Although Old Bao was frightened, he realized that he still hadn't gotten his hands on the money. If he left now, wouldn't that be a waste of his efforts? Thus, he found his master and told him. The old man did not deny it and said that he would only believe it when he saw it with his own eyes tomorrow.

The next day, the old man made his wife prepare more food. Together with Old Bao, they squatted in the back window, waiting to see if the dogs would come to eat. The old man was quite angry, so he found a stick and went in to block the dog. As he was beating the dog up, he scolded, "You beast, you even learn to steal food from humans, no matter how much you learn, you are still a beast. If you dare to steal again, I'll kick you out."

After being beaten up, the dog was much more obedient. Seeing that even Lao Bao was circling around him, Lao Bao thought that it was fine this time. Thus, he thought that the dog was rather smart and didn't take it seriously.

The day before they were almost finished, Lao Bao wanted to speed up his schedule and also worked in the afternoon. It was too late in the day, so the old man let him stay at home, saying that if he didn't come tomorrow, he would have to deal with it this late. Lao Bao agreed and went to sleep in the side room, which almost cost him his life.

It was the big black dog that entered the house, so he did not dare to make a sound as he was afraid of being hurt by the dog. The big black dog had a piece of wood in its mouth, placed it next to him and picked it up, repeated this way a few times, and then went out. As scared as he was, he wanted to see what the big black dog was up to, so he followed it out the distance.

He waited for the dog to leave, then went in to find out what was going on. When he went in, he understood that this was the strangest thing he had seen in his entire life, it turned out that the big black dog had dug a big hole there, the size of itself was similar to Old Bao's size, the big black dog had just caught a log to measure Old Bao's size, and then used the darkness to bite Old Bao to death and bury him. Who would have thought that the dog would bite him to death and bury him again? Lao Bao understood that his heart was shocked to the point of chills, thinking that he couldn't stay any longer, so he hurriedly ran home through the night. Just like that, he didn't dare to go ask for money, and he was even more afraid of when that big black dog would take revenge on him.

After listening to Lao Bao's description and seeing how the big black dog acted today, I thought that the dog was really going to die soon. If I didn't get rid of it soon, it would harm me sooner or later, so I quickly said my goodbyes and rushed back to the village to find Old Lady Liu.

After arriving at Old Lady Liu's house, I hastily told her about what had happened. Old Lady Liu was also surprised by the dog's intelligence and viciousness. She said, "Do you know how long this dog has been raising for?" I said, "I don't know. I don't dare go in and ask." Old Mrs. Liu said: "I'm afraid that the black dog has been around for many years. Since ancient times, the black dog has been around for eight years, and the chicken has only been around for six years. Because these animals have been in contact with people all year round, it listens to everything people say, and sooner or later, it will understand human nature. Then, he took me to the small warehouse.

I said, "Grandma Liu, do you want to ask Hu Taishui?" Old Granny Liu smiled and said, "For such a small matter, I don't need to trouble Hu Taishui." After shouting a few times at Hu Yaoyao, the little fox came in through the window. It landed on the ground, looked at the two of us with a smile, and said, "I'm sleeping right now, why are you looking for me?" Hu Yaoyao laughed, "Hehe, you're really stupid. If you call that the essence of life, then I would have already become an immortal. At most, it would be an old dog, and if it wanted to hurt someone with just a little bit of humanity, it would have to wait and see how I take care of it."

After a puff of green smoke, she turned into a lively young lady with two braids tied around her head. I was dumbstruck as I looked at her. She walked over to me with a smile and said, "Take me to see that black dog spirit. It will broaden my horizons."

We went to the neighboring village, we arrived at the old man's house, the black dog was lying on the ground, seeing me and Hu Yaoyao coming over, he first widened his eyes in shock, then immediately turned his head to pretend that he didn't see us, but who would pretend that he didn't see us?

Hu Yaoyao smiled, squatted down and rubbed the black dog's head, then said, "It's said that cultivation is not easy, and you finally managed to get some cultivation experience, and now you want to hurt others, doesn't that mean that you've ruined your future? Let alone cultivation, I'm afraid even the heavens will not forgive you, and when that time comes, do you think that you can escape from the three calamities and the five tribulations?"

The big black dog seemed to be very afraid of Hu Yaoyao, as it lowered its head and let out a series of whining sounds. Hu Yaoyao said, "The heavens are kind. I won't take your life, but I'll temporarily seal your consciousness so that you won't harm anyone." After saying that, he smacked the black dog on its head. The black dog immediately collapsed onto the ground, black blood flowing out of its ears.

Hu Yaoyao clapped her hands and told me, "Okay, he'll still be an ordinary dog in the future. He won't have any thoughts of killing anyone, but don't tease him. Black dogs are naturally tyrannical, they might even bite your ear off." This scared me so much that I hurriedly covered my ears, making Hu Yao Yao burst out in laughter.
