

Starchild 731

Chapter 731: Ice Dragon Zaka

In the sky, there are meteors passing through.

Unlike ordinary meteors, which burn out in the atmosphere with only a little debris left, this reddish red meteor has a diameter of more than 10 meters, and its speed across the sky is more than three times faster than ordinary meteors.

Look carefully, the red meteor's surface is still burning a terrible golden red flame.

Even if it is far away from the golden-red light flow that runs through the sky, the meteor is still melting in the high temperature, especially the part of the shell. Every second, the golden gravel is burned by the sun's flame into the crystal of glass, and then evaporates completely.

By the time the core of this "large-scale strategic weapon" followed a certain rule and fell from the sky to the most terrible forbidden area of the whole continent, it was only about three meters in size.

Even so, when the meteor fell, it still caused a big earthquake. The meteor falling from the sky directly blew through the zenith of the nest, causing an earthquake.

In the countless dust flying, only the last core "the Star of the Sand" finally returned to the original dragon's nest.

The original dragon, who was still sleeping, had a flash of green light on its head, scanned the Star of the Sand, and then fell silent.

“Ha ha, what a mess, sister.” A small white hand pressed on the surface of the Star of the Sand, which was almost melting the ground with its high temperature.

Next second, the temperature in the nest began to drop sharply.

The Star of the Sand was surrounded by ice and snow crystals up to 10 meters thick.

Inside the ice and snow crystal with light ice blue, a girl with dark blue long hair, and looked almost the same as Desert Dragon Zaka, slightly frowned.

Ice Dragon Zaka, the second of Zaka’s four sisters was born ahead of time.

If it’s an ordinary high temperature, even if it’s 100,000 degrees, with Ice Dragon Zaka’s ability, it can freeze in a few seconds.

However, the flame around the core surface of the Star of the Sand is not a common flame.

It was the fire from the sun, which almost burned the whole Star of the Sand to ashes, forcing this god weapon to abandon 99% of the shell only to separate the core from the terrible sun fire.

“What a strong flame.” Licked her fingers that were burned red, Zaka pulled out her god weapon.

Her God weapon, of course, is also the unique gift that the original dragon gave her children.

“The Frost Dragon’s Tooth” is its name. Different from Desert Dragon Zaka’s “the Star of the Sand”, it is a god weapon with a light blue luster and extremely powerful ice property.

Although it can’t trigger the natural disasters of meteorites, it can also launch a large-scale forbidden spell of “Ice Land”. It is a god weapon with the characteristic of an “opposing army”. It is the best way to change the environment.

Compared with the simple destruction of the Star of the Sand, the Frost Dragon’s Teeth is a weapon to manipulate the celestial phenomena, and it’s also a powerful weapon in the human war.

It looks like a broken sword in the shape of a dragon’s tooth. The sword is inlaid with three dark blue gems. Each gemstone is frozen with the power of “Ice Land”, which means that Ice Dragon Zaka can use this forbidden spell three times in a row.

“Chi!” The Frost Dragon’s Tooth pierces the core surface of the Star of the Sand, and Ice Dragon Zaka can feel that one-third of the power in the god weapon is released in an instant.

The power of the forbidden spell “Ice Land” dispersed all the sun flames twining on the surface of the Star of the Sand. If she didn’t do it immediately, her sisters may even be burned inside their dragon’s egg.

What kind of enemies did she provoke? Is there some unknown flame-type fantastic creature on this continent?

Ice Dragon Zaka confusedly looked at Desert Dragon Zaka who was released from the core of the Star of the Sand.

Although my sister is a bit stupid, she will not provoke such a strong opponent for no reason, will she?

On this continent, there should only be the twin witches in the South Forest who have this strength.

Was she burned by the witch named “Red Lotus”?

However, when she looked at her sister’s dumb face, why did she feel like something is not right with her sister?

Give her one hit!

Without hesitation, Ice Dragon Zaka stabbed her sister, Desert Dragon Zaka in the heart.

“It’s so hot! I’m scalded!”

“It’s so cold! It’s freezing me!”

Desert Dragon Zaka, who was stabbed by her sister, turned over, and then showed her invincible battle skill – Desert Dragon Zaka’s Tumbling.

After rolling for dozens of times on the ground, Desert Dragon Zaka hit the wall of the dragon’s nest and recovered from the world of fire and ice.

“Ah, sister, you have hatched?” Desert Dragon Zaka smirked stupidly without any frustration.

It’s better to say that the triumphant and high spirited appearance looks as if she has won an unprecedented victory.

“Sister, did Red Lotus burn your head?” Ice Dragon Zaka looked at her elder sister, Desert Dragon Zaka, with a sad expression on her little face.

My sister has become more stupid. What can I do? Is there a solution?

“Congratulations, Congratulations, the world is very beautiful, very outstanding. we are going to conquer the world and become the king of the world!”

Desert Dragon Zaka is full of joy that makes Ice Dragon Zaka unable to understand. Even her attitude towards her sister has become super gentle.

The world is beautiful, love is sweet, the future belongs to her!

Desert Dragon Zaka trotted to her sister, embracing Ice Dragon Zaka’s head in her plump chest.

“Conquering the world is our mother’s plan, but it seems that you haven’t done enough, sister.” Ice Dragon Zaka was confused.

It’s so strange. Is my elder sister dizzy by the high temperature?

The last time I saw her, she was still very dissatisfied with me.

“What are you saying? I’m only one step away from conquering the world!” Desert Dragon Zaka vowed that she was a small step away from achieving her mother’s ultimate goal.

She is about to finish this small step.

To be specific, it’s to get married to my dear love. The prince, the Starwing Knights, and the weird twin witches in the South Forest are not worth mentioning compared with this goal!

“As long as I’m with my dear, there’s no problem that can’t be solved!”

“One month, one month, I will conquer the world!”

Desert Dragon Zaka laughed.

It’s great to think of conquering the world as a honeymoon.

“Dear?” Ice Dragon Zaka keenly caught the keyword.

In the whole continent, apart from their four sisters, where are the other dragons?

In addition to her and her silly sister Desert Dragon Zaka, where do other “dear” exist?

Come on, even their great mother, the original dragon, is actually single.

“Yes, I found it.” Desert Dragon Zaka held up her sister’s face, imagining that this was Yun Xi’s face and kissed him warmly.

“I’m not a child!” Ice Dragon Zaka resisted the sudden intimacy of her sister, and showed an angry expression like a child.

“Elder sister, are you in the period of estrus?”

Yes, that’s the only way to explain it. My sister, who had a low IQ, went out for a walk and was beaten to the ground. After coming back, she entered the estrus period.

Before she hatched from the egg, although her sister was a little careless, she did her best to complete the task. How could she suddenly become so stupid?

Dear? Except for the four sisters of Zaka, there are no creatures in the world comparable to them!

The four Zakas will be the master of the earth, sky, and sea of the whole world. They will dominate the world and wait for their mother to wake up.

The purpose of their birth is to turn the whole world into the kingdom of dragons.

Desert Dragon Zaka has achieved more than half of this goal.

The western desert area, the northern ice field area, half of the eastern human territory, and a small half of the dense forest in the South have all been under the rule of the dragons.

Finally, there are only two forces against the dragons.

Descendants of the ancient Assyrian Kingdom, the twin witches,

Descendants of the Forgotten Ruins, the last human kingdom.

Didn't her sister say that she wanted to solve the last human kingdom before she left? How did she get burned back?

"Sister, you will have a brother-in-law in the future." Desert Dragon Zaka pinched Ice Dragon Zaka's little face.

As the eldest sister of the four sisters, she is the largest of the four sisters in height and chest.

It's probably the only advantage of being a sister. Ice Dragon Zaka's head just reached her chest.

“Brother-in-law? Sister, how can you find someone?” Ice Dragon Zaka felt that she had heard something more shocking than the end of the world.

Does her stupid sister have a lover? No way!

No, when did it happen? There was no trace before she hatched!

Is it a “lover in the air” or a “lover only in dreams”?

Yes, according to normal reasoning, there is no living creature on this continent that can become my elder sister, Desert Dragon Zaka’s lover.

So, there’s only one truth. Ice Dragon Zaka looked at her sister with sympathy.

Ah, my sister has gone nuts.

“Hey, I know what you’re thinking.” It’s rare that Desert Dragon Zaka was smart once.

Just looking at her sister’s incredible expression, she knew that her sister didn’t believe her words at all.

However, the truth can stand any doubt.

Her love with Shaheen can stand any test!

“Sister, why do you laugh so strangely?” For the first time since birth, Ice Dragon Zaka feels more and more wrong.

“Children don’t talk about love. You’re a hundred years early.”

“I’ll tell you, love is a very hot, very sweet, and very honeyed thing.” Desert Dragon Zaka laughed foolishly, and her reason was completely lost.

Next, she explained how she met her doomed lover, how she was proposed, how she tested each other, and how she finally fought until the end of the war.

For her, these memories are irreplaceable treasures, and they are medals to be proud of.

At the same time, it is also a declaration.

She, the elder sister of the four Zakas, is no longer single! She has her other half!

Listening to her sister’s show off, Ice Dragon Zaka first doubted, and then made sure that her sister was cheated.

“Sister, I think you’ve been cheated.”

Although it's cruel to her stupid sister, Zaka thought it necessary to bring her back from her unrealistic love fantasy.

"This man, no, he should not be a human. He is absolutely cheating you."

"Impossible!" Desert Dragon Zaka looked at her sister angrily. Her dear is so kind and gentle. How can he be cheating her?

He is not only elegant, but also has a strong force. At the same time, he is devoted to her. He is absolutely a gentleman.

"Well, sister, do you remember carefully that he even said a word to marry you?" Ice Dragon Zaka discovered for the first time that it was so pleasant to throw ice cold water on other people's hearts.

Of course, I'm just caring about my sister. There is no envy at all!

Chapter 732: The Prince Going Home

"Of course he..." Desert Dragon Zaka suddenly jammed.

Oh, he didn't say it!

Too bad, too careless. Why did I come back without confirmation?

"I believe him!" Biting her teeth, Desert Dragon Zaka had an expression of never giving in.

“Well, I’ll take ten thousand steps back. Did he hug you or kiss you?” This time, Ice Dragon Zaka was elated.

She knew that her stupid sister, her so-called love will only be in the dream.

The so-called lover this time may even be just a pure misunderstanding!

“Yes!” This time, Desert Dragon Zaka replied without hesitation.

It’s not just hugging. When they were rolling around on the earth together, everything was seen by him!

Wuwuwuwu. I’m an unmarried lady. It’s a big loss!

“Ga.....” Ice Dragon Zaka showed an expression of “the world is about to end”, and rubbed her forehead.

“Yes, I believe him. I like him.”

“I will not marry without him!” Although Desert Dragon Zaka was careless, she was very dedicated on this point.

I like him, so I will not let go of him.

“So, whether it’s illness or health, whether it’s poverty or wealth, would you like to be with him?”

“Do you have the confidence to go hand in hand with him and never separate?”

“No matter what kind of test you meet, you will be faithful?” Ice Dragon Zaka asked her sister.

“How can we get sick?”

“We are the dominators!”

“Of course, he has completed my test and I will fulfill my agreement. I am Desert Dragon Zaka.” With each answer, the smile on Desert Dragon Zaka’s face became more and more brilliant.

Yes, no doubt at all. She’s in love.

Even the world looks so beautiful in her eyes at this moment.

She is helpless... looking at her sister’s enchanted appearance, Ice Dragon Zaka sighed and finally came up with the last trump card:

“What if he had other women he liked?”

“What?!” Desert Dragon Zaka erupted in an instant. The Star of the Sand was spinning and roaring!

“No room for a third party! I’ll kill her!”

Well, seeing her sister’s crazy look, Ice Dragon Zaka showed a happy smile.

Just now, she was really upset.

If there is such a perfect man in the world, how can he ask her silly elder sister to marry him?

There must be problems with this proposal!

So she had to help her sister not to fall into the fire.

“Well, calm down. Let’s discuss the conquest of the world.”

“I don’t care about such a trivial thing. We’ll go to him and ask him now!” Desert Dragon Zaka had long forgotten the plan of world conquest. She took her sister and ran out of the dragon’s nest in a hurry.

On the head of the sleeping original dragon, the blade-shaped green light shone fierce light. The last two eggs began to absorb more power of the original giant dragon and accelerate the hatching.

Soon after, Desert Dragon Zaka, who rushed to the city, opened her mouth and looked at the arena with only one big pit left.

“Shaheen? The champion of this competition?”

“Of course, he won the title of the Champion Knight.”

“The last battle was really a disaster. We all saw the sword light. It was a miracle!”

“Well, where did he go? I heard that after winning the title of the Champion Knight, he goes back to his hometown. It is said that he goes back to his hometown to get married. ”

Around the ruins of the original arena, people talked about the mysterious strong man Shaheen, who came out of nowhere and defeated his powerful sister to win the Champion Knight.

Next to them are a group of sad looked merchants, who are all the merchants who run the gambling party of the Championship Knight Competition.

Originally, it was a chance to make a lot of money. Who could have thought that someone secretly made an astronomical bet for Shaheen when everyone thought that Zaro would dominate the Championship Knight Competition with absolute advantage?

In the future, never let augur bet! Looking at their empty money bags, the businessmen who were robbed 90% of the profits by a mysterious augur swore together!

“Back home to get married?” Desert Dragon Zaka’s face turned pale. She suddenly had great doubts about the whole world.

Why, didn't you say you'd like to be with me forever?! (Yun Xi: I never said that!)

Didn't you say we'll live together forever and never to be separated?! (Yun Xi: It's just a 24-hour date!)

"Ah..." Ice Dragon Zaka sighed. Although she knew it was probably this result for a long time, looking at her sister's expression, she would still feel sad.

"I don't believe it!" After the initial period of depression, Desert Dragon Zaka suddenly clenched her teeth, raised her head, and looked at the sky with some golden-red luster.

"Sister, don't be too persistent."

"I just don't believe it! He will leave me like that!" Desert Dragon Zaka cried out word for word.

"Shaheen, answer me!"

"Why do you break our engagement?!"

"No matter where you go, I will find you and marry you!"

In the palace, Yun Xi, who secretly went out for a walk and had a date with a mysterious desert tribe girl for a day, was lying in his study with an expression of lovelessness.

The Starwings had drained all his energy, so that when he finally took away the trophy of the competition, his consciousness was in a trance, and he made up an excuse of "I will go home to get married" and ran away.

The beautiful trophy was thrown into the king's secret room and had become a black history he tried to forget hardly.

"Prince, what's wrong?" Ling Ling rode on Yun Xi, banging Yun Xi's aching shoulders with her small fists.

"Give me the milk."

At this moment, Yun Xi felt that he needed to regain strength.

Ling Ling's face turned red all of a sudden, and she answered in a voice smaller than that of a mosquito:

"Ok... ok, I'm going to prepare the sweet milk!"

Chapter 733: Truth Exposure

On the eve of the king's wedding, the grandest festival of the Moonlight Ceremony, people revelled all night, turning the whole city into a city that never sleeps.

Both businesses and civilians have fallen into the atmosphere of a carnival.

In the crowd, two figures seem to be a little out of place with a happy atmosphere. People subconsciously separate for the two people, just like two white sharks swimming in a group of small fish.

That's the instinct gap on the level of life, the horrible breath that can be felt with the naked eyes.

"Sister, why don't you give up?" Ice Dragon Zaka looks curiously at the people around her and the desert tribe style cape she was wearing.

Tonight, there are a lot of people wearing this kind of clothes, and many businesses are making and selling them all night.

The people who lead this trend are no one but the murderous looking Desert Dragon Zaka, as well as the prince who has taken the champion of the competition and the heart of a girl.

The names of Zaro and Shaheen have begun to be sung by poets.

The mysterious and powerful sisters, make people have unlimited reverie involuntarily.

Even though the real desert merchants from the western desert all have an ignorant expression.

They haven't heard that in the tribe they live in, there are sisters called Zaro and Shaheen.

If there were such people, the whole desert tribe would have been celebrating! How can they still know nothing about this?

“Not here, and not there.” Desert Dragon Zaka grabbed the roasted squid with both hands, she was eating and drinking, and patrolling around.

When you are lovelorn, when you are under great pressure, you need to eat squid to supplement energy. Squid is rich in protein and chewy. It is a first-class food whether it is a snack or a portion of staple food.

“I’m sure he’s still in the city.”

“Just find him and the problem will be solved.” The anger burned in Desert Dragon Zaka’s eyes. It is her last kindness to human beings that she hasn’t destroyed the whole city with her angry flames.

However, her patience is limited.

If Shaheen hasn’t come out in three days, she will turn into the evil dragon that rampaged the continent, and bury the last kingdom of mankind with her sister Ice Dragon Zaka.

“I don’t think he will jump out himself.”

“Even if we find him, the problem will only get bigger.”

“Elder sister, it’s better to give up. Love doesn’t exist. Face reality!” Ice Dragon Zaka couldn’t bear it anymore.

“Our task is to conquer the world, there is no time to play the game of love.”

“You don’t understand...” Desert Dragon Zaka shook her head and touched her sister’s head, “Because you’re still a kid and you haven’t experienced real love.”

“Since I like him, how can I give him up?”

“The one I like is the one I love, the one I want to be together with.”

“No matter what race he is or where he comes from, it’s my choice.”

“From the moment he passed my test, the engagement was established.”

Ice Dragon Zaka looked at her elder sister in confusion. She seems to understand what she said, and she seems to not understand.

Yes, she really can’t understand. Her sister’s expression seems so focused, even if she is eating squid, and it also exudes a mature taste.

She felt such a sister is very strange, but also, she felt a little envy about it.

Even though she was gnashing her teeth and angry, Desert Dragon Zaka at this moment gave her a feeling, as if she is in a world Ice Dragon Zaka doesn’t understand.

Can love really bring such a big change to people?

Although she is the elder sister, she was just born earlier, and because of her premature birth, her strength as a dragon is actually the weakest of the four Zaka sisters, so she has the Star of the Sand to make up for her weakness.

But such a sister has what she doesn't have.

Love? Don't get it.

Sister... When did she become so feminine?

"Sister, is your ability able to freeze the whole city?" After walking dozens of turns in the streets of the city, Desert Dragon Zaka still found no trace of Yun Xi, which made her angrily propose a very feasible plan.

Yeah, that's my violent sister! Ice Dragon Zaka smiled with absolute confidence

"No problem, please."

"Well, just give him three days. If he doesn't come out in three days, you use the forbidden spell 'Ice Land', and I summon my Star of the Sand to smash the city!"

Desert Dragon Zaka held the god weapon tightly in her hand and swore to heaven, "Shaheen, no matter where you hide in this city, I will find you!"

“Yawn!” Yun Xi lay in the king’s secret room, looked at the mysterious ceiling and stretched.

Tomorrow will be a new day.

It will be a very important day for him and for the kingdom.

“Good night, White Moon.” Touching the head of the young bride beside him, Yun Xi closed his eyes.

“Dad... marriage... it’s not right...” White Moon listened to the whispers of the ancient gods around her, with a certain determined expression on her tiny face.

Dad is White Moon’s, no one can take him away from me!

In the station of the Starwing Knights, the girls returned to the head office with their own tasks.

They followed Hua Yue’s order, and collected the information about the mysterious queen from their families.

After thousands of years, the secret is no longer a secret, but no one can tell it, just follow the tradition silently, complete the sacrifice and agreement.

In thousands of years, many dukes and count’s daughters became the king’s lovers, leaving the truth of the so-called wedding in their notes.

“Unbelievable... the truth is...”

“The blood of the ancient gods... ” Hua Yue’s heartbeat began to speed up unprecedentedly.

It turns out that this is the “wedding”, the origin of all tragedies!

Chapter 734: Dawn of Terror (1)

In the sky, the golden sunlight finally tore the last dark sky curtain and scattered on the whole kingdom.

A brilliant golden red sun rises slowly from below the horizon, announcing the dawn.

“Bang!”

“Bang!”

“Bang!”

It’s morning, but some people are setting off fireworks, and there is more than one place. Most of the people in the city have spontaneous fireworks for today’s arrival.

This is a salute for the birth of the king.

On the top of the palace, the tallest watchtower, Yun Xi sighed at the people already looming in the street below.

“Finally, it started.”

“Prince, this is your destiny. Please take your up responsibility.” The royal augur looks at him with a smile and then looks at the room with a special rose essence.

The astrological tower is the highest building in the whole kingdom, and also the residence of the royal augurs in the past dynasties.

At the same time, it also serves as another function that is not important at all, the place where the royal augur and his majesty tryst.

Well, it's the “tryst”. As the person who has mastered the king's biggest secret, and the executor of the “ceremony”, royal augurs have been the king's lovers for almost all generations.

No one will give this crucial position to someone they are not familiar with.

Most of the time, the royal augurs are related to his majesty.

Sometimes, it's his majesty's aunt.

Sometimes, it's his majesty's elder sister.

Sometimes, it's his majesty's younger sister.

Even one royal augur was the mother of his majesty.

They, as royalty, give up their identities and hide behind the scenes, guarding the kingdom in their own way.

Their feelings for the king are complex, but no one doubts their loyalty to the king.

Every royal augur is carrying a heavy darkness. Only in the highest room of the kingdom, with their brother, or... when they are skin to skin, we can catch a trace of the warmth in the dark fate.

No one can think of it. In other people's eyes, the mysterious royal augur are distinguished, inviolable, but every one of them and his majesty will make love in the highest place of the kingdom.

At this point, the young prince seems to have no idea, so there was no doubt when she invited him to the secret room, he didn't doubt anything.

What a lovely prince.

Even if you commit the crime of killing your father and marrying your mother, even if you will eventually degenerate into the deepest darkness, I will continue to watch you.

The palpitation of the chest is the best proof. It is the intuition of the royal augur.

In the past, generations of royal augurs have also been here, watching their favorite people step on the throne and become the only dominator of the whole kingdom.

What kind of mood are they in when they are standing here with the people they like, looking at the vast earth and sky side by side?

Robin didn't know before, but now she seems to understand a little bit.

No matter the earth, the sky, or the whole kingdom, they are not as good as the man beside her.

The kings are people who are doomed to die. They are people who have one-tenth of the life span of a common hero rank human, they are all watchmen. On the day when they inherit the position of the king, their life begins to count down.

Even the most powerful and determined knight could not escape the whisper of the ancient gods. They will die under the blood moon sooner or later.

In there, the queen is waiting for them, waiting for them to complete the final vow in another way.

"I understand. I will not shirk this responsibility." Yun Xi reaches out his fingertips, and the golden sun falls into his hands from the eastern horizon, just as the whole sun falls into his hands.

Seeing this scene, Robin's heart was suddenly moved.

She should be the most despised of the so-called tradition among all the royal augurs.

Even though she does have a blood relationship with the prince now, she just looks at the prince quietly and will not interfere or change his fate.

Fate is unpredictable. If you predict a bad future and try to change it, it may lead to ten times, one hundred times worse results. This is the advice written in the notes by ancient augurs.

Robin thinks that the best choice is to choose to "do nothing". She will not change the future, and will not be moved.

As long as she doesn't make the same mistakes as the past royal augurs, as long as she leaves the stage at the beginning, there will be no problem.

Now, Robin finds herself wrong.

Hidden in the dark all the time, her hobby is just flirting with ordinary people who don't know where their fates are going.

For a long time, she just held the calm attitude of "this child is so pitiful" and "he is about to embark on the road of not returning" to the prince. She just wanted to be a quiet observer away from the stage, but found that her heart can no longer be calm at this moment.

She was touched by the light bathing in Yun Xi.

The sunrise sun and Yun Xi are almost completely overlapped.

Yun Xi at the moment gives Robin a delusion.

He is the sun.

Even if he doesn't do anything, just standing there quietly, he also radiates dazzling light, which makes people unable to look directly at him.

Bathed in the golden-red sunshine, he seems to have a pair of invisible wings behind him, which wrap her body and mind and release the warm breath.

For Robin, who stayed in the dark for too long and saw too much tragedy of the kings from the long river of fate, the light was so pure and warm.

At that moment, Robin was hopelessly occupied, unable to extricate herself.

"This room... is there a curse?" Robin's fingernails almost stabbed into her hands. Nothing would happen if she didn't come to this room. Why did she bring him here?

Is it something left in this room by the previous royal augurs that influenced her judgment?

You are all dead from long ago, my predecessors!

“What?” Yun Xi turns around in doubt.

Although he has turned his back to the sun, the sunlight bathing in Yun Xi is increasing, which makes Robin’s heart beat faster.

Ah, curse, it must be a curse.

All, it’s the fault of this room!

Chapter 735: Dawn of Terror (2)

In the station of the Starwing Knights.

All members of the Starwing Knights, except Mumu, who is going to be princess White Moon’s dowry, and Robin, who is preparing for the wedding ceremony with the prince in the tower, are here.

“Everyone, are you ready?”

“Next, I want to announce something.”

Hua Yue showed a complex expression on her face.

She has been committed to the truth of the “Queen”. However, she did not expect that, in the end, it could be traced back to the age of Assyria, which had become a taboo name.

Why do the kings marry the queen of the mysterious tribe that no one knows?

Why do the queens only appear one day at the wedding, and they will never appear in front of people again?

This secret was finally exposed by Hua Yue’s investigation.

Yes, the kings are all tight-mouthed knights, never divulging the truth about the queen.

The problem is that human beings can dream. The kings who swear to the blood moon will occasionally talk in their dreams.

Then, who can hear these dream words, who will be on the king’s pillow, watching the king, and recording these dream words?

Their identities are mostly similar.

Like Hua Yue, the leader of the Starwing Knights, they are mostly the daughters of the upper-class aristocrats of the kingdom.

The daughter of the duke, the daughter of the count... many of them are even royal branches, they will know when they are very young, they have a certain mission.

The queen will not have a baby with the king. The queen who only appears at the wedding cannot undertake this mission of continuing the kingdom.

It is their mission to give birth to descendants for the royal family and to guarantee the nobility of their blood.

They are the lover of the king, the mother of the prince, and should have been the princess of the kingdom.

However, the kings all followed the tradition. None of them married their lovers.

As if to do so would be to betray the great Queen of Assyria.

They can only hide in the dark, even can't tell others their identity, silently fulfill their responsibilities as lovers.

Only the best one of them will take the responsibility to be the royal augur and master the secret.

They should be the king's princess, but they can't be with the king.

For a long time, as lovers of the kings, they gradually realized some truth and recorded it in unknown notes.

Hua Yue, from the library of her family, found the notes of her elders who used to be the king's lovers, and peeped into the darkest side of the kingdom.

All that is recorded in this is something that the kingdom never wrote in the history books.

It's not the history of the kingdom, it's just the voice of a woman to the one she loves.

Even though these voices never reach the king's ears.

"He went to that place again. I don't know where it is, but he will disappear for a period of time every month. Did he go to the queen?"

"I'm really jealous of the queen. She didn't do anything, but she took his heart away so easily."

"I know that his heart is not with me, I will never get his heart, only his body."

"Even so, I want to stay with him. Is that our destiny?"

"Strange, too strange. His body is so strong, but it has declined day by day. It has been a long time since the last time he touched me!"

"He's been there more and more, and he's getting weaker and weaker, like he's being drained of his life."

“He’s getting older, getting older faster than me, a mortal. This shouldn’t happen, but no matter how I ask him, he just shakes his head and says nothing.”

“Today is the first time I heard him talk in his sleep. Maybe it was because of his weak body. His sleeping time is more and more. The next prince has been appointed. I will accompany him to the end of his life.”

“Ancient gods... blood moon... What are these things? Has he been dealing with these things?”?

“The queen... what is it?!”

“Why does she take away my most important man?”

“He left. Last night with me, he seemed to want to say something, but in the end, he didn’t say anything.”

“Still, so silent and uninteresting, as I knew him when he was young. He still didn’t tell me his secret in the end.”

“But I don’t regret being his lover and having children for him.”

“I still don’t know the secret. I hope that if my children inherit this fate, they can write down what they found.”

This is the diary left by the family's first ancestor who became the king's lover and gave birth to the prince.

As the kings will leave their own notes in the puppet room, their lovers have left similar things in their families.

"Queen, you are my hope, the light of my life, and I swear my allegiance to you, and I am honored to bear this fate."

"This agreement... as long as the royal bloodline is still inherited, it will never fail."

"The great queen is the master of the Forgotten Ruins. Your kingdom will never fall, just like the moon in the sky."

"Your beautiful figure... from the first time I saw you, I made up my mind to protect you even at the expense of everything I had."

The kings are all excellent knights, with the enviable power of the bloodline and the god weapons as an inheritance.

They, naturally, are loved by people.

Most of the time, the king is the strongest hero in the whole kingdom, and even in his sleep, he doesn't say anything.

Only in the last stage of life, when they become weak and go to death, will they occasionally leak out that terrible secret.

In thousands of years, the king was born and died, and the secret that should not have been known is no longer a secret, but all the people who know the secret have hidden the secret.

The queen is not human.

The queen is a demon that devours the king's life.

At the same time, she is the one the king loves.

Chapter 736: Dawn of Terror (3)

The leader of the Starwing Knights, Hua Yue, looked at the other girls with a sad look and her steady voice almost choked.

"I... At first, I was going to accept this fate."

The girls of the Starwing Knights, one by one, fell into silence.

Yes, no matter how unwilling they are, no matter how reluctant they are, as long as the prince decides to marry the mysterious bride, then they can only accept such fate in the end.

Even though the bride doesn't look mature.

Even though all of them have known the prince for a long time, they are confident that their love for the prince will surpass Princess White Moon who came from nowhere.

But the queen was not any of them.

Princess White Moon robbed the man they loved most.

They couldn't accept that! Many of them have been found drunk in the bar recently. Only Hua Yue, the leader of the Starwing Knights, still refuses to admit defeat, and they just try their best to cooperate with her.

Today is the day when the prince gets married.

The investigation of Hua Yue also finally came to a conclusion.

Apart from the girls who have investigated the truth of the bride with Hua Yue, most of the members of the Starwing Knights are confused and uneasy.

"If the queen is really the descendant of some mysterious family..."

"No, it doesn't matter if it's not. Even if she's just a village girl from a remote village, I'll admit that she's qualified to be a queen." Hua Yue looks at the bloody notes in her hands, which are the last traces left by the lovers of the kings from generation to generation.

They all loved the king, many of them were the king's childhood sweetheart.

However, they all became losers. No one really got the king's love.

Even if they gave birth to children for the king, there was no exception.

Every generation of princes inherited the excellent blood of the previous kings. They showed outstanding talent from birth, and even became hero ranked knights before they even ascended to the throne.

A girl who grows up with such a prince will fall in love with the prince... isn't it a natural thing?

Hua Yue herself, also because she likes the current prince and is ready to become his lover, formed the Starwing Knights and recruited so many partners with similar thoughts.

If White Moon, like the queen in the past, only appears once in a hurry with a veil on the wedding day, and then disappears forever, Hua Yue may have accepted her fate as a lover.

She thought that she had a long time to change her fate and stay with the king.

As long as we can stay together forever, it doesn't matter if we don't get married. Anyway, the queen who married the prince is just a symbol.

This to naive fantasy, is recorded in the diary of almost every childhood sweetheart who becomes the lover of the king.

The wedding of the king and queen is only one day.

And the time they spent with the king can be counted from the age of the king, or the prince, accompanying him until his death.

Decades vs one day.

Childhood sweetheart vs the suddenly appearing and disappearing queen.

In any case, it's a battle that can't be lost.

It's amazing that all the children's sweethearts have lost. They have lost completely.

In the diary that Hua Yue saw, all the women were full of hope from the beginning, had never escaped this cycle and thought that they would never repeat the mistakes of their predecessors,

At the end of the diary, they recalled their lives, but never regretted loving the king or choosing to be his lover.

The only thing they don't agree with is the queen.

As the truth was slowly pieced together by them, more than one of them found the flaw about the queen's identity, and finally completed the puzzle about the "queen" from the dream words of dozens of kings.

The queen is not human.

Not only is she not a human being, not even a living creature.

She is immortal. She sleeps in the underground lake that only the king can enter for a long time. Only on the day of marriage can she appear in the sun by using the puppet body.

The whispers of the ancient gods are with her. The cause of death of every king is not natural decline, but swallowed up by the power of the terrible ancient gods.

The root of all this can be traced back thousands of years to the most prosperous queen in the continent, the most powerful queen in the world.

Assyria, the first kingdom where the king once served.

The Queen of Assyria, with her eternal beauty, has been sleeping on the throne of a giant stupid spider for thousands of years.

"Yes, that's the truth."

“I swear by the Starwing Knights, everything I say is true.” Looking at the members of the Starwing Knights, Hua Yue slowly told all the truth that she had found out.

“How could that child not be human!” Not long ago, Xiaomi had held White Moon in her arms. She looked at Hua Yue and shook her head desperately.

“She is not only not a human being, but also an undead queen!” Mei Lan’s body trembled slightly. This truth is amazing. It’s a horror story!

“Prince, do you know the truth? Will you marry her after knowing the truth? Oh, my poor prince.” Ling Ling sighed.

“If the prince marries her, he will die?” Xiao Cao, the deputy leader of the Starwing Knights said, this is the key to everything.

“Yes, if it goes on like this, the prince will die.”

“If he marries the Queen of Assyria, everyone will die.”

“She is a cursed bride, an inevitable fate.”

The voice of Hua Yue becomes more and more low, just like the calm before the storm.

For a while, the whole station of the Starwing Knights was filled with an atmosphere of suffocation.

Chapter 737: Dawn of Terror (4)

“No way!” Ling Ling was the first to raise her hand and shout out.

“Don’t let the prince marry her!”

The fool’s action power is the fastest indeed. Mei Lan thinks the impulse of Ling Ling is so lovely for the first time.

“Yes, in my judgment, it is not right to marry the queen.” Now that Ling Ling had said so, Mei Lan had immediately made the same speech.

“Objection!”

“Objection!”

“Objection!”

“Objection!”

There are first, second, third, fourth... in the end, almost all the members of the Starwing Knights raised their hands.

This is probably the fastest and most orderly meeting of all the meetings of the Starwing Knights.

"I know how you feel." Hua Yue took a deep breath, and her white cheeks even glowed a little red.

Everything is worth it. She never thought that there was such a big secret in the Queen's identity.

This secret has been hidden for thousands of years. Even if someone occasionally finds out about it, it has never been revealed.

Including the king's lovers who finally cracked the queen's secret, no one has ever told the secret to others, only leaving the truth in their most secret diary.

For the queen is the king's choice and the king's agreement.

Thousands of years later, the nonexistent queen has become a part of the kingdom.

They can't reveal the secret, let the king lose his reputation, let people know that there is such a dark side to the wise and great king in their eyes.

Even if they knew the secret, they had no power to change their fate.

No one forced the king to marry the queen. Every generation of the kings voluntarily performed the oath with the Queen of Assyria, and was finally swallowed up by the ancient god.

As lovers of the kings, they can't stop the secret agreement between the kings and the Queen of Assyria. The only thing they can do is try to bear the king's children and continue the bloodline of their loved ones.

This is their only salvation.

Because they love the king so much, they can't say even if they know that the king will fulfill the promise of death.

Besides, apart from this secret agreement with the Queen of Assyria, the kings have never made any mistakes because of their selfish desires, have they?

In the eyes of all people, including those who love them, they are all great kings and heroes of this kingdom.

Perfect heroes don't exist in the world. Even if they have such a secret, they are still outstanding kings, aren't they?

Silently guard the secrets of their loved ones, and take them to the grave. It's also their duty as lovers of the king.

After discovering the secret, they would even prefer the king born with a tragic fate, guarded him like their own children, and watched him to the end.

If in the end, their loved ones will only become tragic heroes, then at least they can help them continue their family's bloodline.

If you can, it's better to have more children.

This is their tenderness to the one they love.

However, Hua Yue does not recognize such gentleness, let alone such a fate.

"Everyone, can you watch the prince die?" Hua Yue has never felt what a great mission she has undertaken.

"No!"

"Absolutely not!"

"We're going to stop him!"

The answer of the Starwing Knights is exactly the voice of Hua Yue.

That kind of fate should be abandoned!

Why did the Starwing Knights gather around the prince?

They are all looking forward to falling in love with the prince, and developing a hot, intimate relationship with the prince.

Yes, just like those lovers who write down diaries and give birth to children for their king.

But the girls of the Starwing Knights were decidedly different from these lovers of the king.

The Starwing Knights are not weak aristocratic girls. They are the most powerful knights in the kingdom with steel discipline and tactical ability. They are super armed groups that dare to fight against the dragon.

Anyone of them has the potential to be a hero!

They are all the elites among the elites. They are all gifted talents.

Before they joined the Starwing Knights, they all had absolute confidence in their own strength.

The Starwing Knights, from the day of its official establishment, are knights belonging to the prince alone. They are his sword, his shield, and his steel, Knights only obeying his orders.

“Remember the oath to join the Starwing Knights?” Hua Yue put her right hand in her heart and repeated the vows that every girl who joined the Starwing Knights would make:

“No matter where the prince is, I will be with him.”

“Where the prince’s sword points is our battlefield.”

“We don’t need to ask who the enemy is, we just need to ask where the enemy is.”

“The Starwing Knights fights for the prince!”

The voice of Hua Yue is getting louder and firmer.

“The Starwing Knights fights for the prince!” Xiao Cao pulls out her god weapon and takes an oath.

“The Starwing Knights fights for the prince!” Ling Ling holds up his full chest and vows bravely.

“The Starwing Knights fights for the prince!” Mei Lan bites her lips.

“The Starwing Knights fights for the prince!”

“The Starwing Knights fights for the prince!”

“The Starwing Knights fights for the prince!”

One voice after another joined in, like a stream converging together, becoming a mighty river, and finally becoming an unstoppable wave, echoing in the residence of the Starwing Knights.

Yes, we will not succumb to such fate!

We want to change the outcome of this tragedy, we want to save the people we love.

No matter what the cost is, even if it's to launch a rebellion, we will not hesitate!

Don't sacrifice the prince's life for peace!

Chapter 738: Dawn of Terror (5)

On the tower, the dawn between the prince and the augur is sweet and hot.

In the Starwing Knights, the dawn belonging to the young knights is vigorous, symbolizing the arrival of a revolution.

In the forgotten ruins away from the crowd, or even forgotten by people, the dawn has not yet arrived.

Wearing a white wedding dress, the queen held the wedding bouquet in her hand, standing quietly in the Forgotten Ruins.

In the underground lake, the young Queen of Assyria sleeps on the throne of the giant stupid spider with a sweet smile.

They are all waiting for a certain moment.

Blood moon, hanging on the two one Queen of Assyria, as always exudes a palpating breath.

“Hiss!”

“Hiss!”

“Hiss!”

The whispers of the ancient gods echoed in the ears of the two Assyria queens. The young Queen of Assyria who was immersed in happiness completely ignored these whispers.

On behalf of “happiness”, she is choosing a new path, and she is gaining her own hope.

In contrast, the queen standing under the blood moon was unable to leave the Forgotten Ruins. She had more and more vivid bloodstains on her abdomen. The time that had been frozen is coming back to her.

Even the original silent Forgotten Ruins was also changed little by little.

The old ruins began to emerge.

It is a memory that has long been lost in the long river of time. The remains of this great kingdom once carved brilliance.

The memory that has long disappeared in the dust of history is recovering.

The first mural depicts the birth of the queen.

The priests in golden robes sprinkled the golden gravel for the queen, and the ancient rituals of Assyria detected her unprecedented magic bloodline with a wild smile.

The former queen gently stroked her child, placed the crown on her, which represented the successor of the Queen of Assyria, and announced that the child of Assyria's destiny had come to the world.

The second mural depicts the queen's girlhood.

The princess who had just grown up to half of her mother's height had been able to suspend herself with her huge magic power. She was surrounded by spirits of fire and ice and snow, which symbolizes that she is the darling of the elements of the world.

The queen who had begun to grow old looked at the princess with dotting eyes, and her spirit deteriorated day by day.

Compared with the vigorous princess, the queen, like the sunset, had gone to the last time of her life.

In the third mural, the princess finally inherited the throne of the queen, took the crown representing the queen, held the magic wand of seven colors, and vowed to all ancestors to lead the kingdom of Assyria to glory.

Beside her, there wasn't the old queen, only knights kneeling in front of her and swearing allegiance to her.

They looked at the queen with enthusiasm as if there were burning flames in their eyes.

The priests in golden robes stood beside the queen and showed some unusual expressions for some unknown reason.

In the fourth mural, the queen became the most dazzling light. The Knights united with her as the center, cleared all the obstacles of the mainland, and really completed the great cause of unifying the mainland.

Even the mighty dragon made an agreement with the queen to leave the continent.

This is the most glorious age of the kingdom of Assyria. The millennium queen is invincible. People firmly believed that the queen is the embodiment of the goddess of victory. Under her leadership, the prosperity of the kingdom will continue forever.

The priests in golden robes looked at the greatest queen with complicated eyes. For some reason, there are bloodstains on their robes. Something invisible seems to be born quietly.

In the fifth mural, the queen showed a sad expression. She had trouble.

One by one, the knights rushed to raise their swords and shields to show the queen their strength.

The princes from the desert tribe sent the most precious animals and treasures just to meet the queen.

A young priest wearing a golden robe, but with bloodstained traces behind him, boldly sent the scepter of divine power to the queen and said something to the queen.

In the end, the queen shook her head and refused everyone.

The lover she wants is not any of them.

The most loyal knight, the richest desert prince, and the most intelligent genius priest were not chosen by her to become her lover.

In the sixth mural, the blood moon comes.

The priests in golden robes went mad one after another.

The chief priest, holding the sacred scepter, laughed as his beard turned into twisted tentacles and his face into an octopus.

The millennium queen turned the wand in her hand into a seven color dagger, killing the once-powerful priests one by one.

The scarlet blood stained the queen's robe and mingled with the blood around her eyes.

The bloody queen killed all the fallen knights who betrayed her and the priests who became monsters, but could not change the fate of Assyria.

The once prosperous city has become a piece of ruins, full of sacrificed corpses, as well as unknown creatures born from the corpses.

Under the blood moon, no one lives forever.

The queen desperately grasped her broken sword and ran through her belly.

There, a newborn baby is slowly opening her eyes, showing deep and dark eyes.

The giant stupid spider falls from the blood moon, guarding the bloody queen, the witch chosen by the ancient gods.

She who gazes at the abyss is also gazed at by the abyss.

In the endless killing and blood, the queen who lost everything eventually became a part of the blood moon and put on the wedding dress with countless blood.

The Queen's wedding, not to marry anyone, but a symbol of the Queen's fall in the blood moon.

The ancient king city has become a ruin. The living creatures who died in the city can't rest in peace. They transformed into monsters who looked like black swords and axes, wandering in the ruins where they used to live.

The millennium queen fell into an eternal sleep, but she was not dead. As the years passed, even death seemed to disappear under the light of the blood moon.

Until this dawn.

The sun is coming.

Even if she can't see the sun rising from the horizon, the millennium queen standing under the blood moon still stares at the far east.

There is a wedding going on there.

The dawn is coming.

Chapter 739: Bell Rings

In the palace.

The little White Moon is wearing a beautiful dress that fits her body perfectly.

Unlike the black wedding dress used to block the influence of the sun in the past, White Moon's wedding dress is pure white, with only a dark red gem inlaid on her chest.

The skirt is slightly opened, and White Moon's body is wrapped by layers of lace, making her look like a fairy from a fairy tale.

"Princess, you must be the most beautiful bride in the world today." The palace official made heartfelt praise.

Prince, it seems that I can understand why you are fascinated by her. She is like a fairy.

"Haha, my little sister is so beautiful." Wearing a slightly smaller dress, only the ornament on the chest was replaced by a silver gemstone, Mumu was joy around White Moon like a wagging little puppy.

"Um... I like this dress." The young Queen of Assyria looked at her white wedding dress with longing eyes.

She looks forward to the wedding with the prince, and the moment when the prince takes off the wedding dress by himself.

With the help of Mumu, she graduated with full marks from the lessons called the wedding.

She has practiced everything with Mumu. What she should do, what she should endure, and what she should face on the wedding night... she has known everything.

Today is the day when she put the knowledge to use.

“Boom!”

“Boom!”

“Boom!”

Seventy-two consecutive cannons exploded in the sky, and the king’s bell rang loudly.

It was the bell of blessing, the wedding bell that would ring only once in one king’s life.

The bells echoed, and through the set sequence, they passed from the palace to the farthest border of the kingdom.

In the light of dawn, almost all the people of the kingdom knew the sacred news.

Their prince, who has grown up, is about to marry the legendary beautiful bride, ascend his throne and become the strongest knight to guard the kingdom.

Today, he will be the strongest king.

On the bell tower, Yun Xi put down the hammer of the bell, took a deep breath, and his eyes became stable.

The wedding is about to start.

In the residence of the Starwing Knights, the eyes of the girl knights were burning with flames.

“The wedding is about to begin.”

In the palace, White Moon combed her long, soft hair and smiled happily.

“To get married? It’s like a dream!”

The two Zakas stood in the crowded street, looking at the cannon shots exploding in the sky with different expressions.

“Humph, it’s just a marriage. Three days later, it will be a funeral.” Desert Dragon Zaka is in a bad mood.

“That’s right. This kingdom is ours. The prince will have to count down for his life when he becomes king.” Ice Dragon Zaka put her white fingertips on her lips and blew a chilling wind of ice and snow, which lowered the temperature of the whole street by ten degrees.

In the distant Forgotten Ruins.

In the cold underground lake.

The bloody adult queen wearing a white wedding dress.

The young queen who slept on the huge stupid spider's web, intoxicated with happiness.

The blood moon is hanging high.

The dawn is coming.

"Ka ra! Ka ra!" A pumpkin-shaped carriage drives into the gate of the royal palace. Green gems are engraved on the rolling body. The whole frame is composed of green vines. The closed pumpkin shell slowly opens to reveal the seats inside.

"Let's go." Yun Xi reaches out to his young bride and smiles at her, who is a little shy and uneasy.

"Um." White Moon bowed her head and let Yun Xi take her to the pumpkin carriage.

The carriage is one of the heritages that the current kingdom inherited from Assyria, and a magic treasure that every generation of king and queen will use when they marry.

It wasn't someone else who made the pumpkin carriage. It was the Queen of Assyria herself.

It was a pure handmade carriage that she imagined in her teenage fantasy. She was eager to go dancing with the prince in a carriage full of fairy tales.

Although the appearance is a carriage, it doesn't need a horse to pull it, but it is driven by the strange magic spirits in the shape of the pumpkin.

This is a magical creation that can freely drive on the earth, sea, and desert.

"Wow, what a lovely carriage!" Mumu, as the bridesmaid, followed White Moon and jumped into the pumpkin carriage. She curiously touched left and right.

"Mumu, don't be naughty." Yun Xi gently knocks on Mumu's small head with a gentle look.

Bridesmaid, it's something that has never happened to a king's wedding in the past. Because of the special identity of the Queen, she can't let others get too close to her.

In the past, the young queen could only use the poor puppets, put on the airtight black wedding dress and veil that no one could see her face clearly, and sat in the pumpkin carriage with the king to watch the crowd around.

No one knows what the queen looks like, and no one can really contact her. That's the secret of the king and the Queen of Assyria.

Only this time, the Queen of Assyria did not need any props to hide her true face.

She can walk in the sunshine, show her true appearance, and enjoy all the blessings and praise.

All the people who saw the appearance of the young queen, whether they were knights from afar or servants who had been working in the royal palace for a long time, could not help but exclaim.

“What a beautiful bride.”

“The prince is so happy to marry such a bride.”

“God, bless the couple. Bless them.”

“The queen is really a peerless little beauty.”

The queen had also received numerous such praises, but none of them is more sincere than at this moment.

“Thank you...” Holding Yun Xi’s hand, the little bride lowers her head and feels her heart beating faster and faster.

“That’s what I should do.” It’s the obligation of the engagement person to send the most perfect puppet to his bride. Yun Xi doesn’t feel that he has done anything shocking.

It’s just a little gift from a boy to a girl.

In the crowd, in addition to praise, there are other thoughts.

“The prince used to like this type.”

“Oh, my daughter has just turned 12 this year. The prince may like her.”

“No, after today, we shouldn’t call him ‘prince’. It’s his majesty.”

“Then, my nine-year-old daughter seems to have hope too...”

Chapter 740: The Beginning of the Wedding

In the streets of the city, there are lots of people. From time to time, magical fireworks are rising in the sky, and colorful patterns are blown out in the sky.

In the eyes of all the people, a pumpkin carriage slowly appeared from the palace.

In front of the pumpkin carriage, there are all armed knights. This is a long-standing royal guard team, the birthplace of many strong knights.

Today, they have taken on a major responsibility again, escorting the prince and queen, who are about to finish their wedding ceremony, to carry out one of the traditions of each sacrifice – the city tour.

Once upon a time, it was the happiest time for the young queen sleeping on the throne of the underground lake.

Only on this day could she descend to the body of the puppet, disguised as the bride and sat in the pumpkin carriage, looking at the surrounding crowd and architecture, feeling the charm of the world in the sun.

However, today, her eyes are more on the prince holding her hand, intoxicated with it.

The world she sees with the black veil is quite different from the world she can enjoy freely now.

White Moon's body has a perfect fit with the world, will not be excluded by the world of sunshine.

What she sees in her eyes are all beautiful things.

All the smells in her nose are delicious.

Compared with what she sees and feels today, the so-called "festival" in the past is so eclipsed.

Before today's wedding, for the young Queen of Assyria, the world was like the light and shadow saw through the window of the cage.

In the endless dark and cold underground lake, such light and shadow can make her heart a little warmer, which is one of her few remaining happinesses.

If she had never walked in the world of sunshine like this, been watched by everyone's eyes, and entwined by everyone's blessings...

However, there is no "if".

Once she feels such beautiful sunshine, such a beautiful world, she will never be able to go back.

She, who has not come to this world, can endure thousands of years of that kind of life, and think that it's a matter of course.

As long as she can endure, everything will be better, and miracles will always appear.

It was with such small hopes and expectations that the young Queen of Assyria had spent the time of long sleep, like the seeds buried in the cold black land, silently enduring everything.

Until finally someone took her hand and led her out of the dark and cold world.

She asked him, "Prince, will you touch my darkness?"

"Swear to me, Prince, then you will be king."

That's the agreement that all kings will make with the great Queen of Assyria, and it's also the reason why this kingdom was founded.

The last knight who did not go mad in the rebellion, but kept his original intention to escape the night of the blood moon, carried the wishes of the Queen of Assyria, and continued to watch the royal city forgotten in the long river of time as a human being.

The kings know what their end will be.

They kneel to the giant stupid spider throne and swear to the immortal Millennium queen under the blood moon.

The queen told them all the truth and the consequences.

“Every part of your body will be the Queen’s thing.”

“Even if you die, you can’t get rid of the Queen’s curse.”

“If you want to touch the dark side of the queen, then listen to the sound of the blood moon.”

“Only nightmares are eternal.”

“Turn yourself into firewood and burn it.”

No king refused this fate. Just like Yun Xi kissing the back of the young queen’s hand, they all bowed down in front of the queen and made a vow.

Wedding ceremony – for kings, it’s a ceremony to sacrifice their lives and future. For the Queen of Assyria, it’s a holiday time. It’s a sweet, memorable dream when she was still a human.

Until Yun Xi produced “White Moon”, which realized the dream that the queen would never realize.

Ice and snow were melting.

Frozen in the thousands of years of quiet time, the seeds bravely bloom their own lives, and strive to stretch out small buds on the dark earth.

“Prince, we are getting married.” The young Queen of Assyria holds Yun Xi’s hand, her face blushing and her heart pumping.

“Yes, it is.” Yun Xi smiles. Since it’s an agreement, he has to fulfill it well.

“You, will you?” The young Queen of Assyria raised her head with a little confusion in her eyes.

“An agreement is an agreement.” Yun Xi touched the young queen’s head. Since an agreement was made, the ceremony must be completed.

It’s just like what Robin predicted. It’s the tradition of the kings to kill the father and marry the mother.

Your majesty, you have worked hard.

“Yes!” With Yun Xi’s reply, the heart rate of the young Queen of Assyria became faster. Although the body of the puppet had no blood, it was shaking constantly, as if there was a voice about to shout out.

Never had such a heartbeat. If this is a dream, do not wake up.

Today, I want to be the happiest bride in the world.

“Sister, look at the sweet couple. Shall we kill them?”

Wearing a mysterious cloak with a big “F” symbol behind her, Ice Dragon Zaka made a gesture to the pair on the pumpkin carriage. She almost took out the gas and torch.

“If Shaheen hasn’t appeared in two days, I’ll set the city on fire!” Desert Dragon Zaka looked at the prince and princess on the pumpkin carriage in a murderous way, but when she saw White Moon, she was a little stunned.

“This little girl looks familiar.”

“Eh, I think so too. She seems to give me an uncomfortable feeling. Can we burn them now?” Ice Dragon Zaka frowns. It’s rare that the sisters reach an agreement on one thing.

The little girl in the white wedding dress gave them a strange feeling. It seems that there is a trace of non-human atmosphere around her.

“How dare you marry such an ominous creature? This prince really wants to die.” After smelling the smell of White Moon, Desert Dragon Zaka smiled happily.

“He must have been unlucky for ten lives. He must have been a playboy with his foot in too many camps.”

“I feel the same way. I knew he was a bad man at first sight. How can he marry such a young girl?” Ice Dragon Zaka sneered, “Lecher, pervert!”