

Chapter 233 Having Dinner

It was noon, and Melissa was in her office at the hospital.

While sorting through patients' data, Melissa noticed someone hovering nearby.

Melissa smiled.

"Leilany, you have been practicing for two hours. Maybe it's time to take a break?"

"No. I have to be good at this. I can't fail this competition."

Leilany groaned as she made another mistake. Disappointed, she leaned back and grimaced.

"Dr. Sherman, I just can't seem to get the hang of this treatment simulation. I keep forgetting the sequences."

"Relax. It just takes practice," Melissa said, trying to comfort Leilany. She leaned back in her chair as well. "Remember, we were planning to invite someone to eat Japanese food with us? We haven't confirmed the time yet."

"Yes, Dr. Wilde," Leilany said excitedly. "Let's do it after work, today. I'll book a table now. Would you tell Dr. Wilde?"

"No. You are in charge of sorting the arrangements. You should tell him." Melissa handed her phone to Leilany. "I got Dr. Wilde's social media accounts. You can send a friend request."

"Dr. Sherman, you are the best!"

"Go on then. Ask Dr. Wilde if he is free tonight."

The next second, Leilany hesitated. She sat on the chair and stared at the phone.

"Dr. Sherman, you are the best!"

"Go on then. Ask Dr. Wilde if he is free tonight."

The next second, Leilany hesitated. She sat on the chair and stared at the phone.

"Will Dr. Wilde accept my friend request? If he refuses... I'm not sure what I will do. I'm nervous."

"You won't know until you try," Melissa said.

She thought Leilany and Lukas would be good together. It would be great if they fell in love.

She could help them a little, but in the end, it was up to them.

While Melissa was thinking, Leilany shouted excitedly, "Dr. Sherman! Dr. Wilde accepted my friend request. He said yes to dinner too."

"Great. I'll let my family know I won't be eating at home."

Melissa sent a message to Vivienne, asking her to take good care of her children, knowing Vivienne would do so without being asked. The children had become an important part of Vivienne and Johnny's daily life.

Melissa noticed a strange number in her contacts.

She remembered it was the mobile phone number that Everett used to call her.

She wondered how he was doing.

"Dr. Sherman? Melly?"

"Huh?" Melissa broke out of her reverie. "What's the matter?"

Leilany was grinning as she walked over. "What are you looking at? You were lost in thought. You didn't look at me when I talked to you."

"It's nothing. Just an advertisement." Melissa closed her phone.

It was just a number. Why was she trying to hide it?

Melissa shook her head, trying to get rid of the weird feeling.

"So, are you happy now? You still have time. Do you need to change your clothes?"

"You're right." Leilany ran toward the lounge.

"Slow..."

Leilany was gone before Melissa finished her words.

Melissa sighed and opened her phone. She stared at Everett's number for a long time before adding his name.

Then she locked her phone screen again.
