

Starchild 761

Chapter 761: The Wedding of the Blood Moon (15)

Yun Xi can see that. Having gained the power gained by Lvji's wing, he can clearly see the scene that even his teacher, Casina the Battle God, and Longnis the Sky Sword can not see.

The flower of the Holy tree Linga, the legendary White Lotus Secret Treasure, is about to mature.

However, compared with the nearly eternal life of the Holy Tree Linga, this "about" has a very big error in terms of human's concept of time.

It will take at least three years for that flower to fully bloom, and the upper limit maybe a hundred years later.

Not long ago, the breath of the White Lotus Secret Treasure is just a little remnant of this Linga flower, which has brought earth-shaking changes to the whole White Lotus Sword Domain.

When Linga's flowers really bloom, the scene in all of the White Lotus Sword Domain will be unimaginable.

Today's White Lotus Sword Domain is not the unknown remote sword area where Yun Hai the sky sword lived in the past. Although people can't directly observe the existence of the Holy tree Linga, people deduce the future of Linga flower.

Therefore, at the moment, the housing price in the upper-level area of the White Lotus Sword Domain is so expensive. Countless forces are focusing on the White Lotus Secret Treasure that will bloom.

“Just one petal.” Yun Xi did not want to monopolize the White Lotus Secret Treasure.

All he needs is a petal of the White Lotus Secret Treasure to help him solve his current problems.

Although he didn’t understand why the fading green light inside his body told him that he could achieve his wish by borrowing a petal from the Holy Tree Linga.

It sounds like a dream come true. It’s too unrealistic.

“.....” The Holy tree Linga sways, and the bamboo shoot shaped tree body shows layers of lines, which makes Yun Xi immerse in the endless brilliance of wisdom for a moment.

These lines, every trace and every line are the evolution of “rules”. The Holy tree Linga itself is a rare plant-type fantastic creature, the lines it engraves are the interpretation of the mysteries of “wisdom” and “life”. Without the help of Lvji’s power, human beings would never have seen the Holy tree Linga hidden in the deepest world rules.

A small white flower blooms from the Holy tree Linga. It is the flower of wisdom with eight leaves and the true body of the White Lotus Secret Treasure.

According to legend, four leaf grass brings luck, while an eight leaf flower represents the door to endless wisdom.

At the moment, this Linga flower is about to grow, only the last petal is still partially developed.

In the face of Yun Xi's request, Linga generously delivers the petal that has not yet been fully developed to Yun Xi.

This piece of flower petal with countless regular lines, accompanied by a reassuring warm breeze, gently pasted on Yun Xi's lips.

The taste is as soft as a girl's lips.

In a second, Yu Xi's mind exploded.

He saw many, many years ago, someone standing in front of the Holy tree Linga and sighing.

"Why do people care so much about what's in front of them and don't pay attention to the more important future?"

"If I can hold everything, can I find true happiness in the track of the present, the past and the future?"

"I don't know. I don't understand people's hearts. Mathematics is more suitable for me."

Yun Xi looked at that figure, and there is a kind of familiar nostalgia.

"Ah, this is a conspiracy!"

“When the masters saw my theory, they would blow their beards and stare at me. They would take out the elf against me. Maybe they would cry out why there is a cat in this world!”

“Hopefully, in the end, they will like my gift to the world.”

Sitting under the Holy tree Linga, someone started a huge conspiracy.

“A little cat that exists and doesn’t exist, a cat can subvert the truth of the world and make them doubt life.”

“A lie, repeated for a thousand years, makes everyone believe that it is right, and then it becomes a truth. Isn’t it?”

“So if you want to practice this sword skill, you have to learn to lie, but you don’t lie.”

“You have to learn to deceive the whole world with the power of lies.”

“The best lie is never to lie directly, but to make them think that’s right. Only in this way can everything be explained.”

“The truth of the universe and human stupidity will never change, so lies will become true and change the world.”

Yun Xi looked at the familiar and strange figure in amazement, and finally understood what he saw.

That is his most respected person in the White Lotus Sword Domain. He told the truth under the Holy tree Linga.

Everything comes from a lie, a lie that deceives the world and makes the world believe it.

Perhaps, this is no longer a lie, but part of the truth.

What he wants to say and create will be a sword skill that will shock the whole of the endless god's domains.

It is precise because Yun Xi is the inheritor of this sword skill, so now we can understand how shocking and incredible the truth is.

A cat that exists and doesn't exist.

Language and cognition.

Behavior and phenomenon.

Heart and body.

Yun Hai the Sky Sword's cat does not exist. At least, before he raised the question, the mathematicians and even the gods in the endless god's domains never considered the cat.

That is to say, before Yun Hai told the "lie", the cat did not exist, while Yun Hai put forward his theory that this cat, which made countless people extremely painful and suspicious of life, came into the world.

Obviously it is a lie, but even the gods are immersed in it.

Obviously, it doesn't exist, and even can't complete the observation, but it makes countless mathematicians crazy, and even wants to kill this ghost cat.

That is the lie that Yun Hai the Sky Sword told to all of the endless god's domains, a lie that no one can determine, can not give specific rules, and even can't list mathematical formulas, which is full of contradictions.

People can't doubt the existence of the cat that Yun Hai said, because Yun Hai has defeated countless opponents with his Yun Hai's Quadrant Sword and embarked on the road of becoming the Sky Sword.

Mathematicians tortured by the mysterious cat refused to acknowledge the existence of the cat, but could not turn a blind eye to the nonexistent cat.

For those who study the "world's rules", they have lost their common mind when they found the cat.

The more they oppose the existence of the cat, the more they fall into it.

Chapter 762: The Wedding of the Blood Moon (16)

Mathematicians are all hopelessly paranoid.

Before Yun Hai the Sky Sword asked the question about the cat, mathematicians throughout the endless god's domains were carrying out an unprecedented project.

This project has been helped by almost all the great beings in the endless god's domains.

From gods to demons, and even the nameless things hidden in the abyss, they joined hands to give the greatest assistance to the largest project in the history of the endless god's domains.

The essence of this project is to gather all the mathematical formulas and theories together to form a perfect self-consistent system.

Just as one plus one is bound to be two, the sun rises from the eastern horizon and sets on the western horizon. This project is ambitious to define the source of truth in the world and interpret all phenomena with perfect mathematical formulas.

Odd, even.

Infinite cycle, infinitely large, infinitely small.

The sum of any odd number, the sum of any even number, all the proportional arrangements, formulas, all have to get the perfect solution!

They want to prove that mathematics is the highest truth in the world, the highest wisdom that can explain everything and weave everything.

With the participation of many gods, this seemingly impossible task has been constantly pushed forward. This organization, which has gathered the wisdom of the entire endless god's domains, once let people see the highest level mathematical pyramid of the entire endless god's domains.

From the basics such as the "Nine Chapters of Arithmetic" and "Geometric Principles" to the higher stage of "Calculus" and "Algebra", to the "Physical Origin" and "Astronomical Observation" of the most advanced theories.

This perfect pyramid belonging to mathematicians is being cast day by day. Everyone feels that they will become the witness of the truth, the founder of this unprecedented mathematical pyramid.

These great mathematicians with different identities and races once felt that they were the people closest to the truth, and that the world's most magnificent project was about to be completed in their generation.

Some optimistic people even thought that as long as there is this mathematical pyramid, even human beings with short lives can find a way to break through the hero rank and even the legend rank.

Because no matter how difficult the problem is, it can be solved, can't it?

They built this miraculous mathematical pyramid just to solve all the problems in the world and give the answers to all the phenomena and theories in a mathematical way.

As long as this pyramid is completed, human beings and other intelligent creatures will enter a new era.

This is the biggest reason why gods and even demons have joined the study, because it is a theoretical path to "infinite truth".

Just as the Mechanus God's Domain's ultimate scientific fantasy "cyber elf with infinite computing power", mathematicians are eager for such power.

But instead of using the almost impossible infinite computing power, they use formulas and logical reasoning to build a pyramid of truth.

At least, this is a closer approach to truth than the Mechanus God's Domain's fantasy.

Fanatical mathematicians have even predicted the completion time of this pyramid of mathematical truth.

The fastest maybe decades?

The longest maybe a few hundred years.

They will master the mathematical formula, remove the errors, expand more applications, and ultimately complete a high degree of autonomy like building blocks. As long as the question is within this system, all mathematical problems can be solved.

It seems that this is the future that anyone can see, an exciting miracle.

Until mathematicians met the cat.

To be exact, it is a theory that someone at a certain point in time brings to the world, to all mathematicians who cling to the truth of the world.

In the beginning, that question was a “question about the life and death of a cat” that a mathematician regarded as a joke.

Next, it became “the question of whether this cat exists or not”.

Then mathematicians went crazy and found that they couldn't give the cat a life or death answer because either answer seemed wrong.

How can this be possible? How can this kind of problem exist in this world?!

Why does this cat's life become like this!

What kind of monster is it!

Mathematicians unable to give a perfect answer realized that the cat was no longer a cat itself, but a part of the “world truth”.

They can't answer whether the cat is dead or alive, which means that there is a fatal contradiction in the perfect mathematical pyramid.

It is not that one of the drawings is wrong, but that there is a structural error at the bottom of the pyramid.

Because of this cat, the pyramid that should have been the greatest project in the history of the endless god's domains collapsed.

The slogans of mathematicians who adhere to the classical theory are as follows:

"I firmly believe that the existence of this cat is not right!"

"I'm going to eat that cat!"

"Damned cat, I'll kill it with a sword!"

"I don't believe it. I'd rather if there were no cats in the world!"

"Yun Hai, give me the cat, I'll fight with you!"

These voices eventually turned into one thick academic work after another, accusing Yun Hai the Sky Sword, the man who broke the classical mathematical theory to pieces.

There was even a striking agreement among the classical mathematicians that there was definitely a problem between Yun Hai and the nonexistent cat, a big problem.

The new mathematicians who accepted Yun Hai the Sky Sword's theory had to change their world outlook and admit the existence of the cat.

"A Study of the Life and Death of a Cat!"

"The Ghost Cat in the History of Mathematics."

"Thirty-Six Ways to Test whether the Cat is Dead or Alive."

Since this cat has been haunting the history of mathematics like a ghost, human beings have had a great doubt about the classical mathematical theory which is obtained through daily experience, and has found more things close to the nature of the world.

It turns out that there is no such thing as a perfect solution in the world. The mathematical pyramid that classical mathematicians want to cast, did not exist at the beginning.

The truth of the world is never something that can be described by formulas, but is full of uncertainty, and full of chaos.

And it all comes from one person's lies.

He succeeded in deceiving the world and trampled on all classical mathematics with a cat that could not be described, neither existence nor nonexistence, neither alive nor dead.

Chapter 763: The Wedding of the Blood Moon (End)

“I see... this is the truth of Yun Hai’s Quadrant Sword.” Yun Xi gapes at the history of the Sky Sword presented by the Holy Tree Linga.

Yun Hai cheated the whole world and changed the whole world.

“So sometimes I don’t have to worry too much. That’s not something people like me should worry about.”

“If I come across a ridge that I can’t cross in any case.”

“If it’s a problem that can’t be solved by any means.”

“Then, lie.”

“If I deceive the world, I succeed.”

Under the Holy Tree Linga, the figure who will become one of the greatest sky swords in the Sky Sword God’s Domain in the future has made a decision, a decision that will later affect the whole Sky Sword God’s Domain and make countless mathematicians cry and curse him.

“This problem is decided to be related to cats.”

“Well, because I like cats.”

Yun Xi nodded in agreement. He did not have the extraordinary mathematical talent and deduction ability of Yun Hai the Sky Sword, but only this point was similar.

Two people in different worlds like cats. They both see the cat that exists and doesn't exist, neither alive nor dead. The cat that steps on the world line gracefully.

It is so incredible that it cannot be described in any language.

“I see!”

“I can do it in this way!”

For a moment, Yun Xi was so blessed that he suddenly thought of how to use the petal of Linga, 1/8 of White Lotus Secret Treasure.

“It's a dream, and it's not a dream.”

“It's a trial, and it's a new world.”

“Who can tell whether the world is real, whether I am dreaming or a butterfly in this world is dreaming?”

“Maybe everything in this world is not true.”

Yun Xi kisses the petal that sends out the wonderful breath of life, and begins to lie bravely to the world, to the wedding of the blood moon, which is about to trigger a world-scale tragedy.

So the story begins.

“A long time ago... no, maybe a long time later...”

“About a thousand years after the fall of the ancient kingdom of Assyria... No, it’s the first year after the new kingdom was established.”

“There was a prince who met his beloved.”

“As the prince grows older, it is time for him to have to get married, and he is distressed because he has so many lovers.”

“So, he began to be distressed and confided his heart to the girls who might be his brides.”

“The first bride, who was the first to make an appointment with him, a queen came from an ancient royal family.”

“The queen is proud and beautiful.”

“The queen is clever and kind.”

“The Queen’s country is from a distant world, and is called Assyria!”

“Answer me, my queen, would you like to be my princess?”

In the sky above the Royal City, the Queen of Assyria lowered the Queen’s Blade, which almost penetrated Ice Dragon Zaka’s heart again, and her eyes fell into a bewilderment.

The blood moon in the sky seems to have been influenced by some kind of wonderful power. A beam of light is put on this battlefield, covering the Queen of Assyria and the prince who suddenly appears in front of her.

“I’m... willing to...”

“Be your princess with you.” The Queen of Assyria gave her answer, but her eyes were more or less confused.

Why am I the princess?

“Thank you. It’s my pleasure to be loved by you, your majesty.” The prince bravely hugged the confused queen and let her indulge in sweet talk.

“The first princess is the Princess of Assyria.”

“Then the prince found the second girl... she’s a child of her majesty, a doll princess with the sense of self.” At this point, there was a distinct pause in the voice.

This is really too much! Even if it is a story, it is too much. Why is this reality? It must be the fault of the world!

“Princess, would you like to be the prince’s unique treasure?”

“Put on the most beautiful clothes and the most gorgeous jewelry for you. You are the most beautiful princess in the world. You are the little princess loved by the prince.”

“You are the prince’s princess.”

Ah, what a childish trick to lure a little girl! Forgive me, White Moon.

“Well, I love dad.”

“Marry Dad!”

White Moon raised her hand obediently and responded to the prince's proposal. The black flame demon bug under her feet shook his head discontentedly and withdrew from the battlefield.

"In this way, the prince married the second princess, Princess White Moon... Her majesty and the princess are reconciled."

The voice announced the result helplessly, but the story is not over.

"What? What's going on?" There are burning marks all over the body of Desert Dragon Zaka, who has not yet found out the situation, but the fighting spirit is still burning in her eyes.

She didn't lose. It's better to say that she, with the greatest support from the original dragon, now dares to fight against the ancient gods.

"The princess from the desert is angry, because the prince did not wait for her to come back, but he is going to get married and go back to his hometown."

"She rushed to the wedding and asked in a loud voice why didn't he wait for her."

"The prince tried to comfort the princess from the desert, so he had a fierce fight with her."

The brilliance of Starwings and the golden-red sword light once again knocked down the Star of the Sand and the girl's heart.

“In the end, in the middle of the desert, they hugged and kissed each other.”

“The princess from the desert said that if the prince is willing to build the most gorgeous and dazzling nest for her, she will recognize the prince’s love and marry him.”

“So the third bride came to the prince’s side.”

“She is the prince’s third princess... Princess Zaka.”

At this stage, the story should have ended. However, after feeling the dangerous existence that was going to release the ice-typed forbidden spell, the narrator has to continue this bullshit story.

Maybe this time, I will fail. The narrator of the story has such an awareness.

“Finally, the prince met the mysterious and dangerous ice princess.”

“She has long hair, magical eyes, and she hates the prince very, very much.”

“The prince was moved by the girl and bravely proposed to the girl who could not agree to his proposal.”

“What happened!”

“She, she agreed!”

This result shocked the narrator!

“I will never let you insult my sister’s body!”

“Marrying you is only for the sake of protecting my sister!”

“I won’t even let you touch my sister’s finger as long as I’m here.”

Well, the end of the story is happy. Maybe that’s good?

Therefore, on this day, the prince married four brides with different personalities and wonderful relationships.

This is also the story of the first year of the beginning of the new kingdom, a thousand years after the destruction of the Kingdom of Assyria.

It’s a story that happened a long, long time ago... no, it’s a story that will happen long, long time later.

Chapter 764: Lies Save the World

The blood moon disappeared from the sky.

People, as if nothing had happened, were cheering for the prince's wedding. They could not see that the blood moon had seized their senses just now, shouting "long live the queen!" and "The princess is the most lovely!".

Now, of course, they're still in a frenzy.

Because today is the prince's wedding day.

There are four princesses who marry princes.

The first princess, from the ancient kingdom of Assyria, was a proud and beautiful queen.

She stood on the prince's right side with a smile. She wore a white wedding dress and held the biggest bouquet in her hand.

She is worthy of being the most suitable princess! Noble and elegant, she and the prince are a perfect match.

The second princess, also from the ancient kingdom of Assyria, is a lovely little princess.

She was wearing a gorgeous princess dress and looked more like a baby princess doted on by the prince than the bride. She was innocent, holding Mumu's hand, standing in front of the prince, enjoying the prince's touch from time to time.

Finally, there were the third and fourth princesses.

The two princesses, with different colored horns on their foreheads, show their preternatural identity.

One of them is the overlord of the desert, and the other is the king of the ice field.

Desert dragon Zaka, Princess of the most powerful Dragon Kingdom on the mainland.

Ice Dragon Zaka, sister of Desert Dragon Zaka, ruler of the emerging country of the north.

They are both extremely powerful dragon girls. As the object of marriage, they make a marriage contract with the prince.

The prince who married these four princesses is undoubtedly the happiest person in the world.

At the same time, it is also the beginning of the Kingdom's glory. To marry these four princesses means that the prince has the support of the whole world.

People think of the moment when the prince was born, the prophecy made by the ancient augur to the newly born prince.

“Prince, your future is very great.”

“You are the hope of the world, the next king.”

“The day you were born, everyone was cheering for you.”

“Even if there is an evil dragon, it can’t hide your glory.”

“The gods are watching you. You are the only one born by destiny.”

“Let us be your power, our prince.”

Yes, the prophecy has come true now. The prince, through the power of love, even the terrible dragons are willing to be the prince’s bride.

He is the son of destiny in people’s minds, and he is destined to be the strongest king.

He is the greatest knight, the most perfect king, the hope of the world, the chosen one!

Today is the day when the prince marries four princesses and brings peace to the world.

The wedding is for the prince!

The Starwings knights on the stage witnessed the history of this miracle.

“What happened?” Hua Yue covered her mouth and looked at the prince, who was in the middle of the four brides, with a helpless expression as if saying “It’s not my fault, it’s the fault of the world!”.

Why? Have they been sealed for 10,000 years in a time crack?

When did the blood moon disappear? Are they still on the original world line? Why did they suddenly make up and began to accept the cheers of the people with the prince?

What about the first princess, the second princess, the third princess and the fourth princess?

Isn’t there only one mysterious queen in this kingdom who has been proved to be the terrible Queen of Assyria?

What happened?

“Ah, I forgot to tell them a story.”

Someone who is surrounded by four brides finds that he lies incompletely.

After Linga's petal let him tell the story, there was no room for him to influence the Starwings Knights who were not in the story. As his Starwings Knights, they instinctively discovered the truth of the lie.

Only this time, they did not stand up again to interrupt the wedding, but tolerated his caprice and this lie.

"Well done, Prince." On the tower of the palace, the mysterious augur was laughing.

Yes, she didn't know how the Prince did all this, how to let the blood moon come, and how he turned the bad end into a wedding.

However, she doesn't need to care about the process, she just needs to get the result.

This is also the ultimate realm of prophecy. She knows when and what will happen, just as the prince will kill his father and marry his mother and reach the peak of his life.

This wedding is bound to be a success, because that is the general trend of history.

"What kind of play was that?" The dark demon dog prince in the crowd felt that he had seen something very abnormal.

It seems that the four brides all like the prince who is not handsome at all.

I really don't understand the idea of human women! He looks so ordinary, as if he is a bakery owner from a remote town, but he can win so many girls' love.

Sure enough, my furry golden princess is the best! Human beings are amorous creatures. But I'm different! I'm devoted to my dream lover.

"Really... interesting..." Similarly, the elf who is not in the prince's story smiles and looks at his companion who has entered the next stage of his life.

It's a happy thing to meet people you like and marry them.

Perhaps there will be a lot of setbacks in your future, you will encounter a lot of ups and downs.

However, as long as you are with the people you like, you can cross the hurdle.

In the name of Lvluo, I wish you and your princesses.

"Mumu gets married!"

Therefore, in the cheers of Mumu, the wedding ceremony started again in the eyes of the Starwings knights who began to doubt their lives.

"I would like to be with them."

“Whether I’m poor or rich, whether they are healthy or diseased, I’ll take care of them, love them, and treat them as my family.” Yun Xi took the oath in front of the duke in sweat and began to exchange rings with four brides.

He was really worried about whether the next second these terrible brides would show their true faces.

The Queen of Assyria will become the queen in a bloody wedding dress again.

White Moon will call out the black flame demon bug that burned everything up again.

Desert dragon Zaka will make the Star of the Sand fall from the sky again.

Ice Dragon Zaka will use the forbidden spell “Ice Land” again.

How long can Linga’s story deceive the world?

Chapter 765: The Third Zaka

The day the prince married his four princesses.

The people cheered to celebrate the day when the ancient kingdom entered a new page in history.

Far away in the middle of the continent, surrounded by the Forgotten Ruins, a green light rises from the dragon’s nest!

Then, as if something terrible was brewing, the whole central mountains were shaking.

A great earthquake is coming!

First, there was a deafening noise, then a deep gasp when the earth trembled. Countless spider web cracks appeared on the ground and then became bigger and bigger. Finally, it completely tore apart the ancient ruins that had existed for thousands of years.

It seems that there is a black demon raging here, it has walked down the streets, broke the bridge, crushed the tower, and pulled apart all the stone pillars one by one.

Scattered palace ruins, half water tower... the ruins gradually collapsed and came to an end.

All of the Forgotten Ruins are beginning to be shrouded in fog. Lime, loess, coal dust, soot, and the dead matter of a city's destruction are mixed into a gray fog.

The thick fog floated, rising one after another, like a curtain slowly suspended in the air, silently enveloping the ruins and the silent city of Assyria.

However, this is not the end.

There is a greater, more ferocious force that has not been released deep underground.

They are waiting, waiting for the awakening of a great life, the most fierce and craziest creature bred by the original dragon's green light.

Originally, it would have taken longer for her to be born, but now, under the anger of the original dragon, her birth date has been greatly advanced.

The earthquake was a sign of her awakening.

However, it's not enough. It's not enough to just push down the Forgotten Ruins where the original dragon was suppressed.

The original dragon's anger is a more terrifying force!

"Boom!"

"Boom!"

"Boom!"

It was the roar of the earth. It was the roar of some kind of force, like the heartbeat of the world.

"Dong!"

In the endless hot magma, a huge eye opened. It was a vertical dragon eye, the eye of a murderous dragon.

The shadow of the red dragon is taking shape in the depth of magma.

She is the king of fire, crimson dragon, is the most violent, the most domineering dragon!

The third Zaka is out of the shell!

In response to her rage, the entire crust of the Forgotten Ruins began to melt, and tens of millions of tons of magma erupted from the depths of the earth.

It was a more tyrannical and devastating natural disaster than Ice Dragon Zaka's Ice Land spell. It was a big earthquake that could erase a country from the earth!

What's more, it's the end of the final magma eruption, the end of the core collapse!

About 30 meters long, the red giant dragon is flying above the mushroom cloud, sending out the roar of the dragon that shakes the world.

The crimson Dragon Roar Waves spread layer by layer. This is a unique skill that even Desert Dragon Zaka and Ice Dragon Zaka have not yet mastered. Everything covered by the Dragon Roar Waves has been smashed and melted, and the central part of the continent has been completely turned into a sea of lava.

This is Fire Dragon Zaka, the third of the four sisters, the king of fire.

She is more destructive than Desert Dragon Zaka and Ice Dragon Zaka combined. She is undoubtedly the strongest of the four Zaka sisters except for the last Black Dragon Zaka.

She was born to bring disaster to the world, just as the red dragon is the typical embodiment of the evil dragon. Her ferocity is more than ten times that of her sister, Desert Dragon Zaka.

“I will avenge my sisters!” Flying above the sea of lava, the third Zaka looks at the East where the two Zakas were buried with hate filled crimson eyes, and is ready to set out to turn the last kingdom of mankind into a sea of fire.

She must avenge her sisters!

Just as the red fire dragon was about to rush into the sky, the green light suddenly flashed, interrupting Zaka, who was already ready to sprint, and gave her a 90-degree deflection coordinate.

“Not going to the East for the time being? Why? My sisters died there!” The roar of Fire Dragon Zaka rang through the sky, unable to understand the green light’s purpose.

The green light flashed over and over again, and continued to point to the south of the continent.

“No, I’m going to avenge my sisters. I’m going to burn!” Even the guidance of the great mother could not change Fire Dragon Zaka’s outrage.

The green light eventually had to send a message telling Fire Dragon Zaka why she had to go south first.

Because there is a pair of twin sisters who will threaten the original dragon.

“I see. Just eat them!”

Finally, unable to defy the will of the green light, Fire Dragon Zaka roared, spread its wings, and flew to the southern forest region, one of the two remaining human settlements.

There is the target she wants to annihilate – the only twin witches in the world who can threaten the great original dragon.

After eating the twin witches, she will immediately go to the East and wipe out the last kingdom of mankind from the mainland.

Fire Dragon Zaka, do what she says.

“Sister, ah.”

In the palace, Ice Dragon Zaka is holding a bowl of frozen lotus seed porridge and feeding her sister Desert Dragon Zaka with a happy expression.

The first thing she did after her marriage was to use her right as a princess to let the cooks in the palace cook a lot of delicious food for her.

Ah, this is so happy. How can human food be so delicious?

“I’m ok if my sister is happy.” Ice Dragon Zaka also enjoyed it. Oh, such a confused and greedy sister! She is really lovely.

“It always seems that we have forgotten something. Is it a delusion?” Desert Dragon Zaka blinked. It seemed that she had forgotten something important.

“Forget the prince. I’m very happy to be with you, my sister.” Ice Dragon Zaka got close to Desert Dragon Zaka’s plump chest. From the first time she touched the soft chest, she was captivated.

The fragrance of my sister is so delicious.

Sister’s silly appearance also made me want to tease her.

She didn’t want to leave her sister for a moment.

That’s why she can’t help but agree to the proposal of the prince who doesn’t look handsome at all. That guy really knows how to use dirty means.

Obviously, as long as her sister is with him, she can't leave at all.

In the Royal City, on the highest astrological tower.

"Congratulations, Prince. No, it's the king now." Robin, dressed in a black robe, looks at Yun Xi with a smile on her face.

"Did you foresee the day before you told me that future?" Yun Xi is very suspicious that she has been watching his own jokes.

The lies woven from Linga petal have successfully deceived the four brides and the people of the whole kingdom.

However, this is only one-eighth of the real White Lotus Secret Treasure after all, and it can not make a complete change in the world line. The affected areas are only limited within the kingdom, and there is no spare power to change the cognition of other hero ranked strong people.

In other words, it's not a perfect lie, but it works.

Although the four princesses believed it, the Starwings Knights were not woven into the story. They saw the truth.

In particular, the augur in front of him had already known that this would happen, and she had been waiting on the tower for a long time.

“The future is infinite. Who knows what kind of future will appear?”

“I’m just more confident in you, my prince.”

“If it is you, no matter what kind of adversity, you can break through.”

“Even if you can’t win, at least you can run away.”

“Sometimes, it’s shameful to run away, but it’s very useful.” Robin smiles at Yun Xi, who should have reached the peak of his life.

“Tell me all the prophecies. I think you’ll kill me sooner or later.” After completing the achievements of “killing his father and marrying his mother” and “lying loudly to the world”, Yun Xi felt that he had become farther and farther away from being a gentleman.

In this world, how can there be a gentleman who married four princesses after killing his father and marrying his mother!

“Yes, the prophecy goes on.” Robin nodded, and the next prophecy was still full of crisis. Rather, the prophecies she gave were all of this type.

Only tragedy can make people leave the deepest impression.

Similarly, only ominous predictions can make people pay more attention to their own lives.

Several bright red birds fly to Robin's shoulders and begin to laugh at Yun Xi who has just cheated the world and cursed him.

This is Robin's way of prophecy – Blood Robin's Unfortunate Prophecy.

“The first princess, who loves to wear blood-stained wedding dresses, sneaks out every night and pokes with a broken sword. What is she poking at?”

“The second princess likes cute dolls. She sleeps with them every day. One day, the doll disappears, but the doll comes back. Her big eyes are lovely, and her small hands and feet are lovely.”

“The third princess is so stupid that she can only eat. What she eats today is hands; yesterday she was feet; tomorrow she wants to eat a heart. She can't stop eating.”

“The fourth princess is very jealous. The person she likes, likes someone else. The person she likes is a big cunning liar. Her scissors have been ground. Do you want to know the correct usage of scissors and dogs?”

Listen to the prophecy, Yun Xi's forehead was full of sweat.

Ah, his princesses are really abnormal, and he married these four princesses at the same time! He is looking for his own death!

This trial is really terrible!

“The king is dead. Why is he dead again?”

“The king wants to escape, but he can’t escape anywhere. Human beings are such sad creatures.”

“Stupid king, we will not tell you that there is a greater disaster in the south, and you will surely die.”

“You need to go all the way west, all the way west, all the way west, to challenge the most terrible things!”

“The ancient ruins have collapsed, and the dragon of doom is about to wake up.”

“In this world, no one lives forever.”

Blood birds sing together, as if they have seen through the end of the world.

“It’s really... no matter how I look at it, I won’t have a happy end.” Yun Xi clearly knows the world’s malice towards him.

The world is really unfriendly to the human race. It is better to say that if he does not come, all humans will be killed by the dragons.

“Even so, you want to change something, don’t you?” Robin looked at the prince, showing a gentle expression.

“Yes, I want to do something even if the world is doomed to be destroyed.” Yun Xi knows that this time, the situation is really out of his control.

Before entering this trial world, he didn’t expect that the world was so difficult.

Just two Zakas show the ability to destroy the world, and the real evil dragon hasn’t come out yet.

The “original dragon” he heard from the two Zakas... how powerful is this final boss?

The end of the world, the terminator of the world. It is the original and also the destruction. Before its appearance, it has caused great pressure on Yun Xi.

“Witches of the south? They may be the hope of saving the world.” Yun Xi, who got a hint from Robin’s unfortunate prophecy, made a decision.

This is the third side quest. It’s time to accomplish it.

“Well, take this and go to the witches.” Robin took out a contract and handed it to Yun Xi.

“What is this?” Yun Xi takes over the important prop given by Robin in a daze.

It seems that this contract has been for some years, not a modern thing.

“In the name of myself, I hope to make an eternal covenant with the last descendants of the great Assyria, the holy witches.”

“As the successors of the kingdom of Assyria, both sides will keep the secrets of her Majesty, the great queen, and jointly guard the last glory of Assyria.”

“When the disaster comes, may we join hands and stand on the same front.”

Yun Xi understood that this was the agreement between the first king and the southern witches, the proof of the great Knight.

“Look at the back, that is the point!” Robin looks at Yun Xi and gives him an important hint.

“Hereby noted: the holder of this contract can marry the witches.”

“What is this?” Yun Xi looks at Robin who seems to know everything.

“It is, of course, the legal contract of marriage to the holy witches.” Robin gave a serious answer.

Chapter 766: The Condition for Saving the World is...

“Why! Why is this a marriage contract? Shouldn’t the content be something like ‘watch the enemy and help each other’?” Yun Xi looked at Robin, almost exasperated.

He did not know anything about the people in the southern forest.

It’s a human branch that, like his kingdom, splits from the ancient kingdom of Assyria.

However, the ancestor of his kingdom, the “original knight” chose the way of knighthood and continued to guard the ruins of ancient Assyria, while the one who was originally the “priest” fled to the remote southern forest and chose the road of seclusion.

They did not exist in the form of a kingdom, but became a separate tribe, and developed a unique witch system.

The witches are the incarnation of God and the representatives of the sacred and inviolable God.

Witches are not allowed to marry. They guard an ancient covenant and are chosen from the best girls of the tribe.

They firmly believe that the witch will become the Savior of the world, the noblest existence in the world, and the successor of the truly great Assyria.

Now, the covenant tells Yun Xi that the witches had made an agreement with the first king long ago, and noted on the back that the covenant had special conditions.

“Well... it is because marriage is always the most direct and effective means of covenant. Prince, you are already a king. You should understand.” Robin looks like she is going to laugh, and seems to be full of sympathy for what Yun Xi is going to do next.

“I know! I know!” Yun Xi gnawed his teeth and gazed at the marriage contract, which was written many generations ago.

“But I’ve never heard of a king marrying a witch, which never happened.”

There is only one queen of the king. That is the eternal beautiful queen, the great Queen of Assyria.

As knights, kings have never married other princesses, and there is always only one master in the king’s palace.

Until his generation, he not only married the Queen of Assyria, but also married the daughter of the Queen of Assyria, White Moon, not to mention Desert Dragon Zaka and Ice Dragon Zaka. He has achieved the epic mission of “Marrying Four Princesses”.

“Of course, it’s because the kings loved the queen so much that they didn’t plan to marry the witch.” Robin was happy to tell her king that answer.

“So this covenant has never been used.”

“In fact, according to the records, there were still a few witches who had expressed their affection for the kings.”

“It’s just that all the kings were so devoted that they couldn’t fulfill this additional condition.”

“Over time, the witches gave up.”

“But you, Prince, you don’t have this problem.” When it comes to this, Robin’s smile’s even more brilliant.

“Now you have married four princesses, it won’t hurt to have more. Hua Yue, Xiao Cao, Lulu, and Xiaomi are all waiting for you.”

“You will be responsible for the Starwings Knights, right?”

Robin’s words hit Yun Xi hard!

Robin’s critical strike adds fire penetration, frost penetration, and lightning penetration, ignoring Yun Xi’s defensive resistance.

Robin did 10,000 damage to Yun Xi!

Yun Xi conceded!

“That... You know, it was a special situation...” Yun Xi is sweating.

“Well, the situation was special, so we forgive you, but we don’t pretend to see nothing.”

“Since you have married four princesses, it doesn’t matter if we enlarge the palace.” Robin’s face turned a little red.

“I’m also a member of the Starwings Knights...”

Robin’s language caused extra damage to Yun Xi.

This damage is not included in fire penetration, frost penetration, and lightning penetration. It cannot be neutralized by armor or shield.

It’s chaos damage that ignores defense!

Yun Xi surrendered!

“The world... It’s terrible...” Yun Xi lamented.

At this time, if only there were more Linga’s petals!

If the time can go back to when he just entered the world, he would make a wish with the Linga petal.

“My parents died when I was a child!”

“No one loves me!”

“No one knows me, and no one will notice me!”

Unfortunately, there has never been such an option!

“Prince, you have changed your destiny and made more people happy.”

“This time, please try your best.”

“If there are more princesses, world peace will be around the corner.” Robin leads Yun Xi a good way away.

“If I had more wives, I would have died more miserably.” Compared with Robin’s optimism, Yun Xi always feels his future is dark.

“It is said that the twin witches are gentle and virtuous. They are first-class brides.” Robin takes out the professionalism of a matchmaker and introduces Yun Xi to his engagement partner.

“Gentle?” Yun Xi remembers the beautiful figure holding the Red Lotus Demon Sword and burning everything.

“Virtuous?”

“Die! Die! Die!”

Red Lotus waved her Red Lotus Demon Sword while seeing Yun Xi, just like a red demon.

Let alone White Lotus, does Red Lotus have anything to do with “gentle” and “virtuous”?

“Well, that’s what intelligence says. There should be no mistake.” Robin looks at Yun Xi strangely. Is he dissatisfied with this marriage contract?

The twin witches are heroes with no less reputation than the prince, and they are beauties well-known in the whole human world.

Marry this pair of witches... Prince, what are you dissatisfied with?

The covenant is sacred. Although all the kings have devoted themselves to marrying the Millennium Queen of Assyria, no one has fulfilled the conditions attached to this covenant, but the covenant is a covenant.

As long as the prince takes this covenant to propose to the twin witches, the success rate should be 100%.

“Can I not go?” Yun Xi looks at Robin with an almost desperate look, as pitiful as a pet going to an animal hospital.

“Prince, you have no choice.” Robin shook her head.

Her prophecy has never been wrong. The prince is charged with the mission of saving the world.

Since he had married four princesses, he was the only one who could carry out the covenant.

Perhaps, when the first king and the witches concluded this contract, he did not think that such a rebellious prince would appear in his descendants.

“If you want to defeat the dragon, you must marry the twin witches and get their power.”

Chapter 767: The Burning Sky

In the end, Yun Xi accepted his fate.

“Why, I’m just here to beat down the dragon, just to have a cruel and bloody trial of death.”

“Clearly I want to carry out such a great trial, but why did it come to this point?”

In the forest, Yun Xi is advancing through all kinds of difficulties.

Today is the third day of his journey alone. In the name of “cultivation and seclusion”, he temporarily got rid of his four princesses and left his kingdom alone to carry out one of the most important trials of the dragon’s war.

Goal – to marry the twin witches and gain their power.

This is also one of the branch tasks he has to complete. According to Robin, without the power of the twin witches, he will not be able to defeat the terrible original dragon.

Indeed, the power of Red Lotus and White Lotus is absolutely strong, which is recognized by his childhood sweetheart, Hua Huo.

His childhood sweetheart didn’t even praise the first master of the White Lotus Sword Domain, the White Lotus Sword Master, who was at the sixth rank. However, she only praises the twin witches. This is the first time Yun Xi sees Hua Huo recognizing her peers.

Yun Xi still doesn’t know how strong Hua Huo really is.

Her strength is that the stronger you become, the more you can find the gap with her.

The only twin witches recognized by Hua Huo also has the God’s talent, and it is a special God’s talent that Yun Xi still does not know.

Even his teacher, Casina the Battle God has said that this generation of twin witches in the White Lotus Sword Domain is unfathomable and has unlimited potential.

Yun Xi also believes that if he can get the help of the twin witches, it will be absolutely useful to defeat the terrible dragon.

Just, why should we take marriage as the premise!

And, before he came to the world, the marriage contract was written?

Why has the first king who has been devoted to her Majesty, the Queen of Assyria, make such a strange agreement with the witches?

Yun Xi sniffed out the smell of conspiracy and felt the malice of the world line.

“Well, there must be a choice not to get married.”

“The future can be changed!” Yun Xi cheers himself on.

Didn't he change the future of the kingdom by marrying four princesses?

“Shua!” Yun Xi walked out of the dense forest and saw a magnificent river in front of him.

Seeing the river, Yun Xi couldn't help but think of the memory of sinking into the river with Desert Dragon Zaka, intertwined with each other, and finally Zaka drowned and fainted.

It was just a few days ago, but it gave him a strange feeling of nostalgia.

Today's Desert Dragon Zaka is probably still eating and drinking in the palace. Although she is a bit impatient and has a little deviation in her world outlook, she is the best to get along with and feed amongst the four princesses.

"Take a little rest." Yun Xi takes out his kitchen utensils and points to the river at will.

A transparent air current pierces the turbulent River, bounces several fish up and falls into Yun Xi's hands.

"Fish, fish, come to my pot." Yun Xi cleanly handled the fish and began to take care of his lunch.

Originally, as a king, he should take a large team to marry the twin witches.

However, if he did, he would have killed himself.

The four princesses will never let him in the new honeymoon period to marry unknown twin witches.

If he dares to say that, Yun Xi can imagine what will happen to him.

"Darling, do you want to eat apples?" The Queen of Assyria will prepare delicious apples, which will make him unconscious.

“Dad, it’s not right to be unfaithful!” White Moon will call the black flame demon bug and make a big scene.

“Shaheen, where is my dragon’s nest?”

“Yes, sister, I’ll kill him for you!”

Zaka sisters will go mad in an instant.

Originally, it’s wrong to marry other princesses when they get married.

“I am innocent!” Yun Xi wanted to tell his four princesses in tears that he was forced by the terrible dragon.

Yes, it’s the dragon’s fault!

“Well, the sky looks strange?” As soon as he was ready for his lunch, Yun Xi found that there was a very strange scene in the sky.

The blue sky was covered by countless fire clouds.

These fire clouds continue to spread out, almost half of the sky is dyed dark red, and the edge of the fire clouds showing a lava-like dark red.

Yun Xi has never seen such a burning sky in his life.

The creatures on the ground and the fish in the water seem to sense something and start a crazy escape.

Rabbits, fawn, cheetah, black bear... all of these animals ran away.

The fish in the water gathered together into a huge school of fish, scurrying in the direction of downstream, some of them even jumped to the shore regardless of the direction, like suicide.

“Boom!”

“Boom!”

“Boom!”

In the burning clouds in the sky, there were sounds of thunder, but there was no lightning at all, as if some terrible natural disaster was breaking out.

More and more massive fire clouds appear in the sky, and some of them even start to burn directly.

The sky is lit!

“What a terrible smell.” Yun Xi finally realized that the force of this natural disaster was not natural, but more like some terrible creature fighting there.

What kind of creature can make the sky burn over thousands of miles? And what is this terrible creature fighting with?

In a second, all the clouds in the sky suddenly burst into flames.

Along with these cascading waves is the roar of a terror creature, which makes the whole sky tremble.

Looking down, Yun Xi saw the stars falling.

It’s daytime, but countless stars tear the edge of the sky from the distant sky, smashing the countless crimson ripples in an extremely gorgeous and shocking way. The magnificent and shining scene makes Yun Xi feel the great will from the stars.

In the starlight, something seems to have been knocked down.

Chapter 768: The Fallen Dragon

Like meteors penetrating the atmosphere, there are huge objects similar to crimson meteorites falling in the distant sky, making a loud sound that Yun Xi, who is hundreds of kilometers away, feels that his eardrum is about to break.

Where the meteorite fell, there appeared a red mushroom cloud, which seemed to be accompanied by a kind of unwilling roar.

In the midst of the blaze, the red light that was spreading from the sky began to dissipate. After about a minute, it completely disappeared.

The fire clouds from all directions also all restored the original color.

It was just that lava-like crimson color that lasted quite a long time.

Both sides of the battle have the power of burning mountains and boiling the sea, and the danger level is no less than that of the bloody wedding not long ago.

This continent is indeed a dangerous place. It is far from as simple as it seems.

The time when the knights were the highest force on the mainland was long gone.

In any case, this is a battle that has been decided. It seems that the person who summoned countless fire clouds and almost ignited the sky was finally defeated by the one who dominated the stars.

Yun Xi also wants to know who the person is that calls the glory of the stars.

However, Yun Xi always thinks that maybe things are not so simple.

With a trace of curiosity, Yun Xi began to move towards the area where the meteor might have fallen.

The closer Yun Xi gets to the place where the huge object fell, the more he can feel the horror of the battle before.

A hundred kilometers away from the falling area, the vegetation is still barely in its original shape, and when it is about 80 kilometers away, obvious dehydration symptoms begin to appear.

Within 50 kilometers, most of the vegetation leaves are withered, as if they have not been moistened for months in the drought, but this is on the river bank of the largest river in the mainland!

By the time he enters the inner ring area about 20 kilometers from the falling area, it is already a complete natural disaster scene.

Almost all the plants are dead. Something more terrifying than the hot wind in the desert completely destroys the vitality of these trees. The temperature in the air exceeds 50 degrees, which is an environment that human beings cannot live in.

In addition to a very small number of brambles surviving, both plants and animals have been extinct.

Moving forward, the environment can only be called hell.

The mountain range of flame – Yun Xi can only use this word to describe this terrible scenery.

River was burned beyond recognition.

The forest no longer exists.

There is a ring of flaming mountains, with numerous lava flows, as if guarding something, unscrupulously erupted deadly poison gas and flame.

The end of the day is probably to describe such a scene. Human beings can not survive in this environment, only a small number of fire property demons hover in this newly formed volcanic region, and make cheers.

But this is not the end.

The closer to the falling center of the unidentified object, the faster the temperature rises. When Yun Xi stops and can finally observe the falling object, he has to pull out the Starwings and protect himself with the power of the Starwings.

It is a legendary creature that radiates the brilliance of red gemstone. It is a king at the top of the world.

It fell into a lava lake about three kilometers in size, and its whole body was torn by some terrible force.

The heart part has a huge black hole, the edge of the black hole presents a strange star color, not like being hit by a certain weapon, more like this part suddenly disappeared.

For human beings, with this kind of injury, they would have been dead for a long time, but the giant was still breathing, even though its heart was taken by unknown forces. Every breath would cause a sudden rise in the surrounding temperature.

The absolutely empty part where the heart was was constantly absorbing the surrounding lava essence, trying to repair the fatal injury, if it is a general injury, Yun Xi believes that it has long been improved.

“Dragon?” Yun Xi wiped his eyes again.

Red dragon, a famous branch of the dragon clan, is famous for its impulsive and violent character and its Flaming Dragon Breath.

The one in front of Yun Xi has the power to control the source of fire, which can be called a king level crimson dragon.

But now it is dying. Even if energy sources continuously extract the molten lava around to repair its own injuries, some mysterious force that penetrates its whole body is still taking away its life.

“Human...” Aware of its death, the crimson dragon reluctantly opened its eyes, revealing a tired breath.

“Do you want to kill me and accomplish the great cause of dragon slaughtering?”

“Are you dying?” Yun Xi sighed. Although the main task of the world is to fight against the dragon, it should not be the one in front of him.

“Yes, I am dying.” The red dragon looked at its torn wings and its body penetrated by countless arrows of light. The outline of that god weapon came to his mind.

The Ring of Stars and Moon – this is the name of that god weapon, the root of her defeat.

Chapter 769: Contract

What broke her wings was a Red Lotus Demon Sword.

Through her body was the shining Ring of Stars and Moon.

What erased her heart was the “motto” or “karma” launched by the witch in white, ignoring all her defensive resistance.

She perhaps can defeat any one of the twin witches, but they will not be separated.

When they fight together, even a dragon will be afraid of the power they play with.

They, who have opened a door to a higher realm, can even create the miracle of stars falling.

This war was a complete and tragic defeat of the crimson dragon, even at the cost of its own life.

The torn dragon wings can grow back little by little.

The penetrated body can also absorb lava essence to repair.

However, the lost heart can never recover, because it has been completely “captured” by the witch in white, and has become the booty of the twin witches.

“Well, little human, if you want to do it, do it.” The dragon closed her eyes and waited for her death.

To be able to walk on the ground in this lava lake and have a magic sword... It may not be the worst outcome for her to be killed by such a strong human.

Even if the human is an ant in the eyes of the dragon, it is an ant strong enough to threaten the dragon, the king of ants.

As for the twin witches, she was sure they were not human beings.

She had an honest and upright fight against them, the most formidable enemies.

She can't imagine that human beings can be as powerful as the twins.

Their eyes gave her a sense that they were not human beings but connected to some kind of great will.

That kind of feeling is like, no matter how strong she is, losing in their hands is the absolute destiny which can not be defied.

“You... are you an evil dragon?” Yun Xi slowly came to the crimson dragon, which was the third and strongest dragon he had ever seen in the world.

“Yes, I am the most ferocious crimson dragon. I should have been the great volcano overlord.” Even though her death was approaching, the crimson dragon still raised her proud head.

Dragons never bow their heads.

In the early days, there was only one voice, which was always in high spirits and complacent.

“Hey, sister Ice Dragon, sister Red Dragon, and sister Black Dragon, I am your elder sister, Desert Dragon Zaka!”

“For you, I will respond to the will of the great mother and conquer the world.”

“The barbarians in the north have all surrendered. They have changed their belief in total. From today on, the dragon is their faith!”

“The desert tribes in the West have also surrendered. They are willing to offer sacrifices to our great dragons.”

“Now, there are still the southern tribal areas with witches and the last Knight kingdom of human beings. Wait. I will defeat the last human resistance because I am invincible!”

Next, one voice becomes two.

“Sister, you are in love, how can this be possible? The other party must be a liar, a big liar!”

Even the quarrel between sisters is so yearning. When listening to the voices of her sisters, she is more eager than ever to break the shell early and fight side by side with her sisters.

However, when she ushered in the day of breaking the shell, what she heard was the sad news that her sisters had died.

They can no longer respond to the voice of the original dragon, which means that the fire of their lives has withered.

Anger, endless anger covered the heart of the crimson dragon.

She wants to revenge her sisters, she will continue their unfinished mission, conquering this world!

But it was all over.

The terrible twin witches, the terrible Rings of Stars and Moon, the thing they are connected to when they fight hand in hand...

Consciousness gradually began to sink into the darkness, and finally, the warm lava essence gradually cooled down.

Her death is coming.

“This power... It is...” A sound seems to be heard in the ear, and the missing part of the heart appears a little warm.

“Eh... Wait... Are you...” In the whirling of the consciousness, the crimson dragon was completely dizzy, but the outline of the world seemed to be enlarged all of a sudden.

Yun Xi looks stunned at the dragon girl who has become a human posture in front of him.

That is a familiar posture, because he has two of the four princesses who have the same face.

“Zaka? The third...” Looking at his sister-in-law in theory, Yun Xi always felt that the world line of the dragon war had already deviated by 100000 kilometers away.

Why did the Red Dragon Zaka suddenly appear in front of him and was dying?

That is like a flower just sprouting, although young, but trying to spread their own branches and leaves.

A flower that can create a miracle of life replaces the lost heart of Red Dragon Zaka and builds a new flower with a new core of life for her.

At the same time, it is also the proof of the contract.

Chapter 770: Resuscitated Hear

Yun Xi did not expect that after calling Linga the Holy Tree, the green spot left by the unknown existence named "Lvji" still remained in his body, and played an important role in this critical moment.

The only embarrassment was that his palms seemed unable to move from the chest of Red Dragon Zaka because of these green dots.

The soft and smooth skin seemed to stick with his palm. He could even feel the sound of the heartbeat clearly from the palm.

"Dong!"

"Dong!"

"Dong!"

Because she regained her heart, the seemingly incurable body of Red Dragon Zaka began to repair itself bit by bit.

About a quarter of an hour later, Red Dragon Zaka coughed, vomited a lot of blood stasis, and opened her weak but no longer dying eyes.

The eyes of the red dragon look like the color of volcanic eruption, hot and bright, like the combination of the most beautiful ruby and sunset.

“You... you... what are you doing!” As soon as she woke up, Red Dragon Zaka found that her strong scales had disappeared, her proud huge body had disappeared, and even her dragon horn had retracted into her body.

All over her body, not even a dress!

What a shame! What made her angrier is that this human is still kneading her chest!

“No... don’t misunderstand it... I’m trying to save you...” Yun Xi only wants to cry.

“Die! “Red Dragon Zaka put her hands around Yun Xi’s neck, and her feet locked his body. She was ready to break his neck.

But before she broke Yun Xi’s neck with both hands, her whole body was suddenly weak.

The hands that wanted to break Yun Xi’s head slid down, and her strong and slender feet did not escape the disaster. The originally fatal move of killing instantly turned into the coquetry between lovers.

The culprit for all this is naturally the flower that revived Red Dragon Zaka, the last gift Lvji left to Yun Xi.

Red Dragon Zaka, who lost her heart in the battle with the twin witches, would have died. It was because of the mimicry heart formed by this flower that she could survive.

The gift was given by Lvji to Yun Xi, how could it do anything to hurt Yun Xi? Red Dragon Zaka's counterattack is doomed to be invalid.

"You... what have you done to my body..." finds that she has almost lost all her strength, for the first time in her life, Red Dragon Zaka shows her panic like an unarmed mortal girl.

Even when she was facing the witch dressed in white, when she fell from the sky, she never had such an expression.

Death in the war is not an unacceptable outcome for Red Dragon Zaka. A fall in the battle with super-strong enemies like the twin witches is totally acceptable to the red dragon.

On the contrary, she didn't die and her body fell into an unknown person's hand, and she couldn't do anything... that's the most terrible thing.

"I didn't do anything." Yun Xi really doesn't know how to explain it.

He's not a priest. He can't do divine spells such as Resurrection, Healing, or Limb Regeneration. His hand is not a Silver Hand to cure all wounds.

What brings Red Dragon Zaka back from the death line is the mysterious existence in the Starwings, which lies on the other side of the river of the stars.

Through the forbidden door opened by Starwings, she sent green dots to help Yun Xi connect with the real White Lotus Secret Treasure and save the dying Red Dragon Zaka.

The power level of these green dots is completely beyond Yun Xi's imagination limit.

"So, what is this?" Red Dragon Zaka reluctantly raises her hand and points to the part of their bodies that are closely connected:

"You said that you didn't do anything. What is this? What is this!"

Ah, she is going to cry! Yun Xi looked at his sister-in-law, full of grief and anger, and felt helpless.

What is this? He doesn't know!

"Bang!"

"Bang!"

"Bang!"

As if feeling some kind of atmosphere between Yun Xi and Red Dragon Zaka, the heart formed by the green flower began to beat stronger and stronger.

Red Dragon Zaka has also found that as long as she doesn't have hostility to the human in front of her, it seems that her recovery speed will become faster, and her heart will beat more powerful.

The only problem is, in this way, her feelings for this human will become deeper, especially the touch of that evil claw holding down her mountain peak! Damn it!

With the beat of her heart, even if Yun Xi doesn't move a finger, his hand still moves with the rhythm of the heartbeat.

Each jump represents the breath of life, which is the most beautiful sound in the world and the most exciting arc.

Finally, at a certain point, Red Dragon Zaka's eyes regained their original self-confidence.

The wounds are all healed! She is recovered!

Now she can be in combat again.

"Transformation!" Red Dragon Zaka, whose vitality is fully restored, is ready to transform back to her dragon posture and eat the human who dares to attack her.

However, the familiar feeling of the world getting smaller didn't appear. The instinct to change back to the real dragon posture has failed!

"Why?!" Red Dragon Zaka's eyes are burning with flames that can burn through the sky.

Her combat effectiveness has been restored to the best state!

With the power of the source of fire, she absorbed all the lava essence around her. She should have recovered!

How dare this human to rub her chest? Die, die, die! Why don't you die?!
