

Chapter 342 Let Her In

"You mean Dr. Wilde and me?" Melissa was rather stunned. Her surprise was that Lukas was also invited.

During the meeting at the hospital, Zaid mentioned that he wanted to discuss something with her. She assumed it had something to do with the biological lab. Maybe that was also the reason he had invited Lukas.

Leilany, who was beside her, had been listening to them talk. She was quite displeased. She pouted and leaned forward. "Why did the old man only invite Melly and Lukas? I also want to go."

"Oh..." The assistant was at a loss for words. Leilany wasn't invited, but he couldn't turn her down because she was friends with Melissa.

Melissa stood up quietly. "Alright, let's go. Take me to them."

The assistant nodded and led the way. Lukas already had a rough idea of why he was being summoned. He accompanied them silently.

The doctors that were watching understood what this meant for them. Their gazes were full of envy. They didn't understand why these two were summoned immediately after they arrived.

Unable to take it anymore, one of the doctors said in a sarcastic voice, "So it looks like it is now admissible to exert influence in order to be chosen to work in the lab."

"Exactly! Why invite us when they had already made their choice?" another doctor said.

These remarks annoyed Leilany. She turned around with an icy look on her face. "I told you this is my home. My father summons anyone that he wants. If you stop mocking me and instead butter me up, I might consider using my influence to help you. After all, I am a member of the Green Family."

She then left everyone with their faces darkened.

What Leilany said made Everett's assistant terrified. He never imagined that the doctor would be so influential. Luckily for him, he hadn't said anything to warrant getting fired.

He ushered them to the top floor of the building and showed them a sofa. "Please sit here for a moment. Mr. Green is concluding his meeting."

He left them at the reception and walked into the office to see his boss sulking. He got scared again. "Mr... Mr. Mayfield, she's outside," he said.

"Good. Show her in."

The assistant opened the door and signaled to Melissa. "Dr. Sherman, can you please come in?" he said.

"Is it just me?" Melissa felt something was off. She smiled awkwardly but didn't move. "Is Mr. Green back yet? I thought I would go in with Leilany and Lukas."

"There is something he wants to discuss privately with Dr. Sherman." The assistant tried to act normal, despite being anxious. He could feel his boss staring at him from behind. He inhaled sharply and considered begging her.

It seemed Melissa could tell what was going on. She got up and said, "Alright."

The assistant felt a surge of relief. He moved away from the door to usher Melissa in.

"This way, please." He motioned into the office. If Melissa didn't agree to go into the office, he didn't know what he would do.

Lukas frowned uneasily. "Melly, would you like us to accompany you?"

"We would be happy to," Leilany said.

"It's alright." Melissa shook her head. "Don't worry."

She couldn't tell what Everett was going to do.
