

Chapter 324 Leader

The doctors had a lively discussion sparked by this.

They were brimming with anticipation. After all, they thought they'd be in the hospital for the rest of their lives. They now had the opportunity to work for such a large corporation. Anybody would be ecstatic.

Among the group, Leilany was the only one with a frown.

Why did her father choose the doctors of the hospital where she was?

Such was her father's deceitful nature that he fabricated a lie of this caliber.

With a clap of his hands, Peter silenced the conversing crowd.

"I appreciate your desire to collaborate with the Green Group, but it depends on their demands. For now, we've merely been invited to visit them."

Subsequently, he directed his assistant to send the documents to everyone.

"These materials are from the Green Group in preparation for your upcoming visit. Feel free to examine them beforehand. Mr. Green will personally receive you. Just a heads-up, Leilany will lead the team on this occasion."

"What are you talking about?"

Leilany was left feeling perplexed upon hearing this information.

With everyone looking on in bewilderment and doubt, Leilany gazed toward Melissa for help.

"Melly..."

"Peter set this up," Melissa whispered. "But don't worry, I have confidence in your capabilities regardless of who arranged it. And since we're visiting your company, don't feel uncomfortable. Believe in yourself."

"Absolutely not!"

Leilany was overwhelmed with a sense of helplessness and anger upon being confronted with the arrangement.

Due to a disagreement with her family while in college, she had refrained from returning home for several years and now had no desire to see her father.

Before she could decline the leadership position, someone else had already expressed concerns about her taking the role.

"Mr. Cooper, I'm not convinced that an intern is the right person to lead us on this visit. If the Green Group finds out about her status, they might think our hospital isn't taking this visit seriously. It could even jeopardize our chances of cooperation."

"I agree. It would be a major embarrassment for our hospital if she makes a mistake while she's leading the visit."

"She should not be in the team's leadership position. There are a lot of great doctors here. Anybody has the potential to lead. She..."

"Ahem."

Peter's expression grew stern, and he interrupted the doctors with a cough.

He understood Zaid's intentions. Zaid wished to see his daughter, so Peter did this to win his favor.

But it seemed that the doctors intended to make Peter feel embarrassed and uncomfortable.

"I disagree with the idea of appointing Leilany as our leader!"

"I share the same view and I don't think Leilany is qualified to join this visit. Our hospital has many exceptional doctors."

"I concur!"

"Shut your mouths, Maria, Eugenia!"

Peter was straightforward in his response.

He intended to disregard the medical skills competition bet to prevent anyone from leaving the hospital and avoid losses.

While the doctors expressed their disapproval of the arrangement, they would face dire consequences if they offended the Green family and could risk losing their positions at the hospital.

He furrowed his brows and spoke in a composed manner.

"It has been deliberated and agreed upon after discussions with the representatives from the Green Group and hospital leadership. If you still doubt, you can contact the Green Group directly."

He preferred not to interfere further in this matter and suggested that they directly reach out to the Green Group if they continued to have any doubts.

Despite any dissatisfaction the doctors faced in the hospital, they refrained from making a scene in front of the representatives from the Green Group.

As expected, although these doctors were not convinced, they stopped discussing it.

While they dared not to anger members of the Green Group, they also didn't want Leilany to be pleased. In any case, they had already turned out to be enemies.
