could see no hope in their lives.

Perhaps witches couldn’t master as much magic as magicians could learn, but their talents were far better than any human magicians.

Until when it came to entering the legend rank, the Witch Bloodline couldn’t help witches too much, and by that time, human beings had the hope of catching up with witches.

Chapter 628: Information Errors

Magic is the embodiment of wisdom, it can not tolerate any mistakes. For the apprentice magicians, they need to give their whole attention to the release of any magic.

Once a magic model is wrong, magic regurgitation could easily kill them.

This kind of thing never happens to the witches.

Once they are born and have opened their eyes, they are naturally immersed in the sea of mana, naturally learn how to absorb the mana from the air, and naturally resonate with their Witch Bloodline.

Witches would never be exposed to “magic regurgitation”. Even if their magic was forcibly interrupted by an enemy, it would only deplete their mana but wouldn’t cause any damage to their bodies.

Not only that, when witches are in high spirits, the power of their magic would increase significantly because of the blood resonance effect.

If they were facing a desperate situation or if their emotions were in an extreme state, the magic they could release would even be far beyond the limit of their rank.

In the history of Witch God’s Domain, there was a mortal ranked Witch who performed a legend ranked magic spell because of crushing despair. On the night of her marriage, a war broke out and she lost her lover, she opened the Door of the Taboo by offering herself as a sacrifice in despair.

Overnight, monsters emerged from that door and ruined the entire country.

This was the power of the Witch Bloodline.

That was why Lancelot, Mordred, and Alexander all cheered for Rose before they went hunting monsters.

As long as Rose was in high spirits, her magic power would rise sharply. Even if there were ten green hippos, she could easily handle them.

“Well, this green hippo is dead!” By looking at Rose’s proud face, Lancelot knew that there wouldn’t be an accident this time.

A mutant green hippo is nothing in front of Rose when she is in such an excited mood!

About three hours later, they arrived at their destination, a corner of the wilderness in the sword body area.

“Splash! Splash!” The seawater beat against the uneven rocks, stirring up froth all over.

Yun Xi sat alone on a coconut tree about ten meters tall, looking at the “Knights and Magic” team that had been ambushed hundreds of meters away.

Like the most standard formation in the textbook, the three Knights protected the little witch in a triangular formation. No attack from any direction could surpass the defense of the three.

As for Rose, she was meditating with her eyes closed. Only then could Yun Xi really feel that this little witch was not a spoiled young lady, but an excellent hunter who had experienced all kinds of battles with the three knights.

There were no wars in the White Lotus Sword Domain. Therefore, exploring the sword body area, hunting monsters in the wilderness, or searching for treasures were the most common tasks of the adventure teams in this remote sword domain.

When Yun Xi was a child, he also occasionally dreamed of such a free life, but the reality is, that the mortal world does not need such a strong adventure team. The people who had this strength usually went into the military or became the gatekeepers of big families.

Only in the sword tip area, did these teams with extraordinary strength have meaning for any existence.

“Boom!”

“Boom!”

“Boom!”

From the sea, there was a sudden, unnatural noise of bombs.

“It’s coming! Get ready, let’s perform Plan One!” Lancelot took a deep breath and grabbed a white pebble up from the beach.

The huge figure of the green hippo emerged little by little from the sea.

The green hippo was taller and stronger than Lancelot’s sketch. Its skin was covered with patterns that ordinary green hippos didn’t have and the giant stone club in its hand was mosaiced with many strange crystal fragments.

“Strange. It’s not the same as in the intelligence report?” Alexander frowned. The green hippo’s information provided by the Hunter’s Guild was very different from what the real green hippo was they saw with their own eyes.

“Looks like this guy’s a little bigger than we thought.” Mordred compared her two-handed sword with the height of the green hippo and affirmed that the green hippo was absolutely over four meters tall, much larger than what they were told.

“The situation has changed. Let’s perform Plan Two.” It was very common that problems arose during hunting, and Lancelot was naturally prepared for this.

Anything could happen in the wilderness. It wasn’t surprising to meet a hero ranked monster when a team was hunting a common monster in the wildness.

At least, even though the green hippo’s size got bigger and its weapon looked stronger, it was still a green hippo and hadn’t become anything else.

As long as it was still a green hippo, Rose could kill it. Her attack power was far beyond the mortal rank and approached the hero rank.

The original plan was to lure the green hippo into the trap and then let Rose attack it with her Magic Missile. Now the plan has changed.

“I’m going to attract the green hippo’s attention. You take Rose back.” Lancelot rushed out without hesitation and threw the white pebble at the green hippo from a hundred meters away.

The effect of the white pebble was instant. The green hippo was provoked and burst into a rage and rushed towards Lancelot at a roaring pace.

“Combination.” Lancelot used an incredible way to assemble her sword and shield into a strange hammer.

“Ha!” With flexible steps, Lancelot rushed to the angry green hippo and skipped around to the green hippo’s back.

“Boom!” The green hippo hit the ground with the stone club, making a big hole in the ground and splashing numerous gravel about.

Lancelot firmly grasped the hammer in her hand, swung it and gave the green hippo’s body a powerful hammer blow!

“Bang!” The hammer struck the green hippo’s thick skin and made a muffled sound.

“No! The hammer can’t hurt it” Lancelot dropped the hammer directly and pulled out a bayonet from her waist and rolled over on the ground.

The green hippo held its giant stone club in both hands and slashed at her.

Lancelot dodged the attack and held the bayonet specially made for armor-piercing, instantly piercing the green hippo’s body like dozens of swords.

The attacks were still ineffective. There were only a few white spots on the green hippo’s thick skin, which couldn’t be found without careful observation.

“Roar!” The green hippo roared, and the sand around it was in an explosion, it rose and floated in a circle in the air.

“Mortal ranked physical attacks are invalid!”

“Rose, use your biggest Magic Missile!”

Chapter 629: Armor-piercing Sword

“Hey hey, silly hippo, taste this!” Rose proudly lifted her broomstick as a purple crystal emerged from the middle of it.

“Magic Missile!”

One 30 centimeters long purple missile after another shot out from the little witch’s broomstick. Regardless of size or release speed, they were far more powerful than common Magic Missiles.

This was no more intuitive difference between witch and magician.

With the same 100 mana, a magician could release about 10 Magic Missiles, while the little witch Rose could release 100 Magic Missiles!

What’s more, her Magic Missile not only had three times the flying speed, but also had three times the attack power.

“Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom!” The crisp sound of explosions burst on the green hippo’s body one after another. Hundreds of large Magic Missiles hit its body in a second as a purple halo spread like fireworks.

This was the little witch Rose's masterpiece: Multiple Magic Missiles. If it was a common third ranked green hippo, it would have been blown to pieces already.

However, the mutant green hippo was clearly far stronger than other green hippos. Although its thick skin was being pitted by the magic missiles, there was no fatal wound.

"Whoa, it's a foul to be so thick!" Rose looked at the green hippo with a little headache.

"This fellow is too strong! Did it eat something strange?" Mordred complained.

As a top ranked mortal hunting team, this wasn't the first time for them to hunt a green hippo.

The green hippo was only slightly injured by Rose's Magic Missiles. Theoretically, that shouldn't have happened.

Rose had devoted almost all her energy to the practice of Magic Missiles. Her attack power should far surpass the defensive power of any hero ranked monster's skin.

"Lancelot, be careful, it's going to go mad!" Along with Mordred, Alexander protected Rose while she leaves.

"Boom!" The injured green hippo kicked a big stone towards them. The several tons of stone flew like a ball under the feet of the green hippo.

Just as witches' magic talents were far stronger than mortals, the green hippo's strength was also at the top of all third-ranked monsters.

Even though the green hippo's body was too large and its speed was too slow, the green hippo was still one of the most formidable monsters in the third rank. Its thick skin could make many people feel helpless.

As a monster who had left a particularly painful memory for Yun Xi in the star trial, this monster was not friendly at all. When it rushed at them rampaging, it was like a heavy tank that could crush everything!

"Are you ok?" Yun Xi watched the green hippo and felt worried for the small team.

"It doesn't matter. Believe us, if we can't even beat a green hippo down, we will feel ashamed of ourselves!" Lancelot wiped her sweat and raised her bayonet.

"That's right. We're going to play here." Mordred removed the tower shield from behind her and entered a full armed form.

"No matter how violent the monster is, without wisdom, it's only a target being hunted." Alexander whistled, dismantled her scepter and revealed her chain sword.

"My Magic Missile can be more powerful!" Rose pouted and rubbed the purple crystal, and then grasped the broomstick with both hands.

Even though they were facing the mutant green hippo who had gone mad, the three knights still took the initiative to attack.

Sometimes, the best defense is to attack.

In the face of such a super monster, being blindly defensive was not feasible, they must orient the situation to their own advantage.

“Hey!” Mordred raised her tower shield and provoked it, “Come on, you mindless monster!”

“Come at me!”

“Huh!” With a roar, the furious green hippo rushed directly towards Mordred with thunderous footsteps.

“Chance!” Alexander whipped the chain sword and hit the green hippo from ten meters away. The strange chain sword tore a big hole in the wound caused by Rose’s Magic Missile, causing the green hippo to bleed endlessly.

A half-meter-long wound was a fatal wound for humans, but for a mutant green hippo, it was just a scratch and made it more ferocious.

The fierce green hippo was getting faster, and the huge stone club in its hand gave them a strong feeling of pressure.

“You shall not pass!” Putting the tower shield into the ground, Mordred took a deep breath and contracted all her muscles.

“Boom!” The green hippo’s stone club directly deformed Mordred’s tower shield, and even Mordred herself was stunned by the sparks that flew before her eyes.

But even though Mordred’s hands were bleeding, she still firmly held the shield and withstood the attack and didn’t take a step back.

“Shuffle!” Alexander’s chain sword was thrown again from an almost impossible angle and hit on the green hippo’s body.

“Right now!” Lancelot held an armor-piercing sword and appeared behind the green hippo again, hitting the green hippo with her powerful strength.

The sharp armor-piercing sword penetrated the green hippo’s buttocks and punctured through its intestines.

Looking at Lancelot’s move, Yun Xi felt like clenching his buttocks.

That must be painful!

It’s so fast, so accurate, so cruel!

“Moo ga!” The green hippo uttered a sad scream, and the big club in its hand thundered heavily on the ground.

“Jump!” The three knights leaped backward together.

Rose’s Magic Trap was triggered!

Chapter 630: The Truth of the Green Hippo

“Boom!” The ground beneath the green hippo collapsed without warning, and the Magic Trap was launched perfectly.

This wasn’t a simple trap but a chain trap.

When the green hippo fell down and hit the ground, it was bombed by a flame bomb first, then attacked by frost. In such a situation, even the green hippo’s thick skin that neither swords nor spears could stab became fragile.

At the same time, being protected by the three knights, Rose was finally ready for her ultimate skill.

“Magic Missile Storm!”

Compared with the Multiple Magic Missiles just now, the performance of the Magic Missile Storm was much more exaggerated!

The number of Magic Missiles released this time was 3,000! This is a number that can make all mortal magic apprentices feel helpless.

Moreover, Rose didn’t just use the Magic Missile Storm one time, but three times!

A total of 9,000 Magic Missiles!

If this was a battlefield, the Magic Missile Storms could eliminate an entire army in an instant.

In the face of such horrible large-scale attack magic, the army of mortals was no different from rice straws waiting to be mowed.

The magnificent Magic Missile Storm first crossed the distance of hundreds of meters within three seconds, then all hit on the green hippo's body.

"Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom!" Like a symphony of death, 9000 Magic Missiles were bombarded on the green hippo's huge body and it never stood up again.

"Yay! We win!"

"Rose's Magic Missile Storm is awesome!"

"The green hippo is dead."

Lancelot, Mordred, and Alexander cheered.

No matter how many times they looked at it, Rose's Magic Missile Storm was always so exaggerated. Three rounds of 3,000 Magic Missiles, it was probably the strongest attack mortals could perform.

A mutant green hippo was nothing in front of such an attack.

“That’s terrific.” Even Yun Xi felt that the attack was a little too exaggerated. It was absolutely the strongest magic he had ever seen.

Because of the limitations of flesh and blood, most mortals could only perform magic tricks such as Sleight of Hand and Luminous Gaze.

Only after stepping into the hero rank could one perform the extraordinary power of magic or sword skill. This was common sense to everyone.

It was almost impossible for human beings to perform such horrible magic in the mortal rank.

“Hey hey, there’s nothing in the world that Magic Missiles can’t solve.” Rose cleaned her hat and proudly raised her chest.

“If one Magic Missile is not enough, then I will use one hundred, one thousand Magic Missiles!”

“If one round is not enough, then I will perform the magic for three rounds, ten rounds!”

Among all magic, Rose’s favorite was Magic Missile. She could shoot with her eyes closed without aiming. With the increase of her proficiency, she could shoot faster and more accurately, and the power of each shot could also be increased indefinitely.

The art of Magic Missiles was the world Rose was intoxicated with. She had a dream that one day her Magic Missile skills could reach the realm of God!

The green hippo was first burned, then frozen, and finally brutally murdered by 9,000 Magic Missiles. The green hippo's body lost its breath at the bottom of the magic trap, and the huge stone club rolled aside.

"It's finally dead." Lancelot threw several pebbles at the green hippo and confirmed that it had died.

"It's a heavy stone club!" Mordred jumped into the trap and picked up the giant stone club, grabbing the tail of the club with both hands.

"Yay! We completed the test of the Starwing Knights!" Alexander laughed.

"My Magic Missile is the first in the world!" Rose raised her broomstick and waved it proudly.

Just then, the mutant green hippo, whose whole body had been pierced and its heart exploded, suddenly stood up.

"What!" Lancelot opened her eyes wide. She confirmed that the green hippo had died! Why could it stand up again?

"Impossible!" Mordred dropped the club and stood instinctively in front of Rose to protect her.

“Why?!” Alexander swung her chain sword, trying to block any counterattacks from the green hippo.

“Ah!” Rose let out a scream and fired another hundred Magic Missiles.

But this time, the Magic Missiles passed directly through the green hippo as if they had infiltrated a gel.

In front of the four, the green hippo’s body began to twist and melt, revealing its true face.

It was a mass of transparent, green jelly-like substances or life.

“Slime!”

“Slime!”

“Slime!” The three Knights recognized the real identity of the thing at a glance.

“Wow, it’s a mutant giant slime, not a mutant green hippo!” Yun Xi jumped down from the coconut tree immediately, but unfortunately, he was still a step late.

The giant green slime, after transforming back to its original shape, immediately spewed out a large amount of solution. The sticky green solution shot at the “Knights and Magic” team and glued them all together.

“We are finished!” Lancelot was distressed. What a fatal mistake this was!

“What’s wrong with this slime!” Mordred was equally helpless, and her strength couldn’t do anything in the face of the green solution.

“No way!” Alexander looked at her clothes with tears in her eyes. Her knight’s armor was melting!

“Whoop, Whoop, what’s wrong with this slime? Why can’t the Magic Missiles hurt it?” Rose burst into tears as her pointed hat was being eaten by the green slime.

The girl’s skin was exposed little by little in front of Yun Xi.
