

Chapter 438 Get Out Of The Way

An elder? That was both hilarious and ironic at the same time.

Melissa gave a ruthless, nasty grin.

"Emily, are you my elder? You are nothing more than a mistress who wrecks families. My mother lost her husband to you, and you deserved to be slapped. I did it for Mom!"

"You, conniving bitch!"

Emily raised her hand and prepared to retaliate with a glum expression.

However, her wrist appeared to be fractured, and any movement brought her excruciating pain.

She scowled vehemently at Melissa and demanded, "Melissa, how dare you do that to me?"

"I didn't do anything. What you're saying makes no sense to me." Melissa approached Emily and gave her a strange look after putting the picture frame in the drawer. She chuckled and continued, "It was obvious that you intended to destroy some of my belongings. You even dislocated your bone in the process. I advise you to schedule a consultation with an orthopedist. I cannot treat your broken bone."

Emily's chest heaved heavily as she squinted her eyes.

Five years ago, Melissa was entirely under her and her daughter's control. Emily hadn't expected this girl to be so arrogant as to trample on their heads now.

Before long, she saw an opportunity and quickly used her other hand to grab Melissa's hair.

"Let's see how pretentious you are, you bitch! I'm going to kill you!"

However, Melissa responded fast and stepped to the side.

Emily lost her balance and stumbled to the floor.

Her dress was ripped open from the fall, leaving her with unkempt hair.

"Emily, I suggest you behave yourself. If you don't, not even Howell can protect you." Melissa glared at Emily and added sternly, "I mean what I said. At this point, you have ten seconds to leave this place."

For a split second, Emily was in shock. She instantly shifted into a lying down position on the floor.

She deliberately messed up her hair and began to scream while hiding her face with her hand.

"Someone, please help me! A doctor hit the patient! This is so unfair. I went to seek medical attention, but instead, this doctor slapped me. Can someone come and help me..."

After screaming some words, she stared at Melissa with spiteful eyes.

"Don't you dare intimidate me, Melissa. You won't find peace if you stir up trouble for Arielle and me. I won't be leaving today. I'll create a mess in this hospital and show everyone the type of person you are."

"Emily!"

Melissa scowled.

She grossly underestimated this woman, who lacked any sense of shame. Her eyes were emotionless and radiated a steely glare.

"Go ahead. Let's see who emerges victorious in the end."

Melissa had intended to let Emily be provided she didn't cause trouble. Now that things had become so awful, she would address all the issues in their entirety.

Emily glared at her and continued to yell, "Help! Help me! Please, anybody, help..."

Those outside the door could faintly hear the shrill voice inside the room.

Leilany's eyes lit up with bewilderment when she heard this.

What was going on in the office? Why did that woman suddenly start screaming?

Thankfully, she let the patients see the competent doctor next door because she didn't want them to be kept waiting or cause a fuss.

At this moment, a person showed up nearby.

Keira looked at Melly's office, but she didn't see any patient waiting outside there. Just one person was waiting at the door, looking anxious.

There were a lot of patients outside Melly's office yesterday. What happened today? There had to be some kind of problem here!

She immediately walked right over. She looked at the person standing at the door with her arms crossed over her chest. She then let out a snort and said, "Get out of the way. I'd like to take a look at my office."

"Who said this office was yours?" Leilany refused to move aside and remained in the way. "Why don't you seek your father's approval first? If you get his consent, you are welcome to return and have another look at it."
