

Chapter 328 Top Membership Card

"Madam, we have recently launched these parent-child suits." The shop assistant quickly gestured and asked, "Would you be interested in taking a look? I can provide you with a detailed explanation."

"Alright." Melissa quickly agreed.

She walked over to the mannequins closely behind the shop assistant.

"Madam, this is our newly launched home wear collection for the season. It's designed for all members of your family to wear. If you become a member of our shop and provide us with sizes and color preferences for each member, we can complete the garments within 24 hours and deliver them straight to your doorstep."

"Fine, I'll purchase it."

The voice of Vivienne emerged from behind.

Afterward, without hesitation, she stepped forward and retrieved a silver card from her bag.

"Please pack this set of parent-child clothes and other clothes I selected over there. I am from the Mayfield Group, and someone will take care of the payment."

She conveyed her message with clarity and efficiency.

The sight of the silver card left the shop assistant astonished and speechless.

Every store in the mall had its own membership system, and only a select few possessed silver membership cards, which denoted their status as top members of each store.

Despite working at the store for several years, she had never seen one before.

She had always believed it to be a myth, but to her surprise, she had come across one today.

The shop assistant took the card with great care, holding it with both hands, before proceeding to process the payment.

After turning around, Melissa spoke softly and bashfully. "I will pay for the clothes. Why..."

"Don't say something like that because we're family," Vivienne interjected with a hint of playfulness in her eyes. "Plus, Johnny and I will also be wearing them. We will all go together on that day."

"Alright, but please don't spend too much money in the future."

As the two conversed, the shop assistant returned with the membership card in hand.

The shop assistant was now even more anxious after knowing the cardholder. She felt the pressure to provide impeccable service, as any misstep could lead to her being fired.

"Mrs. Mayfield, all the items you selected have been paid for. We will package them and arrange for delivery to your home as soon as possible. Here is your membership card."

"Alright." Vivienne nodded, but instead of taking the card, she turned to Melissa and said, "Here, take it, Melissa."

"It's too valuable. I don't really require a membership card." Melissa quickly declined the offer.

She was already aware that she had received a lot of help from the Mayfield family and was contemplating ways to repay their kindness.

Observing Melissa's reluctance, Vivienne placed the card directly into her hand.

"Melissa, please take it. I don't typically come here to shop, and I don't think I'll find much use for it. You can buy something for yourself or your children with it. Plus, I always ask you to buy things for me, so it'll be more convenient if you keep the card.

Furthermore, this isn't a very costly item. This land belongs to us, and we also hold shares in the shopping mall. I can easily acquire cards like this.

Vivienne's explanation offered a valid reason to accept the card, and she couldn't refuse.

Feeling persuaded, Melissa finally agreed. "Alright, thank you."

"Great." Vivienne smiled with relief and then spoke softly. "We've almost finished shopping. Let's head back now. I'm afraid Lindsey and Merrick won't go to bed on time."

Afterward, Vivienne took Melissa by the arm and led her out of the shop.

The shop assistant was left alone, feeling envious and intimidated. She couldn't help but break out in a cold sweat on her face.

Vivienne was the only person who dared to say that she could easily obtain top-level membership cards that could be used in all the stores within the mall.

Becoming a member of such a high-end shopping mall, even an ordinary one, would be difficult for most people.
