

Chapter 289 Lucky

"Ahh!" The fat male director shrieked as he fell to the floor, shirt and jacket tearing.

Melissa felt repulsed.

The security guards rushed across to control him.

"Catch him and call the police," Peter squeaked from behind the pillar. "We must find out how much money he has accepted and check whether he embezzled hospital funds. Tell the police to keep us informed."

"The police are on their way," a security guard replied, pulling the director out of the meeting room.

Peter emerged from his hiding place and noticed how many of the doctors were still in a state of shock. He cleared his throat.

"We should handle this in house. No one is to speak of this outside these walls. If there's a public scandal, we will all suffer."

With that, he rushed away.

Melissa narrowed her eyes.

Peter rarely seemed intelligent, but at least he was smart enough to know they should keep this out of the news.

"Are you okay, Melly?" Lukas held her shoulders and checked for wounds.

Melissa took a step back and smiled awkwardly. "I'm fine. Thank you, Lukas."

"That's good." Lukas looked at her intently. "Last time something like that happened, I wasn't with you. If I had been..."

"I'm fine," Melissa said, patting him on the shoulder. "Don't worry. I'm lucky to have you as a friend."

She wanted to make sure people would not gossip about their relationship as well.

After everyone left the meeting room, Melissa escorted the brave doctor out of the hospital.

The doctor seemed distraught. Exposing the male director's crimes in public had been painful for her. After all, she was also a victim. It had taken courage and Melissa was grateful.

"Melly!" Leilany ran toward her.

When she saw the person standing beside Melissa, she slowed down. "Dr. Wilde, you're here too. What about that obscene man? Has he been dealt with?"

"Yes. Everything went well. He has been taken away by the police."

"Really? That's great!" Leilany jumped up and down excitedly. "We should have dinner to celebrate."

"Let's do that after I come back," Melissa said as they walked. "I'm taking a few days off."

"A few days off? Melly, you're a workaholic. Why are you taking leave?" Leilany asked.

She grinned and said jokingly, "Who's the lucky man?"

"It's family business and only a few days." Melissa lowered her eyes. "I'll be back before you know it."

She didn't want to tell them the truth. It was a dangerous situation, and she feared they would want to help.

If they got involved, they might get hurt.

Lukas was lost in thought. He opened his mouth to speak but was interrupted.

"Lukas, please take care of Leilany while I'm not here. Although you're just a little older than her, you're much more experienced. Perhaps you can teach her when you're free."

"Okay, Melly," Lukas said.

However, Leilany was offended. She put her hands on her hips and said, "Are you saying Lukas is better than me? Why?"

"Think about it while I'm gone, Leilany." Melissa smiled, and she quickened her pace.
