

Read Stop It She's Remarrying by Stellar Strands

Chapter 1181-1190

Chapter 1181

However, no matter how much Conrad focused, he couldn't think of a reason why he would feel such pain.

Who was that woman?

When Conrad got back upstairs, his face was still quite pale.

Silas followed next to Conrad, worried.

"Sir, are you alright?"

He asked worryingly.

Then, he saw how pale Conrad's face was.

His forehead was covered in a layer of sweat.

His lips had lost color.

Silas suddenly remembered what Fia told him just now.

"Your boss is poisoned."

And...

Wasn't this a symptom of him being poisoned?

"Sir, give me a second. I'll find a doctor right now!"

Silas said as he left in a rush.

After Silas left, Conrad suddenly opened his eyes.

His eyes were red like blood, and they were quite horrifying.

He stood back up and continued onward despite all the stumbling.

He didn't know how, but he ended up downstairs again.

He squatted in front of the door, not moving.

Fia had a very bad feeling in her heart.

She then remembered Conrad.

Since Silas had brought him back, with the ability of those from the Maxwell family, the poison shouldn't be able to harm him.

Not to mention that they had already become enemies.

Fia forced herself to suppress the pain in her heart.

No matter what happened, all of this had nothing to do with her.

Conrad's life and death... had nothing to do with her.

However, when she opened the door, a man suddenly rushed in and it almost scared her to death.

She raised her head and saw Conrad's extremely pale face.

"Hey!"

Fia was having a headache.

Was Silas an idiot?

Conrad held Fia's arm tightly.

"Get out!"

She tried to force Conrad out.

But Conrad seemed to have become obsessed with her and refused to budge.

Fia couldn't push him away because of his powerful physical build.

She instantly frowned.

"Conrad Maxwell!"

The ire in her heart was bursting through.

She had never thought that, even now, this man was still able to reach into her heart.

“If you want to die, then you can die right here.”

Fia’s expression was becoming frostier.

She was even thinking about killing him.

However, when she looked at him, she realized that Conrad had already lost consciousness. All his actions were done subconsciously.

Fia scowled even more.

She then took a step back.

Suddenly, Conrad pushed forward from opposite of her.

And he then forced Fia against the door.

Fia once again recalled the same breathlessness. It was the hatred she had for Conrad.

“Mommy!” Adrian and Irene rushed out.

When they saw what happened, they became anxious.

“Mommy, what’s wrong with him?”

Chapter 1182

“What’s wrong with him?” Adrian asked with a frown.

Fia simply lowered her eyes.

“He’s going to die soon.”

“Can’t you save him?”

When Fia heard that, she shook her head.

“You can,” Irene said in a confident tone.

“He’s a good person. Why don’t you want to save him?”

The two pairs of innocent eyes looked at Fia, and she couldn’t help shaking.

“Mommy, please save him.”

Fia finally let out a sigh.

“This is the last time. From now on, he has nothing to do with us anymore.”

Her twins were completely focused on Conrad.

That was something she couldn’t imagine at first.

She wondered how they would feel once they found out that Conrad was their real father.

When the twins heard that Fia agreed to it, a brilliant smile instantly appeared on their faces. Fia looked at Conrad in front of her, who already looked like a corpse.

She clenched her fists.

This man...

If she could, she really wanted to let him die.

But Fia couldn’t do it in such a situation.

Her face darkened.

She suppressed the killing intent within herself and put her fingers on Conrad’s wrist to check his pulse.

If Lucifer didn’t do it, who injected the drugs into him? And how did that person find a chance to do it?

When Silas finally brought a doctor back, there was no one inside the room.

Her face instantly turned pale.

“Sir?”

After a long while, Fia finally straightened her back.

The twins happily looked at Conrad.

They were finally relieved when color returned to Conrad's face.

"You're so good, Mommy!"

"Mommy's the best!"

The twins praised their mother without holding back.

But Fia didn't look too happy about it.

"You two should just live with him."

Fia pretended to be angry and they quickly lowered their heads.

They knew what was good for them at this moment.

"Don't... Don't scold them." Conrad couldn't help speaking as his eyes slowly opened.

He couldn't help it when he saw how domineering Fia was.

Fia instantly looked away.

Her eyes narrowed.

They looked dangerous.

"What does that have to do with you?!"

Fia immediately said. It was obvious that she simply wanted to argue with him.

"I..." Conrad wanted to say something when he heard her.

But when he opened his mouth, he realized that there was nothing he could say that would be correct for the occasion.

The twins were Fia's children. Meanwhile, he wasn't related to them at all.

On the other hand...

This woman saved him again.

“Leave my home immediately. From now on, never show your face here again. Otherwise, I’ll let you die outside!” Fia said with a cold expression as if there was no emotion in her.

When Conrad heard that, he looked at Fia.

He felt that Fia was feeling uneasy when getting rid of him.

But that uneasiness was what made him feel strange.

She shouldn’t feel uneasy at all.

“Are you... hiding something from me?”

Conrad’s voice suddenly made Fia’s heart tremble.

Then, she remembered.

Conrad had amnesia. He couldn’t remember much. How could he know the things that she was hiding from him?

“Nothing

“We don’t know each other at all.

“There’s no reason for me to keep anything from you.”

Fia turned around, trying her best to suppress the emotions within her.

Conrad’s eyes narrowed as he looked at her.

He had the feeling that he had seen her before.

Were they really strangers?

It was not the first time that Conrad was suspicious of it.

Chapter 1183

Fia simply lowered her eyes.

“He’s going to die soon.”

“Can’t you save him?”

When Fia heard that, she shook her head.

“You can,” Irene said in a confident tone.

“He’s a good person. Why don’t you want to save him?”

The two pairs of innocent eyes looked at Fia, and she couldn’t help shaking.

“Mommy, please save him.”

Fia finally let out a sigh.

“This is the last time. From now on, he has nothing to do with us anymore.”

Her twins were completely focused on Conrad.

That was something she couldn’t imagine at first.

She wondered how they would feel once they found out that Conrad was their real father.

When the twins heard that Fia agreed to it, a brilliant smile instantly appeared on their faces.

Fia looked at Conrad in front of her, who already looked like a corpse.

She clenched her fists.

This man...

If she could, she really wanted to let him die.

But Fia couldn’t do it in such a situation.

Her face darkened.

She suppressed the killing intent within herself and put her fingers on Conrad’s wrist to check his pulse.

It was just as she had thought. He was poisoned.

But they didn't act on it just now at all..

Was Conrad's personal assistant a complete idiot?"

When Silas finally brought a doctor back, there was no one inside the room.

Her face instantly turned pale.

"Sir?"

After a long while, Fia finally straightened her back.

The twins happily looked at Conrad.

They were finally relieved when color returned to Conrad's face.

"You're so good, Mommy!"

"Mommy's the best!"

The twins praised their mother without holding back.

But Fia didn't look too happy about it.

"You two should just live with him."

Fia pretended to be angry and they quickly lowered their heads.

They knew what was good for them at this moment.

"Don't... Don't scold them." Conrad couldn't help speaking as his eyes slowly opened.

He couldn't help it when he saw how domineering Fia was.

Fia instantly looked away.

Her eyes narrowed.

They looked dangerous.

“What does that have to do with you?!”

Fia immediately said. It was obvious that she simply wanted to argue with him.

“I...” Conrad wanted to say something when he heard her.

But when he opened his mouth, he realized that there was nothing he could say that would be correct for the occasion.

The twins were Fia’s children. Meanwhile, he wasn’t related to them at all.

On the other hand...

It looked like the woman had saved him.

“Leave my home immediately. From now on, never show your face here again. Otherwise, I’ll let you die outside!” Fia said with a cold expression as if there was no emotion in her.

When Conrad heard that, he looked at Fia.

He felt that Fia was feeling uneasy when getting rid of him.

But that uneasiness was what made him feel strange.

She shouldn’t feel uneasy at all.

“Are you... hiding something from me?”

Conrad’s voice suddenly made Fia’s heart waver.

Then, she remembered.

Conrad had amnesia. He couldn’t remember much. How could he know the things that she was hiding from him?

“Nothing.

“We don’t know each other at all.

“There’s no reason for me to keep anything from you.”

Fia turned around, trying her best to suppress the emotions within her.

Conrad's eyes narrowed as he looked at her.

He had the feeling that he had seen her before.

Were they really strangers?

It was not the first time that Conrad was suspicious of it.

"I don't believe you."

Chapter 1184

Conrad suddenly got close to Fia.

When Fia felt the man's scent from behind, she immediately lost her composure.

"So what if you don't believe it?"

"You and I aren't related in any way at all.

"Now, the only thing left for me to tell you is to leave."

Fia's expression was extremely cold.

Just as Conrad was going to get closer, Fia suddenly extended her hand and pushed him to the ground.

Conrad was already quite weak. After she pushed him, he toppled toward the back and fell to the floor.

And that was the scene that Annie saw when she came in.

"What are you doing?!"

Annie held Conrad's body and she looked at Conrad worryingly.

When Silas saw it, he was also quite anxious.

-Fia looked at Annie who appeared in front of her.

Fia looked at them with a sneer.

Annie felt very strange. When she raised her head and saw Fia, her entire body froze.

That woman...

She looked so similar!

“Who are you?!”

Annie couldn't help but ask Fia.

The faint smile on Fia's face stung Annie's heart. She could feel the pain spreading through her.

“My name's Sia Stewart.”

Fia told her without hesitation.

However, she didn't look the least interested in it.

When Annie heard Fia's voice, her fists clenched even tighter.

“Do you know her?”

Conrad looked at Annie suspiciously and asked her.

Annie bit her lips.

When she looked at Fia's sneer, she immediately shook her head.

“I don't.”

Conrad felt that something was out of place.

From Annie's reaction, it didn't look like she didn't know her.

“Conrad, Silas said that you're poisoned. Let's go back up and see a doctor, alright?”

Annie tried to speak to Conrad as gently as possible.

She was showing off how close she was with him to prove that she belonged next to him.

When Conrad heard it, he grimaced.

While Annie was the one who took care of him all these years, he felt somewhat disgusted when listening to what Annie was saying.

He knew very well what he wanted.

He didn't want Annie to take care of him so gently in front of Fia.

It wasn't like they were related in the first place.

"I'm fine."

Conrad pushed Annie's hand away.

Annie's face instantly paled.

"Conrad, I'm just worried about you."

When Conrad heard what Annie was saying, his heart couldn't help but stir.

But when he looked at that familiar face, all he did was shake his head.

"I'm fine."

"You should go home for now."

"Silas will take good care of me."

Despite saying that, Annie refused to leave regardless of what he said.

She couldn't leave at this time.

"You should leave with your girlfriend. Otherwise, if something happens to you, it's going to be my problem again."

Fia sat and leaned back on the sofa.

However, her words were especially spiteful.

Annie wanted to say something.

However, Conrad cut in first.

“She’s not my girlfriend.”

Annie’s face became even paler.

‘Does this mean Conrad wants nothing to do with me anymore?’

‘Because this woman looks more like her than me?’

“Conrad.

Annie had lost all capacity to think. All she could do was mumble as she looked at Conrad, wanting to have some sympathy from him.

But all she could do was simply stare.

Silas quickly helped Conrad up.

Chapter 1185

“Miss Parker, why don’t you go back first? I’ll take good care of the CEO.”

Silas sincerely tried his best to get her out of the situation.

However, that was not what Annie wanted.

The thing she wanted was Conrad’s acknowledgement.

“No, I want to stay by his side.”

Her stubborn voice made Conrad feel repulsed.

He disliked those who refused to listen to his orders.

However, there was also someone in his mind that acted the same way.

Who was that person?

That person seemed to look similar to the woman in front of him who called herself Sia.

When he remembered that, Conrad’s hands immediately clenched into fists.

It was as if everything that had happened was just a dream...

“Conrad.”

“Leave now. Or never appear in front of me again.”

Annie’s voice made Conrad very agitated.

When Annie heard that, she trembled.

She saw Conrad’s dislike of her from his eyes.

Why?

How did things turn out like this?

Annie couldn’t understand it no matter how she tried.

“You should get out of my apartment too.”

Fia didn’t let this chance pass her by.

Conrad got up from the floor and then looked at Fia earnestly.

“I’ll leave. I won’t badger you anymore. You don’t have to worry about that.

“But if I believe that you’re hiding something I don’t know, you’ll have to pay a price then.”

He was angered.

It was because of how cold she was. It was because of how nonchalant she was. Somehow, they were like the flames that ignited his heart.

Why was she so heartless toward him? Why? In the past five years, no one treated him with such indifference.

When those words came out of Conrad’s mouth, Fia almost believed he found out about something.

But then, she recalled he had amnesia.

Fia couldn’t help but let out an icy laugh.

He had forgotten everything because of the amnesia. He was free to face his future. But... What about her?

She had to face all the pain alone.

Luckily, her twins were by her side. Otherwise, she would never be able to live her life in peace.

“You’re overthinking things. Both of us don’t know each other. There’s no way that I hid anything from you.”

Fia quickly got rid of all of them and then instantly locked the door.

Silas felt a bit helpless now that Conrad was locked out of the door again.

“Sir, the poison inside of you...”

“She already helped cure me. I’m fine right now.” Conrad didn’t know that the poison inside of him wasn’t something that could be so easily cured. All Fia did was help him suppress the poison.

Silas only realized what happened after a long while.

He then looked at the door with a strange look.

“She’s willing to help you neutralize that poison, but treats you so badly at the same time... Did we really offend her somehow, somewhere?”

Conrad merely let out a faint smile.

“Maybe I really did offend her.”

“Otherwise... Why would she treat us so aggressively?”

Silas was startled

Normally, no one could stay in one piece after upsetting Conrad that way.

But when he looked at Conrad, it seemed like he was enjoying every moment of it. And that made him feel strange too.

Now that Fia had gotten rid of all of them, she could finally let out a sigh of relief.

“Mommy, why do you dislike that man so much?”

Adrian asked her with curious, wide eyes.

Fia closed her eyes.

“I don’t.”

Adrian instantly locked his eyebrows together.

“Mommy, you hate him. You wish that he’ll never appear in front of you.”

That was right.

It was something so obvious that even a kid could see it.

Just how much hate did she have for Conrad?

Fia tried to regain her composure, and then crouched down and looked at the twins at eye level.

“I don’t hate him, because he has nothing to do with us.”

When the twins heard that, they exchanged a glance.

“But we think he’s a good person. He didn’t make any of us upset either.”

Chapter 1186

Fia smiled and patiently explained to Irene and Adrian.

“Whether he offended us is another story. However, we are not related to him at all..

“There are plenty of bad people out there. We can’t let them scam us.

“Not to mention, don’t you feel strange that he would accidentally run into our car?”

The moment Fia said that, both twins fell into deep thought.

Then, they weakly nodded their heads.

Adrian then said, "Since you really don't want us to get close to him, I'll stay away from him."

Fia gave her son a pat. "You're doing great."

Then, she turned and looked at her innocent daughter. "What about you, Irene?"

Irene blinked and said, "I'll listen to you too."

Only when Fia saw her twins agreed did she feel relieved.

She was scared that the twins would directly approach Conrad. What could she do if something were to happen to them?

And Adrian's eyes...

Even now Fia still had a headache.

Suddenly, the doorbell rang. She thought it was Conrad again.

She opened the door with an annoyed expression on her face, but she didn't expect it to be Annie outside.

Looking at that familiar appearance, a smile appeared on Fia's face.

Annie's heart skipped a beat.

And she didn't know why.

Every time she looked at the woman's eyes... Even if those eyes were different from Fia's innocent eyes, and there were differences in their shapes, she kept on having a feeling of familiarity.

And she even felt guilty for some reason.

"Ms. Sia, can I treat you to a cup of coffee?"

Annie said earnestly.

Annie was wearing a white dress today, showing how good her figure was.

The amnesiac Conrad would probably fall for Annie, right?

Otherwise, he wouldn't have let Annie be the exception for the past five years.

Any woman would treat the young woman in front of her as a strong competitor.

"I'll let my kids know."

1

Annie nodded. "Alright, I'll wait for you." Fia returned to her room, activated the security cameras inside her home, and connected the kids' GPS tracker.

She only left after letting them know about it.

Adrian and Irene were obedient children. After their mother left, they held and fed the Pomeranian in turn.

After they left, Fia walked in front while Annie followed after her.

She looked at the woman's graceful figure. It was something that not even Fia could surpass.

When they reached the cafe and took a seat, Annie kept on stirring the coffee in her hand. She was filled with anxiety.

"Miss Parker, what do you want from me?"

Fia asked.

After Fia started the topic, Annie began pouring out what she wanted to say.

"It has something to do with Conrad."

Annie pursed her lips.

Fia gave it a thought and then nodded.

"But he and I aren't related at all. We barely know each other."

Annie couldn't help but feel guilty

And then, she looked at Fia as if she had made a decision.

“Conrad and I are already engaged. We’re going to get married soon enough.

“But I know he’s always had someone else in his heart.

“You look a lot like the woman he couldn’t forget.

“That’s the reason why he kept on coming to you.”

“Ha, is that it?” Fia said in a dispassionate tone, as if she didn’t care about it at all.

Annie then said, “I believe that you don’t want to be someone’s mistress, nor do you want to be someone’s replacement”

“And?” Fia raised her eyes and gave Annie a smile

“Ms. Sia. I would like to ask you to leave him.”

With that, Annie started crying.

As if she had suffered a lot of pain.

Or perhaps, she wanted to use this method to force Fia away.

But Fia refused to continue the conversation.

Chapter 1187

Fia simply drank the coffee in her hand and glanced at her occasionally as she sobbed.

In the end, even Annie felt strange.

“Ms. Sia, you...”

Fia cut her off. “I thought you wanted to tell me something useful. I didn’t expect this to be what your wanted to say.”

“I already told you. I don’t want to have anything to do with him.

“For the time being, we’re neighbors at most. But we don’t exactly know each other.

“But the moment you come here, you want me to leave? How ridiculous is that?”

Fia smiled.

Annie could feel the danger behind her smile.

She didn’t know.

But from the first time Annie saw her...

Annie knew that she would become a threat to her.

And now, that feeling was even stronger.

“But... Conrad... He might force you... Aren’t you...”

“Miss Parker, I’m no easy prey.” Fia said as she gave Annie a wink. “Not to mention that we live in a society with the rule of law. Assaulting a woman... That’s not some crime that will be taken lightly.

“If you don’t have anything else to say, I’m leaving.”

Fia took her bag and wanted to leave just like that.

But Annie couldn’t let Fia leave before she achieved her objective.

She nervously stood up and caught Fia’s hand.

“Miss Parker. Hands off.”

Fia’s expression turned somewhat cold.

When Annie met her eyes again, she couldn’t help but shudder.

She suddenly felt that Fia was actually someone very terrifying.

As if she could easily kill her if she wanted to.

How could that be the eyes of an ordinary woman?

“Just... Who are you...?”

Annie couldn't help but mumble.

“I'm Sia Stewart. Please remember my name.”

Fia stood up and left, not giving Annie another opportunity.

Annie couldn't help but lean back on the sofa as she could do nothing but simply watch. She seemed to be in a daze.

T

At the same time, a man suddenly sat down opposite of her.

Annie looked up.

When she saw Conrad's face in front of her, she shuddered.

“Conrad.”

“Didn't I tell you not to interfere with my personal matters?”

Conrad's expression was beyond cold.

One could feel bone-chilling frostiness if one were to approach him.

Annie shuddered once again.

“Conrad, I simply didn't want you to fall deeper. That's a woman who has already married and has two children! I...”

The coffee cup fell to the floor and shattered.

Annie didn't dare to say another word.

“Who do you think you are? Who gave you the right to meddle in my affairs?!”
Conrad simply stared at Annie with a gloomy expression.

For the past five years, Annie had always accompanied Conrad, tiptoeing around him.

While she knew that, she couldn't even call herself his friend.

But she enjoyed others' admiration, saying that she was his girlfriend and fiancée without him knowing.

Annie looked at Conrad in front of him, stunned. She then shook her head in bewilderment.

"Conrad, I've accompanied you for so long... Do you really have no feelings for me at all?"

Conrad shook his head.

"You should know your place."

"But you do have feelings for me originally!"

Annie forced the matter.

Conrad let out a faint smile.

"And it's all gone."

#

He was attracted by Annie's voice in the beginning. But that was all. And then, he noticed something else.

Chapter 1188

At first, he thought he was just not someone romantic. However, when he saw Sia, he could feel something was wrong with him.

Her voice was so seductive, and she could easily draw his attention.

And that was why he couldn't let it be. Not even his mother's brainwashing was enough.

Annie wasn't someone he wanted.

No matter how beneficial it would be for Maxwell Corporation and Parker Group, he wouldn't budge.

But... Who was the one that he wanted?

A figure suddenly appeared in his mind.

That woman.

It was as if she was born rebellious, and she kept on testing his ever-frozen heart.

Everything about her could make him come alive.

Why was that?

Conrad couldn't understand no matter how he reasoned with himself.

Just when he wanted to find that unknown, pain came from inside his head.

"Conrad!" Annie called out nervously.

However, Conrad simply turned around and left as if he didn't hear anything.

All Annie could do was simply watch things unfold as her face turned as white as a sheet.

She never thought that she would have no place in Conrad's heart at all.

And all it took was one Sia.

Tears instantly filled her eyes.

Annie was suddenly full of hate toward Sia,

All she wanted was to stay by Conrad's side. Why couldn't this little wish of hers be fulfilled?

As soon as Conrad left, he wanted to follow Fia. But Fia had already left a long time ago.

All he could do was return to the streets alone.

He couldn't help but hear his own heart thumping when he recalled how Fia looked, and what her voice was like.

"Uncle."

Conrad had just wanted to go up the stairs when someone called out to him.

He turned around and saw it was Irene.

Irene simply looked at Conrad with her large eyes.

While she knew her mother didn't want them to get too close to him, for some reason, Irene wanted to get close to him every time she saw the man.

"Can you come play with me?"

Irene held Conrad's hand.

Just as the two of them were going to come in contact, Conrad suddenly felt his heart beating faster.

Irene was affecting him greatly.

Conrad couldn't help but pick her up.

"Irene... Why didn't your mother keep an eye on you and let you come out and play alone?"

Irene giggled.

"I slipped out secretly. It's so boring being locked up at home every day.

"Come play with me, okay?"

Irene threw her arms around Conrad's neck and hung from him.

Conrad didn't like kids, but when he was talking with Irene, he was somehow feeling quite excited.

In the end, Conrad held Irene tightly.

Irene was all smiles.

Her face seemed to let Conrad see a familiar face.

But when he looked at her again, that feeling had disappeared.

"I'll play with you."

Conrad couldn't control himself and said that.

"Mommy's out doing something, and my brother is still at home. Maybe I'll ask him out to play with us too."

As soon as Irene said that Conrad agreed to it without hesitation.

After a short while, Adrian came out too.

As they had fun, they eventually reached Conrad's home.

Adrian looked around curiously.

Unlike their home, Conrad's home smelled of something sweet.

"Uncle, the scent on you smells nice."

Irene had been hanging on Conrad like a monkey and would sometimes say something out loud.

Conrad tickled her nose with his finger.

"There's no scent."

Irene shook her head.

"There is!"

Chapter 1189

After she was done, Irene buried her face in Conrad's arms.

Conrad smelled like the sun for some reason, and she didn't want to leave. If she could, she wanted to stay there forever.

"Haha!"

Conrad didn't put too much thought into it either.

However, they didn't stay there for long before Silas called.

"Sir, there's something that you need to do back in the company. Can you come over right now?"

After picking up the call, Conrad looked at the twins with hesitation.

If he were to leave immediately, he might...

“Uncle, are you going to work?”

Irene raised her head and asked Conrad.

Conrad nodded.

Just when he wanted to tell them to go home, Irene gave him a suggestion.

“Can we go with you to work?”

Her eyes glittered with hope.

Conrad let out a slight hum..

“Of course not. If we go with him, he’s going to get fired by his boss!”

Adrian immediately answered on Conrad’s behalf.

When Irene heard that, there was a hint of vulnerability in her eyes.

“Really...?”

“But Mommy might be back very late. It’s so boring if it’s just the two of us at home. There’s nothing to do!”

Irene’s pitiful look touched Conrad’s heart instantly.

Conrad patted her head and stroked her smooth hair.

“If you want to come with me, I can take you along.

“All I need to do is to take you back home before your mother gets back.

When the twins heard that, both of them instantly became energetic.

“Yay!”

Both of them had their arms around Conrad.

Conrad forced himself to suppress the feelings he had inside of him.

He felt that he wanted to adopt the twins and raise them in his home.

Very quickly, Conrad took them out.

Then, the three of them appeared at the company together.

All the staff at the company couldn't help but be surprised by what they saw.

The two kids... Were they the boss's children?

Why do they look somewhat like the boss?

And...

They looked at them again.

They were charmed by how cute the two kids were. If they could, all they wanted to do was hug them.

They were too cute!

When Silas saw Conrad bringing the twins over, he was shocked.

"Sir!"

"Let them stay in the lounge, Get them something that kids can eat and play with."

Since Conrad had already said that Silas had no choice but to do as ordered.

In just a short while, Adrian and Irene had already taken over the entire lounge.

"I think this place has more things to play with than at home."

Irene couldn't help but say that out loud.

While Adrian didn't say anything, he still nodded.

He blinked, feeling that his eyes were a little itchy.

“I want to get the contact lenses out for a bit. My eyes are a bit itchy.”

Adrian wanted to rub his hands.

However, Irene stopped him and caught his hand.

“No one’s here, so I think it’s okay if you remove them. If someone comes, then just put them back.”

Adrian quickly nodded.

Once he took down the contact lenses, Adrian’s eyes recovered their original amber color.

It was so much more comfortable now that he had removed those contacts.

“Irene... My eyes look exactly like Uncle Maxwell’s. He had already seen it, but why would Mommy still want me to wear contact lenses when we go out?”

Adrian couldn’t understand it.

Irene thought about it and said, “Maybe she’s scared that too many people will know about it and think that you’re Uncle Maxwell’s son?”

Adrian nodded. “But Daddy’s eyes are blue. Why don’t I have blue eyes?”

“Me too.” Irene sighed. “I’m fine, but Adrian... You got someone else’s amber eyes instead.”

Chapter 1190

The twins were having fun in the lounge next to Cornad’s office.

Meanwhile, after leaving Annie, Fia went to a nearby shopping mall. She bought plenty of food and drinks that the twins liked, and her hands were full by the time she came back.

She didn’t expect to see the twins completely gone, leaving only the puppy sleeping on its cushion. She was completely stunned.

She then quickly checked her twins' location through the GPS tracker on her phone and then checked the security camera in the corridor. Eventually, she found out that Conrad had taken the kids away and her heart skipped a beat.

“Why did he take the twins away? Did he notice something?”

Fia advised herself to calm down.

“Calm down. Don't get nervous, not right now.”

But it got the better of her anyway. She immediately called Conrad's number.

Conrad looked at the unfamiliar number on his phone. He thought it was a bit weird.

“Mr. Maxwell, may I ask why you took my kids out?”

“Have you asked me, their mother, about this and what my thoughts are before you took them?”

“If you don't give me back my children, I'm going to call the cops on you.”

Fia said angrily to the person on the other end.

When Conrad heard those words, he felt that things were even stranger.

He felt that Fia was too anxious about it.

He suppressed his curiosity and then said to Fia.

“Ms. Sia, I'm just worried about leaving two young children at home. That's why I took them to my company.”

“Ha! What are you worried about? I've set up a GPS tracker on the kids, and I have security cameras at home too! If it wasn't for you, I wouldn't have been taken by surprise the moment I got home!”

Conrad wanted to explain to him that he was no kidnapper and human trafficker.

He had never wanted to steal her children away from her.

However, Fia didn't care about it.

“I’m coming over right now. If anything happens to my children, you’ll regret it!”

When Fia heard the word “company” from Conrad, she took her car key and quickly drove out of Aurora Residences,

When Fia reached Conrad’s company, she immediately rushed in.

“I’m sorry, Miss. Do you have an appointment?”

The receptionist asked Fia with a smile.

Fia was already quite angry. Naturally, she wouldn’t smile at her.

“I’m sorry, but my kids are up there. I’m looking for them.”

The receptionist heard those words.

And she instantly remembered the two kids that her boss brought upstairs.

Instantly, the flames of curiosity within her burned bright.

Could she be the children’s mother?

What if the CEO was their father?

She accidentally found out about their boss’s marriage! What should she do?!

Did anyone get any answer for that?

“This way, please.”

The receptionist didn’t hesitate and led her inside.

Fia walked toward Conrad’s office and immediately opened the door.

The moment that Fia pushed open the door, Conrad instinctively raised his head.

When the rays of light showered on Fia’s beautiful face, it made her look like a Valkyrie descending from Valhalla. Conrad couldn’t control his thumping heart.

She took his breath away.

That woman...

Why did he feel so much familiarity with her?

Were they really strangers before this?

“Conrad! Give me back my children right now!”

Fia said with an angry face.

When Conrad heard that, he pressed his lips together.

Naturally, he couldn't stop the children's mother from picking them up.

“They're at the lounge. I'll take you there.”

She then followed Conrad directly toward the lounge.

Fia's heart had finally calmed down when she heard the children's laughter coming from inside.

But the moment she opened the door, Fia's face instantly darkened.