

Chapter 276 Acting

The next day, Emily stood beside the parterre of the hospital's small garden. Straightening her clothes, she glanced around.

She had secretly investigated and was sure that Vivienne would definitely pass by, bringing food to Everett.

She could pretend to meet Vivienne by chance and mention her daughter's contribution to the Mayfield family.

As she was fixing her hair, Vivienne came into view carrying a square box.

She was not alone. Melissa, who was wearing her white doctor's gown, was standing next to her. As they walked, the two of them talked and laughed.

At the sight of them, Emily gritted her teeth in anger.

Taking a deep breath, she reigned in her anger and walked up to them with a smile, pretending to pass by.

"Oh, Mrs. Mayfield? Are you here to bring food to Everett? What a coincidence!"

Surprised to see Emily, Vivienne said with an annoyed smile, "What a coincidence."

If it weren't for Melissa, Vivienne wouldn't have said anything to someone from the Sherman family.

Except for Melissa, no one else in their family was kind.

"Mrs. Mayfield, are you also going to the floor of the VIP wards?" Pushing Melissa aside, Emily fell into step with Vivienne. "I'll go with you. We're going the same way."

Shaking her head, Melissa followed quietly. Emily was really good at acting.

She was curious as to what Emily would do today.

For a while, the trio walked in silence until Emily couldn't bear Vivienne's silence and said, "Mrs. Mayfield, does Everett still need to stay in the hospital? My husband and I agreed to visit him, but Arielle was stabbed by that man too and was seriously injured. Besides, Arielle has been very worried about Everett's health."

As Emily spoke, she glanced at Vivienne's reaction from the corner of her eye.

Vivienne just smiled and nodded. "Yes. It was thanks to Arielle that Everett was saved this time. My husband is very grateful to Arielle and said that a lot of gifts had been sent to her, but I didn't see them. Since you mentioned it, please convey my thanks to Arielle."

Emily waved her hand. "There's no need."

She wanted to say more, but she found that she didn't know what to say. She could only smile awkwardly.

Melissa, who was standing behind them, couldn't help smiling.

She didn't know whether she should laugh at Emily's smartness or stupidity. Emily just wanted to use Arielle as a way to win the sympathy of the Mayfield family, but she did not expect that they wouldn't take them seriously at all.

Emily was not as smart as Vivienne. Vivienne clearly knew what Emily was thinking and what she wanted to say, and what she said made Emily speechless.

If Emily was saying something, it meant she was unsatisfied with the gifts Johnny had sent and was greedy for more. If she had remained quiet, she would fail to achieve her goal today.

Emily realized this too, and she was anxious. "In fact, Arielle has deep feelings for Everett. That's why she did what she did. She said that she hasn't seen you in a long time and wanted to see you."

"Arielle is a good girl. Let's wait until she gets better. After all, she has been sick for such a long time and it's not good for her health to meet people in her condition." Unfazed by Emily's words, Vivienne refused her invitation.

Vivienne beckoned at Melissa who was still following them, and said to Emily again, "Mrs. Sherman, if there's nothing else, I'll head to the ward with Melissa. Everett hasn't eaten yet."
